A German scientist named Nussbaum has for a long time been studying the question of the suppression of noise in dwelling houses. He has experimented both in the laboratory and in private houses. One point he has ascertained is that the more solid and tough and strong the building material is the more quickly and loudly it conveys sound, and its conductivity can best be tested by strokes with a piece of metal. The higher the tone the greater the conductivity.

Nussbaum has made many experiments with partition walls. He has found that those of tiles and cement transmit sound most and those of solid clay least. Between the two comes the wall of ordinary brick,and the more the brick is burned the more noise it transmits. A quickly hardening lime mortar is to be preferred to a clay mortar. Our experiment showed that when a floor was covered with sound and cork mats spread over it hardly any noise penetrated to the room below, but that when the cork mats were joined together by any material underneath, noises were at once perceptible.

To the question,how are the sounds of the piano or the violin in the neighboring apartments to be excluded? Nussbaum has returned the suggestion that the ceilings be treated as he successfully treated his telephone cell, namely, to line them with a layer of zinc or lead.

There is now in operation on the Grand Trunk, between Bridgeburg and Port Colborne, a new class of motor car which is proving highly successful. It is exceptionally neat in design, and comfortable in interior arrangement. Two of these cars have already been turned out at the shops of the Company at Montreal. They are known as steam motor cars, and have a capacity including the smoking compartment of 58 people. The cars are 71 feet in length, the interior being finished in highly polished mahogany and upholstered in leather. Oil is used for fuel, and the cars are heated by steam.

CHANGES IN THE SEED CONTROL ACT.

During the recent session of Parliament, important changes were made in the Seed Control Act respecting the sale of clover and timothy seed. Under the old Act the inspector sometimes found it difficult to prove violations though misrepresentations were being made. A dealer might offer red clover seed, containing as many as 92 noxious weed seeds per ounce and an unlimited number of other weed seeds such as Foxtail, represent it as his best grade and charge nearly as much as his competitor asked for No. 1. He would not mark it No. 1, but he might state verbally that it was No. 1 or just as good. This has often been done, with the result that farmers as well as retail merchants who really wanted to buy pure seed have got badly contaminated seed and paid prices for it. Under the new Act such misrepresentations will be impossible and both farmers and retail merchants will be able to buy their seed more intelligently. Four grades are fixed by the Act for red clover, alsike, alfalfa and timothy seed, and all seed sold for seeding purposes by seedsmen must be plainly labelled with the grade. Any seed not grading No. 3, which is a higher standard than the old prohibitive line of five noxious weed seeds per thousand of good seed, is prohibited from sale. The following are the standards for freedom from weed seeds :—

Red Clover, Alfalfa, Timothy.

	Noxious weed seeds per oz.	All weed seeds per oz.
Extra No. 1 ...	–	30
No. 1	5	100
No. 2	20	200
No. 3	80	400

Alsike.

	Noxious weed seeds per oz.	All weed seeds per oz.
Extra No. 1 ...	–	30
No. 1	10	100
No. 2	40	200
No. 3	160	400

In addition to the standards for freedom from weed seeds, standards for purity in other respects and general appearance are fixed for Extra No. 1, No. 1 and No. 2. Double the number of noxious weed seeds are allowed in alsike on account of the greater difficulty in cleaning this seed. Farmers and seed sealers should have their seed tested and graded before offering it for sale. Samples will be carried through the mails and tested without charge if addressed to the Seed Commissioner, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

LUXURIOUS NEW CARS FOR C. P. R. MONTREAL SERVICE

Another triumph in car building has been achieved by the C. P.R. and it marks a further advance in railroading.

The new compartment observation cars which have just been sent out from the Angus shops are intended for service between Toronto and Montreal, and as evidence of the growing popularity of the service between the North Toronto station and Montreal, they are attached to the train leaving that station at 10.00 p.m. daily.

These new cars have seven compartments, a drawing room, an observation parlor and observation platform. The entrance to the rooms is from aisles running along the sides of the cars, ensuring absolute privacy. There are two berths, the lower being made up from two double seats, and there are all toilet requirements in each compartment.

The cars are lighted with electricity, and in the warm weather are kept cool with electric fans.

These cars are models of luxury and comfort, in which the C. P. R. standard of equipment excels.

DEATH AFTER A SCRATCH

Morris Quatzam, an eleven year old Windsor boy, fell off his bicycle and scratched his wrist. He thought nothing of the injury, but blood poison set in and he is dead.

Such incidents as these — by no means infrequent—ought to make people realize the danger that may lie even in the smallest flesh wound.

Take a simple illustration. When a knife, a rusty needle, a splinter of dirty wood, a barbed wire fence, or a thorn, scratches the hand, the latter is inoculated with germs, of which the air about us is full.

The way to avoid serious results is to cleanse the wound and apply Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk is a powerful, yet painless germ-killer, and when applied to the broken skin is absorbed into the tissue, instantly destroying the germs that spread disease and stopping the pain and smarting. That is why Zam-Buk is so popular with children.

The flesh thus soothed and purified, the wound is made perfectly healthy, and all poison and cause of festering removed. Having done this, Zam-Buk then proceeds to heal the wound or sore, and new healthy tissue is built up in a quick, painless and perfect manner.

Zam-Buk must not be confused with ordinary ointments. Zam-Buk is a unique preparation, possessing antiseptic, soothing and healing qualities that are not to be found together in any other preparation. It is not only a unique healing balm, but it is also a skin food. For all skin diseases and injuries—cuts, bruises, burns, eczema, chafing, ulcers, ringworm, etc., it is without equal. It is also used widely for piles, for which it may be regarded as a specific. All druggists and stores sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

BORN.

BRAIDEN—In Amaranth, on Sunday, Sept. 17th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Braiden, twins, a son and a daughter.

Dr. D. C. MacGregor has resigned the pastorate of the Presbyterian church, Orillia, to accept the position of associate with Rev. Dr. Shearer, as head of theGeneral Assembly's committee on Moral and Social Reform and Evangelism.

THE PATIENT BRAIN

A tireless worker so long as supplied with rich, red blood.

The brain is one of the most patient and industrious organs of the body. It can be induced, by good treatment, to perform prodigies of work. But it is sensitive and will not brook abuse. It responds to the lash at first, but if the lash is laid on too hard it balks.

Nervous trouble is generally brain trouble, and no suffering is to be compared to mental suffering, with the accompanying dread, suspicion and melancholy.

One-fifth of the blood in the human body is consumed by the brain, so make the blood rich and red by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and you will overcome diseases of the nerves. Headaches will disappear, irritability will go, digestion will improve, and weakness and despondency will give place to new hope and courage, new vigor and energy.

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will enable you to avoid such extreme nervous trouble as prostration and paralysis. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WILL HOLD SALE.

Monarch Peninsular

How Do You Judge a Range?

YOU can't judge a range by looking at it. True, you can see whether it is good looking or not. You can see whether it will be hard or easy to manage, whether the doors open or shut easily ; whether it is easy to clean. You can see how the grates work and what oven room you have.

But you can't see how much coal it will take to heat the oven. You can't see whether your pies will burn or not. You can't tell how long the parts will wear.

This unseen part, you can be sure of when you buy a Monarch Peninsular or, in fact, any Peninsular range.

Fifty years of building stoves—honest stoves—are behind every range that bears the name Peninsular. That name says the materials are good—the oven will heat evenly—the range will wear.

Monarch Peninsular

is a steel range—the easy-to-clean kind.

It has a large square oven, twenty inches both ways—just right for four pies. The oven is made of quick radiating steel and will heat up as soon as a fire is started.

It has a drop oven door, strongly made.

Grates Easy to Remove

The fire-box is of iron. It is deep and has upright sides, which experience tells us is the most economical shape. It is cleaned out with perfectduplex grates. These grates cannot warp out of shape, and may be removed without disturbing the linings of the fire-box.

The Monarch may be had with a hot-water reservoir which fits either end of the range ; a high warming closet with drop door ; an oven thermometer. No convenience known to modern stove-making is lacking in this perfect range.

Top Raised for Broiling.

"THE COST"

There are Peninsular ranges in a great variety of styles and sizes. Every one is thoroughly Peninsular. Our booklet, "The Cost," tells how they save you money after you buy them. Write for it.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS.

The Whitney Government is likely to bring on the Provincial elections before Christmas. Those, who profess to be in the know, say they will be held late in November or early in December. Some of the guessers have fixed Tuesday, December 5th, as the date. See how near they come to being right.

LOOKING INTO NEXT YEAR.

We do not hesitate to say —as we have repeatedly said before —that the probabilities are that drouth conditions will prevail to a great extent into the summer of 1912, and possibly into 1913. But these drouth conditions, in every probability, will shift to different parts of the continent. By this we mean to say that the progress of the drouth area will be from north to south. Northern extremes will have more rain; the central grain belt region will improve in rainfall over the season of 1911 in most parts, during the spring and early summer; but it will be wise to figure on crops that will mature before the mid-summer and autumn. If we had large agricultural interest under our control and direction, we would use all available means and opportunities to prepare This Fall for as large a crop as possible, calculated to mature the earliest possible next season. If we lived in the extreme or approximate belt of southern states, we would promptly and systematically resort to the best known methods and tactics to meet and tide over severe drouth conditions. It is sheer falsehood to say that the country generally has not been menaced and smitten, in a large measure, by lack of rainfall this season; and we believe it will be foolhardy to disregard nature's admonitions of probable drouth, shifting to more southerly parts of the country as defined during the year or two next before us.—Prof. Ira R. Hicks.

PROTESTANT PLATFORM.

The County Master, W. Bro. Robert Curry, has called a special meeting of the County Orange Lodge of Dufferin for the purpose of considering and, if thought advisable, adopting the Protestant Platform, adopted by the Grand Orange Lodge at its annual meeting in Winnipeg last June. The meeting will be held in L. O. L. 635 hall, Orangeville, on Thursday, October 12th, at 1.30 p.m. The Platform, which defines the position the Grand Lodge has taken on a number of questions of vital importance to the welfare of Canada, reads as follows —

1. The entire separation of Church and State.
2. Opposition to any interference of the Dominion Government with the different provinces in educational affairs.
3. The resistance of any further special privileges to any section of the population either on account of race or religion; and the elimination of any special privileges which they now possess except those included in the Confederation compact.
4. Opposition to any extension of lingual privileges beyond those conferred by the British North America Act.
5. The maintenance of British connection and the support of any movement which tends to make closer and more binding the relation between Canada, Newfoundland and the Mother Country.
6. A close supervision of all new settlers and the encouragement of suitable white immigration from the British Isles, the United States and Northern Europe.
7. A Federal marriage law recognizing the validity of marriages performed by the qualified clergymen of every religious denomination or other persons vested by the law with that power, and the enactment of criminal penalties against persons using their influence to separate legally married couples by questioning the validity of marriages performed in accordance with provisions of this law.
8. Government inspection of all religious, educational and charitable institutions and the inspection of the books of all institutions receiving aid from the public treasury.

ISLAND PROCESS SUCCESSFUL.

The famous Island smelting process, in which Sir Donald Mann has agreed to invest heavily as soon as its practicability is proved, was in successful operation for the first time on Friday and Saturday, a run of several tons of cobalt ore being sent through the mechanism at Dr. Island's plant in Brock Avenue, Toronto. The machinery was kept running for 36 hours continuously, the ore being constantly supplied, and Mr. M. Stewart, Sir Donald's representative, says the test was eminently successful, every particle of mineral matter being precipitated from the rock, leaving only pure silica in a pulpy mass. As the silica itself can be utilized in the form of bricks, the success of the Island process means that profit can be derived from every ounce of the lowest grade mineral ore.

It had been the intention to test the smelter with zinc and lead ore, as soon as the apparatus was in running order, but as a carload of this ore had not arrived when the last fault in the machinery had been corrected on Friday, Dr. Island decided to run the cobalt, which was ready to hand, through in the meantime.

THE TOWN COUNCIL.

Digest of Important Business Transacted on Monday Night.

The following accounts were passed by the Town Council on Monday night :—

James Grahame, $39; Jas. Arnott, $3.75; J. W. Wild, $3.75; McPherson & Johnston, $3.75; Isaac Hughson, $10; Thos. Campbell, $1.75; George King, $20.52; John Gough, $11.40; Bell Telephone Co., $6.66.

The Clerk read a communication from the Hamilton & Lewitt Knitting Co., of Glencoe, offering to bear the expenses of taking a vote of the property holders on the question of granting the company a loan to aid in starting a factory in Orangeville. The offer was made on the condition that the Council submit the by-law as early as practicable. The Clerk was instructed to communicate with Mr. Lewitt, one of the members of the firm, and ask him to come to Orangeville to arrange details of the agreement.

A request from Thos. Legate for rebate of taxes on some property was referred to the Court of Revision.

The Clerk was instructed to write the Rimouski Fire Company and ascertain, if possible, the reason for the Company's delay in settling its fire loss on the Hurndall furniture factory.

A communication was received from H. Endacott, Secretary of the Public School Board, calling the attention of the Council to the fact that there are two vacancies on the Board, due to the death of one of the members, the late Dr. R. Meek, and the neglect of another, Mr. J. M. Deagle, to attend meetings.

A motion was passed relieving Joseph Hiley from the necessity of paying his taxes.

The Road & Bridge Committee, the Mayor and Coun. Fairburn were entrusted with the duty of looking into the matter of replacing the culvert on West Broadway near the railway crossing. The contract of a new cement bridge was let to Mr. W. A. Boos some months ago, but owing to illness the contractor has been unable to proceed with the work. Some of the Councillors appeared to think a culvert would serve as well as a bridge and would cost considerably less money.

Deputy-Reeve Campbell was appointed to fill Coun. Hill's place on the Special Committee appointed to confer with the Town Solicitor regarding the J. M. Deagle suit.

The Mayor and Deputy-Reeve were appointed a Special Committee to act with the Solicitor in the matter of the Lewitt agreement.

Why Not be Well and Strong

When weak and run down DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD will help you back to health.

This letter tells of two women who have proven this.

Mrs. D. Stott, Cobourg, Ont., writes: "After recovering from typhoid fever I was left in a very low state of health. I was weak, nervous and not fit to do any work. A friend of mine, Mrs. G. M. Brown, had used DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD and told me that it benefitted her wonderfully. I took courage and began the use of the medicine. After taking the first box I began to feel an improvement in health and now after using four boxes I am completely cured. I now feel like myself once more and believe that I can attribute the cure to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food."

Life is too short to spend weeks or months dragging out a miserable existence of weakness and suffering. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures by forming new rich blood and building up the system. You can depend on it to benefit you. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

PERFECT ORGANIZATION.

What It Did for the Liberals in Dufferin.

The following humorous despatch appeared in the Evening Telegram on Tuesday :—

Orangeville, Oct. 2.—According to the views of Mr. George E. Brown, former town councillor, and son of Mr. D. B. Brown, defeated Liberal candidate in the recent Dominion elections, the dawn of the millennium will find Dufferin county still Conservative.

"Conservatives are in hives all over this county," said young Mr. Brown to The Telegram the other day, "and on election day they swarmed out of the swamps of Mulmur and Melancthon like bees and mosquitoes."

"What was the real majority against D. B.?" the son was asked.

"They say it was 1,440."

"What was it against Mr. J. N. Fish, the victim in 1908?"

"I think it was 1,441. At any rate I wrote a letter to Mr. Fish, who is now in the West, informing him of the result. I told him that no doubt he could easily remember the post mortem held in his office, when the last election returns in Dufferin were being received and further informed him that by dint of perfect organization on the part of the Reform Association of Dufferin, we had managed to reduce the majority by one."

"After that crash in Ontario," continued Mr. Brown, "the only place I imagine where there is a Grit majority is in Heaven, certainly not in Dufferin."

During the campaign, Mr. Brown, Jr., did yeoman service for Mr. Brown, Sr., but it was all for naught.

HIGH-CLASS CONCERT.

The Men's Bible Class of St. Andrew's Church, under whose auspices the famous Welsh Choir appeared in Orangeville last year, have made arrangements which will give our citizens the opportunity of hearing another high-class concert in the very near future. The artists who will entertain us on this occasion are Aptommas, the King Harpist of Europe and by royal command Harpist to the late Queen Victoria and King Edward; Miss Grace Merry, Entertainer, who will appear in dramatic, tragic, pathetic and humorous readings, dialect studies and Scotch, English and Irish numbers, and Miss E. Alexandra Bradley, one of the foremost of our Canadian sopranos. Aptommas, whose jubilee Harp Recitals at the Queen's Hall, London, were under the immediate patronage of the late Queen Victoria, is as widely famed all over Europe as a harpist, as is Paderewski as a pianist or Caruso and Melba as singers. His playing can only be described as a revelation. Miss Merry appeared before an Orangeville audience some years ago, and on that occasion proved herself a talented and popular entertainer, her selections being received with the heartiest appreciation. Miss E. Alexandra-Bradley sings the songs of Kirkwood, the soprano with Watkin-Mills and Bateman. She is a finished artist and sings in a manner that will delight any audience. In January Miss Bradley will accept a position as lyric soprano in St. James' Methodist Church, Montreal, with the distinction of being the highest salaried church soloist in Canada.

These three great artists will appear in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on Monday evening, October 9th. The admission has been fixed at 50c. to all parts of the Hall. Plan of Hall opens at Banner Office on Friday, Oct. 6th, at 9 a.m.

ORANGEVILLE'S FIRST HOTEL.

Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—In order to settle a bet please inform us through the Banner where the first hotel was kept in Orangeville. A. claims it was on the present site of the American hotel, and conducted by the late Mr. Kelly, while B. says it was down on the market corner, and kept by a Mr. Graham or a Mr. Bell.

Reader.

Amaranth, Oct. 4th, 1911.

(What information The Banner has been able to obtain goes to show that neither A nor B. is right. The first hotel was on the south side of Broadway just east of what is now Wellington St. The building was erected by Mr. Orange Lawrence, the founder of Orangeville. Mr. Lawrence kept a general store and hotel here for some years, afterwards leasing the place to Edward Bloomer and Wm. Wallace. The next landlord was Wm. Armstrong, who ran the hotel during the late 50's. Mr. Lawrence came to Orangeville about 1845, so it is probable that the hotel was built before 1850. Kelly's hotel, to which "Reader" refers, stood on the site now occupied by the Bank of Hamilton. The late James Kelly began hotelkeeping here in the autumn of 1859, naming his house "The Cross Keys Hotel." Early residents state that J. K. Riddell, a painter of more than ordinary ability, was responsible for an ornate sign, which bore this inscription. Riddell, it is said, also embellished the barroom with a cleverly executed painting, purporting to portray Tam O' Shanter's adventure with the witches as narrated in Robbie Burns' famous poem. "Jimmy Graham's tavern," which came into existence about the same time as Kelly's, was kept in the stone building (still standing and occupied) on the northeast corner of Broadway and Third St. Graham came here from Toronto between 1845 and 1850, settling on lot 1, con. 2, Amaranth, now known as the Morrow farm. He lived here for several years before moving to Orangeville. The late George Bell kept "The Marksman's Arms," which, if we mistake not, stood on or near the site of the present Bank of Commerce building. —Ed.)

DIVISION COURT.

Two cases of interest to the public were tried in Tuesday's Division Court. Wm. Watson and Norman Thompson, East Garafraxa farmers, were plaintiff and defendant respectively in a suit to recover $93.63 for a quantity of metallic shingles, which Watson, as agent for the Preston Metallic Roofing Co., claimed he had sold Thompson for roofing for the latter's barn. There was no written contract and after hearing evidence the Judge gave his decision against the plaintiff with costs. A. A. Hughson for plff.; C. R. McKeown for dft.

Marshall vs. Bennett—F. J. Marshall sued R. J. Bennett, formerly Captain of Orangeville Company of the 36th Regiment, for $31.50 for rent of the premises used as an armory while the defendant was in charge of the local Company. Plaintiff contended that Bennett received a certain allowance for the care of the Company's rifles, and other equipment and out of this was supposed to pay the rent of the Armory. Lt.-Col. Windeyer, of the 36th Regiment, and Capt. McCausland, of the Orangeville Company, were called as witnesses with the object of proving the plaintiff's contention. Defendant sent word that he was unable to attend the Court on account of pressure of business matters. The case was therefore adjourned until next Court to give him an opportunity to give his evidence. A. A. Hughson for plff.; C. R. McKeown for deft.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH.

This Offer Should Be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspapers and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

His misfortune serves as a warning to others.

ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR A GOOD STOMACH.

This offer should be a Warning to Every Man and Woman.

The newspaper and medical journals recently have had much to say relative to a famous millionaire's offer of a million dollars for a new stomach.

This great and millionaire was too busy to care about the condition of his stomach. He allowed his dyspepsia to grow from bad to worse until it became incurable.

His misery serves as a warning to others.

Everyone who suffers with dyspepsia for a few days will give everything for a new stomach.

Dyspepsia is commonly caused by missing elements to help to restore juices and by lack of tone in the walls of the stomach. The result is that the stomach loses its power to digest food.

We are now able to supply certain missing elements to help to restore to the gastric juices their digestive power and to aid in making the stomach strong and well.

We know that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a most dependable remedy for all disordered stomachs, indigestion, and dyspepsia.

We want you to try them and will return your money if you are not more than satisfied with the result.

Three sizes 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

—Over 50 designs in Scribbler Covers to select from at The Banner Book Store.

AFTER EFFECTS OF FEVER

How to Build Up Health and Strength After Wasting Diseases.

When the system is run down following attacks of fever, la grippe, or other wasting diseases, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are of special value. They make new, rich blood, which reaches every organ and every nerve in the body, and in this way restore the patient to active health and strength. In proof of this we give the case of Mrs. James Randall, Silverstream, Sask., who says:—"I feel that if there is anyone who ought to testify to the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills it is myself. About four years ago I was taken down with typhoid fever which left me in a very weak state and my stomach so impaired that even a drink of milk would cause me pain. To make matters worse the change of life followed, and although I was under the care of one of our best doctors, I was steadily growing worse. Before I was sick I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, but thought no more about them. But now when I was sick and helpless and almost hopeless, and with no benefit coming from medical treatment, I kept thinking of the Pills and finally decided to try them. I did so and I am thankful to be able to say that they restored me to health and strength, and enabled me to pass through that trying period, from which so many poor women emerge with shattered health. I hope that many other poor sufferers may read this statement and take fresh courage from it, as I am sure that what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for me, they will do for others. I may add that I always keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the home, and feel that they are better than a doctor."

These Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A ROSEMONT MARRIAGE.

The marriage of Miss Gladys Irene Bailey, only daughter of the late Dr. Bailey and Mrs. Bailey, of Rosemont, to Dr. Gerald Belfie, of Gananoque, took place very quietly at noon on Tuesday, Sept. 26th, at the home of the bride's mother. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Partridge, B.A., Immediately after the marriage Dr. and Mrs. Belfie left for a trip through the West.

JACKSON—MACKID.

An interesting wedding took place at half-past two p.m. Saturday at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hamilton Kane, Farnham avenue, Toronto, when their sister, Miss Mary MacKid, the clever actress, who made such a hit in "The Arcadians," became the bride of Mr. Gerald Breck Jackson, of Paterson, N. J. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Canon Broughall, took place beneath a lovely bower of white 'mums, roses, smilax and palms, to which the bridal party approached through an aisle of white satin ribbons. An orchestra rendered the nuptial music. Mr. Kane gave the bride away. Her beautiful empire wedding gown was white crepe de chene over silk embroidered in seed pearls. A chaplet of orange blossoms fastened her veil, which was arranged in Juliet cap effect, and she carried a shower of roses and lilies, and wore a diamond pendant set in platinum, the gift of the groom. Mrs. Kane, who acted as her sister's matron of honor, was in pale blue panne velvet, veiled in black silk marquisette, with heavy American beauties. A pendant of diamonds, pearls and sapphires was her gift from the groom. Mr. English Leslie, of Paterson, N.J., was best man. Mrs. A. MacKid, mother of the bride, who was gowned in mauve chiffon over grey, held a small reception after the ceremony. Mrs. Jackson, the groom's mother, was in black embroidered chiffon. Later the newly wedded pair departed for New York, where they sail on the Mauretania for Europe. The bride's going-away costume was a brown corduroy Norfolk suit with brown beaver cloth hat.

Mrs. Jackson, who is well-known in Orangeville, is a granddaughter of Mrs. A. McKay, West Broadway.

BOLTON FAIR.

A number from town attended Bolton Fair on Tuesday. Owing to the unfavorable day the attendance, while quite satisfactory, was scarcely as large as usual. The exhibits were excellent in nearly every department. Much of the Fair's success is due to the energy and judgment of the secretary, Editor F. N. Leavens, of the Bolton Enterprise, on whose shoulders much of the responsibility for the Fair arrangements falls. Mr. Leavens, who has been Secretary for a number of years, is a courteous and capable official.

WHAT IS THERE IN THIS?

The Grand Valley Star & Vidette is responsible for the following choice post-election gossip:—

"Scarce had the first rejoicings of the victorious died away when the hungry ones began to make their wants known. Shelburne is to have a new Post Office building, and perhaps a new official. Grand Valley is forgotten in the meantime, but there is to be doings in Orangeville. The big rumor is that John Best, M.P., is to resign his seat in favor of Hon. Frank Cochrane, M.P.P., who is said to be slated for a position in Hon. R. L. Borden's cabinet. As a reward for the sacrifice Mr. Best will take the Postmastership of Orangeville. This may be only rumor, and the public generally hope it is, for according to Mr. Best's own statements, such a move would not harmonize. He professed himself opposed to the spoils system. Time only will reveal what is doing beneath the surface."

DOCTORS HAD GIVEN UP ALL HOPE

"Fruit-a-tives" saved my Life

RIVIÈRE À PIERRE, Q., May 9, 1910.

"I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years, constantly suffering from Chronic Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

I was treated by several doctors and they simply did me no good. During the latter part of my illness, I was so thin that I weighed only 90 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate.

The doctors gave me up to die as the stomach trouble produced heart weakness and I was frequently unconscious. I received the Last Rites Of The Church.

At this time, a lady strongly urged me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again, and had gained 20 pounds. I have taken 13 boxes in all and now weigh 150 pounds and am well."

Madame ARTHUR TOURANGEAU.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of intensified fruit juices and always cures Indigestion.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE ART OF THE MINIATURE PAINTER.

Many who visited the Art Gallery at the Exhibition this year had their attention attracted to a group of miniatures by the noted English artist, Harold Cox. They were exquisite in their treatment—so delicate, natural, lifelike—charmingly revealing the painter's sympathetic insight and sincerity. Wonderfully soft flesh tints heightened the effect of naturalness and gave the impression of skilful, conscientious handling all the more noticeable by a careful attention to detail.

Here one picture showed a bonny wee golden-haired girl with laughing eyes of blue; another a baby's head; there a miniature of a little fair-haired lad in a brown suit, and one of a gentle, sweet-faced lady, caught and held the passing throngs who gazed in silent, rapt admiration as they grasped the full significance and beauty of the work.

It will be some consolation to those who missed these pictures at the Exhibition to know that they may have the opportunity of seeing them this week in Kennedy's window— Kennedy, the photographer— in King street, west.

No doubt the thought will occur to some at the same time what a splendid idea to have one's own or the wee boy's or the wee girl's miniature painted as the Christmas gift for the husband or father or grandmother. But it were well to decide quickly for Mr. Cox is going to have many demands made upon him, and arrangements should be made early, for it is not work which can be done in a rush. And Mr. Cox is too much of artist to attempt it.—Saturday Night.

The nerve centers require nutrition.

If the digestion is impaired, the nerve centers become anemic, and nervous debility is the result.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, begs to announce that he will be at Orangeville at the Queen's Hotel, on Saturday, Oct. 7th, with a complete display of the newest London, Paris and New York creations. You are invited to call and inspect his goods.

A week ago Saturday afternoon the fine bank barn of Mr. Albert Carlow, of West Luther, which contained the entire crop of his one hundred and fifty acre farm, was completely destroyed by fire. A new buggy, two cutters and some implements were also destroyed. The barn and contents carried insurance for $2000, but this will scarcely replace the barn, to say nothing of the contents, as it was a large and well finished building.

Mr. W. A. Clark, of Guelph city, has been awarded the contract by the Department of Public Works at Ottawa for two new post office clocks to be placed in position at Elora and Fergus. Both clocks will be very similar to the one in the Guelph post office. An 800 pound bell will strike the hour and there will be four illuminated dials on each. Mr. Clark has already placed the orders for these clocks with an English firm. The contract calls for them to be in position by Christmas.

ROMANISM IN QUEBEC.

Directs Education, Controls the Press, Chooses Political Leaders and Dominates the State.

Rev. G. R. MacFaul, M.A., Ottawa.

While it is true that much might be written of an encouraging nature with reference to the future of Quebec Province and of the dawning of a brighter day religiously; while one might refer to a growing undercurrent against clericalism and of movements which clearly indicate that Rome's grip is gradually weakening; still her hold is sufficiently strong to warrant one in saying that the fight will be long and strenuous, before Quebec shall be free. This Province is still the priest's paradise; he is still looked up to and bowed to and knelt to; he still threatens the pains of purgatory, and the great majority still cower and tremble at his anathemas, and his thumb still holds them in their places. There is probably no country in the world where the Ultramontanes raise their demands so high as in Quebec. In Rome, Romanism is dying; in Quebec, Romanism is thriving. The fear of Rome is still dominate. It pervades society. It is seen everywhere. The people of the other Provinces have no true conception of Romanism. They see it as a religious system; they must come to Quebec to understand it, not only as a religious system, but as a temporal ruler, dictating, governing and dominating the State. Rome in Quebec is wealthy, she is a large owner of real estate, exempt from taxation. Her churches, schools, convents, monasteries are everywhere. Her priests, lay-brothers, monks, nuns, 20,000 or more strong, are always in evidence. Whatever route the visitor to Quebec may take, road, rail or boat, he meets these men and women in Romish garb. Wherever he turns he can see the gleam of a shining cross, while his ear is startled by the faint tinkle of a convent bell. Rome! Rome! Romanism! he can think of nothing else. Romanism in Quebec, what does it mean? What is it doing?

Please observe:

I. It Directs Education.

While there are some Roman Catholic laymen who are making efforts to improve the Roman Catholic educational system, and who desire that laymen should have more to say in this matter, the priest still holds sway. Education has been placed in the hands of the Bishops, and the Legislature dare not make any change in its regulations without their consent. Let one make a study of the text books used by Roman Catholic children, he will see everything the priest desires they should know is taught, and they are kept in ignorance of what he does not wish them to know. This is not only true of the primary schools but of the convents and colleges. At the convents, the girls are given chiefly surface accomplishments, while they are taught that the church is infallible, and they must obey implicitly their priests. At the colleges, the young men are robbed of intellectual individuality, and are forced into the narrow channels of thought found in their Roman text books, and dictated by Jesuit priests. France and other countries of Europe, having proven that Jesuit priests could not properly educate the youth of the land, have taken the State schools out of their hands, and have expelled these Orders which would not submit to the laws of the country. Canada has received these priests, monks, and nuns with open arms, and in Quebec Province especially, the Roman Catholic youth are educated at the clerical schools. The moulding of the Roman Catholic youth of Quebec so far lies entirely in the hands of the priests.

II. It Controls the Press.

While the priest is finding this work more difficult, and while there is one French Weekly that is likely to come under the law any day for its bold utterances, the priest still holds the reins of power. It is his business to wage a perpetual war upon the independent and non-clerical press. It is his duty to warn the faithful against the danger of reading "bad journals," all being considered bad which do not accept the clerics as their guide without question. The priest sees to it that no newspaper printed in the French language, which does not come up to the required standard, shall find enough support among their flock to ensure its continued existence. There are priests (we have it on good authority) whose special duty is to watch every form of publication issued, with a view of directing replies to what is distasteful and of keeping Rome in favor before the public. Not even the great French dailies of Montreal with their strong backing have the courage to openly advocate different views from those the clergy favor on education, law, or government; they know they would soon be brought under the ban, and the faithful would cease to patronize them. Even some Protestant papers are under restraint. They refuse to print anything against Rome, or if they do, it must be so toned down that there is no force left in it, while they devote columns to parading Romanism before the public.

III. It Suppresses Free Speech.

There are some French Roman Catholics who are longing to speak out freely, but they dare not. Were a public man to advocate openly non-sectarian schools, to urge that it was high time that the growth of monastic orders were checked, that they were detrimental, he would be doomed so far as a political career is concerned, and it is questionable if he could be elected in any Quebec constituency. The French Roman Catholic may think he is free, but he is not. God's greatest, best gift, freedom of thought, speech and action he has placed under the direction of his priest, and he is afraid to utter his God-given thoughts. He knows he should speak out, yet he remains silent, cowed, playing the hypocrite.

IV. It Chooses, With Few Exceptions, the Political Leaders, and Very Largely Dominates the State.

Mr. Robert Sellar in his book, "The Tragedy of Quebec," which should be read by every Canadian, says: "Of the French members sent to Ottawa, delightful in manners, well-dressed, trained to speak and acquit themselves in public with ease, every one has attended a church college. The priests provide a select class from among whom electors are free to select a representative, and whether he be Bleu or Rouge signifies little in these modern days to their masters. The Church chooses and moulds the material for public men, and out of its let the people take their pick. Properly speaking, the Quebec delegation at Ottawa does not represent the people; they are the product of an educational system peculiar to Quebec, are the prepared representatives of their church, agents to carry out its wishes, and when its interests are to be defended or extended, vote as one man. They do not sit as free agents, for if they dared to act as such they would not be re-elected. No Dominion Cabinet is formed without referring to the views of the bishops; no Minister retains his portfolio who becomes objectionable to them; no lawyer is made a judge for Quebec or the Supreme Court who is not approved by them. Can a department at Ottawa be named where their subtle influence is unknown? "What sense in boasting of our freedom, in holding up our constitution for other British dependencies to copy when the controlling power is of foreign inspiration? The B.N.A. Act had to be approved by the Pope before Quebec would accept Confederation. The constitutions of Saskatchewan and Alberta were drafted to suit his representative at Ottawa. The sovereign will of the people has to be vindicated in Canada—the battle of our fathers against ecclesiastical usurpation has to be decided on the virgin soil of Canada."

Protestants have had a recent example of how Rome dominates the State in Quebec, by bishops of that Province separating legally married couples, and their decisions being upheld by Roman Catholic lawyers and judges.

V. It Feeds the People Upon Falsehood.

Open the French catechisms and study Roman doctrines. What do we find? Peter declared to be the head of the church, with the Pope as his successor. Confession of sin in the ear of a priest essential to salvation. No heaven without baptism. Mass a continuation of the sacrifice of the cross, while the priests have power to bring Christ down into the wafer, "body, soul, blood and divinity." Purgatory the place where all Roman Catholics, with but few exceptions, if any, must go before passing on to heaven, while the length of time they may remain in the flames of this place depends upon how much money their friends pay to the parish priest for masses for their deliverance.

Enter the Roman churches and listen to the priests harangue their people, exalting Mary to the skies, while Christ is degraded to a second rank. This was illustrated by Archbishop Gauthier, who when he was enthroned a few months ago as the head of the Ottawa Archdiocese, in his opening address to the clergy and faithful of the church, in place of pronouncing the benediction of Father, Son and Holy Spirit, as taught in sacred Scripture, pronounced the benediction of Mary in the following words: "To this end, with all my affection and gratitude, through the august intercession of the ever glorious and immaculate Virgin Mary, God's mother, our Queen, our advocate, our life, our sweetness, our hope, I invoke upon you priests and people, an abundant outpouring of God's best gifts."

Visit St. Anne de Beaupre, and watch the crowds gather at this great shrine—Rome's Cobalt and Porcupine. Hear Rome's priests say: "Sick, suffering, dying men and women, come drink a little of the marvellous water issuing from the well near the shrine, get a look at a piece of St. Anne's finger bone and you may be marvellously cured." Don't fail to buy a booklet relating how this supposed, imaginary, faked bone reached Quebec that you may be further edified. Visit the shrine of St. Anthony, in charge of the Bishop of Chicoutimi, subscribe for the monthly, "The Messenger of St. Anthony," and you will find that prelate telling of another way to obtain help, namely, "Just pray to St. Anthony, but be sure at the same time to promise him some money for the poor, or for a mass for souls in purgatory, and if you do you are likely to be healed, or if your horse or your cow, or your pig are ailing they may be cured.

Stop off at Montreal and purchase one of Archbishop Bruchesi's famous lightning-rods, the "Miraculous Medal of our Lady of Olives," a sure preservative against being struck by lightning, which will cost you but ten cents. Buy other medals, scapulars that are said to be equally efficacious to drive away evil spirits and protect you from danger.

Climb the tower of Notre Dame de Bonsecours Church, and see the facsimile of "The Home of the Holy Family," read the marvellous, lying statement of how the original house in which it is said our Saviour lived with his mother in Nazareth, suddenly one day disappeared in the heavens, and jumped from place to place, finally landing at Loretto, in Italy, Sept. 7th, 1295.

Go to a Roman Catholic store, "Le Bureau de Reparation," and buy the booklets entitled: "The Priest," "The Mass," "Spiritual Bouquet Offered to Souls in Purgatory," "The Great Promises of the Sacred Heart," etc., and read them, and you cannot but conclude that lies, and not truth, are what Roman priests feed their people upon. Ask yourself after this careful study of conditions in Quebec, if these beads, these trinkets, these statues, these images, these old bones, these old wives' fables, etc., have any connection with the teachings of Jesus, the world's Saviour.

VI. The Remedy.

The open Bible, the New Testament with the Gospel of Christ, can alone save Quebec. The Grande Ligne Mission, so far as Baptists are concerned, is their agent to deliver Quebec from the thraldom of Rome. If ever any mission has reason for its existence, that mission is Grand Ligne. If ever any people needed the light that Grand Ligne can give, that people live in Quebec. If ever any mission deserved the loyal support of all Christians who believe in the teachings of the Bible, that mission is Grande Ligne. The Grande Ligne Mission proclaims: 1. The absolute supremacy of the Holy Scriptures in matters of faith and practice, and not the church as a guide. 2. Christ as Founder, Head, and only Master and Lord, and not the Pope. No creeds, councils, or church between the believer and Christ. 3. Soul liberty. Responsibility only to God in religious matters. 4. Separation of Church and State. Freedom. Voluntaryism. All equal before the law. 5. It advocates a spiritual church. No "baptismal regeneration." Regeneration by the Spirit of God before any church ordinances, before the first step to church membership. The strict observances of baptism and the Lord's Supper, as taught by Christ and followed by His disciples. These are the God-given truths that Quebec needs to free herself from the bondage of Romanism.

Constipated Children

Constipation in children is the surest sign of danger—the most convincing signal that baby is going to be ill. Constipation leads to and actually causes more suffering in little ones than any other trouble. To keep baby well his little stomach must be kept sweet and his bowels regular—Baby's Own Tablets will do that—they will do it safely, surely and without pain or griping. Concerning them Mrs. S. O. Braaten, Bergland, Ont., says:—"My baby was bothered almost continually with his stomach and bowels and was greatly constipated. Baby's Own Tablets quickly relieved him and I would not now use any other medicine." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

EYE ERROR

Not a question of age

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

We have facilities here for testing your eyes and finding out exactly what they need. We sell only such glasses as we can thoroughly recommend. All work is guaranteed.

Monarch Peninsular

THE CASE OF THE G.H.

THERE was once a good housewife who used a Peninsular Range for thirty years. The family did not like it. They told her it was out of date, but the g h. was sure that no other range could possibly have as good an oven, and she refused to part with it.

One day she broke the oven door, and although the Stove Dealer pointed out that a new Monarch Peninsular, with its many improvements, would be a good investment, the best he could do was to get an order for repairs.

Now the patterns of thirty years ago are not the easiest thing in the world to find, so there was some delay in making the new oven door. In the meantime the g.h. went on a two weeks' vacation and the family took advantage of her absence to replace the old range with a new Monarch Peninsular.

They had quite a time squaring things with the g.h. She admitted that it was a pretty range, but she was quite sure that it would not bake properly. She tried it, however, and it did bake well, and then she discovered that the oven heated quicker than the old range. She discovered something else. It didn't use half the coal the old range used. She is sorry now she didn't buy it ten years ago.

EVERY year brings out new ideas in range construction. Over in Preston we have expert range architects working out new conveniences, new ways to economize fuel, new methods of construction that will add strength and beauty to Peninsular ranges.

The Monarch is an all-steel range—the easy-to-clean kind. It has a quick oven with a drop door; an oven full 20 by 20 inches—large enough to bake four pies at a time.

The Monarch may be had in either the square style or with a high warming closet. A reservoir may be attached to either end without the use of screws or bolts.

It has a durable iron fire-box and duplex grates which may be lifted out without interfering with the fire-box linings.

"THE COST"

There is a Peninsular range to suit every purse. The booklet, "The Cost," tells all about them. Write for it.

TEACHERS CONVENE.

Dufferin County Institute Held Annual Meeting In Orangeville Thursday and Friday.

Eminent Educationists Give Instructive Addresses on Child Study and Training.

The 31st annual Convention of the Dufferin Teachers' Institute was held in the Auditorium of the Orangeville Public Library last Thursday and Friday. There was a splendid attendance, 95 of the 117 Public School teachers of the County being present. The attendance by municipalities was :—

	Present	Absent
Mulmur	10	0
Amaranth	14	2

E. Garafraxa	11	0

An excellent programme was provided and members of the profession had an opportunity to derive much practical benefit from the addresses and discussions at the various sessions.

The opening session commenced at 10.30 a.m. on Thursday with Scripture reading and Prayer by Rev. B. Davies, pastor of Orangeville Baptist Church. Early in the meeting copies of the resolutions adopted at last meeting of the Ontario Educational Association were distributed and the members invited to bring before the Convention any questions they wished discussed with reference to the resolutions. Prof. Laird, of Queen's University, gave an illuminating address on the subject, "Variety and Purpose of Child Study." The speaker emphasized the fact that the child was studied scientifically in order that in dealing with it the most practical and scientific methods might be employed. Children might be studied through literature, through themselves and from the student's own experiences when a child.

When the Institute resumed at 1.30 p.m., Mr. D. D. Moshier, of the Toronto Normal School, illustrated his method of teaching a lesson in literature to a Junior II. Class, by selecting the lesson entitled "My Shadow" from the Second Reader and teaching it to a class from the Orangeville Public School.

Mr. Alex. Firth, Principal of the Orangeville School, gave a brief explanation of the regulations governing the Strathcona Trust Fund. A committee, consisting of Principals Cooper, of Shelburne, Lindsay, of Grand Valley, Keys, of Horning's Mills, Firth, of Orangeville, and Inspector Gordon was subsequently appointed to decide on competitions in connection with this Fund.

Mr. Wm. Prendergast, of the Toronto Normal School, delivered a lucid address on the Principles of Style in Composition. Mr. Prendergast made the claim that in the teaching of composition too much time was wasted over the correction of spelling, use of capitals, etc., and not enough attention given to style. Teachers should aim rather to give the child a good mastery of language. Teaching should begin orally as soon as the child can speak and written work as soon as he can write. In order that a composition may be understood it must possess clearness of meaning, to impress the reader it must have force, and to be pleasing it must have elegance of style and diction. Clearness, force and elegance should therefore be emphasized in the teaching of composition.

On Thursday night a well-attended public meeting was held in the Town Hall, with Principal Lindsay, of Grand Valley, President of the Institute, occupying the chair. The stage was nicely decorated with maple leaves, flags, etc., the work having been done by a Committee of the Orangeville Public School teachers. The local teachers were also responsible for the greatly appreciated musical programme provided for the occasion. The numbers were piano duets by the Misses Lathwell and Wright, and Misses Ritchie and Wallace, solos by Miss Helen Denton and Mr. Percy Harding, a duet by Messrs. Frost and Harding, a piano solo by Miss H. Wallace, a violin solo by Miss Clara Hulse, and a quartette by Miss Bell and Mesdames Bowles, Green and Robinson. The accompanists were Misses Wright, Hulse and Wallace. The artists were all given a hearty reception and encores were quite the order of the evening. Interesting addresses were given by Mr. J. F. Laughton, of Parkhill, President of the Trustees Department of the Ontario Educational Association, and Prof. Laird, of Queen's University.

Mr. Laughton maintained that what was needed in Ontario was a more thorough Public School education with a graduating examination for students. The Public School system should be a unit and not incomplete as at present. If Public School education was ever going to accomplish all it should, the teachers would have to become professional, in that they would more fully realize the responsibility and real work of the profession. Mr. Laughton held that too much had been crowded into the Public School course. He also criticised the prevailing tendency to shift the burden of moral and religious training upon the teaching profession. This work, he held, belonged to the church and home. Mr. Laughton also deprecated any return to the model school system.

Prof. Laird delivered an extremely interesting address on "Scottish Education." One of the points emphasized was the opportunities the Scottish system gives the child of poor parents to obtain a thorough education. Education too is entirely removed from the influence of politics and religion. It is also practically uniform all over the country, rural public school education being every bit as good as that obtainable in the cities. The speaker drew attention to the intimate connection between the Universities and the preparatory schools. From the teacher's standpoint some of the advantageous features are graded salaries, fixity of tenure and a pension system. In Scottish law the teacher stands in the place of the parent and has a legal right to inflict corporal punishment if considered necessary. Prof. Laird thought that Canadian trustee boards would be improved by adding to their numbers. The three member School Board was apt to be run by two of the members getting together, ignoring the third and running the affairs of the section to suit themselves. He also deprecated the fact that a larger proportion of Canadian children do not go through the Universities.

Friday morning's session was opened by Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, with Scripture reading and prayer.

The first business taken up was the election of officers for the ensuing year. The new officers are :—

President—Mr. A. Firth, Orangeville
Vice-Pres.—Miss Elliott, Shelburne.
Secretary—Mr. A. B. Cooper, Shelburne.
Treasurer—Mr. N. Gordon, Orangeville.
Auditors—Misses C. Shain, Orangeville, and E. McGill, Farmington.
Executive—Shelburne Continuation School staff.

Next year's meeting will be held in Shelburne.

With the aid of a class from the Public School, Mr. Moshier exemplified his method of taking up a lesson in Sight Literature, using for his purpose an extract from Tennyson's "Locksley Hall." The most noteworthy feature of the lesson was the teacher's skill and success in interesting his class and obtaining from the pupils the information essential to the proper understanding of the selection. Mr. Prendergast followed with an address on "Practical Arithmetic from a Culture Standpoint." He claimed that the study of arithmetic was a necessary part of a liberal education, in teaching the subject the aim from a practical standpoint should be to secure accuracy, facility and speed. The work should be as practical as possible, but in making it practical the intellectual side of the subject should not be lost sight of. Prof. Laird discussed the subject of "Progress and Waste in Education." The speaker took the ground that progress could be made only in proportion as waste was eliminated. Some of the chief sources of waste were :—attempts to graft other systems of education on our own; non-adaption of the educational system to the particular needs of the community; lack of permanency of teachers; overlapping in the work of the schools; bi-lingualism, inferior school room practice and especially in not teaching how to study.

During the afternoon session Mr. A. Steele, Principal of Orangeville High School, explained at some length the regulations regarding the senior and junior diploma examinations. Mr. Steele made use of the opportunity to take exception to the oft-repeated statement that only five per cent. of all Public School pupils ever reached a High School. He claimed that ten or twelve per cent. was nearer the correct figure. The new regulations, the Principal thought, were intended to give more definiteness to the 5th Form classes in the Public Schools and to put the work of the High and Continuation Schools more nearly on the same basis. Too many examinations had, however, been put on for this purpose, and he hoped that this defect would be remedied.

Prof. Laird was again one of the chief speakers, his subject being "Experimental Education." He outlined some of the experimental work that is being done in Italy, France and Germany, instancing experiments that are being made in curriculae, in methods of teaching and in mental development along certain lines, such as the cultivation of memory, imagery as it relates to children, the time it takes a child's mind to react, etc. One general result of the experiments had been the exploding of many pet educational theories.

Mr. Prendergast's concluding topic was "The Moroccan Question" and Mr. Moshier's an interesting talk on some School Incidents and Experiences.

During the session a hearty vote of thanks was tendered the Committee responsible for the Thursday night programme.

The Convention was brought to a close about 4 o'clock with the singing of the National Anthem.

—Cecil Field, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Field, West Broadway, fell from a ladder in the vestibule of St. Mark's Church on Sunday afternoon and fractured his left arm at the wrist. Drs. Rooney and T. H. Henry set the fracture and the youthful patient is getting along nicely.

—We received some Rosemont correspondence this week which was so poorly written that it was almost illegible. It was consigned to the waste basket, because it was largely a matter of consequence whose names were meant in the personal items and we preferred not to do any guesswork. Correspondents should always write plainly and be particular to be accurate about the names of persons and places.

A GREAT HARPIST.

Her late Majesty, Queen Victoria, in recognition of the delight afforded by Mr. Aptommas' Harp Recitals at Windsor and Balmoral Castle, signified her Royal approval by a number of signal marks of favor. Mr. Aptommas' jubilee harp recitals at the Queen's Hall, London, were under the immediate patronage of the late Queen. Of all the instruments that have touched the ear of mankind the harp stands foremost. Under the influence of the sound of no other can we so completely isolate ourselves from the scenes of the present, and as it were wrap around us the very atmosphere of the far past and distant future. The secret of this advantage, however, is not alone in its historical interest, but is found quite as much in the peculiar fascination with which its tones reach the heart of the listener.

Mr. Aptommas will be heard in the Town Hall, Orangeville, on Monday evening, October 9th, under the auspices of the Men's Bible Class of St. Andrew's Church. Admission, 50c. Plan of Hall will open at The Banner Office on Friday, October 6th, at 9 a.m.

A NEW TRIAL.

The Court of Appeal has granted Dr. T. J. Gowan, of Horning's Mills, a new trial of the action for damages successfully prosecuted by the widow of the late John Marshall, a Melanethon farmer, at the Orangeville Fall Assizes a year ago. Our readers will remember that Marshall met his death, through his team becoming frightened at Dr. Gowan's auto and running away. The widow brought an action for damages and got a verdict for $2000 and costs. The evidence showed that Gowan had neglected to sound the auto horn.

RELIEF IS QUICK; BUT CURE IS SURE.

Napoleon Vaillancourt Speaks of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They soon cured his Kidney trouble, and in six months there is no sign of their coming back.

St. Anne des Monts, Gaspe Co., Que., Oct. 2nd, (Special)—"It is six months since I was cured, and I have had no return of my trouble," in these words, Napoleon Vaillancourt, a well known resident of this place, gives evidence that Dodd's Kidney Pills not only give quick relief to sufferers from Kidney Disease, but clean that disease out, root and branch, and cure it permanently.

That Mr. Vaillancourt had Kidney Disease everyone here knows. That he is cured is also established beyond a doubt. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it.

"My back bothered me, also my heart and my kidneys, and my limbs would cramp," Mr. Vaillancourt states in giving his experience. Now all that is gone and he is a sound healthy man. Do you wonder that he recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills?

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure quickly and permanently because they go right to the root of the trouble. They act directly on the Kidneys. They never fail to cure.

DITCHING MACHINE.

Mr. John A. Ellis, a well-known farmer near Orangeville, has purchased a "Buckeye" Traction Ditching Machine and will follow the business of digging drains and laying tile for farm drainage. The machine is made specially for tile digging, and will dig a trench any depth and true to grade. Farmers, who have low-lying land, can greatly increase its fertility by proper drainage. It is said that there is no other form of farm improvement which will yield such profitable returns. Considerable drainage work has been done in Dufferin during recent years. Farmers, however, who have this method of improving their farms under contemplation, find themselves hampered by the expense of the digging and the difficulty of obtaining men who will do this class of work. The fact that there is a ditching machine available will provide an easy means of overcoming this difficulty and should furnish a great impetus to this class of improvement. Mr. Ellis is prepared to furnish estimates or take contracts for digging. Communications may be addressed to him at Orangeville.

CAUGHT RED-HANDED.

A citizen, who resides on Broadway, has been somewhat perturbed of late over the mysterious disappearance of a number of the inmates of his poultry house. Monday night he stepped into his backyard at the right moment to intercept an uninvited visitor, who was in the act of making off with a fine, fat hen tucked snugly under his arm. When confronted the offender professed, with a great show of earnestness, that it was all an accident. He declared he had visited the hen coop on an altogether different errand, and while there the captive fowl had fallen from the roost, alighting on him. The citizen, who is noted for his genial good nature, told the intruder to return biddy to her abode and he would overlook his offence. Here was unexpected consideration and the hen thief showed his appreciation by asking the owner to allow him to get his hat, which in the haste and excitement of the moment he had left behind in the hen house. He was given his head-wear and allowed to depart in peace.

SPECIAL PRESBYTERY MEETING.

A special meeting of the Orangeville Presbytery will be held in St. Andrew's Church here on Monday next. Rev. R. P. Mackay, Moderator of the General Assembly, and Rev. Dr. A. S. Grant, Superintendent of Home Missions, will be present and deliver addresses on mission work, with special relation to the scheme recently formulated for financing the missionary enterprises of the Church. Invitations have been issued to a large number of the laymen throughout the Presbytery to attend the meeting and hear these eminent leaders.

A $500 SURPLUS.

The Directors of the Dufferin Agricultural Society held a meeting on Monday for the purpose of winding up business connected with the recent Fall Fair. The Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. H. Endacott, made the statement at the meeting that the Society will have a surplus of nearly $500 after paying the prize money and defraying all other expenses. The Society has paid out more prize money this year than usual. President Leighton, the Secretary and Messrs. Park, Green and Dr. Hunter were appointed a committee to consider the matter of certain improvements to the grounds and buildings. The contemplated improvements include a new grand stand, judges and band stands and new fencing along a portion of the driving track.

JOE GOODHEART DEAD.

Joseph Goodheart, the 18 year old son of J. J. Goodheart, who ran a dyeing and clothes cleaning business in Orangeville a few years ago, died in Palmerston a week ago Sunday. He had no friends in Palmerston, and the town authorities telegraphed to Guelph, where it was supposed he had an aunt, but she could not be located. The lad's father was drowned while boating near Welland a little over a year ago.

MR. JAMES McEWAN.

Mr. James McEwan, only brother of Mr. Wm. McEwan, of Blount, died at his late residence, 548 Manning Ave., Toronto, last Saturday. The deceased was 70 years of age and is survived by a widow and a grown family of two sons and four daughters. Mrs. Robert Forsythe, of Toronto, is the only surviving sister. Mr. McEwan was present at his brother's funeral, which was held from his late residence to Mount Pleasant cemetery at 2 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

MRS. JAMES GOODFELLOW.

The death took place at her home in Bolton on Wednesday morning of Mrs. James Goodfellow, who has been gradually declining in health for some months. Mrs. Goodfellow was born in Scotland 82 years ago and has been a resident of this district since a child. Mr. and Mrs. Goodfellow were married 61 years ago, the aged couple celebrating the 60th anniversary of their wedding last year. In addition to her husband the deceased is survived by six children, all of whom live in the district: Mr. J. D. Goodfellow, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Thomas Kaake, Mrs. Thos. Shaw, Mrs. J. W. Nattress, and Mrs. James McCutcheon. She is also survived by two brothers, Messrs. William Dick, of Bolton, and Alex. Dick, of Alton. Mrs. Goodfellow was held in the highest esteem by all. The funeral took place to Laurel Hill cemetery on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock.—Enterprise.

MADE HIS LAST RUN.

In St. Michael's Hospital, yesterday, Mr. William Childs, the well known C. P. R. engineer passed away. He was one of the oldest employees of the road and a popular and well-known figure away back in the old days of the Toronto, Grey and Bruce, when such little bell top engines as the "Mono" and the "Two Brothers" supplied the motive power. Those were the days of Tommy Grimes, William Thorpe, Conductor Lewis, and others of the old brigade on the T. G. & B. "Billy" Childs was in harness for years after all these had gone. Mr. Childs was always on the good trains. For the last 14 years he was on the Toronto and London express. Everybody liked him, officials and men. He leaves a widow and five daughters, Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Milne, Misses Ruby, Francis, and Olive. The time of the funeral, which will take place from the residence of Mrs. Brooks, 351 Shaw street, to Mount Pleasant will probably be announced to-morrow—Tuesday's News.

A BUSINESS CHANGE.

A change has taken place in the personnel of the firm of Gillespie Bros., hardware merchants. Mr. John Gillespie, one of the members, has disposed of his interest in the business to his brother, Charles, of Amaranth, who has given up farming and come to town to take part in the management of the store. The new partner is an active and energetic young man, who should make good at the vocation he has chosen to take up. Mr. John Gillespie, the retiring member, is going to Toronto to take a position with the Toronto Furnace Company in which his uncle, Mr. Charles Gillespie, is interested. Mr. Gillespie is a good citizen, as well as a successful business man, and will be missed in town. He leaves for the city next week.

BRITISH ADMIRAL SAYS

ROYAL NAVAL CLUB, Portsmouth, England

To the Zam-Buk Co.

Dear Sirs,—I have found Zam-Buk most reliable for healing cuts and abrasions; while for the relief of skin irritation it is invaluable.

(Signed) RODNEY M. LLOYD, Admiral.

Zam-Buk Cures Bad Burns.

Stoker Kingsnorth, of H.M.S. "Cochrane," says:—"I slipped and fell with my arm on an exhaust steam pipe, which fairly frizzled the skin. At once the ship's surgeon dressed my arm, but the burns took the wrong way, owing to a lot of dirt from the pipe setting up blood-poison. A large scab appeared, and from underneath the festering flesh, matter oozed out. I was in fearful pain and didn't know how to get ease.

"For weeks I remained under treatment, but the ordinary ointments proved no good. Indeed, I got worse. I therefore obtained a supply of Zam-Buk and almost as soon as this was applied I got ease. From the very first application, healing commenced; and a few boxes of Zam-Buk healed my wound completely."

General Manager McNichol of the C.P.R. is responsible for the statement that no matter what the development of their Victoria Harbor proposition that the C. P.R. would continue to give Owen Sound a first-class steamboat service. Mr. McNichol said that the new east shore port would be the C.P.R. grain route, but says nothing about the passenger and package freight traffic, and it is persistently rumored that the company are beginning to realize that while the Victoria Harbor route may have a big advantage in the way of railway grades, it is seriously handicapped by the intricate channels on the approach to the harbor, which in bad weather would make it difficult for their passenger liners to keep schedule time.

HOW MEN DRINK FARMS.

My homeless friend with a cromatic nose, while you are stirring up the sugar in that ten cent glass of gin, let me give you facts to wash it down with.

You say you longed for the free independent life of a farmer, but have never been able to get enough money together to buy a farm.

But this is just where you are mistaken. For several years you have been drinking a good farm at the rate of 100 feet a gulp. If you doubt this statement figure it out yourself.

An acre of land contains 43,560 square feet. Estimating for convenience sake the land at $43.56 per acre; you will see that brings the land to 1 mill per square foot, 1 cent for ten square feet.

Now pour the fiery dose and imagine you are swallowing a strawberry farm.

Call in five of your friends and have them gulp down that 500-foot garden.

Get on a prolonged spree some day and see how long a time it requires to swallow a pasture large enough to feed a cow.—Exchange.

A YARN FOR THE BETTERS.

Two citizens of Kincardine recently had the joke on a Kincardine hotel keeper, according to The Review of that town. They dropped into the hotel and said they wanted the bartender to decide a bet for the drinks.

"Give us the drinks now," said they, "and you can decide afterwards which of us is to pay for them."

After the landlord had furnished them with some good sealed stuff, he inquired what the bet was.

"Well," said one, "he bets that when the lighthouse falls, it will fall towards the lake. I bet it will fall the other way."

The landlord is still wondering when he is going to realize the price of the drinks, for the lighthouse looks as if it might stand forever.

Robert Whitehead, of Shelburne, has sold his residence on Main street east to Joseph Snider, of Mulmur, formerly of Shelburne.

TRIMMED THE LAWYER.

It is not often that a musician proves himself able to hold his own with a lawyer, but in the year 1833 Tom Cooke, a well-knowo English musician, scored finely off Sir James Scarlett, who was famous for his skill as a "browbeater." On his cross-examination during an alleged "piracy" case the following dialogue occurred:

"Now, sir, you say that the two melodies are the same, but different. Now what do you mean by that, Sir?

"I said that the notes in the two copies were alike," promptly answered Cooke, "but the accent was different, the one being in common time, the other in six-eight time."

"What is musical accent?" asked Sir James.

"My terms are a guinea a lesson," answered the composer, who saw no reason why he should submit to being bullied.

"Never mind your terms here. I ask you what is musical accent. Can you see it?"

"No."

"Can you feel it?"

"A musician can."

"Now, sir, don't beat about the bush, but explain the meaning of what you call accent."

Cooke did not hesitate one moment but replied:

"Accent in music is a certain stress laid upon a particular note. Thus, if I were to say, 'You are an ASS' it rests on the ass; but if I were to say, 'YOU are an ass,' it rests on you, Sir James."—Etude.

WEDDED WITH RECTOR'S RING.

A rather romantic episode occurred at a wedding in Trinity church the other day. Just midway in the service when the rector said: "Place the ring on the book," the bridegroom turned in dismay to his best man who was supposed to have it in readiness, when lo and behold, he had forgotten it.

Here was a dilemma! But what was to be done?

The bride flushed crimson, wondering of course, how the ceremony would proceed. But the rector was equal to the occasion. Taking in the whole situation at a glance he immediately pulled off his own ring and handed it to the smiling bridegroom who placed it on the bride's finger for the special occasion and the service was proceeded with.—Galt Reporter.

LANDLORD IS LIABLE.

W. S. Bradley, of Little Current, appealed before Mr. Justice Middleton for a reversal of the decision of Magistrate Creasor, of Owen Sound, who fined him $40 and costs because liquor was illegally sold on his property in the Town of Owen Sound. According to the judgment, the landlord of a property is responsible if a tenant breaks the Liquor Act, for, although Bradley himself had nothing to do with the sale of intoxicants, Mr. Justice Middleton found him guilty of the offence and would not quash the conviction. The liquor was sold from a stable in the rear of the hotel premises in Owen Sound.

TIRED-OUT KIDNEYS.

Kidney troubles are so frightfully common because the kidneys are so easily upset by over-work or excesses of eating and drinking. Cure is effected not by whipping them on to renewed effort, but by awakening the action of liver and bowels by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This rests the kidneys and makes them well. Backache and urinary disorders then disappear.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials.

LECTION IN DECEMBER.

(ecial Despatch to The Banner.)

onto, Oct. 12, 1911.—The Pro-l Legislature will be dissolved he near future and a general on will be held during the first econd week of December. This nouncement was made by Sir e Whitney late yesterday after-
The reason assigned by Sir s, which will be followed by sev-ther very important reasons, is the expense of holding bye-electo fill the ten seats vacant
! amount to at least $15,000, his expense would have to be

THE BORDEN CABINET.

binet making may be and doubt-is a pleasant and interesting oc-tion for newspaper correspond-
It is not so pleasant for a e Minister, who is confronted the difficult task of trying to fy different and sometimes annistic interests and of selecting who will bring strength to his ernment and command the regard support of the rank and file of party. In Canada the Prime ster's task is particularly diffi-on account of the immense area the Dominion, its wide diversity nterests and the necessity of giv-each of the Provinces satisfac-representation in the Cabinet.
e is always bound to be a ceramount of dissatisfaction and ppointment. The choice that Mr.
L. Borden has just made of the who are to associate with him he work of carrying on the gov-ment of the country could not be ected to give universal satisfac-
. It has been truly said that e was bound to be some shade of satisfaction no matter what com-ation should be decided upon. On whole, however, the Premier ns to have made a selection that uld commend itself to the judg-t of the electorate. Nearly all of new ministers are men who stand conspicuously in the life of the ntry. The most notable excepn is that of Mr. W. T. White, who been selected to fill the import-and responsible post of Finance ister. Mr. White has behind him emarkably successful career as a iness man, but has had absolute-no experience in politics. The that he has been a pronounced eral has also made his selection subject of considerable comment l adverse criticism. He has un-ubtedly been given his commandposition in the new Administran because of his business qualities, mbined with the fact that he was choice of the Willison-Flavellesh interests in Toronto. Whether will make good or not time alone l prove. About the only serious ticism that can be made of the w Cabinet is that it is perhaps too ongly representative of the finan-l and monied interests of the ntry. If Mr. Borden allows the licy of his Government to be shap-to suit the purposes of these in-ests he will soon find that there rocks ahead. Meanwhile the new ministration takes up the reins of ice under favoring conditions and cked by the good-will of a very rge majority of the Canadian elec-rate. Mr. Borden has his grand portunity. What will he make it?

PRESBYTERY MEETING.

Orangeville Presbytery held a large-attended meeting in St. Andrew's urch on Monday. In addition to e ministers and elders who consti-te the Presbytery, a number of presentative laymen were present hear Dr. R. P. MacKay, Moderar of the General Assembly, and Dr.
S. Grant, the new Superintendent
Home Missions, speak on the en-erprises of the church and the new ethod of providing for its financial bligations. Under the plan recently lopted the special appeals, which ve been so frequent of late years, ll been done away with, an esti-ate made of the amount required r the various enterprises and an portionment made to the various resbyteries and through them allo-ated to the congregations. The adesses were vigorous, logical and nstituted a strong presentment of e church's need for men and money prosecute the great enterprises to hich it is committed. After hearing e speakers, Presbytery adopted the udget previously prepared by a ommittee appointed for that purse and recommended the appoint-ent of a missionary committee in very congregation. Outside of this e most important item of business alt with by Presbytery was the signation of Rev. R. Fowlie, for wards of thirty years pastor of urns' Church, Erin. The resignation as accepted with extreme reluctance nd a committee was appointed to repare a resolution expressive of the orrow Presbytery felt at the loss of uch a useful member. Dr. Hamilton, Messrs. McGill, Mundell and Kirk-ood appeared in behalf of the in-erested congregations and made it lain that they consented to the resgnation only through deference to Mr. Fowlie's wishes. Mr. Kirkwood,

THE BORDEN CABINET.

W. T. White, one of Famous Eighteen Liberal Bolters, is Minister of Finance.

Sketches of Some of the Members of New Administration.

The Borden Cabinet was sworn in at noon on Tuesday as follows :—

R. L. Borden—Premier and President of the Council.

Martin Burrell, B.C.—Minister of Agriculture.

Dr. J. D. Reid, Ont.—Minister of Customs.

W. T. White, Ont.—Minister of Finance.

W. B. Nantel, Que.—Minister of Inland Revenue.

T. W. Crothers, Ont.—Minister of Labor.

Hon. J. D. Hazen, N.B.—Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Col. Sam Hughes, Ont.—Minister of Militia.

F. D. Monk, Quebec.—Minister of Public Works.

Hon. Frank Cochrane, Ont.—Minister of Railways.

Hon. George E. Foster, Ont.—Minister of Trade and Commerce.

L. Pelletier, Que.—Postmaster-General.

Dr. W. J. Roche, Man.—Secretary of State.

Without portfolio—A. E. Kemp, Ontario; George Perley, Quebec; Senator Lougheed, Alberta.

A seat in the cabinet was offered to Rodolphe Forget, of Montreal, who declined it for the time being, as the granting of a certificate to the Bank International, in which he has a large interest, will come immediately before the consideration of the government.

Hon. R. L. Borden, the Premier and President of the Council, celebrated his 57th birthday on June 26th last, during his Western tour. He was born at Grand Pre., N.S., and educated at Acadia Villa Academy, Horton. At first he entered the teaching profession, but later studied law, like so many other men, who have succeeded in public life in Canada. He was called to the bar in 1878. He was elected to Parliament in Halifax in 1896 and 1900, but was defeated there in 1904. He secured a seat in Parliament through the resignation of Mr. Edward Kidd, M.P., of Carleton. He returned to Halifax at the succeeding general election in 1908 and has since represented that city in the Commons. Until 1896 Mr. Borden had taken no active part in politics even in his own province. As the head of the law firm of Borden, Ritchie & Chisholm, of Halifax, with which the late Sir John Thompson and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper had been associated and for ten years President of the Nova Scotia Barristers Association, he was, however, widely known, and occupied a prominent position in the legal profession Mrs. Borden is said to be a cultured lady, interested in art and in music, and fond of outdoor amusements. She is a bright conversationalist, tactful and thoughtful of her guests. She also gives much time and energy to charitable and philanthropic organizations, in many of which she has held important offices.

Hon. George Eulas Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, enters the new Government with twenty-five years' experience as a member of the House of Commons and eleven years as a Minister of the Crown. Mr. Foster was born in Carleton County, N.B., in 1847, and is a member of a United Empire Loyalist family. He was educated at the University of New Brunswick and was a few years after his graduation appointed professor of classics and physics in that institution. From this position he retired in 1873. He made his first appearance in Parliament as a member for King's County, N.B., in 1882, and three years later was appointed Minister of Marine and Fisheries in Sir John Macdonald's Government. He succeeded Sir Charles Tupper as Minister of Finance in 1888 and retained that portfolio practically continuously until the defeat of the Conservative party in 1896. He was elected for King's County in 1896, defeated in St. John's City in 1900 and in North Ontario in 1903. A seat was afterwards found for him in North Toronto, which he has since represented.

Hon. W. T. White was born near Bronte in Halton County in 1866, and attended the Bronte Public School and the Brampton High School before entering the University of Toronto as a student in classics and political science. He remained for two years at the university and then joined the staff of a Toronto evening newspaper as a reporter. He resumed his studies and then dropped them again to accept a position in the City Assessment Department. Finally he completed his university course, winning a gold medal at graduation. He then entered the law school, and in 1899 was graduated with a second gold medal. In August of that year the directors of the National Trust Company, then in course of organization, were seeking a manager. They selected Mr. White, and he accepted the appointment. Since that time he has risen first to the position of general manager and more recently to that of vice-president of that corporation. He will retain the latter title upon entering the Cabinet. Mr. White was one of the eighteen prominent Liberals, who announced their secession from the party on the reciprocity issue.

Hon. Frank Cochrane has been in active politics since 1905. In that year he entered the Ontario Legislature as a member of Sir James Whitney's Cabinet, just as he now enters the Federal Parliament as a member of Mr. Borden's administration. He is an industrious man as the officials of the Provincial Department of Lands, Forests and Mines will testify. To be in his office at the Parliament Buildings at 8 o'clock each morning has been his wont. Often he will make appointments with callers for that hour in the morning. Frequently he remains at his desk until late in the evening. He is not an orator; he is a business man and he expresses his opinions in plain language without rhetorical frills.

He was selected by Sir James Whitney, then Mr. Whitney, to be Minister of Lands and Mines in the Conservative Government of Ontario, on May 30, 1905, and was elected by acclamation at a bye-election in East Nipissing, which the resignation of Mr. Charles Lamarche, M.P.P., gave him an opportunity to contest. In the general election in 1908 he was elected in the newly created constituency of Sudbury. Here he still has large business interests and he continued to administrate the same department now known as the Department of Lands, Forests and Mines. Mr. Cochrane was born in Clarenreville, Que., in 1852 and was educated in the Parish of St. Thomas.

Hon. Wilfrid Bruno Nantel was born at St. Jerome, Que., in 1857, and educated at the Seminary of Ste. Therese de Blainville. He is an advocate and a Doctor of Laws of Laval University. Having been an alderman of St. Jerome since 1894 and Mayor of the town for six years, he contested Terrebonne at the general elections of 1904. He was defeated by Dr. Samuel Desjardins, but in 1908 succeeded in winning the seat. He is an eloquent speaker in the French language, and during the last session of the House of Commons showed himself to be an adept in the English language as well.

Hon. J. D. Reid, the new Minister of Customs, was born on Jan. 1st, 1859, at Prescott, Ont., and was educated at Queen's University, Kingston. He holds the degree of Doctor of Medicine, conferred upon him both by Queen's and the University of Toronto. He has represented Grenville in the House of Commons continuously since 1891, and has distinguished himself as a forceful speaker. He has played an important part in the work of the Public Accounts Committee, and led the Opposition in the fight against the bill to allow a private company to dam the St. Lawrence at the Long Sault Rapids.

STERLING BANK CHANGE.

Montreal Manager Now Superintendent of Agencies, With Office in Toronto.

It will be a matter of considerable interest to business men in Toronto to learn that a recent change in the management of the Sterling Bank, brings Mr. E. H. Marsh back to that city as superintendent of agencies. Mr. Marsh has been in charge of the Montreal branch of the Sterling Bank since he left Toronto, some two years ago, and is a banker of long experience.

DITCHING MACHINE.

Mr. John A. Ellis, a well-known farmer near Orangeville, has purchased a "Buckeye" Traction Ditching Machine and will follow the business of digging drains and laying tile for farm drainage. The machine is made specially for the digging, and will dig a trench any depth and true to grade. Farmers, who have low-lying land, can greatly increase its fertility by proper drainage. It is said that there is no other form of farm improvement which will yield such profitable returns. Considerable drainage work has been done in Dufferin during recent years. Farmers, however, who have this method of improving their farms under contemplation, find themselves hampered by the expense of the digging and the difficulty of obtaining men who will do this class of work. The fact that there is a ditching machine available will provide an easy means of overcoming this difficulty and should furnish a great impetus to this class of improvement. Mr. Ellis is prepared to furnish estimates or take contracts for digging. Communications may be addresses to him at Orangeville.

No fewer than forty fairs this year had to be postponed on account of the elections. This bunched a number of them at a season characterized by rains. As a result the ten thousand dollars voted for the first time this year to be used as insurance against bad weather came in very conveniently. Over thirty fairs have applied for a share as a result of the drop in their gate receipts due to the wet weather.

MRS. LEWIS KENNEDY.

Georgetown was shocked on Saturday evening by the sudden death of Mrs. Lewis Kennedy. A few minutes before her death she was in her husband's store chatting in her usual pleasant manner. Mr. H. P. Moore, of the Free Press, who was in Georgetown that evening, had dropped in for a chat with his old friend, Mr. Samuel Worden, on the way to the station. Mrs. Kennedy was there and entered into the conversation, joked the editor about the result of the election, and as he went out said good-bye. He was the last person spoken to, for a moment after he had gone she was suddenly seized with a fainting spell and the heart failed further action. In addition to her sorrowing husband five children are left. The funeral on Monday was conducted by Rev. Mr. Cameron and was very largely attended.—Georgetown Herald.

MRS. WILLIAM J. PHAIR.

Particularly sad were the circumstances attending the death of Mrs. William J. Phair, who passed away at her home, Clara St., on Sunday after a short illness. A little child was born about a week previous to her demise and death ensued from the resultant illness. The deceased woman was only 26 years of age and had been married a little over two years. Prior to her marriage she was a Miss Chantler, of Aurora. She came to Orangeville from Parry Sound last April with her husband, who is employed on the C. P. R. bridge building department. Her husband and the motheriess child of less than two weeks are the surviving members of the family. To these the heartfelt sympathy of many friends is extended in their hour of trial and sorrow. The funeral was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Revs. W. M. Morris and B. Davies were the officiating clergymen.

ALTON.

The anniversary services in the Methodist Church last Sabbath were a great success. The people of the Presbyterian congregation withdrew their services in order to join their Methodist brethren in the anniversary. The sum of $100 was asked as a free-will offering and the amount asked was contributed. Mrs. Wilmer McClellan, soprano soloist in a leading Chicago church for several years, sang at morning and evening services.

Rev. James Harrison, formerly an Alton boy, but now living in the West, is attending the Methodist Ecumenical Conference in Toronto, and may visit Alton and preach in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening.

Messrs. Benj. Cockerill and Oscar Conley returned from the West on Friday.

Rev. C. Langford, pastor of Alton Methodist Church, is attending the Ecumenical Conference in Toronto this week. Mr. Langford aims at securing one of the eminent delegates from foreign lands to preach in the Methodist Church here next Sunday evening.

Tells of Cures Made by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Thos. Griffin, of Peace River Landing, tells how he got rid of his Rheumatism—honestly earned popularity.

Cold Springs, Peace River Landing, Alta., October 9th (Special) — Just why Dodd's Kidney Pills retain their wonderful popularity is easily shown by a trip across the prairies. Every town, village and post-office has at least one man or woman who is ready to tell of pains relieved and health restored by the great Canadian Kidney Remedy. Let Thos. Griffin of this place add his statement to the hosts already published.

"When I came to this part of the country," says Mr. Griffin, "I was troubled with a bad back and Rheumatism in my shoulders and hips. I sent for six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and they gave me relief at once. I also recommended them to my eldest son who was confined to his bed from Rheumatism.

"Now I know that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best medicine for Rheumatism and the Kidneys. I recommend them to every person I hear complaining of not feeling well."

Dodd's Kidney Pills made their popularity by curing sick Kidneys. They keep their popularity by keeping on curing sick kidneys.

BOWLING GREEN.

Although we had unfavorable weather the fowl supper held here on the 3rd was a great success. The ladies served a delicious supper, which was appreciated by everyone who was present. Afterwards they adjourned to the church, where a very interesting programme was given. On account of the wet evening there was not as large a crowd as was expected, so a second supper was given on the 5th, which was also good. The programme was given by our own people, and was very much enjoyed. We thank the ladies very much for the interest they have shown in this work for the church.

We understand that Miss McArthur has been engaged to teach in the Bowling Green school until the Christmas holidays.

Miss Rayfield, of Toronto, has returned to the city after spending a month visiting at her home here.

LAUREL.

On Friday of last week we had a continuous rain from 8 o'clock p.m. until midnight. On Saturday morning low lying pieces of ground were flooded with water. Those farmers, who were not fortunate enough to have their buckwheat and potatoes harvested, were looking rather blue, thinking no doubt that if that kind of weather continued we would have to do without buckwheat pancakes and potatoes. Fortunately for some of the despondent ones the weather took as sudden a turn as did the Dominion Government and Monday was a busy day getting in potatoes, etc. We are hoping for a few days of fine weather now and trust that we will not be disappointed.

Farmers are getting along well with their fall plowing and many of them are now plowing the second time to try and rid the land of noxious weeds.

Messrs. Geo. Gordon and E. Richardson will soon have their new homes ready to move into. We will then be expecting a bid to the house warming. What do you think neighbors!

Mr. Elijah Hamilton arrived home from the West on Monday last. He reports having had a very enjoyable trip and is looking well after his six weeks' vacation. We are pleased to see him in our midst once more.

Mr. E. B. Cooney has let the contract of erecting a new stable and driving house on his lot in the village to Mr. George Young. Mr. Young has commenced to frame the timber and expects to be ready to raise the building in about a week. Laurel seems destined to grow.

We understand that the Laurel Cheese Co. have just sold the last half of their September make of cheese for 14⅞c. per lb. We are delighted to see the factory doing so well, but would like to see all the farmers in the neighborhood throw their support into the enterprise, which has stood by them for the last thirty years and which has proved such a grand success.

A HILLSBURG WEDDING.

At "The Willows," Hillsburg, Ont., the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Nodwell, on Tuesday of last week, the marriage of their daughter, Joy, to Mr. Walter L. Jacobs, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jacobs, of San Diego, Cal., was solemnized, Rev. James Hamilton, of London, Ont., uncle of the bride, officiating. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in cream satin, veiled in silk marquisette, handsomely embroidered, and carried a shower bouquet of cream roses and lily of the valley. Guests were present from London, Toronto, Owen Sound, Fergus and Hillsburg. Dejeuner was served in the diningroom, which was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums and asters. Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs left for London and other western points before taking up their residence in Blyth, Ont.

AN OCTOBER WEDDING.

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Arnott, York St., at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when their only daughter, Florence White, was united in marriage to Mr. Arthur Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Irwin, of Toronto. The only guests present were the immediate relatives of the bride and groom and a few of the bride's intimate girl friends. The marriage service was performed by Rev. Dr. Harper, pastor of Orangeville Methodist Church. The drawing room was prettily decorated with autumn leaves and pink and white carnations, the bridal couple standing under a pretty arch of smilax and autumn leaves, with a wedding bell hanging in the centre. The bride, who was given away by her father, was gowned in white satin pailette trimmed with pearl fringe and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lillies of the valley. Mrs. James A. Arnott, who was matron of honor, was dressed in white embroidered net over yellow duchess pailette satin and carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses. Miss Eleanor Irwin, sister of the groom, played as the wedding march the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. While the register was being signed Miss Helen Denton sang "I Love You," by Sobeski. After the ceremony the newly married couple and the wedding guests sat down to a dainty dejeuner, served under the direction of Mrs. Fremlin. The dining room was prettily done in pink and white, the decorations including autumn leaves, carnations and a floral wedding arch. The bride, who is a winsome and popular young lady, was the recipient of a large number of beautiful gifts, evidencing the regard and good wishes of her friends. The groom's gift was a set of Persian lamb and ermine furs, to the matron of honor a pearl and amethyst brooch and to the pianiste and soloist a pearl ring each. The happy couple took their departure by the evening train for Rochester, Buffalo and other American points. A large number of their friends were at the depot and they were given a hearty send-off. The bride wore a becoming travelling costume of grey cloth and long heavy grey cloth coat, with a large white felt hat with a touch of green trimming. After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin will take up their residence at 105 Concord Ave., Toronto, where they will be at home to their friends after November 1st. The Banner joins their numerous friends and well-wishers in offering its hearty congratulations.

An Unknown Tongue.

A young man just returned from college was out cycling one day when suddenly he came to a steep gradient. While he was descending he lost control of his machine and was thrown.

Two men came and found him lying in that predicament. When asked how it happened he replied, "Well, I came down that decline with the greatest velocity and lost my central gravity and was precipitated on the hard macadamised road."

"Away, lad; let him alone," replied one of the men. "He's a foreigner."—London Ideas.

The Skeleton at Large.

"Do you know," she said, "the Browns have a skeleton in the closet?"

"Oh, no," he replied carelessly.

"But I'm sure of it," she insisted.

"And I'm just as sure you're wrong," he returned. "The comments I've heard are enough to prove that that skeleton of theirs isn't in the closet at all; it's wandering all over the neighborhood."

A Comet.

The following whimsical account of the nature of a splendid comet is given in an old French military journal: "It is a parcel of old stars who, being no longer fit for service, have been discharged on half pay and, to save expense, have agreed to mess together."

Dressing the Pillow.

A little child, not three years old, was sleepy, and his mother carried him to his crib, but the pillowslip had been removed by the maid for the laundry, and the child, looking up beseechingly into his mother's face, said, "Please put a shirt on my pillow."

GOLD RUSH ERA AND NOW.

Guggenheims Own Klondike.

How Skaguay and Dyea, Alaska, Have Passed from the Pioneers into the hands of Syndicate

The glory of Skaguay, in Alaska, has departed, writes a newspaper correspondent in that far-off place. It was in 1898 the port of entry to the Klondyke—and 100,000 men then and in the two years that followed struggled to get to Dawson, capital of Klondyke. Just around two rocky points, three miles away, lies Dyea, whence in 1897 went other thousands to the Klondyke. One man lives in Dyea — the glory has also departed.

In those days no railroad ran from this arm of the sea. Men went into the interior over the passes, and thence by small boat down the Yukon to the gold fields of the Klondyke river. The trails over both the Chilkoot and White passes—the former from Dyea, the latter from Skaguay—were graveyards in which many skeletons lie buried beneath cool snow slides. Other skeletons lie whitening. Alongside are the bones of thousands of horses, mules, oxen and goats —pack animals which fell exhausted during the awful rush to the north.

Up the gulch from Skaguay, at Dead Horse Canyon, it is asserted that 5,000 horses died in the winter of 1898. Over the Dyea trail, the other day, we saw twenty sacks of flour lying by the way, pieces of broken vehicles, crumbling roadhouses, fallen foot bridges over roaring mountain streams.

These trails are abandoned, for the White Pass and Yukon railway from Skaguay has been built, and, of course, no one travels by crude trail when he can speed across the summits of the coast ranges in steam cars to the head of steamer navigation on the Yukon, and thus shorten the time required to go Dawson, Forty Mile, Fort Selkirk, Fairbanks and other interior points.

But in these days of the initial excitement over the discoveries of fabulously rich placer gold fields in the north, these two towns were veritable maelstroms. Through them rushed a tornado of humanity, crazed with the lure of the north—men and women from every part of the globe. Each carried an average perhaps of $1,000. The 100,000 who hurried here in 1897 and 1898, therefore, brought approximately $100,000,000. Most of them went away "broke."

The Klondyke placer fields were taken in individual claims by miners, some by old timers, called "sourdoughs," others by "checkakos," newcomers. Some of these claims were marvelously rich. A claim was 500 feet up and down the creek bed, and as wide as from rim rock to rim rock. Single claims washed out in one winter, according to the crude methods of those days, $250,000. Clean-ups of $50,000 to $100,000 were numerous.

The winter of 1897-8 the Klondyke produced $12,000,000 in gold, and more the next year, with liberal outputs for years to come.

Yet to-day Dawson, at one time glitteringly brilliant with its sprinkling of millions of gold dust, is as quiet as a country graveyard. The stampede has ended. The stampeders have departed for other centres of excitement. Cabin stand on every hand, deserted. Along the streets where once thousands of men and women rushed, with courage and hope and energy, and high resolve, stalk the dejected employees of the Yukon Gold Company, owned by the Guggenheim brothers, of New York and Denver, Col.

The entire sweep of the Klondyke has been taken over from the Canadian Government by the Guggenheims. Practically not another interest is there, and such as are know that it is only a question of a few months when they must sell to the Guggenheims. The Klondyke is entirely within the British Yukon territory.

The crude placer mining methods of the early days are no more. To-day huge dredging and steam-thawing machines are operated. The hills are being washed away, the beds of the creeks overturned, and the gold extracted from the frozen soil upon a scale quite different from that of the rush times.

It is thus the glory of these ports departed. Then it was crudity, disorganization, chaos. Now it is cold, calculating methodical work, governed from the Guggenheim headquarters in New York city, 5,000 miles away. It is system against what once was indescribable confusion. It is the selfish, organized dollars coming in, where brave men looked out the country and located mineral wealth, and in this unequal strife the weaker individual has lost.

It is but a repetition of the history of the pioneer work done by venturesome men in the western parts of the United States—by the Marcus Whitmans, the Daniel Boones, and all of that honored company of conquerors of our wildernesses. Five minutes ago I met a man I knew fourteen years ago as a Klondyker. He put in eleven years in that region, and, finally, as he said he "just got out of the country; the Guggenheims had taken complete possession of the diggings."

The Yukon Gold Company was the concern organized by the Guggenheims, the stock of which was floated by Thomas W. Lawson, in Boston, in one of his sensational advertising campaigns. Control of it is held by the Guggenheim brothers.

The evolution of existing conditions in the Klondyke is in process in Alaska, American territory, from Ketohikan, in the uppermost southeastern part, to the most north-westerly point, where Behring Straits run into the Arctic Ocean. The individual pioneer prospector struggles against the onward march of the all-conquering syndicates formed in 1906 by John Pierpont Morgan, the Guggenheims, Jacob Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., S. H. Graves representing Close Brothers, of London, and others., Unless something be done to check its progress all of Alaska will pass, like the Klondyke, hopelessly into the hands of the combine.

PARIS SIDESHOWS.

The Tuileries Kitchens and the Museum of Speech to Be Opened.

Paris will probably have a couple of new sideshows for visitors soon. One is to be a Museum of Speech and Gesture, in which phonograph records and cinematograph films will perpetuate social life of the present period. There will be records of the contemporary accent in different provinces and others showing how people of different stations in life conduct themselves at social ceremonies, and again others to recall how contemporary theatrical companies and orchestras represent classic works. Thus future historians wishing to describe the transformation of the race or the life of a great man will find unbiased records at their service.

Another idea of the Municipal Council is to throw open the famous kitchens of the Palace of the Tuileries to the public. They are situated principally beneath the Pavilion de Flore, the great wing of the Louvre, above the Pont Royal, which Napoleon III. built as a residence for the Prince Imperial. They extend on both sides parallel to the river, and at one end come beneath the well-known riverside terrace of the Tuileries Gardens.

Except for a few scraps of facade, which were re-erected at the other end of the Tuileries Gardens, the kitchens are all that remain of the great Tuileries Palace destroyed by the Commune. The suite of rooms form probably the largest kitchen of any private establishment in the world, and everything is in good order, little having been changed since the Empress Eugenie left the palace.

The roasting-room is a wonderful example of its kind. It holds two cooking ranges, each capable of roasting seven or eight sheep and several dozen fowls at the same time. The open fire is 20 feet high and as many broad, with two mechanical turnspits, so arranged that it will cook an ortolan on a spit not much bigger than a hatpin just as surely as it would roast an ox on one of the huge iron skewers, 18 feet long, which still hang on the wall near at hand.

"The Only Thing That Will Relieve Neuralgia."

The piercing pains of Neuralgia, which often follows a bad cold or La Grippe, are frequently almost unbearable and few medicines afford any relief to the sufferer.

"I am a rural mail carrier and have been a user of the Dr. Miles' medicines for years.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills can't be beaten. They are the only thing I have found that will relieve my neuralgia and I have tried most everything, besides medicine from the doctor. I am willing to tell anyone what the Anti-Pain Pills did for me."

CHARLES HILDERBRANDT,
Box 205 Woodvill, Ohio

If you, like Mr. Hilderbrandt, "have tried most everything" in vain, why not do as he did, fight your aches and pains with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. Let the pills bear the brunt of the battle. No matter how stubborn the contest, they will come out victorious.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills stand on their record, which is a long list of cures extending back a generation.

OPERATIONS AVOIDED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Belleriver, Que.—"Without Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I would not be alive. For five months I had painful and irregular periods and inflammation of the uterus. I suffered like a martyr and thought often of death. I consulted two doctors who could do nothing for me. I went to a hospital, and the best doctors said I must submit to an operation, because I had a tumor. I went back home much discouraged. One of my cousins advised me to take your Compound, as it had cured her. I did so and soon commenced to feel better, and my appetite came back with the first bottle. Now I feel no pain and am cured. Your remedy is deserving of praise."—MRS. EMMA CHATEL, Valleyfield, Belleriver, Quebec.

Another Operation Avoided.

Poughkeepsie, N.Y.—I run a sewing machine in a large factory and got all run down. I had to give up work for I could not stand the pains in my back. The doctor said I needed an operation for womb trouble but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did more for me than the doctors did. I have gained five pounds. I hope that everyone who is suffering from female trouble, nervousness and backache will take the Compound. I owe my thanks to Mrs. Pinkham. She is the working girl's friend for health, and all women who suffer should write to her and take her advice.—MISS TILLIE PLENZIG, 3 Jay St., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Thirty years of unparalleled success confirms the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to cure female diseases.

Suggestive Questions

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

OCT. 15th, 1911.

The Return From the Captivity. Ezra, 1:1-11; II:64-70.

Golden Text—He retaineth not his anger forever, because he delighteth in mercy. Micah, vii:18.

(1) Verses 1-2—Who was King Cyrus and what were his character and achievements?

(2) Where were the Jews as a people, at the opening of this lesson, which took them there?

(3) How do you account for it that Cyrus, immediately when he began to reign over Babylon, decided to release the Jewish captives and to rebuild the Temple at Jerusalem?

(4) What reason can you assign for a king, not a Jew, having such a direct message from God?

(5) If the religious history of every nation from the beginning of time could be fully known, should we have in essence a repetition of Bible history?

(6) Verses 3-4 — What class of people do we depend on chiefly, to build churches and support missionaries?

(7) What motive does Cyrus appeal to, for building the Temple at Jerusalem?

(8) What good is accomplished by the vast sums of money spent in building and supporting churches?

(9) If all people are obligated to give money to support the cause of religion, what is the least they should give?

(10) Verses 5-6—Are ministers to day under obligation to take the lead by precept and example in religious enterprises, without waiting for any special spiritual leading?

(11) When persons willingly help in God's cause, are they without exception, "them whose spirit God had raised"?

(12) When we undertake giving or doing for the cause of God, why is it safe to conclude that God specially appointed us thereto?

(13) Verses 7-11 — What in brief, were the circumstances which brought the gold and silver vessels to Babylon from the first Temple at Jerusalem?

(14) When a man gives lavishly of precious treasure to the cause of God is that always, or generally, a proof of his love for God?

(15) Chap. II. Verses 64-70 — What number of people returned to Jerusalem, and what was the number originally carried away to Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar? (See II Kings xxiv:14.)

(16) What were the religious and financial conditions of the people when they were originally deported, and when they returned?

(17) What general effect had their captivity had upon them?

(18) Which ministers more to the character of the average man, prosperity or adversity? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Lesson for Sunday, Oct. 22nd, 1911. The Foundation of the Second Temple Laid. Ezra iii. :1-iv:5.

CONCERNING MOLLIE

She Proves Herself Equal to the Occasion

By AGNES G. BROGAN

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

There was a dignified aloofness about Professor Craythorne's manner which forbade familiarity. This may have been accountable for the fact that he still remained a bachelor as the years of his thirties drew to an end. Maidens who admired his fine face and many sterling qualities retired disheartened from the field of conquest at his unapproachable demeanor, while the professor in turn regarded them, one and all, with pitying tolerance. They were pretty and amusing, no doubt, but impossible as interesting companions, while deep in his heart was a hope unconfessed that eventually he would meet one woman whose mind could follow his own down the intricate paths of learning, for he was convinced that the happiness of two people must always depend upon their sympathetic understanding. And when the professor had reached this conclusion he met Mollie. It was at an evening party given by the rector's wife, and the hostess, remembering her learned guest, introduced a historical conundrum game by way of entertainment. The professor, looking up with a thoughtful frown, met the mischievous gaze of Mollie's blue eyes.

"Got the last one?" she asked socially.

"I beg your pardon?" His tone was coldly questioning.

"I would like to copy your answer to the last question," Mollie confided. "You see, I don't know what became of those dead and gone kings, and I'm sure I do not care, but one really ought to have one correct answer among the fifteen, and you"—a flattering pause—"you know everything."

"I may be better able to solve the problem," the professor answered condescendingly, "when I shall have given it sufficient thought."

"That's right," Mollie encouraged; "don't be a quitter."

Professor Craythorne stared in astonishment at this disrespectful young person; but, quite unconscious of her offense, Mollie smiled. Moreover, Mollie has a most engaging smile, and that was the beginning. Thereafter it was the professor who appeared strangely diffident in her presence and who humbly sued for favor, while Mollie avenged her sex by ruling him with a high hand. And the habitual frown which grew upon his forehead could not wholly be attributed to study. In fact, science and philosophy alike were as the "rule of three" compared to the ways of Mollie.

Had he been fortunate enough to act as her escort upon one occasion he would be sure to see her in company with Dick Brandon the following day, while gentle kindliness upon Mollie's part was usually followed by cold indifference.

After all, the professor reflected bitterly, what chance had he to win with such a formidable rival as Dick Brandon—Dick, who was practiced in all the pleasing arts of which he was so woefully ignorant?

And when he had argued himself into the very depths of discouragement Professor Craythorne went over and proposed to Mollie. She received his avowal quietly.

"Will you mind if I do not answer you tonight?" she asked.

"Do not keep me waiting too long," he replied, and his laugh sounded boyish in its eagerness.

Mollie studied the toe of her small boot. "I will send you a message tomorrow," she said. "You will understand."

Oh, that was a long tomorrow, and when the last class had been dismissed the professor retired to his gloomy room in the university and sank wearily into a chair, his unseeing eyes gazing out over the green campus.

"A note for you, sir." A servant spoke from the doorway. He turned the tiny envelope over and over in his palm, while his heart hammered away painfully, and his strong fingers trembled as he drew forth the square white card. He was vaguely conscious of Mollie's printed name and address showing above a bold scribbled sentence, "My sympathy in your disappointment." It was some time before he could realize the cruel message. Then he remembered—she had said that he would understand.

"Any one in?" called a cheery voice, and without waiting for an invitation a young man came into the room. John Craythorne looked up impatiently.

"Good evening, Brandon," he said.

"Sorry to interrupt your meditations, professor," the young man began, "but the truth is I need help."

"If you have been indulging in any of your usual pranks it will be useless for me to intercede for you again."

Young Brandon laughed: "This is—er—quite a different matter," he said. "Fact is, I want to get married. You may have noticed the approaching symptoms—most people have."

John Craythorne smiled, but his voice faltered strangely.

"Under those circumstances," he replied, "would it not be wiser to consult the young lady?"

"Oh, that part is all right," Dick answered confidently; "we've been in love with each other ever since we were kids. It's the old man who will not give his consent. He objects to my youth, instability and a few other unworthy qualities, having in mind at the same time a more desirable 'party' for his daughter. Trouble is daughter is just obedient enough to yield to his wish, though there is no doubt as to her affection for me.

"Now, the point is this—if some person who has some influence with the old fellow, whose judgment he relies upon, could suggest to him that I am not at all a bad sort, why, he would probably come around to our side. At least, that is what Mollie said when she sent me to you."

"Mollie—sent you—to me?" The words came slowly. John Craythorne' face had grown very white.

"Yes," Dick answered. "She said you'd be sure to do it for her, you two are such good friends."

The professor laughed shortly.

"He will be at home tonight," Dick remarked insinuatingly as he turned toward the door.

When he was alone again the professor turned on the electric bulb above his mirror and pitilessly examined his own tired face. He noted with a grim smile the hard lines which seemed to have formed about his mouth. He was glad that Mollie was not to be seen when he sought her home, for the sight of her winsome face would be more than he could bear in his present mood.

Her father welcomed him with his usual cordiality. The professor stood with frowning brows and briefly stated his errand.

"I come at your daughter's request," he said, "hoping that when you realize her future happiness is at stake you will not withhold your consent to her marriage with Richard Brandon."

Then while he enlarged upon Dick's few virtues and condoled his many faults the older man listened attentively.

"This is a great disappointment to me," he said at length, "and you will pardon my bluntness. I had hoped that my daughter's choice might have fallen upon yourself."

John Craythorne sighed. "I also dared to hope," he said quietly.

"Before we discuss the subject further," her father continued, "I would like to send for Mollie."

"I prefer not to be present at that discussion," the professor answered stiffly. Then he turned suddenly to face Mollie herself. After the first startled glance he resolutely avoided her eyes.

"Professor Craythorne has been interceding with me in your behalf, Mollie," her father said. "He assures me that young Brandon will make you a good husband, though I confess I regret your choice. Nevertheless your will must always be mine, my daughter."

John Craythorne waited in breathless suspense for Mollie's answer.

"Professor Craythorne," asked a meek little voice, "will you kindly tell me just why you choose to play the part of John Alden?"

He confronted her indignantly. "Dick Brandon gave me to understand that such was your wish," he replied.

Mollie's eyes widened, and then she laughed—it was an aggravating little laugh. "I did not expect you would give Dick such a good character," she said wickedly, "when you know very well he flunked last year."

A prolonged whistle sounded down the hall at this moment, and Mollie puckered up her lips to answer. Instantly the object of the conference burst into the room.

"Hello, Mollie!" he called. "That blundering man just gave me your card, and I rushed over. What's the news?"

Mollie extended her hand. "Dickie," she said, "will you let me see that card? I left two of them at the university today, one for Professor Craythorne and one for you. I am beginning to suspect that I put them into the wrong envelopes. Yes," she said, smiling over at the professor, "this one was intended for you." Then she read aloud:

"I shall expect you at 6 this evening. Do not disappoint me."

"Yours was just a word of sympathy, Dickie," she said sweetly, "written when Bettie told me that her father had refused his consent to your marriage."

John Craythorne took one hasty step in her direction, then hesitated as Mollie's father spoke sharply. "Will you please tell me what this all means?" he asked.

Mollie's eyes were dancing.

"Bettie's father thinks very highly of Professor Craythorne's opinion, and that is why I suggested that he might persuade the obstinate old man to withdraw his objections to Dick as a suitor. However"—she laughed over her shoulder—"I think I have managed it for you, Dick. You had better go over and see."

"Mollie," John Craythorne cried eagerly, but she clung to her father for a moment, ignoring the call, while the old man's face beamed with satisfaction; then she pushed him gently from her.

"Daddy," she hinted broadly, "must you really go?"

And a long time after, while the professor and Mollie still lingered in the library, she raised her glowing face to look up at her lover reproachfully. "You do not deserve such happiness," she said. "You would have married me off to another man."

"Dear," John Craythorne answered tenderly, "how dared I hope that you cared for this solemn old student, while Dick possessed these admirable qualities—youth and good looks?"

The girl touched the little crease upon his forehead caressingly. "You have qualities which Dickie will never possess," she said; then her laugh rippled merrily. "Any one but a stupid professor would see that I do not need youth or good looks," said Mollie.

TORTURED BY BILIOUSNESS

AND TERRIBLE SICK HEADACHES

Both Completely Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

DRESDEN, Ont. July 17th, 1910.

"I was a dreadful sufferer for many years from Sick Headaches and Biliousness, or Torpid Liver. I tried many remedies and physicians, but nothing seemed to do me any good. I finally used "Fruit-a-tives" and after the first box, I was so much better that I continued using these fruit tablets and they have entirely cured me.

"I certainly can recommend "Fruit-a-tives" to anyone who suffers from Headaches, Biliousness or Stomach Trouble." MRS. ISAAC VANSICKLE.

Thousands of people have had the same experience as Mrs. VanSickle. They have tried doctors and taken all sorts of medicine, only to find that "Fruit-a-tives" is the one and only remedy that actually cures these troubles.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices, and is the greatest Liver Cure ever discovered. It acts directly on Liver, Kidneys and Skin—sweetens the stomach and purifies the blood.

The Kidneys Wear Out

But in advanced years you can keep these organs healthy by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

As old age comes on most people suffer more or less from derangements of the kidneys. With some there are years of pains and aches, with others Bright's disease sets in and the end comes quickly.

Fortunately many have learned about Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and are enabled by their use to keep the kidneys healthy and active.

Mr. Richard Preston, Osborne, Lambton County, Ont., says: "Seventeen years ago I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills when my back was so bad that to stoop or rise was torture to me. The kidneys were in bad condition, but these pills entirely freed me of back pains. I have used them ever since, whenever the kidneys would get out of orders, and now, at eighty years, am well and hearty, thanks to this grand medicine."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

EYE ERROR

Not a question of age

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

We have facilities here for testing your eyes and finding out exactly what they need. We sell only such glasses as we can thoroughly recommend. All work is guaranteed.

'RATHCONA AND THE AGE OF ACHIEVEMENT.

On what he says will probably be e last voyage but one he will ever ake across the Atlantic, Lord rathcona arrived in New York the her day, on his way from Eng- nd to the Dominion. As the veter- peer, standing on the deck of the ant Mauretania, viewed the unfold- g panorama of skyscrapers and eat bridges, looming over the inner y of the American metropolis, he ew reminiscent and recalled how it d once taken 42 days to make the urney he had just made in four d a half.

It is more than three score years nce Strathcona made his maiden ip across the seas in an old packet ip and in that time, the world, vaking from its centuries of iner- a had evolved most of those elec- ical and engineering wonders which ake for present day efficiency and able us to do in one hour what rmerly took us twenty to accom- ish. It is true Stephenson and att in England and Cooper in the nited States had put forth their st steam locomotives, Fulton his ver steamboat, Murdock, the Scot, lumination by gas, and Morse and heatstone their systems of tele- raph. Though crude and primitive, ese inventions, which gave a new npetus to civilization, set men inking and fired their imagination s nothing from the beginning of time nd done before.

Contrasted with the ninety days aken by the Pilgrims to make the rip in the Mayflower from England o Cape Cod in 1620, the three nonths spent in negotiating his way rom London to Baltimore by the riginal John Jacob Aster and the ighty days required by Ben Frank- n to go from New York to France, ord Strathcona's voyage of forty- wo days marked as important and poch making a step in the world's volution as does his more recent our day voyage, though he probably id not suspect it.

In the time it took him to make is forty-two day journey across the tlantic, Jayer-Schmidt, a Paris ournalist recently circled the globe or his newspaper. Thus, that which hallenged our admiration and wonder ast year or yesterday, to-day com- nands but passing notice. From the ailing ship to the steamship was a ong stride and likewise the transi- ion from the stage coach and the ony express to the steam railroad. The land operated telegraph, with ts limitation of fifteen words a minute, which brought the remotest orner of the world into instant ouch with the centres of civilization nd destroyed the natural isolation f nations and communities, wonder- ul in its day and generation, like he original steamship and locomo- ive, now seems immature compared o the 1000 words a minute telepost ystem of automatic telegraph which ransmits over one wire as much as horse sent over sixty-five and at a raction of the expense. Wellington at Waterloo bivouaked by candle light and Florence Nightingale, the "An- el of the Crimea," ministered to the 198 survivors of the Light Brigade—he noble 600—of Balaclava by oil amo. "Bobs" in the Transvaal shaped his campaign by gas, and Togo, the naval hero of the Japan- ese-Russian war, recently a visitor to the Dominion, by electric light.

Practically all of these changes have come to pass in the lifetime of Strathcona. In meditating on them, as he looks back to the first of the 100 trans-Atlantic voyages he has made in the last 60 years, truly can he felicitate with the world and say, this is an age worth while.

TIRED-OUT KIDNEYS.

Kidney troubles are so frightfully common because the kidneys are so easily upset by over-work or excesses of eating and drinking. Cure is effected not by whipping them on to renewed effort, but by awakening the action of liver and bowels by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This rests the kidneys and makes them well. Backache and urinary disorders then disappear.

A UNIQUE CONVENTION.

Annual Meeting of Shareholders of United Drug Company.

One of the most forceful demonstrations of what co-operation can accomplish was shown last week in Boston at the ninth annual convention of the stockholders of the United Drug Company.

In many ways this convention is unique. It is doubtful if any other single organization has accomplished what the United Drug Company has succeeded in doing in such a short time. Stockholders with their families, numbering some 2000, were present from every section of the United States and Canada, while others came from distant places, such as England, Hawaii, and the West Indies. These are all representative business men, each the leading druggist in his respective town and no two men are from the same place. Not a few had to travel many days to make the trip to Boston. It was noticeable, also, that many of these people had been coming to these conventions year after year, showing most conclusively an earnest interest in the sessions as well as proving the value of the gatherings.

Tuesday morning Mr. Louis K. Liggett, president of the company, called the meeting to order and introduced his Honor, Mayor John F. Fitzgerald. In his address of welcome the mayor assured the stockholders that Boston not only appreciated the coming of the visitors, but recognized that they represented one of the biggest commercial assets that Boston had.

When the regular business of the session was resumed, President Liggett reviewed the work of the company for the past year, which showed the tremendous growth of the concern in that time. He then traced its progress from its organization nine years ago. His report showed that the company's laboratories now occupy nearly ten acres of floor space, it employs about 1200 people, with an annual pay-roll amounting to nearly a million dollars. Where the company a little more than eight years ago had but 32 stockholders, it to-day has close upon 5000. He told of the plans for the future, showing that it was necessary to immediately commence work upon new buildings to keep pace with the increased growth.

The regular order of business was then followed with discussions of various topics of interest to the trade and importance to the public. The motive actuating most of these discussions was a determined effort to still further advance the sale of pure drugs and discourage the introduction and sale of questionable preparations.

Altogether, the outcome of the convention must be regarded as a distinct benefit to the public, inasmuch as the aim and purpose of the company is for still better product and progressive store methods, and these essentials were made the subject, in one form or another, by the speakers at the various meetings during the week.

Death came quietly to John Norris, Bolton, a week ago Monday night. Retiring on Sunday evening and failing to rise in the morning, a visit to his room disclosed the fact that he had passed peacefully away during the night. Deceased had suffered for many years from an incurable disease which followed an attack of typhoid fever, and although the advice of the best specialists had been secured he gradually grew worse. Since the death of his wife some years ago he had been living with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Norris, of this place, and for many years followed the trade of a miller. He was in his 46th year, and is survived by his parents, one sister and three brothers, namely, Mrs. W. C. Boyce, of Castlederg, Henry, of Alliston, Fred, of Chicago, and William, of Brantford.

ST. VITUS DANCE.

Cured Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Chorea, or as it is more generally known, St. Vitus dance, is a disease that usually attacks the young children, though older persons may be afflicted with it. Its most common symptoms are a twitching of the muscles of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses this twitching takes the form of spasms in which the jerking motion may be confined to the head, or all the limbs may be affected. The patient is frequently unable to hold anything in the hands or to walk steadily, and in severe cases even the speech is affected. The disease is due to debility of the nerves, and is always cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich the blood, tone and strengthen the nerves and thus restore the sufferer to good health. The following is a striking instance of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do in this trouble. Mrs. Chas. Phipps, Pelee Island, Ont., says:—"At the age of fourteen my eldest daughter, Edith, became much run down, and the trouble developed into St. Vitus dance. First her left arm became affected, then the left leg and entire left side. She grew so bad that she actually could not hold anything in her hand, and could only go about with a sliding, jerking motion. Notwithstanding that we were giving her medicine, she seemed to be growing worse, and finally her speech became much affected. We became so much alarmed about her that finally her father got a supply of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and we began giving her these. In the course of a few weeks she was much better, and before all the pills were gone she was again enjoying perfect health. This was in 1908, and as she has not had a symptom of the trouble since I feel justified in saying the cure is permanent."

Be sure you get the genuine pills which are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CENTENNIAL.

Provincial Workers Will Hold Forty-Sixth Annual Convention in Brockville, October 23-26.

There are more than five thousand Sunday Schools in Ontario, almost ty per cent. of the entire number throughout the Dominion of Canada. One hundred years ago the first nday School in Ontario was organized (Oct. 1811) in the village of izabethtown, now Brockville City. he school was organized by Rev. William Swart, who came to this country in response to a call from a Missionary Committee instead of going to India as he had originally planned.

The outgrowth of this first Sunday School is the strong and vigorous congregation of the First Presbyterian Church, Brockville. They are housed in a splendid church edifice on the corner of the City Central Square

In view of the local celebration in October, which will climax in the holding of the forty-sixth annual convention of the Ontario School Association, the building has been thoroughly renovated and the organ rebuilt.

A year ago in convention at Oshawa, Ont., the pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Brockville, Rev. Norman McLeod, backed by the "Brockville and Vicinity" Pastors' Association, urged the claims of Brockville as the next meeting place, and Hamilton City, which had waited one year already, generously yielded to Brockville's claim.

The Provincial Sunday School Convention at Brockville promises the completest programme ever offered to an Ontario audience. It has several features never before introduced. Hardly a phase of Sunday School interest but finds a place for consideration. Among those taking prominent part in the programme are:—Rev. E. T. Capel of Montreal, Que., General Secretary of the S. S. Union of the Province of Quebec; Rev. J. C. Robertson, B.A., B.D.; Rev. F. L. Farewell, B.A.; Rev. P. K. Dayfoot, B.A., well known workers in the field work of our Ontario Sunday School denominational efforts, and many other local leaders.

In addition to home talent the programme contains: Rev. A. H. McKinney, D.D., of New York, assistant to Rev. A. F. Schauffler, D.D., of international and world fame; Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner of Chicago, Ill., one of the staff of the International Sunday School Association, and Mr. Alfred Day, Syracuse, N.Y., who was General Secretary of the Ontario S. S. Association for thirteen years.

A CATARACT FATALITY.

A distressing occurrence took place near Cataract on Tuesday night, Oct. 3rd, whereby James Nunn, son of Mr. S. A. Nunn, lost his life. The young man was seen at Cataract on Tuesday and evidently tried to board a train to return home. No person saw the accident, nor does anyone know how the young man met his death, but the agent at Cataract discovered his body beside the track on Tuesday evening. The head was completely severed from the body. Mr. Nunn was about 23 years of age and was a farmer. The terrible occurrence is deeply deplored by the friends and neighbors of the unfortunate young man. The family is well known throughout Peel County and the deepest sympathy is extended to them because of this sorrowful happening which will cast a gloom over their home.

BOY NEARLY BLINDED.

Influence of Moving Pictures on Owen Sound Youths.

Influenced by moving pictures they had seen at the Avenue Theatre on Saturday evening, three fourteen-year-old boys, Thomas Shiers, Roy Cross and Norman McNabb, left that place about nine o'clock and going over to Spragge's grocery store purchased a quantity of cayenne pepper. They met Earl Holmes, another lad, and prevailed upon him to take a snuff. His subsequent actions proved so interesting to them that they went over into the Riverside Park to look for some one else on whom to try the trick. As they came to the bridge they met Wilfrid Brown, son of Mr. J. R. Brown, going home. Shiers went up to Brown and catching him by the arm, cried, "Hello, Brown!" The lad accosted said, "Hello," and as he did so received a handful of the burning pepper in the eyes and face. Suffering intensely, and virtually blinded for the time, the victim of the dastardly trick reached home with considerable trouble. Prompt and sustained bathing of his eyes with milk and boracic acid relieved them after a time. An information was then laid for the boys responsible for the act and on Thursday they appeared before Police Magistrate A. D. Creasor. Wilfrid Brown told his story, stating that he had been going home, had been spoken to and that the pepper had been thrown into his eyes by Roy Cross. The two youthful culprits had no explanation to offer, but McNab, the third boy, was called, and told the court all about watching the moving pictures which had suggested the trick. He had bought the pepper, but did not know that it would blind anyone by getting into the eyes. From the statements made it appeared as if the lads had meant the whole thing as a lark, never thinking that it would result so seriously. They were so evidently sincere in their assertions that the magistrate, after pointing out to them that he could send them down for as many years as he wished almost, reduced the charge from, "intent to maim and injure," to common assault, and fined the culprits two dollars each and costs. The father of the injured boy, who was present, interceded for the lads and stated that he had no desire to see them dealt with harshly. The case so far as the boys are concerned dropped there, but the manner in which the trick was suggested to their minds leaves it necessary that some steps be taken to force local show house men to observe the letter of the law. The three boys in question had gone to the theatre and witnessed some wild and fiery spectacle on the curtain which had given rise to the desire to do likewise. They had acted on the impulse with results which were not most deplorable by just the narrowest margin. These boys, too, were under the theatre-going age prescribed by law, sixteen years. Yet they had been allowed free ingress to the Avenue Theatre, there to witness spectacles on canvass, which to say it as mildly as possible, are hardly the fit thing to be obtruded upon susceptible boys and youths of tender and receptive years.—Owen Sound Times.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY.

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years, was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this!

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is workcasts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

BLOUNT WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The Women's Institute of Blount held its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. McEwan on Thursday, October 5th. The meeting was opened with the singing of "The Maple Leaf" Miss Effa Dodds gave a reading, entitled, "How a Woman Transacts Business," proving that women are efficient in business, but still have time for other matters. Men are occupied with business only. Mrs. John Crozier read a paper, "My Grandmother, My Mother and Myself," comparing the education of women in the three generations. Luncheon was served after the close of the meeting.

INTERMEDIATE CHAMPIONS.

Owen Sound Alexandras Defeat Toronto Maitlands by 5 to 2.

Exciting Lacrosse Match at Idylwyld Park Yesterday Afternoon.

One of the most exciting lacrosse matches that has been witnessed in Orangeville since the palmy days of the Dufferins took place on Idylwyld Park yesterday afternoon. The contestants were the Alexandras, of Owen Sound, and the Maitlands, of Toronto, and the prize the intermediate championship of the Canadian Lacrosse Association. Both teams ran excursions for the game, Maitlands being accompanied by about fifty supporters while the Alexandras brought down an enthusiastic following of between two and three hundred. Each team was out to win and the spectators were treated to a fast, clever and scientific exposition of the national game. Maitlands were all to the good in the first quarter. They had speed to burn and their covering and combination work was well-nigh perfect. They were generally on the aggressive and the Alexandras were lucky indeed to hold them down to two goals. The Toronto bunch also showed to better advantage in the second quarter and on form should have increased their lead by another couple of goals. Couch, however, played a wonderful game and his efforts were ably seconded by Cummings and Wilkins, who were the king-pins of the Owen Sound defence. As it was neither team was able to score. There were several delays during the quarter, the close checking being responsible for several accidents. Gate and Fletcher resorted to fisticuffs to settle some difference and got twenty minutes each to cool their ardour. The rapid pace at which they had been travelling began to tell on the Maitlands and their work was not so brilliant in the third quarter. Owen Sound on the contrary seemed to improve as the game proceeded. The northerners began to assume the aggressive and a series of fierce attacks on the Maitland citadel culminated in their first goal. Maitlands disputed the goal, but the referee decided to allow it. The goal umpire was, however, changed, Mr. E. A. Warren going on for the balance of the game. The Maitlands' umpire had previously been changed, Mr. C. R. McKeown being substituted. The battle waged fiercely for the balance of the quarter with the play rather in favor of Owen Sound. Neither team however, was able to score and the quarter ended with Maitlands still leading by 1 goal. Lee, of the Owen Sound home, wrenched his leg late in the quarter and had to be carried off the field, Gates going off to even up. Encouraged by the plaudits of their supporters the Owen Sound twelve went into the final period with the evident determination to do or die. Their home was generally right on the Maitlands' flags, but the brilliant work of Grant staved off the inevitable until well along in the quarter, when Lee got a difficult pass and tied the score with a pretty shot. Owen Sound still pressed and finally got another putting them in the lead. With the score against them, Maitlands rallied and the play became very even. The northerners, however, were not to be denied and another tally gave them a safe lead. In the fast gathering darkness just before time was called the Owen Sounders tallied again making the final score 5 to 2. It was a great game and making due allowance for superior endurance, the best team won. Maitlands played the prettier lacrosse, but ran themselves off their legs in the first half of the game, and were in no shape to withstand the onslaughts of their opponents in the hard, gruelling finish. Every man on the winning team played clever, heady lacrosse. If any distinction should be made, the work of Couch in goal, Cummings and Wilkins on defence, Lee at centre and Hiltz and Dowkes on the home calls for special mention. Grant in goal, Slack at coverpoint, and Spellen at centre were the bright stars of the vanquished team. The entire twelve played splendid lacrosse and, while disappointed over the adverse result, took their defeat manfully and in a sportsmanlike spirit. Referee Frank Doyle kept the game well in hand and took effectual measures to suppress any tendency to rough it. He was fair and impartial and very few of his decisions were questioned.

Owen Sound penalties totalled 56 minutes and Maitlands 70 minutes. The players and officials were:—

Maitlands—Goal, Grant; point, Mackie; coverpoint, Slack; defence, Kirk, Bullen and Stroud; centre, Spellen; home field, Barber, Stevenson and Farrington; outside home, Gate; inside home, Britnell.

Owen Sound—Goal, Couch; point, Cummings; coverpoint, Wilkins; defence, Fletcher, Elliott, R. Lee; centre, T. Lee; home field, Hiltz, Nevings, White; outside, Yeo; inside, Dowkes.

Referee, Frank Doyle, Newmarket.

Penalty Timekeeper — Dr. T. H. Henry, Orangeville.

Timekeepers—Doran, The Maitlands, J. Skinner, Owen Sound.

Morrisey's No. 4 Eczema Ointment Healed Like Magic.

Nauwigewauk, N.B., Oct. 2, 1910

"I can gladly recommend dear Dr. Morrisey's Eczema Ointment because it cured me of a sore which I had on my ear for over 3 years. I did everything to have it cured, and had the most skillful doctors treating it, but it would not heal up. I went under treatment with Father Morrisey's Ointment, and in a short while it was cured. That was 3 years ago, and I am sure the cure is permanent. When I think how quickly No. 4 Eczema Ointment cured me it seems wonderful indeed, because you know I doctored with several skilled physicians who could not help me. You surely must have a big demand for this wonderful Salve. My only regret is that I did not use it at first, as it would have saved me over 3 years of pain, to say nothing of an unsightly ear and expensive doctor bills." John Ryan.

The above prescription is not a "Cure-All" or so-called patent medicine. Dr. Morrisey prescribed it for 44 years, and it cured thousands after other doctors failed.

Mrs. J. E. Cobean and child, of Jamestown, N. D., are on a three months' visit with her mother, Mrs. John White, 2nd Ave.

Mr. W. C. McMillan, of the McMillan Clothing Co., arrived home on Saturday after a two weeks' business trip to the West.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Smith, of Pottstown, Pa., spent Friday evening with Miss De La Ree. Mr. and Mrs Smith have been visiting in Owen Sound.

Miss Helen Bremner has returned from New York, where she spent the summer. Miss Bremner will resume her professional duties in Orangeville in the near future.

Mr. Ross Kearns, of the jewellery house of Woodhouse & Co., of Cobalt, is spending a few days at his home here this week. Mr. Woodhouse and Mr. Kearns are negotiating for the purchase of the Jackson jewellery store in St. Thomas.

Mr. Percy Harding, of Orangeville, visited friends in town on Sunday. Mr. Harding, who is one of Orangeville's best vocalists, rendered a tenor solo, Bailey's, "Lord of All Life," in the Methodist Church on Sunday evening.—Shelburne Economist.

Registrar John Anderson, on Sunday last, celebrated the fortieth anniversary of his appointment to the registrarship of North Wellington. He will have the hearty congratulations of a host of friends in North Wellington and all over the province, and their best wishes that he may be long spared to fill the position which he has held, to the satisfaction of all for forty years past.—Arthur Enterprise.

Our stock of Fall and Winter wear for Men and Boys is now at its best—McMillan Clothing Co.

Mr. E. Hamilton, Township Clerk of Amaranth, arrived home a week ago Monday night after an absence of six weeks in the West. Mr. Hamilton spent most of his time with his son, Russell, who is running a farm of 1100 acres at Pasqua, Sask. Mr. Hamilton had 700 acres in crop this year. Part of his wheat was good and he harvested an excellent oat crop. Mr. Hamilton says that wheat and money seem to be the great topics of conversation in the West. Social conditions do not compare at all favorably with Ontario and there does not appear to be the same interest in church life and work as here. Mr. Hamilton enjoyed his trip immensely and is greatly impressed with the West and its possibilities.

BISHOP CLARK.

Makes His First Visit to St. Mark's Church.

Interesting Reception and Presentation in Church Basement on Monday Night.

On Sunday last the Rt. Rev. W. R. Clark, M.A., D.D., lately elected Bishop of the Diocese of Niagara, preached masterly and impressive sermons in St. Mark's Church. To those who thought than Dr. Clark's special strength would lie in his ability as administrator of the affairs of the Diocese (for he is admittedly a splendid organizer and a capable business man) his sermons on Sunday afforded a pleasing revelation for he proved to the large congregations that heard him that he is also a preacher of exceptional power. His sermons, morning and evening, were of a very high order, in choice of language, soundness of thought and eloquence in delivery. The congregations were very large at both services, the edifice being taxed to the limit of its seating capacity at night.

The singing of the Choir, under the leadership of Mrs. Endacott, was a greatly appreciated feature of the services. The usual harvest thanksgiving hymns are very pleasing at any time, but last Sunday St. Mark's choir put a life and brightness into them that brought a hearty and spontaneous response from the large congregation. At the evening service Mr. Gordon Hayes rendered a solo in his usual acceptable manner. Those who took solo parts in the different anthems also acquitted themselves creditably.

On Monday evening a reception was tendered the Bishop and Mrs. Clark in the basement of the church. Although confronted with serious difficulties, the ladies had succeeded admirably in transforming the large, plain room into a pretty and most inviting reception parlor. Autumn leaves, trailing vines, flowers, ferns and foliage plants, together with easy chairs, rugs, screens, pretty china and bright silver made such a transformation, that one might well be pardoned for almost forgetting that the reception room was an ordinary church basement. There was naturally a large attendance, the great majority of the members of the congregation availing themselves of the opportunity to meet the chief pastor of the diocese and his esteemed wife. The Bishop and Mrs. Clark received their people with a grace and charm that won the hearts of all and will have the effect of greatly endearing them to the people of St. Mark's. During the evening Dr. and Mrs. Clarke were presented with an address of welcome, which was read by Mr. A. Firth, Principal of Orangeville Public School. The Bishop was also presented with a beautiful gold-headed cane and Mrs. Clarke with a silk umbrella. The presentations were made by Mr. E. H. Smith and Mrs. J. J. Laverty.

The Bishop replied feelingly and in fitting terms in behalf of Mrs. Clark and himself. He expressed himself as overwhelmed with the kindness of the people of St. Mark's and the heartiness of their reception and assured the Parish of his earnest wishes for its well-being and his readiness to do anything in his power to advance its interests.

Dainty refreshments were afterwards served by the young ladies of the church and an excellent musical programme was provided by the choir and Misses Edith Anderson and Birdie Leighton and Messrs. Hayes and McClochlin. The evening's programme was brought to a close with the singing of "God Save the King," thus bringing to a close in a fitting manner one of the most pleasant social gatherings ever held in connection with St. Mark's Church.

MISSION BAND MEETING.

The Mission Band of the Baptist Church will hold its annual public meeting on Friday night at 7.30 o'clock. A good programme of music, etc., will be provided. Collection during the evening.

THE GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

Among the persons who have recently made provision for old age when it comes are two sisters, aged respectively 33 and 34 years. They have purchased from the Canadian Government a Last Survivor Annuity that is an Annuity which will give them together an income of $600 a year so long as they both live, and to be continued to the survivor so long as she lives. The cost of this Annuity, $3,643.65, had been invested at 5 per cent. and had brought in less than $185.00 annually, with the difficulty and annoyance of re-investment. The Annuity becomes payable when the younger sister attains the age of 55, and should both die before that time the purchase money will be refunded to their heirs with 3 per cent. compound interest. Each is now earning her own living, and the sum paid is the fruit of their labours for a number of years. They were thus able the better to appreciate their splendid opportunity. A card of enquiry addressed to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, will secure for you any information you desire on the subject.

THE APTOMMAS CONCERT.

Famous Welsh Artist Enthusiastically Received on Monday Night.

Assisting Artists Also Heard With Delight.

The concert going public of Orangeville is indebted to the Young Men's Class of St. Andrew's Church for two high-class concerts last season. This enterprising organization scored another success with their concert in the Town Hall Monday evening last, when they gave music lovers in this town and vicinity an opportunity of hearing Aptommas, the famous Welsh harpist, with a good company of assisting artists. The hall was not as well filled as might have been expected, but the attendance was sufficiently large to defray the fairly heavy expenses of the concert, and leave a balance for the work of the Young Men's Class.

The harpist, Aptommas, came to Orangeville recommended by the highest musical authorities of the old world, and it can safely be said that he fairly merits the international reputation he has won. Owing to the technical difficulties in playing, the harp is not often heard as a solo instrument, being mainly used for accompaniment, but under the skilful fingers of Aptommas the most brilliant compositions were rendered with brilliant technic and wonderful expression. His first appearance was in a number of Welsh melodies, including the famous, "March of the Men of Harlech," with which he fairly captivated his audience, responding to an enthusiastic encore by repeating the last air "Ap Shenkin," a most captivating melody. In his second appearance the numbers "Etude" and "Tarantelle" gave the harpist an opportunity to exhibit his wonderful technic. Passages calling for intricate fingering were faultlessly rendered, the harpist playing the melody with one hand, while keeping up with the other an accompaniment of beautiful arpeggios and chords. In his last appearance he played several popular and familiar airs that seemed to please the audience extremely well. In fact judging by the pleasure created, Aptommas ranks with the greatest artists ever heard in Orangeville.

Miss Grace Merry, the entertainer, was not a stranger to many of the audience and fairly maintained her high reputation as one of the foremost entertainers in Canada. She was heard mostly in dialect and was most successful with her Irish selection, "Danny," which was a fine mixture of Irish drollery and pathos. It is rather to be regretted that Miss Merry did not give any selection sufficiently dramatic to call into play the histrionic powers which she undoubtedly possesses. Special mention, however, should be made of her amusing rendition of a boy sketch entitled "Peekin," which was thoroughly enjoyed.

Miss E. Alexandra Bradley, the soprano soloist of the evening, possesses a sweet lyric voice of extended range. We are informed that Miss Bradley was suffering from the after effects of a severe cold, which prevented her from singing in her usual voice, but during the course of the evening her voice steadily improved and in her last selection she sang very well indeed, the pianissimo passages being especially well delivered. Miss Bradley is quite young and there is no doubt that with a little more experience and further cultivation of style and expression she will be one of our most welcomed concert sopranos.

The concert opened with an appreciated addition to the regular programme in the form of a duet by Miss Bradley and Mr. Stanley R. Frost, one of Orangeville's best known vocalists. Their number, "The Battle Eve" was admirably rendered, and won a hearty encore, which brought as a response, "Love's Old Sweet Song."

Miss Maude C. Bradley, who is also manager of the Company, made an efficient and sympathetic accompanist.

Any concert, no matter how good, is not heard under favorable conditions in the present antiquated Town Hall, and all concert-goers eagerly await the time, when that venerable building shall undergo a much needed renovation, with the installation of more comfortable seats and more artistic decorations.

TEETHING TIME WORRY.

Baby's teething time was once a source of worry to all mothers—it is yet a time of worry to many, though there are thousands of mothers who have learned the secret which banishes this worry. Mothers who worry, who see their little ones suffering from difficult teething; who are worn out by day and kept awake at night by the cries of the baby in distress, should follow the example of the thousands and give their little ones Baby's Own Tablets — the remedy for worry—the never failing banisher of baby's pains. Concerning them Mrs. H. Monette, Jr., Rapide de l'Orignal, Que., says:—"My baby cried day and night and suffered from his teeth. A few doses of Baby's Own Tablets made him healthy and happy and his teething easy and painless. I would not be without them. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

OBITUARY.

On Saturday morning, Oct. 7th, at 5 o'clock a.m., the spirit of Mr. R. J. Adams, hardware merchant, of Caledon East, left its tenement of clay and crossed the great divide. The deceased had been showing unmistakeable signs of the disease that was making inroads on his once well-knit frame for the past 18 months, but he bore his illness with a Christian fortitude. The sands of time gradually shifted from under his feet. All that a loving wife and kind friends could do to restore him to his former vigor and vitality was done, but in vain. The crimson fluid, which distributes health, is impregnated with the seeds of death. Heat may inflame it, or toil oppress it and destroy the parts it was designed to cherish. The subject of our short obituary was born 42 years ago on lot 29 in the 3rd con., township of Chinguacousy. About 20 years ago he opened a hardware and tin store in the village of Mono Road. Having been burnt out there he then moved to Grand Valley, County of Dufferin, where he made good. He thought, however, he would like to get nearer the home of his childhood days, and started business in Caledon East some 6 years ago. He was a hard working, industrious and successful business man, and honest and conscientious in the discharge of duty. These qualities were sufficiently acknowledged by the large and respectable concourse of friends and neighbors who on Monday, the 9th inst., followed his remains to their last resting place in the Caledon East cemetery. The funeral services were conducted at the home by Rev. Geo. Gandier, Anglican minister, who delivered a good practical discourse, from which many instructive lessons could be taken. The following hymns which were favorites of the departed, viz.,—"Shall we Gather at the River," "Rock of Ages," and "It is Well with my Soul," were excellently rendered by W. C. Burrell, E. J. Madill and W. J. Ward. The floral offerings and bouquets were handsome indeed. Conspicuous on the casket was a maltese cross, with the inscription "Our Brother" from Court Britannia, No. 288, Independent Order of Foresters; a wreath, Dr. T. F. Perkins, Grand Valley; spray, Mrs. Robert Hodgson, Toronto; a circle, D. Moore & Co., hardware merchants, Hamilton, accompanied by a kind letter of condolence from Mr. Robinson, representing the firm, and a spray, Miss Daisy Campbell, of Toronto. The funeral was under the auspices of the I. O. F., of which the deceased was a member and the beautiful burial service of the Order was rendered at the grave. Among the sympathizing friends present from a distance were the following:—Mr. and Mrs. T. M. McHugh and Mr. G. W. Scott, Brampton; Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Perkins, Grand Valley; Mr. J. T. Hodgson, Mrs. R. Hodgson and Miss Pearl Hodgson, Toronto; Miss Daisy Campbell, Toronto; Mr. Bert Graham and Mrs. Adams, Guelph; Mrs. Edgar and Oliver Shields, Snelgrove; Mr. and Mrs. David Graham, Inglewood, and Dr. Reynar, Palgrave. The pallbearers were Messrs. E. J. Madill, W. C. Burrell, Thos. Evans, W. H. Rappon, W. J. Matthews and W. J. Ward. The casket which contained the earthly remains, was very handsomely and artistically finished. The funeral arrangements were under the supervision of Mr. J. A. Donaldson and were carried out in a most thorough and satisfactory manner. In conclusion, we tender to the bereaved widow, who was for nearly twenty years a true wife in every sense of the word, our profound and sincerest sympathy; likewise to the bereaved sister, Mrs. McCaughrin. May He who directs and governs all things so direct and lead them that they may meet their loved one where parting shall be no more.—Com.

WAGON UPSET.

While driving to Orangeville with some pigs on Monday morning, Mr. John A. Scott, of Mono Centre, met an automobile near the entrance to the Forest Lawn cemetery. Noticing that the horses were likely to frighten the automobilist stopped his machine. Mr. Scott drove on and would probably have passed safely had not one of his lines broken, allowing the horses to run to one side of the road and upset the wagon. The horses broke away from the rig and ran as far as Harshaw's hotel before they were stopped. Fortunately Mr. Scott, who is advancing in years, came through his exciting mishap without any serious injury. Horses and wagon were also practically undamaged. The automobile owner, who was very much perturbed over the accident, assisted Mr. Scott to put matters to rights and offered to reimburse him for his loss of time and any damage he had sustained.

young chap named Cudney, who ks for Hugh Bates in East Lu-, had an exciting experience with nd steer on the streets of this g on Tuesday. A week ago Thursday evening, the dwelling of Mr. Michael Farrell, Egremont, was destroyed by fire. Mr. Farrell was in Mount Forest that evening, and his children, who are motherless, had gone to bed, leaving a lamp lighted. It is supposed this lamp exploded and set fire to the house. The children clambered out of an upstairs window in their night clothes, and nothing else was saved. The house was a frame one, with shingled sides, and was insured for $400.

Constable McCutcheon went to Ingersoll last Friday to bring back Earl Wilson, who was wanted here on charge of publicly exposing obscene pictures. The constable returned with the young man on Saturday night, and Wilson appeared before Magistrates Harness and Jackson on Monday afternoon. It was only a preliminary hearing, however, as Wilson was taken to Owen Sound on Monday night where he will be tried for the offence. The case is a particularly disgusting one, and we understand other parties are implicated in the affair, from which further developments may be brought forth later.—Markdale Standard.

The Monarch Peninsular

How Do You Judge a Range?

YOU can't judge a range by looking at it. True, you can see whether it is good looking or not. You can see whether it will be hard or easy to manage, whether the doors open or shut easily; whether it is easy to clean. You can see how the grates work and what oven room you have.

But you can't see how much coal it will take to heat the oven. You can't see whether your pies will burn or not. You can't tell how long the parts will wear.

This unseen part, you can be sure of when you buy a Monarch Peninsular or, in fact, any Peninsular range.

Fifty years of building stoves—honest stoves—are behind every range that bears the name Peninsular. That name says the materials are good—the flue arrangement is good—the oven will heat evenly—the range will wear.

is a steel range—the easy-to-clean kind.

It has a large square oven, twenty inches both ways—just right for four pies. The oven is made of quick radiating steel and will heat up as soon as a fire is started. It has a drop oven door, strongly made.

Grates Easy to Remove

The fire-box is of iron. It is deep and has upright sides, which experience tells us is the most economical shape. It is cleaned out with perfect duplex grates. These grates cannot warp out of shape, and may be removed without disturbing the linings of the fire-box.

The Monarch may be had with a hot-water reservoir which fits either end of the range; a high warming closet with drop door; an oven thermometer; no convenience known to modern stove-making is lacking in this perfect range.

"THE NEW BROOM."

Under the heading of "The New Broom and the Newspapers" the Montreal Star makes some trenchant comments on the practice of inserting advertisements of Government contracts in the party papers.

The Star advises the new Government to use printed circulars in notifying the contractors of new works proposed. Other advertisements, of a public nature, the Star has published, and states it will continue to publish, as matters of news.

To back up its views the Montreal paper quotes Sir Richard Cartwright's expression, famous in the old days of the Liberal opposition, about "poisoning the wells"—polluting the sources from which the people obtain their political news.

But there is another and a greater burden (of which the Star does not speak) imposed upon the people of this country by the newspapers or some of them. It is a burden against which the amounts paid for advertising the Government contracts is insignificant. And the largest newspapers of the big cities are the greatest offenders.

The post office department carries newspapers for 1-4 cent per pound. It charges on letter mail 32 cents a pound.

There are strict regulations under which papers are admitted to this 1-4 cent rate—as second class mail. The prime necessity is that the publication is a newspaper, not an advertising sheet, and that it is sold for its news value to the subscribers—that it is in no sense a "free distribution" publication.

How many of the great daily papers have reduced the price of subscriptions in sections of the country to a point where they get from subscribers only enough to pay for practically the agent's commission, the postage and the mailing of the paper. They do not by any means obtain the cost of the white paper and ink, let alone the cost of producing the paper in a mechanical and editorial way.

So that for all practical purposes these papers have become "free distribution" papers. They fill the mail cars, they impose on the whole people the necessity of extra postal service.

What does the Montreal Star think of these big city dailies who "slaughter" their papers all over the country —selling at one-half or one-third the price they demand from the subscriber near at home?

Will it suggest to the new Government the advisability of relieving the people of an expense in the public service which is unjustifiable except from the standpoint of the publishers of a few big newspapers in this country.

Here is another direction in which the "New Broom" might move a sweep.—Ottawa Free Press.

A very pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. R. Lang, Main St., on September 27th, at 3 o'clock p. m. when Miss Thomasine Rowan was united in marriage to Mr. Elmer Everdell, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. McArthur performed the ceremony.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH.

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat-band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and makes the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Orangeville only at our store— The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville, Ont.

MEN'S MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

Hamilton, November 8th, 9th & 10th.

For a month past the Hamilton Laymen's Missionary Committee has been, in co-operation with the Laymen's Missionary Association of Canada, laying plans for a great convention of men to be held in this city the second week in November,— the 8th, 9th and 10th.

Eleven of these conventions are being held throughout the Dominion. Hamilton district comprises Norfolk, Peel, Halton, Wentworth, Haldimand, Welland, Lincoln, York, Simcoe, Ontario, Durham, Victoria, Peterboro, Northumberland, Haliburton, Muskoka District, Parry Sound District and Algoma District. Already letters and cards asking for lists of possible delegates have been sent out to some four hundred Presbyterian, four hundred Anglican, four hundred Methodist, two hundred Baptist, and twenty-five Congregational clergymen.

Geo. C. Coppley is chairman of the Hamilton Committee that is responsible for the success of this gigantic undertaking. It is not settled as yet where the convention will be held in this city, but it brings home to the people the necessity of a great convention-building, as it is expected five thousand people will want to hear Sir Andrew Fraser and some of the other prominent speakers, whose names will be mentioned later.

Sir Andrew Fraser's father, Rev. A. J. Fraser, D.D., was an eminent minister of the Scottish Presbyterian Church, while his mother was the daughter of another clergyman of the same denomination, — Rev. J. Shaw. Such being his parentage, it is easy enough to understand his taking an active and intelligent interest in church work. He was educated at the Edinburgh Academy and Edinburgh University, obtaining at the latter the degree of M. A. in course and that of L. L. D. honorarily. In his 23rd year, in 1871, he entered the Indian service, and remained actively engaged therein until 1908, when he returned to Scotland, taking up his residence at Auchenleish, in Perthshire.

His activities in the Indian service covered a wide sphere. He was member of the historical Hemp Drugs Commission, which investigated the grave evils resulting from the general use of vile drugs, and whose report resulted in the enactment of drastic remedial laws of the greatest importance. For two years he was land revenue officer, an appointment which brought him directly in touch with all the local governing bodies of the country, and also with those holding Government concessions. The Government revenues increased materially during his administration, and incidentally many injustices and petty hardships imposed on poorer classes of natives disappeared In recognition of these services he was created C. S.I. For some time he held the important office of president of the police commission, using his influence to keep down the illicit sale and use of opium and other harmful drugs, and making a determined effort to put a stop to child murder and kindred heathenish practices, which in a few remote places had contrived to survive in spite of the law. From 1903 till 1908 he had the honor of holding one of the most dignified and influential appointments under the Government of India, that of Lieut.-Governor of Bengal, and the year he received his commission to this office, he was created K. C. S. I.

Sir Andrew Fraser is the man that a fanatic in India tried to assassinate. One of the great Indian princes threw himself between the assassin's pistol and Sir Andrew. Fortunately the gun missed fire twice, and before he could pull the trigger the third time, one of the workers in connection with the Y.M.C.A. in India grabbed the fanatic and was able to wrest the pistol from his grasp.

Sir Andrew has a son who was a missionary in South Africa and took the sleeping sickness, and was ordered to discontinue his work, but would not give it up, so was sent to Ceylon, where he is actively engaged at the present time.

TREATING THE FOREST AS A CROP.

The progress of the Conservation policy of Canada, as applied to forest resources, depends more upon the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior than upon any other organization. Upon the technical knowledge and executive ability of the officers of the Forestry Branch depends the future of the forest of 16,000,000 acres of Dominion Forest Reserves, as well as upon the large area of non-agricultural forest land in Western Canada, which for the good of the country may yet be set aside as permanent forest reserves. In addition to looking after Dominion lands the Forestry Branch is now being asked by Eastern land owners to furnish advice as to the best means of securing at the earliest date a profitable crop of timber on waste land or wood lots. The proper administration of forest lands requires a special knowledge of the trees best adapted to each region, of their uses, and of the markets. Further there is needed knowledge of the habits of all trees, especially of the merchantable species, so that it may be known how rapidly they grow, how they seed, when and under what conditions the seed germinates, and in what way the seedlings and young trees are affected by their surroundings. Such knowledge is gained only by long study and experience. In order that the new Rocky Mountain Forest Reserves may be administered according to the latest scientific knowledge and the best experience, the Forestry Branch is now making detailed studies of the habits of the merchantable species of trees on the Eastern slope of the Rockies in Alberta and has sent one of the men in charge of the work to study the systems of forest management practised during the past few years by the highly developed United States Forest Service in the National Forests of Montana. The United States foresters have spent large sums of money and availed themselves of the experience of many men in developing plans of lumbering which do not inconvenience the lumbermen, but which ensure the protection and reproduction of the forest and the Canadian Forestry Branch intends to benefit largely by their experience.

Make walking a misery to many who do not know of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

How far can you walk without suffering in one way or another from discomfort to your feet?

You can get a world of comfort by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment when your feet give you trouble. This treatment is so delightfully soothing and healing that helps you at once.

Unlike unsanitary powders which clog the pores, Dr. Chase's Ointment makes the skin soft and smooth and prevents corns and bunions.

This ointment also affords relief and cure for chilblains and frost bites.

Whenever there is itching of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can use Dr. Chase's Ointment with most satisfactory results. 60 cts. a box; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

WOODLOT INSPECTION BY GOVERNMENT.

Increasing difficulty is being found in obtaining an adequate supply of hardwood lumber for the industries of Canada. The hardwood tracts of the eastern provinces for a long time have not been able to meet the demand, and in 1910, 60 per cent. of the hardwood used in Canada was imported from the United States. The United States, although with a much larger supply of hardwood on hand, is also seeing that the annual consumption far exceeds the annual growth and that the virgin supply is being rapidly reduced. By practical demonstration it has been proven that waste land, if planted in young hardwoods, will prove a profitable investment at the end of twenty-five years or more, and will improve the productiveness of the surrounding farm land. In the eastern provinces of Canada and in Ontario, particularly, are large tracts of such land, covered at present with an unprofitable tree growth, which through being sandy, rocky or low lying, cannot be treated as agricultural lands. The Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior is taking a practical interest in the farmer's woodlots of Ontario, in an effort to make otherwise useless land supply hardwood lumber to an eager market, with profitable returns to the wood lot owner. Parties interested in this matter should correspond with the Department at Ottawa, which is already giving practical assistance on important tracts. Foresters will be supplied by the Department to look over tracts of timbered land, estimate the land, estimate the quantity of timber, advise as to what species to encourage or plant according to the locality and general conditions, and suggest a general working plan. Such scientific knowledge, the result of former investigations, will be of great benefit to private owners and should be sought after at once.

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, OCT. 19, 1911.

NOVEMBER 8TH.

Date Selected for Conservative Convention.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, the Present Member, to Have Opposition.

Mr. Wm. Pacey, President of the Conservative Association of the County of Dufferin, has issued the call for a convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate to represent the party at the approaching Provincial election. The place selected by Mr. Pacey and his Executive is the Town Hall in the Village of Shelburne, and the date, Wednesday, the 8th of November.

The announcement of the date of the Convention will naturally serve to quicken public interest in the political situation in Dufferin. It is, of course, too early to state positively just what aspirants will allow their names to go before the Convention. There are probably a score of Conservatives in the riding, who would be quite willing to allow themselves to be selected to represent the constituency either at Toronto or Ottawa. Some of these have the necessary ability, and if they saw fit to press their candidature would command a very considerable following at the Convention. There are others whose qualifications are not outwardly discernible and whose aspirations may be not unjustly attributed to purely personal ambitions. This much, however, is certain, Mr. C. R. McKeown, who represents Dufferin at the present time, will be a candidate for the nomination and will have to face a strong opponent in the Convention in the person of Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel.

Rev. Mr. Bell has already made the positive announcement that he will stand the Convention on November 8th. The Banner understands that he has decided to take this step in response to the requests from numerous Conservative electors in various parts of the riding, who believe that Dufferin should have a more energetic and vigilant representative in the Legislature. Electors, who hold to this opinion, make it plain that they have no fault to find with Mr. McKeown, except that he has done little or nothing during his term in the Legislature. They say he has made little or no attempt to initiate useful or progressive legislation, and has not used his position or influence to remedy certain crying local abuses that for the good of the county should not be tolerated any longer. There is also a disposition in some quarters to hold the present member responsible for the retention in office of certain officials, who are apparently objectionable to many of the people of the County.

Rev. Mr. Bell has been a resident of Dufferin County for twenty years, is popular with the people, has a clear record as a thoroughgoing Conservative and will undoubtedly command a strong following in the Convention. Whether he will be able to dislodge the present member, or not, is of course another question, and one that it is impossible to answer at the present moment. His entrance into the fray will, however, add greatly to the general interest in Dufferin politics, and should give additional zest to the proceedings at the coming Convention.

THE CENSUS.

The census returns are somewhat disappointing in that they show a total population of only 7,100,000, whereas it had been generally expected that the total would be well up to 8,000,000. Otherwise the increase of 32 per cent in the last ten years shows that Canada is being peopled at a very satisfactory rate. The rate of increase is over three times as great as during the preceding decade. One of the noteworthy factors in the country's development, as revealed by the returns, is the great increase in urban population. Ontario, for instance, shows a total increase of 336,955. Of this the city of Toronto alone is responsible for 168,200, Hamilton for 29,245 and Ottawa for 26,412. In other words these three cities contribute 223,857 of the total increase of 336,955 that has taken place in this Province. The smaller cities and towns and New Ontario will easily do more than account for the remaining increase. There is therefore every reason to fear that there has been a serious decrease in the rural population of Old Ontario duringthe last ten years. The redistribution that will follow the completion of the census will not make as much change in the membership of the House of Commons as was generally expected. Forecasts gave the four Western provinces a probable increase of from 25 to 30 members. The returns indicate that they will only be entitled to twenty additional members. Ontario, on the other hand, stands to lose 3 or 4 members, New Brunswick 2, Nova Scotia 2 and Prince Edward Island one. This means that there will be an increase of not more than eleven or twelve in the membership of the House. With the exception of Prince Edward Island, the Maritime Provinces have maintained their population remarkably well, considering how greatly they have been affected by the trek to the western provinces.

THE CENSUS FIGURES.

Canada Has Population of 7,100,000.

Western Provinces and Cities Show Big Gains.

The official census figures of the Dominion of Canada were handed out Tuesday night by Hon. Martin Burrell, Minister of Agriculture. They show a total population of about 7,100,000, an increase of close to 2,000,000 in the last decade. There are some electoral districts, which have not yet made full returns. These will likely bring the total figures up to the 7,100,000 mark. The population by Provinces is as follows:—

Alberta	372,919	73,022
British Columbia (incomplete)	362,768	178,657
Manitoba	454,681	255,211

The great increases have of course taken place in the cities. Some of the striking examples are:—

The figures indicate an increase of 32 per cent. in the whole population since 1901. The returns are somewhat disappointing as the estimates of the Census Bureau indicated a probable population of close to 8,000,000 people. One explanation offered is that the census was probably the most accurate that has ever been taken, while previous counts, it is thought, showed an excess over the actual population. The principal increase has of course taken place in Western Canada, in round figures 1,008,000 compared with an increase of 622,000 for eastern Canada.

The new unit of representation in the Commons will be on the basis of population of Quebec, 30,780. On this basis Nova Scotia will lose two members, New Brunswick two, Prince Edward Island one, and Ontario four.

Manitoba will gain five members, Saskatchewan five, Alberta five and British Columbia five. The east will therefore lose nine members and the west will gain twenty members.

The total membership of the new House will be 232 members, as compared with 221 at present.

The approaching Provincial election will probably be one of the quietest in the history of Ontario. The Liberal party is not in very good shape for another fight and is not likely to give the Government very strenuous opposition in a number of the constituencies. A factor that may help Hon. A. G. MacKay and his followers somewhat is the belief some people entertain that it is better to have one party in power at Toronto, when the other has control of affairs at Ottawa.

W. K. McNaught, M. P. P., for North Totonto, is one of the big men in the Conservative party in Ontario. The fact that he was big enough to pay a deserved tribute to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, whom he described as one of Canada's great statesman, shows him to be something more than an ordinary politician. Generosity of this character will not injure Mr. McNaught in the estimation of fair-minded electors of either political party.

THE TOWN COUNCIL.

Local Furniture Company Asks for Bonus of $1000.

At its meeting on Monday night the Town Council authorized the payment of the following accounts:—A. J. Hunter & Co., $16.72; T. G. Porter, 35c.; Gillespie Bros., 320.65; C. C. G. Hannah, $6.50; Geo. King, $16.38; John Gough, $14.55; Thos. Campbell, $11.10; Isaac Hughson, $10; Dufferin Light & Power Co., $127.

Messrs. J. H. Anderson and G. L. Pletzer, of the recently organized Novelty Furniture Co., made application to the Council for financial aid in the form of a bonus of $1000. After listening to the two gentlemen, the Council referred the application to a Special Committee consisting of the Deputy-Reeve, Reeve and Mayor with instructions to confer with the Board of Trade.

A communication was read from C. W. Hurndall making certain proposals regarding the settlement of the town's claim against the Hurndall Novelty Manufacturing Co. Mr. Hurndall's proposition did not prove satisfactory and on motion of Coun. Gordon, seconded by Coun. Curry, the Clerk was instructed to so notify him.

Mr. Lewitt of the Hamilton-Lewitt Knitting Co., wrote the Council that he had been unable to get a meeting of the directors of the Company to consider the agreement with the Town regarding a by-law to authorize a loan for the purpose of aiding to establish a factory here. Mr. Lewitt stated, however, that he expected a meeting would be held about October 16th, and that he would immediately notify the Council of the Directors' decision.

On motion of Coun. Gordon, the Clerk was instructed to notify The Hurndall Novelty Company to remove the brick and other debris from the street approaching to the factory, or failing to do so the town would have these obstructions removed and charge the cost of the work to the Company.

NEW BANK PREMISES.

Sterling Bank Offices in Montreal to be in Transportation Building.

Messrs. Carrere and Hastings and Eustace G. Bird, New York architects, have had their plans approved by the Sterling Bank for the Bank's new offices in The Transportation Building in Montreal. The offices will front St. James street and the fittings and appointments will be in keeping with the general high character of the building.

DISCOUNT WORKED WELL.

This year Orangeville Council decided to allow a discount of 2½ per cent. on all taxes paid into the Sterling Bank on or before October 17th. The fact that $19,721.52 taxes had been paid when the Bank closed its doors on Tuesday shows how generally the taxpayers of the town availed themselves of the opportunity to secure the discount. The tax roll amounts to $29,008.12 this year, so that the taxes still unpaid amount to only $9,287.20. This means that over two-thirds of the entire roll has already been paid. Last year the discount allowed was 2 per cent. and of a total roll of $27,771.13, the sum of $18,271.57 was paid on or before October 17th.

It is rather unfortunate that Dr. Merchant's report on bilingual schools could not have been submitted to the Legislature and laid before the Ontario electorate before the Whitney Administration made its appeal to the country. The agitation on this question has stirred the people of the Province as few public questions have in recent years. The report and the action the Government will take are therefore matters in which the electorate may be expected to take more than ordinary interest.

SUFFERERS FROM PILES!

ZAM-BUK HAS CURED THESE!

Friction on the hemorrhoid veins that are swollen, inflamed and gorged with blood, is what causes the terrible pain and stinging and smarting of piles. Zam-Buk applied at night will be found to give ease before morning. Thousands of persons have proved this. Why not be guided by the experience of others?

Mr. Thomas Pearson, of Prince Albert, Sask., writes: "I must thank you for the benefit I have received from Zam-Buk. Last summer I suffered greatly from piles. I started to use Zam-Buk and found it gave me relief, so I continued it, and after using three or four boxes I am pleased to say it has effected a complete cure."

Mr. G. A. Dufresne, 183-185 St. Joseph Street, St. Roch, Quebec, P. Q., writes: "I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to everyone who suffers from piles."

Magistrate Sanford, of Weston, King's Co., N.S., says: "I suffered long from itching piles, but Zam-Buk has now cured me."

Mr. William Kenty, of Upper Nine Mile River, Hants Co., N.S., says: "I suffered terribly from piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. I tried various ointments, but everything I tried failed to do me the slightest good. I was tired of trying various remedies, when I heard of Zam-Buk, and thought as a last resource I would give this balm a trial. After a very short time Zam-Buk effected a complete cure."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for skin injuries and diseases, eczema, ulcers, varicose veins, cuts, burns, bruises, chaps, cold sores, etc. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

TIRED-OUT KIDNEYS.

Kidney troubles are so frightfully common because the kidneys are so easily upset by over-work or excesses of eating and drinking. Cure is effected not by whipping them on to renewed effort, but by awakening the action of liver and bowels by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This rests the kidneys and makes them well. Backache and urinary disorders then disappear.

Melancthon resembled the "Deserted Village" on Friday, Dundalk Fair being the attraction.

Two threshing machines have been working near here for the past few days.—Mr. Cave to the south of the village, and Messrs. Mindley, Young, and McLaren at the northern end-up about where the "Fenian Hotel" once flourished.

Mr. Joseph Wattam and family are moving to the Off Society this week, having exchanged his farm on the Gravel Road here for one on the 10th sideroad.

Mrs. John S[illegible] attended the funeral of her niece, Mrs. Wm. Phair, at Orangeville, last week.

Mr. Geo. Sheriff was home over Sunday from his work towards Coldwater, where he is working for the C. P. R.

Melancthon Station is fast becoming the great hay shipping point for this district. Two hundred tons have been shipping from this station during the past few days, viz.—Mr. Wm. Richardson of Orangeville and Mr. Geo. Ireland, for H. Wise & Co., of Shelburne. A few cars of potatoes were also shipped lately.

ROSEMONT

Our village is greatly improved since we have had the streets graded.

Our threshers will be able to store their machines in the winter much earlier than in ordinary season.

Miss Maggie Armstrong's many friends are pleased to see her able to be out again.

Miss Bertha Patterson spent last week with Alliston friends.

Miss Gertie Robinson, of Alliston, spent Sunday with friends here.

Miss Ottie Deacon, of Alliston, spent Sunday at her home here.

Our farmers are making the spuds fly these fine days.

We wonder why Mr. Edgar Moore was on Sunday.

Mr. Alf. Ferryman made his usual trip to visit Violet Hill friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell Little visited Stanton friends on Sunday.

Many from here were in the anniversary services at Mulmur Church on Sunday.

Mr. John L[illegible] of Stanton, paid our village a flying visit on Sunday.

Miss Winnifred McNabb is visiting friends in Shelburne.

Mrs. John McDowell has returned home after visiting friends in Barrie.

Rev. J. N. Eldridge will exchange pulpits with the Rev. R. J. W. Perry, of Mono Mills, next Sunday.

TIRED OUT KIDNEYS.

Kidney troubles are so frightfully common because the kidneys are so easily upset by overwork or excesses of eating and drinking. Cure is effected not by clapping them on to renewed efforts, but by awakening the action of liver and bowels by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. This rests the kidneys and makes them well. Backache and urinary disorders then disappear.

ALTON.

Many of our citizens availed themselves of the beautiful weather on Monday in order to attend the Caledon Fair.

Mr. Crombie Baughman, of The Banner staff, visited the Methodist Epworth League on Monday night.

Mrs. Wilmer McClellan, of Chicago, whose singing was a very greatly appreciated feature of the Sabbath evening service in the Methodist Church a few weeks ago, will sing again next Sunday evening.

We are losing one of our worthy citizens in the person of Mrs. Conley, who was united in the holy bonds of matrimony last Tuesday.

GLENCROSS.

The excellent weather we are now enjoying is certainly appreciated by the farmers who have been greatly delayed during the recent wet spell.

Mr. and Mrs. R. White have returned home after spending the summer in the West.

We are indeed sorry to note the recent illness of Miss A. Moffatt, of this community, and sincerely trust she will speedily recover.

A few of our citizens attended the Fall Fair at Charleston this week.

A meeting is to be held in the school house on Friday evening, Oct. 20, to discuss the matter of organizing a church. Every one interested is especially requested to be present.

LAUREL.

As has been anticipated we have been blessed with a week of fine weather, which has been very acceptable to all classes in the vicinity of Laurel, and has enabled those engaged in agriculture to make good headway with their work. Another week of such weather is greatly to be desired, but we suppose we will have to be content with what we get.

We hear the hum of the threshing machine on every side. The farmers are just as busy now as they were during the harvest.

Our beef ring suspended operations for this season about two weeks ago, but we have a local butcher who visits our town twice every week. His meats are the choicest cuts. Each person can get what he wants at a reasonable price. We hope that he will continue his visits as they are a great accommodation to our townspeople.

What we want now is a shoemaker to do our repair work. We will then have almost every profession and occupation we need except a doctor. However, as we have direct communication with the outside world over two telephone systems, we will not throw out any inducements to a doctor to locate here. In fact we hope that we will not need the services of one very often.

On Sunday afternoon the Rev. J. R. Bell preached a very plain and practical sermon, setting forth very clearly our duty to ourselves, our fellows and to our God. The Church was crowded and the best attention was given to the sermon. In the evening Rev. A. Hone preached to a crowded congregation in the Methodist Church. For the last few Sundays Mr. Hone has been preaching a series of sermons from nature, but Sunday evening his theme was the Sun,—Jesus the Sun of Righteousness He did full justice to the subject, and all who were present greatly enjoyed the discourse. We understand that Mr. Hone is a student of Victoria College, Toronto, and comes to Laurel every week. The Laurel circuit has been very fortunate in getting Mr. Hone as its junior pastor. He will preach anniversary sermons in the Laurel Church on Sunday, Oct. 29th, at 10.30 a. m., and 7 p. m., Make it a point to hear him that day, either morning or evening. Both services if you can.

WHITTINGTON.

The electors in this neighborhood are petitioning the Township Council to take the steps necessary to form a new polling sub-division with the polling place at Whittington. At present some of our voters have to travel south to Farmington, while others are obliged to go a considerable distance north to the Coleridge poll. There are three polling divisions on the west side of the township and there seems no good reason why we should not have the same number on the east. A polling place at Whittington would be a great convenience.

Most of our farmers are busy taking out their potatoes. The tubers are a fairly good crop hereabouts and at the prevailing high prices will yield handsome returns.

We hear a good deal of kicking over high taxes in Amaranth this year.

Messrs. Leader and Phillips are doing a brisk business with their new threshing outfit. They have a first-class outfit and are giving good satisfaction.

There is some talk of the Women's Institute buying the Butter Factory and converting it into a public hall. As such the building would supply a much-needed want.

We understand that W. T. Johnston, John Staveley and a couple more of our residents are thinking rather seriously about joining forces and investing in an automobile. Whittington, it seems, is bound to have the best.

LAUREL.

Among those from Laurel and neighborhood, who attended the Aptommas Concert in Orangeville, were Mr. and Mrs. H. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hughes, Mrs. Langtree, Mr. W. Groskurth, Mr. J. Conley and Miss M. Hughes.

A PROTESTANT PLATFORM.

A special meeting of the County Loyal Orange Lodge of Dufferin, was held in L. O. L. 635 Hall last Thursday afternoon for the purpose of considering the Protestant Platform adopted by the Grand Orange Lodge of B. N. A., at its annual meeting in Winnipeg last June. County Master Robert Curry presided and the Deputy-Master, Mr. W. A. Wansbrough, occupied the deputy chair. There was a fairly large attendance of the members. The platform was first considered clause by clause and afterwards adopted by a unanimous vote. The Platform is as follows :—

1. The entire separation of Church and State.

2. Opposition to any interference of the Dominion Government with the different provinces in educational affairs.

3. The resistance of any further special privileges to any section of the population either on account of race or religion; and the elimination of any special privileges which they now possess except those included in the Confederation compact.

4. Opposition to any extension of lingual privileges beyond those conferred by the British North America Act.

5. The maintenance of British connection and the suppression of any movement which tends to make closer and more binding the relation between Canada, Newfoundland and the Mother Country.

6. A close supervision of all new settlers and the encouragement of suitable white immigration from the British Isles, the United States and Northern Europe.

7. A Federal marriage law recognizing the validity of marriages performed by the qualified clergymen of every religious denomination, or other persons vested by the law with that power; and the enactment of criminal penalties against persons using their influence by questioning the validity of marriages performed in accordance with provisions of this law.

8. Government inspection of all religious, educational and charitable institutions and the inspection of the books of all institutions receiving aid from the public treasury.

A motion was also passed instructing the County Secretary to forward copies of the Platform to every primary lodge in the County and ask the Lodges to take action as early as possible. As the platform deals with a number of issues that are very much in the public mind at the present time, it should be carefully considered by all free-minded electors.

Our stock of Fall and Winter wear for Men and Boys is now at its best—McMillan Clothing Co.

CALEDON FAIR.

Large Attendance at Postponed Exhibition on Monday.

If the Directors of the Caledon Agricultural Society were unfortunate in the dates originally set for this year's Fall Fair, they were equally fortunate in the date they selected for the postponed Exhibition. The latter was held on Monday and attracted a large crowd despite the abatement in public interest resultant upon the postponement. The afternoon was ideal in every respect and could not have been more favorable for the outdoor events, which constituted the chief attraction. Interest centred in the races, which were well-filled and keenly contested. Lamont's Joe Miller won the Farmers' Trot in straight heats. Dr. Riddell's Jennie Price captured the Open Trot, with Andy Eson's Billy D. a good second. Little Fred would probably have won the 2.40 Trot in straight heats had he not fallen in the second heat. He stumbled and turned a species of somersault, throwing his driver through the air and overturning the sulkey. Fortunately neither horse nor the driver was injured, the chief damage being to the harness. Fred showed his worth by taking the remaining two heats and the race. The results of the races were as follows :—

FARMERS' TROT.

Joe Miller, Jas. Lamont, Caledon	1	1	1
Darkey, C. Atkinson, Caledon	2	2	2
Lady Ann, D. McArthur, Caledon	3	3	3

Little Monte, Geo. H. Reid, Mono	6	4	6	5

The special train from Orangeville was hardly as well patronized as usual. About sixty people made the trip on the special. A great many, however, drove down earlier in the day, the fine weather and good roads appealing to townspeople, who owned or could procure a horse and rig.

The Concert at night was a huge success, the Town Hall being crowded to the doors. An excellent programme was furnished by local talent.

PEEL CONSERVATIVES.

A Convention of the Liberal Conservatives of Peel County will be held in the Concert Hall, Brampton, on Saturday next, October 21st, at two o'clock to nominate a candidate for the coming provincial election. Addresses will be delivered by prominent members of the party.

SERVICES DESERVE RECOGNITION.

Several sections of Peel County are so unfortunately situated that there is no regular church service held in these places. At Cataract there is service held in the R. C. church every other week but no other church service or Sunday School throughout the year. Miss Annie Beers, the public school teacher at Cataract, is a true home missionary. Some time ago she started a Sunday School in the schoolhouse at Cataract which is now attended by thirty-one scholars. She is assisted by two other residents of Cataract who attend the Sunday School faithfully and regularly and the interest and attendance is steadily increasing. Miss Beers' efforts deserve recognition on the part of church members everywhere.—The Conservator.

JOHNSTON'S, ALTON, Ont.

ANOTHER LUNATIC.

Melancthon township continues to live up to its reputation as the abode of more lunatics than any other rural municipality of the same size in the Province. This week Magistrate Henselwood, of Corbetton, committed George Green, of that township, to the county gaol as a dangerous lunatic. Green arrived in Orangeville on Tuesday and Governor Bowles describes him as one of the hardest men the gaol officials have ever been called upon to handle. He is a young man, unmarried, and is violently insane. His insanity appears to be of an emotional type and during his bad spells he sings, dances, prays, swears and makes speeches until he is obliged to desist through physical exhaustion. He is said to have visited Dundalk Methodist Church while service was in progress Sunday night. He ordered the minister out of the pulpit, and, after frightening most of the congregation out of the Church, commanded the organist to take her seat and play, and, entering the pulpit himself, announced that he intended to preach a sermon. He had previously gone to the Presbyterian Church, but had been prevented from entering the edifice. The unfortunate man will undoubtedly be sent to the Asylum as soon as the necessary papers can be completed.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS.

The Men's Bible Class of St. Andrew's Church held their annual organization meeting in the Church on Tuesday night, when the following officers were elected :—

Commencing on Sunday next, Oct. 22nd, the Class will meet every Sunday afternoon for the purpose of studying the "Teacher Training Course." The Literary Committee will arrange for week night meetings and the Athletic Committee will promote an interest in clean sports. Rev. Mr. Morris will act as teacher of the Bible Class. All the men of the Church are invited to attend the Sunday Class, which will meet at 2.30 o'clock.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Completely Cured Our Little Boy of Fits."

A family can suffer no greater affliction than to have a child subject to fits or epilepsy. Many a father or mother would give their all to restore such a child to health.

"I am heartily glad to tell you of our little boy who was completely cured of fits. He commenced having them at 10 years of age and had them for four years. I tried three doctors and one specialist but all of them said he could not be cured, but Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills made a complete cure. He is now hale, hearty and gay. It has been three years since he had the last spell. I shall give Dr. Miles' medicines praise wherever I go. You are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit and anyone writing to me I will gladly answer if they enclose stamp for reply."

THE MARKETING.

The gathering in is over for another season, and now comes the marketing. It is one thing to grow crops and to produce live stock, etc., it is quite another thing to market them successfully. Barring the weather, the farmer has the situation largely in his own hands, so far as the growing of his grain is concerned. To a greater degree, also, has he the production of live stock and other products under his control. When it comes to the marketing his control or influence ceases. He has to take what is offered him and be content. If it were possible for farmers to form a trust or combine as some producers in other lines do, they might be able to control the market end of their business the same as the producing end. But this is practically impossible, especially in a country like this, where farmers are scattered over wide areas and cannot get together readily. One could wish that it were possible, even for one season, just to give the so-called trusts and combines a taste of their own medicine. An "understanding" among farmers not to sell any of the season's produce except at a stipulated price would do more to prevent combination of other interests in restraint of trade than anything we know of. But, of course, we are discussing impossibilities. The farmers cannot combine, so there you are. Moreover, we do not believe there is any desire on the part of the farmers to combine, even if it were possible. They are willing to live and let live. At the same time they have a right to a reasonable recompense for their labor. Farmers in this country have had a few good years, so far as average prices are concerned. And, because of these good prices, the whole country has benefited and other interests a great deal more than the farmer, if the truth were known. Because of better prices the average farmer will gain a hundred dollars or so in a year, while other interests will increase their profits by as many thousands.—Canadian Farm.

HARNESSING THE SUN'S RAYS.

Experiments of Philadelphia Inventor Over $100,000 Has Been Spent.

Will Be Used in Tropical Lands.

Ten years ago Frank Shuman, a Philadelphia inventor and mechanical engineer, became obsessed with the idea that the vast potentialities of the sun's heat could be directly harnessed for the use of man. He knew that many futile experiments—chiefly with focussing the sun's rays through lenses—had been made—but he felt certain that the thing could be made practicable if other methods were adopted.

For a long time he met the fate of pioneers—mere idle curiosity, followed by indifference, derision and even hostility. But he kept on, and today he has a machine which, for six weeks, whenever the sun has shone, has lifted 3,000 gallons of water per minute to a height of 93 feet, the only fuel for which is the sun's rays.

When Shuman first began his experiment he found that if a vessel were so arranged that the sun's rays could impinge upon it, and if all heat losses by conduction, convection, and radiation were prevented by a theoretically perfect method of insulation, the temperature within the vessel would rise certainly, to a thousand degrees Fahrenheit without any attempt being made to concentrate the rays of the sun. For commercial purposes it is impossible to secure any form of insulation which would even approach the theoretical. Commercially, the main object is to produce practical power at a minimum cost, and this has been done by the use of the well-known and cheap forms of heat insulation.

After numerous experiments and many failures in which more than $100,000 was spent, the present sun-power plant was developed. It consists of the absorber, a low-pressure steam engine, condensor, and auxiliaries.

The absorber, in a general way, is composed of a series of units, each containing a flat metal honey-comb waffle. This vessel is enclosed in a flat wooden box covered with two layers of glass having a one-inch air space between them, and having the under surface of the box insulated against heat loss downward by a two-inch layer of re-granulated cork and two layers of water-proofed cardboard. The boxes are mounted on supports which elevate them some thirty inches above the ground, and which permit them to be inclined perpendicular to the sun at the meridian. These adjustments of the inclination need only be made about once in three weeks.

Plane mirrors of cheap construction and mounted on two sides of the boxes in order that more rays of the sun may be absorbed and reflected upon the surface of the water vessel. This latter is connected at one end to a feed pipe from the water supply, and at the other end to a steam pipe. The steam pipes from the various units are connected together and empty into a main eight inches in diameter in the present plant, which conveys the steam to the engine.

The engine is a new type, low pressure, reciprocating steam engine of great steam economy. Connected with it is a condenser of ordinary type and auxiliaries such as may be found in any condensing plant. The water from the condenser is pumped back into the absorber, this insuring a continuous closed circuit whose only water loss is from accidental leakage, which is carefully guarded against.

The plant now in operation at Tacony is to be transported to Egypt, and this emphasizes the fact that the invention, if it does all that claimed for it, and which there appears now to be every probability that it will do, will be of practical value only in the tropics or in climates closely approaching that classification But even so, the generation of sun-power would displace all other forms of mechanical power over at least ten per cent. of the earth's land surface.

The immediate opportunities for sun power are in those regions in the tropics where the sun practically shines throughout the year, and fuel is very expensive, coal costing in some localities $30 a ton. There is room now for at least half a million horse power in such tropical fields as the nitrate district of Chile; the borax industry in Death Valley, and for general purposes in places where the outside temperature runs from 110 degrees to 140 degrees Fahr.

The interior of Australia was, at one time, a fertile country, as is evidenced by the fossilized trees. Here is an area of some 600 miles in each direction, which is entirely valueless. During a drought there have been times when one-third of the sheep raised on the margins of this desert died from thirst, causing great financial loss. In this locality the sun shines with an intensity sufficient to produce an average daily temperature of 100 degrees to 140 degrees Fahr.

The occasional rains nourish the sparse vegetation necessary for sheep which are watered from wells driven in the ground, and pumped generally by horse-power, very often by hand, and sometimes by means of fuel oil, which, by the time it reaches its destination, brings the coal equivalent up to some $20 per ton. By building sun engines in this region, and pumping from the always present underground water which in this region lies at a depth of from fifteen to forty feet, this country can be made productive and valuable.

In Egypt agriculture depends entirely upon irrigation furnished by the River Nile through its periodic overflow. The English Government built the Assuoan Dam at an enormous expense and widened the irrigible area about half a mile on each side of the Nile, thus adding greatly to the tillable portion of Egypt. Of course, when the Nile is in flood, infinitely more water than necessary is furnished; but the demand is for a supply which can be depended on from day to day, especially at seasons of low water. This supply at present is furnished by the hand labor of some 100,000 fellaheen, who pump by means of the shadoof method. One sun engine, such at is now erected in Tacony, will do the work of about a thousand of these laborers.

Conservative estimates show that the operating expenses of a 100 horse power sun plant would be about $1,000 more a year than those of a horse-power coal plant, but the coal plant, on a consumption of three pounds per brake horse power hour, would burn, during the year, 275 long tons of coal. This when divided into the $1,000 which the sun plant costs above the coal plant, would bring the cost of this coal to $2.66 per ton; showing that wherever coal can be obtained at a cost of $2.66 per ton, the sun plant and the coal plant would be equal competitors.

In the Chilean nitrate districts coal costs $14.60 a ton and in almost all tropical countries the cost varies from $5 a ton at the most accessible seaports, to as high as $30 at inaccessible points. As a general average it might well be assumed that coal throughout great areas of the tropics will average $15 a ton.

THOUGHT IT WAS CANCER

SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Jan. 25th, 1910.

"For many years, I suffered tortures from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited my food constantly. I also suffered with Constipation. I consulted physicians, as I was afraid the disease was cancer, but medicine gave only temporary relief.

I read in the 'Maritime Baptist' about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the cures this medicine was making and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say 'Fruit-a-tives' has entirely cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say "Thank God for 'Fruit-a-tives'."

EDWIN ORAM, Sr.

"Fruit-a-tives" sweetens the stomach, increases the actual quantity of gastric juice in the stomach and ensures complete digestion of all sensible food. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

We Guarantee to Relieve Dyspepsia. If We Fail the Medicine Costs Nothing.

To unquestionably prove to the people that indigestion and dyspepsia can be permanently relieved and that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will bring about this result, we will furnish the medicine absolutely free if it fails to give satisfaction to any one using it.

The remarkable success of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is due to the high degree of scientific skill used in devising their formula as well as to the care exercised in their manufacture, whereby the well-known properties of Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin have been combined with Carminatives and other agents.

Bismuth-Subnitrate and Pepsin are constantly employed and recognized by the entire medical profession as invaluable in the treatment of indigestion and dyspepsia.

The Pepsin used in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets is carefully prepared so as to develop its greatest efficiency. Pepsin supplies to the digestive apparatus one of the most important elements of the digestive fluid. Without it the digestion and assimilation of food are impossible.

The Carminatives possess properties which aid in relieving the disturbances and pain caused by undigested food. This combination of these ingredients makes a remedy invaluable for the complete relief of indigestion and dyspepsia.

We are so certain of this that we urge you to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets on our own personal guarantee. Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents, and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville, Ont.

Nine hundred dollars per annum is the stipend which the Presbyterian augmentation committee executive is anxious to see paid to every minister by next March in Ontario and Quebec. In northern Ontario the minimum aimed at is $1,000, and the same sum is fixed for the prairies, while in British Columbia the aim set is $1,100. To accomplish this an increase of fifty per cent. in the present funds will be necessary; in other words, instead of $41,800, at present available, there will be needed $63,000.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $17 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her.

Midgie Station, N. B.—One can hardly believe this as it is not natural, but it was my case. For ten months I suffered from suppression. I had different doctors, tried different medicines, but none helped me. My friends told me I would go into a decline. One day a lady friend told me what your medicine had done for her, so I wrote you for advice and received your reply with pleasure.

I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and at the second bottle showed improvement. Now I am regular and never was so well in my life, thanks to Mrs. Pinkham's medicine.

Please publish my letter for the benefit of others.—MRS. JOSIAH W. HICKS, Midgie Station, N. B.

Indian Head, Sask.—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is indeed a boon to women who suffer from female ills. My health is better now than it has been in my five years of married life and I thank you for the good your advice and medicine have done me. I had spent hundreds of dollars on doctors without receiving any benefit.—MRS. FRANK COOPER, Box 448, Indian Head, Saskatchewan.

The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Suggestive Questions

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

OCT. 22nd, 1911.

The Foundation of the Second Temple Laid. Ezra iii:i-iv:5.

Golden Text—Enter into his gates with thanksgiving and into his courts with praise. Ps. c:4.

(1) Verse 1—How long had they likely been in the land when this general gathering at Jerusalem took place?

(2) Which should have the right of way, or first place, our own business or that of the church?

(3) When the people as "one man," give up their business to attend to religious gatherings, what is the effect upon their general prosperity?

(4) Verse 2—Why is there a special obligation upon intellectually and financially strong men, to take a leading part in church work?

(5) Verses 3-6— What was the spiritual effect in those days, of the observance of the ceremonial law of Moses?

(6) Would God have planned for so much ceremony and ritual for an educated and spiritually enlightened people? (See Isa. I:11-16.)

(7) When and why was the Mosaic ceremonial law abolished?

(8) What is the sacrifice which every Christian is under obligation to offer up daily?

(9) Verse 7—Should money given to build churches be regarded as an investment, and may we expect any financial returns?

(10) Verses 8-9— What practical lessons may we learn from the way these men organized, and from the vigor of the leaders in seeing the organization was effective?

(11) Verses 10-11— What is the practical effect of a proper ceremony for special church services, such as the laying of a foundation stone, or the opening of a church?

(12) Would it be a good thing for the church to re-establish band music in its services? Why or why not?

(13) Point out its appropriateness and say what psalm they sang together?

(14) Should there be room and opportunity for spontaneous shouts of praise as in this case, in the most carefully prepared church ceremony?

(15) In political and other meetings, the people are encouraged to show their appreciation and express their feelings; why should it not be the same in religious gatherings?

(16) Verses 12-13—Why did some of these people shout for joy and some for sorrow?

(17) About how many years was it since the former Temple was burned?

(18) Were those that sorrowed and those that rejoiced both right? Give your reasons.

(19) Chap. iv Verses 1-5—Why did these enemies of the Jews offer their services to help build the Temple?

(20) Should help ever be received for the church from those who are not religious?

(21) What motive did these people have in trying to frustrate the building of the Temple? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(22) What is our duty when we are opposed to our Christian work?

A TALK ON RHEUMATISM

Telling How to Cure This Painful Malady.

This article is for the man or woman who suffers from rheumatism who wants to be cured, not merely relieved — but actually cured. The most a rheumatic sufferer can hope for in rubbing something on the tender, aching joint is a little relief. No lotion or liniment ever did or ever can make a cure. The rheumatic poison is rooted in the blood. Therefore rheumatism can only be cured when this poisonous acid is driven out of the blood. That's why rubbing and liniments and outward applications are no good — they can't reach the cause in the blood. Any doctor will tell you this is true. If you want something that will go right to the root of the trouble in the blood every time take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make new, rich blood which drives out the poisonous acid and cures rheumatism to stay cured. This is a solemn truth which has been proved in thousands of cases, and the following is a striking instance. Mrs. W. H. Elnor, Sarnia, Ont., says: "I feel it my duty to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they completely cured me of rheumatism after I had been almost an invalid for three years. I doctored with two skilled doctors and took electric treatment, but without benefit. On going to a third doctor he recommended mineral baths as the only thing that would help me. After taking this treatment for some time I felt that I was really growing worse instead of better, and I began to think there was no cure for me and that I was doomed to be a helpless sufferer. For some months I continued all treatment and then I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I could notice a distinct improvement, and I continued taking the Pills for several months when the cure was complete. That is some two years ago, and I have ever since been perfectly free from the trouble. I would therefore advise anyone afflicted with rheumatism to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they certainly made a remarkable cure in my case."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The chair was in the office of Macdonald and Marsh, on Toronto street, and later passed into the possession of Wm. Lount. On his transfer to the bench, the chair was handed over to Mr. Kingston, who was retiring. It is an old fashioned, comfortable maple frame, and has recently been re-covered in heavy dark leather. One of the party struck at the coon with a stick, the blow discharging the gun in the hands of Salisbury.

The well-known imported Clydesdale stallion, His Grace, owned by Mr. Cooper Hodgson, of Beeton, was found dead in the stable at Mr. J. T. Barton's a week ago Monday morning. The horse was apparently all right Sunday when he was given attention for the night. The cause of death was acute indigestion. The horse was insured for $1,000, which will partially cover Mr. Hodgson's loss.

The Council of the township of Melancthon have instructed their Solicitor, G. M. Vance, to take proceedings against Adam McKibbon in connection with the fence which the Council claims he has put on the road on five sideroad in the fourth con., Old Survey. Mr. McKibbon was served with a writ a week ago Tuesday and the matter will come up at the assizes in Orangeville before Chief Justice Mulock on November 14th.

Mr. Duncan McKinnon met with an unfortunate accident at Potter's mill, near Utopia, by which he lost the second and third fingers of his left hand. He was cutting slabs with a small circular saw at the time. Just as the accident took place the C. P. R. southbound passenger train came along and the injured man was hurried into the train at once. The trainman bound up the hand and he was taken to Beeton. Mr. Potter accompanied him to town and had him taken at once to Dr. Brewster's office. The bones of the fingers were badly shattered and it was found necessary to amputate the metercarpal bone near the joint in order to fix up the hand in good shape.

Nerves Are Exhausted

And nervous prostration or paralysis is creeping steadily upon you.

You hear of people suddenly falling victims of nervous prostration or some form of paralysis. But when you get all the facts of the case you find that they have had months or years of warning.

They haven't slept well. There has been frequent attacks of nervous headache. Digestion has failed. They have been irritable, easily worried and excited and have found memory and concentration failing.

Had they but known that these symptoms tell of exhausted nerves or had they realized their danger they would have restored the feeble, wasted nerves by use of such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great restorative treatment cures by forming new, rich blood and by rebuilding the wasted nerve cells. No medicine is more certain to prove of lasting benefit to the system. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BARN BURNED.

On Monday night about twelve o'clock Mr. James Bell awakened and was startled by a brilliant light in his room. Jumping to his feet and peering out of the window, flames were seen issuing from each end of his fine barn. Frantic efforts were made to save the stock, which were partially successful, but two fine Clydesdale horses, two registered bulls, three pigs and about 150 hens were consumed, together with about seventy tons of hay, 2,000 bushels of grain, all his harness, and his splendid barn, one section of which was 60 x 80, and the other 60 x 60, all on stone foundation. The loss is from ten to twelve thousand dollars. We have not learned the amount of insurance on the property. Threshing had been done last week. The cause of fire is a mystery. It appears that no lantern had been used that evening, and no smokers were about the premises. It points strongly to incendiarism.—Markdale Standard.

FREIGHT CARS DERAILED.

There was great excitement throughout the town on Friday morning last when it was learned that an accident had occurred near the Diamond. A freight train entering the town from the west ran off the track and a number of cars piled up on top of each other before the train hands realized what had happened. No person was hurt but the scene presented to the eyes of those who hastened to the spot was one of the utmost confusion. A number of cars were splintered and resembled nothing more than a scrap iron heap. Iron rods were twisted and broken and the wreckage piled up in the most extraordinary manner. The train was loaded with lime, cement, stone, flour and other goods, which were strewn everywhere, bags of cement being ground into the earth and hundreds of dollars' worth of goods ruined. The wheels of some of the cars were buried in the earth through the great weight of the cars pressing on them from above. The auxiliary was at once hurried to the wreck and the work of removing the obstruction commenced. A huge fire consumed the wrecked cars but it was a long time before the track was entirely cleared. — Brampton Conservator.

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

THANKSGIVING MANOEUVRES.

Operations in Dundas Valley Will be be on Larger Scale than Usual.

Preliminary orders for the annual Thanksgiving Day manoeuvres on Monday, October 30, show that the operations in the Dundas Valley will be on a larger scale than usual. Not only will the city regiments in the Second Division area take part, but also four of those in the First Division, comprising the 3rd Infantry Brigade and the 4th Battery Canadian Field Artillery from Guelph.

For the purpose of the tactical exercises Ontario will be divided into two hostile countries separated by a boundary, which runs along the northeastern edge of the counties of Haldimand, Brant, Waterloo, Perth and Huron. The country to the west is "Greyland," and that to the east is "Redland." War is to be declared between the two countries on October 28th, on which day their respective main armies will be at Brantford and Toronto. They will be expected to come together along the Dundas Valley.

Brigadier-General W. H. Cotton will command the eastern, and Colonel W. E. Hodgins the western force. Major-General Colin J. Mackenzie, C. B., Chief of General Staff, will be chief umpire.

To transport the troops to the scene of action eight special trains will be utilized, leaving St. Catharines, London, Guelph, and Chatham between seven and eight on the morning of Thanksgiving Day, for Copetown, and leaving Toronto at from 7.30 to 8.45 for Dundas. All of the forces will be at the scene of operations by ten o'clock, and at four o'clock in the afternoon, when all will be over, the officers will gather for a conference at the Dundas armories. They will return on the special trains in the evening.

Special attention is to be paid this year to the rapid transmission of information, by means of the lines of communication, which have in previous manoeuvres been rather a weak point.

TEMPERANCE EXECUTIVE MEETS.

The Executive of the Dufferin County Temperance and Moral Reform Association met in the school room of the Methodist Church last Thursday afternoon. Mr. Robert Reid, the President, occupied the chair and the other members present were the Secretary, Mr. R. G. Sanderson, Grand Valley, and Messrs. S. H. Simpson, The Maples, Geo. Little, Mono, and Thomas S. Hewson and F. H. Arkell, Orangeville. There was considerable discussion on the subject of the alleged lax enforcement of the local option by-law in Orangeville. The Executive eventually decided to call a general Convention in Shelburne on Friday, November 3rd. The Convention is called for the election of officers, the transaction of general business, and the consideration of the political situation in Dufferin. The calling of the Convention does not necessarily mean that the Association will place a candidate in the field in Dufferin at the coming Provincial election, although this is undoubtedly a question that will be discussed. The only person spoken of as likely to be nominated is Mr. R. J. Woods, of Corbetton, who has already unsuccessfully contested the riding on two occasions.

An Unknown Tongue.

A young man just returned from college was out cycling one day when suddenly he came to a steep gradient. While he was descending he lost control of his machine and was thrown.

Two men came and found him lying in that predicament. When asked how it happened he replied, "Well, I came down that decline with the greatest velocity and lost my central gravity and was precipitated on the hard macadamized road."

"Away, lad; let him alone," replied one of the men. "He's a foreigner."—London Ideas.

Drowned Fish.

They have a curious way of catching fish in some parts of Japan. Herbert E. Ponting in his book on "Lotus Land Japan" describes some traps which he found in one of the rivers of Fuji. "They were set in artificially dammed up narrows and consisted of long, conical bamboo baskets tied to poles. The fish bound downstream rush headlong into these traps and, being unable to return or even turn around, are speedily drowned. Curious as this may seem, it is yet but a matter of a few minutes to drown a fish held head downward in a swift current."

A Carnival of Dwarfs.

Czar Peter of Russia celebrated a marriage of dwarfs with great parade in 1710. Dwarfs of both sexes within 200 miles were commanded to repair to the capital. He supplied carriages for them and so arranged the affair that one horse should be seen galloping into St. Petersburg with twelve or more of these small folk. The entire company of dwarfs who took part in the festivities numbered seventy, and all the furniture and other things prepared for them were on a miniature scale.

A Long-Lived Pike.

In 1497 an enormous pike was caught in a lake near Haillerum, in Suabia, with a brass ring attached to it, engraved on which was a statement that the fish was put in the lake in the year 1230, thus indicating that it must have lived at least 267 years.

Good Reason.

Mrs. Youngwedd (boastingly) — I may not be much of a cook, but my husband has never yet twitted me about the better cake and pies his mother used to make.

Mrs. Keene—No, dear; his father used to run a bakery.

PALGRAVE.

For the past week enthusiastic revival services have been held in the Methodist Church here. The services are in charge of the Rev. Elizah Brown, of Barrie, who is appointed by the Toronto Conference for this work. Already wonderful results have been seen. Mr. Brown is an enthusiastic, energetic and forceful preacher, and in spite of the severest adverse criticism, is doing a work in Palgrave, which we trust will be permanent in its character. At first it was proposed to hold the meetings for only ten days, but on Sunday night, without a dissenting vote, the people decided to ask the managing committee to let Mr. Brown stay here for the balance of the week. Meetings will be held every night except Saturday, at 7.30. There will be three meetings on Sunday.

HAIR BEAUTIFIER

Refined Women the World Over Use It.

Every woman knows that there is nothing so good for hair and scalp trouble as Parisian Sage. If Parisian Sage is used two or three times a week it will keep the scalp nice and clean and remove dandruff. It makes the hair lustrous and fluffy, and keeps it from falling out.

We urge every woman who loves radiant and fascinating hair to go to T. Stevenson's to-day and get a large 50 cent. bottle of Parisian Sage. He guarantees it to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp, or money back.

AN APPROPRIATE TEXT.

A Presbyterian minister, who had labored in the vineyard at Orangeville until he was weary of his charge, gladly accepted a call to another pulpit and took farewell of his congregation in a sermon on "THE VALLEY OF DRY BONES," choosing as his text the words:

"Can these bones live? Lord Thou knowest."

These words form the most appropriate text for any sermon that might be preached on the inauguration of the Borden Government. — Evening Telegram.

AS GOOD AS A DOCTOR IN THE HOUSE.

Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in every home where there are little ones. They are as good as a doctor; are absolutely safe and can always be relied upon to drive away any malady arising from derangements of the stomach or bowels. Concerning them Mrs. O. A. Wheeler, Northlands, Sask., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets an invaluable medicine. I live twenty miles from town and doctor, so am glad to have so reliable a medicine at hand. I consider the Tablets a real necessity in the home and shall never be without them. They have kept my baby well and have made him a bonnie baby." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Our Modern Factory Spoon.

For our modern factory made spoon the stock is first rolled and cross rolled to get the graded thickness that is needed. The spoon outline is then obtained by means of cutting out dies. The blanks thus formed are struck up by another set of dies, which ornament the front and back and even bend the spoon into its proper shape, at the same time stamping the required "sterling" and the maker's mark. If a spoon is made by this latest of processes the sterling mark can be found raised on the surface instead of incised, as was the case when the marking was done separately.—Handicraft.

Casualties of the Cradle.

The burden of Prussia's military state, not spared even to the babes in their cradles, has proved too much for some of the younger members of the royal families. In "The House of Hohenzollern" Mr. Brayley Hodgetts mentions that the two sons whom the first crown princess of Prussia bore her husband (at the beginning of the eighteenth century) both died in their cradles, one from a nervous shock caused by the salute from heavy guns with which his arrival was heralded and the other from the burden of a golden crown which was placed on his head after baptism.

SPORTS.

LACROSSE ENTHUSIASM.

Owen Sound has lacrosse enthusiasm to burn, if we may judge from the warmth of the reception given the victorious Alexandras, when they returned home from Orangeville on Wednesday night of last week. The Owen Sound Times gives the following account of the "doings":—

When the glad news of the win was known in Owen Sound it was about six o'clock, but a few of the boys got together and began taking up a two-bit collection. By eight o'clock they had forty dollars or so. Bands were engaged and brooms purchased, and plans made. When the train drew in at 11.30, a deliriously delighted crowd cheered the winners who were put into a carry-all and, preceded by the broom brigade and dozens of youths with red lights, started up street. The Highland Band followed. Red lights were burned, the brooms were burned, and general rejoicing reigned. Up at the town hall the place was packed and the boys as they went up to the platform were given an ovation. Congratulatory speeches were made by Mayor Lemon, Hon. A. G. MacKay, and Referee Frank Doyle. The delight of the crowd was evidenced by the continuous shouting of the mass which jammed the building. After a number of pretty girls had shaken hands with the members of the team and the congratulatory spiels had been given the boys went down to torment the Cinnamen and eat a joy feast.

Orangeville lacrosse enthusiasts will have the opportunity of witnessing one more championship match before the season closes. This time it will be two of the Ontario Lacrosse Association teams that will furnish the entertainment. The rival teams will be Hanover and Brampton, and the prize, the junior championship of the O. L. A. The game will take place on Idylwyld Park Saturday afternoon, beginning at 2.45. Dr. Campbell, of Orangeville, has been agreed on as referee. Both teams play fast, clever lacrosse and an exciting game may be looked for.

The Vancouver News-Advertiser says: "Harshaw, formerly of the Torontos, arrived in the city yesterday and was present at the Vancouver-Tecumseth game. He will likely remain on the Coast playing for Vancouver next season."

"Norm," who was admittedly one of the very best players in the N. L. U. this season, is a son of Mr. John Harshaw, landlord of the American hotel.

BASKET BALL GAME.

Orangeville and Brampton High School girls will try conclusions at Basket Ball on the High School grounds here on Saturday afternoon. The game will commence at 1.30 o'clock.

The Skeleton in Large.

"Do you know," she said, "the Browns have a skeleton in the closet?"

"Oh, no," he replied carelessly.

"But I'm sure of it," she insisted.

"And I'm just as sure you're wrong," he returned. "The comments I've heard are enough to prove that that skeleton of theirs isn't in the closet at all; it's wandering all over the neighborhood."

A Comet.

The following whimsical account of the nature of a splendid comet is given in an old French military journal: "It is a parcel of old stars who, being no longer fit for service, have been discharged on half pay and, to save expense, have agreed to mess together."

Dressing the Pillow.

A little child, not three years old, was sleepy, and his mother carried him to his crib, but the pillowslip had been removed by the maid for the laundry, and the child, looking up beseechingly into his mother's face, said, "Please put a shirt on my pillow."

When your throat tickles it's time to take Four T's and avoid a serious cold. Four red T's on the bottle. Price 25c.

DITCHING MACHINE.

Mr. John A. Ellis, a well-known farmer near Orangeville, has purchased a "Buckeye" Traction Ditching Machine and will follow the business of digging drains and laying tile for farm drainage. The machine is made specially for tile digging, and will dig a trench any depth and true to grade. Farmers, who have low-lying land, can greatly increase its fertility by proper drainage. It is said that there is no other form of farm improvement which will yield such profitable returns. Considerable drainage work has been done in Dufferin during recent years. Farmers, however, who have this method of improving their farms under contemplation, find themselves hampered by the expense of the digging and the difficulty of obtaining men who will do this class of work. The fact that there is a ditching machine available will provide an easy means of overcoming this difficulty and should furnish a great impetus to this class of improvement. Mr. Ellis is prepared to furnish estimates or take contracts for digging. Communications may be addresses to him at Orangeville.

BOUNCING BABY'S ECZEMA CURED

By Morriscy's No. 4. Prescription 47 Years Old.

Pictou, N. S., July 8, 1910.

"When my baby was only two weeks old I noticed a slight rash on his body, and the little fellow would cry and fret night and day. I was greatly worried about him, and tried everything to relieve him, but without any success. The rash kept spreading worse and worse until his little face and body was a mass of scabs. When he was about six months old I was advised to try Father Morriscy's No. 4 Eczema medicine, which I did. In about two months time the scabs had disappeared, and the child is now healthy and strong. I most thankfully recommend it to anyone suffering from Eczema."

Mrs. F. Gratton.

The above prescription is not a "Cure-All" or so-called patent medicine. Dr. Morriscy prescribed it for 44 years, and it cured thousands after other doctors failed. Price, 50c. per box at your dealers, or Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited, Montreal.

"When my baby was only two weeks old I noticed a slight rash on his body, and the little fellow would cry and fret night and day. I was greatly worried about him, and tried everything to relieve him, but without any success. The rash kept getting worse and worse until his little face and body was a mass of scabs. When he was about six months old I was advised to try Father Morriscy's No. 4 Eczema Medicine, which I did. In about two months time the scabs had disappeared, and the child is now healthy and strong. I most thankfully recommend it to anyone suffering from Eczema."

Mrs. F. Gratton.

The above prescription is not a "Cure-all" or so-called patent medicine. Dr. Morriscy prescribed it for 44 years, and it cured thousands after other doctors failed. Price, 50c. per box at your dealers, or Father Morriscy Medicine Co., Limited, Montreal. 201

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Still, of Eglinton, formerly of Orangeville, were visitors at Erin Fair last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Still arrived home last week after an extended trip through Western Canada, Oregon and California. They were away several months, and altogether travelled about 7,000 miles.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglass, of Toronto, were guests of Miss G. M. Strang, of the High School staff, over Sunday. Mrs. Douglass, who is contralto soloist in New St. Andrew's Church, Toronto, assisted the choir of St. Andrew's Church Sunday evening and was heard with keen pleasure in a solo, "By the Waters of Babylon."

Mr. Henry Scott, of Melville Cross, reached home last Thursday after an absence of two months on a pleasure trip through England, Ireland and Scotland. Mr. Scott enjoyed his trip immensely. Some of the time he spent in Lincolnshire, where his father lived before coming to Canada. He had the pleasure of meeting a cousin who resides near the old family home, and also met with two people who remembered his father. Mr. Scott found Edinburgh the most interesting of the large cities he visited. The season has been a rather unusual one in the British Isles as well as in Canada. In the south of England, for instance, the country suffered greatly from drought and extreme heat and the crops, Mr. Scott says, were burned up as badly as in Caledon township.

STRUCK BY A BRICK.

Fred. Temple, a young man in the employ of Gillespie Bros. hardware merchants, met with a nasty accident last Saturday. He was helping to do some eavetroughing on S. White's livery stable on Mill St., and while in the act of ascending a ladder was struck in the face by a loose brick, which the ladder dislodged and caused to fall from the roof of the building. He was unconscious for a couple of hours, and was badly cut and bruised about the mouth and nose. Fortunately no bones were broken.

ORANGEVILLE NOVELTY WORKS.

Mr. J. H. Anderson, of Anderson's Fair, and Mr. G. L. Pletzer, who runs a small novelty furniture factory on William St., have formed a partnership and will continue Mr. Pletzer's business under the firm name of the Orangeville Novelty Works. Mr. Pletzer has been employing four hands in his factory and the firm intends to double the staff immediately and expects to make further additions from time to time. Mr. Pletzer says he has been simply unable to fill his orders for the last three months and the concern should therefore have no difficulty whatever in finding a ready market for the increased output. Mr. Pletzer will manage the factory end of the business and Mr. Anderson will look after the office and sales department.

THE DUFFERIN THEATRE.

Mr. Morrow, proprietor of the Dufferin Theatre, has offered the local Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire the entire Theatre receipts for Tuesday night of next week. Messrs. E. A. Warren, Stanley R. Frost and Percy Harding will contribute solos in addition to the usual first-class programme. There should be bumper houses.

The two wins at Erin made 33 first prizes that Mr. Hogg has carried off with "Lady Bison."

WHO HELD THE SOCIAL?

Can it be possible that able-bodied men should ask assistance from home in order to get back to their eastern firesides? A Capital reporter was told this morning that a number of men had become stranded in this city a short time ago and had written to Orangeville, Ontario, from where they came, for funds to pay their transportation back. The story goes that the good people in that town held a social and raised the "necessary," which was sent to the prodigals in this district where the farmer and contractor are begging for help at $3 a day.—Saskatoon Capital.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP.

The following extract from the Encyclopedia of Social Reform gives an account of the progress and standing of the movement for municipal ownership in Great Britain.

Municipal ownership in Great Britain, commonly known as municipal trading, is not in any sense a theoretical movement, save as it is sometimes characterized by its critics as Socialism or as it is supported by Socialists and used as an argument in favor of Socialism. As a matter of fact, however, it did not come from the Socialist movement; but rather from the mercantile or commercial classes. The larger cities and boroughs in Great Britain are mainly in the hands of business men, who largely make up the personnel of municipal administration, and the movement began with them. Indeed, it was well under way long before the voice of labor was raised in local affairs. Some cities have owned their water and gas undertakings for more than a generation. The later extension of the movement to street railways, electric lighting and power, and telephone service has been urged as a natural and proper application of a programme which has already justified itself in a financial and social way.

Municipal ownership did not come in unopposed. It is still a heated political question, and occupies a large amount of attention at Westminster and in the press; for public ownership is trenching on private business—on the big business of municipal franchises, and here and there on the small business of the manufacturer and retail dealer. The great mass of the people, however, are with the movement, the opposition coming mainly from a comparatively small number of persons most of whom are interested directly or indirectly in public service companies.

Many trace the beginning of the present movement to Birmingham, in 1873, when Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, elected mayor, induced the city to buy two great private gas plants and to follow this up by other large undertakings? Others consider the phase of the movement due to the successful experiment of Glasgow in the operation of her street railways, which the city took over in 1891. The U. S. Bulletin of Labor, Jan. 1906, says in brief:

The general reasons assigned in Great Britain for this growth may be classed as follows:—

1. A desire for better and more efficient service. With this was the belief that public ownership rates and charges could be reduced to the consumer andthat the earnings could be used for the betterment of the service or the lowering of its cost.

2. These enterprises were felt to be essentially public in their nature, because of their monopolistic character and the lack of that competition which secures low rates and efficient service in other industries. Moreover, they are identified with the city in many ways. The life and comfort of the people, as well as the proper administration of the city's departments, are dependent upon water, light, power and transit.

3. The street railway employees were generally underpaid and overworked. Their hours of labor were from seventy to ninety hours per week, and wages were low. The condition of the men was constantly under the eyes of the public, and forming a numerous body, they could and did make their grievances heard.

4. It was felt that the earnings of such industries should go into the public treasury.

The first undertakings in the line of municipal ownership, in Great Britain as in the United States, were water-works, owing probably to the large preliminary expenditures involved and the comparatively small profits to be made by private waterworks. Glasgow received powers to go to Loch Katrine, thirty-four miles away, as early as 1855. Manchester, beginning her works in 1847, has purchased Lake Thurlmere, in the English Lake district, 100 miles away, and Liverpool (1877) and Birmingham, inaugurating her system (1904) have gone to Wales, 70 miles from Liverpool. Sheffield and other midland cities have followed suit. London finally bought out her eight great water companies in 1902.

As a rule, a better supply of water and a reduction in the charges for it have resulted from municipalization; and the former has, without doubt, helped toward an improvement in the public health. The success of public ownership and control is to be gauged from this point of view rather than by reference to balance sheets. Generally, local authorities have not let themselves out to make profits out of water supplies.

The municipalization of the gas in Great Britain has been less rapid, though the manufacture and supply of gas has been in the hands of Glasgow since 1873 and Birmingham began municipalization of the supply in 1873.

It is the policy of most towns to supply gas at as low a price as possible. Light is looked upon as a prime necessity, and its widest use for domestic purposes a thing to be stimulated.

Municipal street railways are a still more recent development. For twenty years after the Act of 1870 the cities built the tracks and leased them to private companies to operate. Only three cities, Huddersfield, Blackpool and Plymouth, operated their street cars till Leeds and Glasgow began to do so in 1894. Since then nearly every important city in the United Kingdom has followed suit except Edinburgh, Dublin, Bristol and Norwich. Even in London the municipality owns and operates nearly all the street railways — 115 miles out of a total of 128 miles in the country.

Altogether the movement in Great Britain has formed a very important part of the causes that have abolished the corruption and inefficiency which formerly marked municipal government there. Public ownership of public utilities anywhere tends to widen the sphere of civic activity and develops a higher type of citizenship and transfers to the side of good government the financial interest of rich and influential men, who, as stockholders in public service corporations formerly aided in the election of men who could be controlled by the corporations.—The Presbyterian.

A Prize Contest open to the farmers of Canada

$3,600 in Cash Prizes for Farmers

READ the conditions of the Prize Contest we are conducting for the farmers of Canada. $400.00 in prizes will be awarded to each Province. These prizes will be divided into four groups, consisting of:

PRIZE "A"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who will use during 1911 the greatest number of barrels of "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "B"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who uses "CANADA" Cement for the greatest number of purposes. PRIZE "C"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who furnishes us with the photograph showing the best of any kind of work done on his farm during 1911 with "CANADA" Cement. PRIZE "D"—$100.00 to be given to the farmer in each Province who submits the best and most complete description of how any particular piece of work (shown by photograph sent in) was done.

Every farmer in Canada is eligible. Therefore, do not be deterred from entering by any feeling that you would have little chance against your neighbor. For remember, Prizes "C" and "D" have no bearing whatever upon the quantity of cement used.

As a matter of fact, your success in this contest will depend to a great extent on your careful reading of our 160-page book, "What the Farmer Can Do With Concrete." In this book—sent free on request to any farmer, full instructions are given as to the uses of concrete, and plans for every kind of farm buildings and farm utility. You'll see the need of this book, whether you are going to try for a prize or not. If you have not got your copy yet, write for it to-night. Simply cut off the attached coupon—or a postcard will do—sign your name and address thereto and mail it to-night.

THANKSGIVING SUPPER.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church are preparing for their annual Fowl Supper on Thanksgiving Night, Oct. 30th. Supper will be served in the basement and will be followed by a literary and musical programme in the Auditorium. The usual admission of 25c. will be charged.

MEN'S MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

The coming convention of Men's Missionary Forces in Hamilton, Nov. 8, 9 and 10, promises to be one of the most far-reaching gatherings of recent years. Well organized Committees are at work representing Transportation, Reception, Registration, Publicity, Finance and Programme. Mr. George C. Coppley is the Executive Chairman, and with him are associated some of Hamilton's ablest business men. From 1,000 to 2,000 delegates are being planned for, and they are being secured in an energetic manner. The Centenary Church will be the Convention auditorium and adjacent Churches used for overflow and sectional meetings.

Among many prominent speakers, Sir Andrew Fraser, of Scotland, late Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, India, and Robert E. Speer, of New York, are the leading lights. Mr. Speer is an expert on world-wide missionary matters. He has made a deep, personal study of the entire field, and by voice and pen has eloquently and effectively championed and popularized the foreign missionary cause. He has a statesman-like way of putting the whole case and has a compelling world vision that appeals to keen business men, and his spirit of enthusiastic optimism is contagious. Mr. Speer is deeply devotional and has a firm grip on Scripture, prayer and eternal realities. He has a wonderful knack of making them exceedingly practical. He has a well-trained mind, and marshals his arguments with clear logic and convincing appeal. He is mild in manner, simple in gesture, always under perfect control, never is unduly emotional, but makes a sane, strong presentation of his case.

These characteristics have endeared him to the student world. He is a student's man. Only his colleague is the world, John R. Mott, can attract and hold such vast audiences of college students the world over. They are a masterly pair of Christian Statesmen. Mott has the strategic, political grasp of world affairs. Speer is the close student of world movements and analyzing them, spiritually interprets them sympathetically and effectively to the student mind.

He appears regularly upon all the student volunteer and missionary platforms and is always fresh and virile. His strength of character and spiritual poise mark him out as a born leader of men. Hamilton is indeed fortunate in securing the services of this rare character. It is safe to say that the capacity of the Convention Church will be taxed to its utmost, and already plans are under way for overflow meetings.

A signed-up delegation is being secured on the membership plan for the convention, out-of-town delegates paying a dollar membership. The membership secures special seat reservation, the souvenir programme and convention badge, and pays convention expenses. All ministers are expected to attend, and are accorded complimentary membership.

THE GREAT COMMISSION

The following are extracts from an address by Robert E. Speer, New York, who comes to the Laymen's convention in Hamilton next month:

"The last command of Christ, which we call The Great Commission," said Dr. Speer, in the course of his address, "is not the foundation of the missionary obligation. If those words had never been uttered by our Lord, or if the record of those words had not been preserved, the missionary obligation of the church would be in in no wise affected thereby. The missionary obligation rests on the character of God, on the universality of the Gospel, on the unity and the need of all humanity. The Great Commission does not create; it states an obligation. These words of Christ do not constitute our duty; they merely define it for us. Nevertheless it is a clear and authoritative way.

The Great Commission reveals to us our Lord's view of the finality and the authoritativeness of the Christian religion, makes plain to us what was our Lord's view of the finality and the authoritativeness of His faith, not on reflection or on defensive apologetics.

The way by which the Gospel was to be safeguarded, in our Lord's view, was by the wholesome hygienic reflex influence of conquest and action and power. The Great Commission gives the church what her life requires, namely, a great and living cause; also makes that cause, what every great cause must be, a personal cause. It not only proposes a great personal end, but a consuming and overwhelming personal motive, and not only demands of us that we should feel the fire, it demands of us also that we should in our day sit down quietly before our project and adapt our means to the effecting of the great end for which our Saviour waits. It demands, for one thing, that we should re-discover what the great objective of the Christian church is; that we should cease laying our emphasis where we do lay it now—on personal spiritual cultivation, on the better nourishment of the already fed, on the defensive apologetics of the Christian faith—that we should lay our emphasis where our Lord laid it, on the great and dominating purposes of the conquest of all life for Christ. It demands, in the second place, that we should re-enthrone that objective in its original place, and should re-adjust all the activities of the church so as to recognize that objective as the great and supreme business of the church. In the third place, it calls for co-ordination and solidification for a real war. And the fourth thing for which the Great Commission calls is the acceptance by each individual man of the fiduciary principle of life. He must realize that what he is and all things he has are not his own, but Christ's; that they were given him by Christ, not for his enjoyment and his selfish use, but for Christ's use, that they might be fitted into Christ's great project of a world's conquest.

And in closing, one thing the Great Commission makes plain to us. It leads us into the secret of all joy and power. "All authority hath been given unto me. Go ye, therefore and make disciples of all the nations, and lo, I am with you all the days." It shows us the one way by which we can bring the Lord in His power back into the midst of His people again.

Robert E. Speer is the general secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church in the United States. He is a Princeton man, and expected to go to the foreign field, but his executive capacity led the leaders in the Presbyterian Church to insist upon his remaining in the office in New York. He enjoys the distinction of being one of the very few men who is not a clergyman, and yet has received the degree of Doctor of Divinity which has been conferred upon him by the University of Edinburgh conference on missions.

Eczema on Face and Hands

Gave up work—Could not shave—Relief and cure obtained from DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

"I had eczema nearly all over the body," writes Mr. John Gordon Campbell, foreman Holland Green Lumber Co., Sudbury, Ont., "hands, neck and wrists were blistered and itching with it. I could find absolutely no cure until I obtained Dr. Chase's Ointment. After using this ointment I was almost instantly relieved and soon completely cured."

"So bad was the eczema that I had to give up work. Could not shave. I was so bad that they had to take me out of camp in a wagon and send for a new foreman. I cannot recommend this ointment too highly."

As a means of soothing raw, flaming, irritated skin no treatment can be compared to Dr. Chase's Ointment. It often heals in a single night. You can see for yourself each day that good it is doing. Sample box free if 60 cts. a box, at all dealers or Edmonson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

He Could Not Sleep at Nights

Till He Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Fred. Swanson, of Saskatchewan, sends a message of cheer to those who feel the weariness and discouragement that comes from broken rest.

Macklin, Sask., Oct. 16th.—(Special)—Those who suffer from sleepless nights and get up in the morning feeling tired and discouraged will find renewed hope in the statement made by Fred. Dawson of this place. He could not sleep at nights. He discovered the cause. It was Kidney trouble. He discovered the cure. It is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"Yes," Mr. Swanson says in an interview regarding his case, "I was troubled with my Kidneys for over a year, so bad that I could not sleep at nights. After using one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills I found great relief. Four boxes removed all my pain and now I sleep well and I am as strong in my Kidneys as any man."

If the Kidneys are wrong the blood becomes clogged with impurities and natural rest is an impossibility. Strong, healthy Kidneys mean pure blood, new life all over the body and that delightful rest that is the sweetest thing in life. Dodd's Kidney Pills always make strong, healthy Kidneys.

E. Berwick, of Shelburne, brought to The Free Press office Sept. 21st thirty well developed ripe strawberries which he had picked in his garden.

CONFIDENCE.

We Back up Our Statements with Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

We think that it is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Cathartics may do much harm. They may cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels, and make constipation more chronic.

Constipation is often accompanied and may be caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those parts and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy involved the labor of skilful research chemists. This remedy produces results such as are expected from the best of the best-known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They apparently act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels, having, it would seem, a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause inconvenience. If they do not positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and thus relieve the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, your money will be refunded. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Three sizes of packages, 10c., 25c. and 50c. Remember, they can only obtain Rexall Remedies in this community at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville, Ont.

MAN WHO DOES THINGS.

r. J. R. Bell, of Laurel, who is much in the limelight in Dufferst now, because of his recently nced decision to contest the nation at the Conservative Conon in Shelburne on November may be not inaptly described as an who has the ability to do s. Our readers must not infer this that Mr. Bell is not a ca- speaker as well. On the con-, he is pleasing and convincing he public platform and his utces carry more than ordinary ht because of the earnestness and eness of purpose that is charistic of the man. At the same it may be fairly said that Mr. has won the prominent place he pies in the estimation of his ds and admirers in Dufferin gh actions rather than words. s essentially a man of action, with his capacity for doing he s an energy and a public spiritis that have combined to make the useful citizen he is.

v. Mr. Bell came to Laurel from neighboring County of Wellington t twenty years ago to assume pastorate of the Presbyterian ches there and at Black's Cor-

Under his wise guidance and sight what were then struggling ges have grown into two strong, rous congregations. It is not l for the tie between minister and regation to remain unbroken for ity years and to find pastor and le alike anxious to continue the oral relationship after so many s. This, however, has been the rience of Mr. Bell. A year or so a neighboring congregation exed him a call. When the invitacame before the Presbytery, nearscore of reprsentative men from Bell's two churches were present rge reasons why they should be ged to retain the services of their ved pastor. Needless to say r arguments carried the day, and Bell is still engaged in the work, h he assumed a score of years

One of the secrets of his sucin his Church work has been his rest in the young and his success firing them with his own zeal enthusiasm for whatever is good, and true. He has always been wn as an active Sunday School Temperance worker, and for the twenty years has been actively tified with every forward move- t along these lines in Dufferin nty. CHARTERS RENOMINATED.

Peel Conservatives Hold Largely Attended Convention.

Present Member Unanimous Choice of the Delegates.

Mr. Samuel Charters, the present member, was renominated to contest the County of Peel at the coming Provincial election at a largely attended and enthusiastic Convention of the Liberal-Conservative party in Brampton on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Charters was nominated by Mr. James R. Fullis, secretary of the Liberal-Conservative Association, Mr. W. J. Jameson, of Inglewood, being the seconder. There was a very large attendance of Conservatives, delegates coming from every part of the county. The chair was taken at two o'clock by Mr. Robt. McCulloch, of Snelgrove, president of the Liberal-Conservative Association of Peel. Prominent members of the party were on the platform. The chief speaker was the Hon. I. B. Lucas, who delighted his audience with a speech full of eloquence and humor. Other speakers were Messrs. W. S. Morphy, of Brampton; Richard Blain, M. P.; Samuel Charters, L. A. Hamilton, of Lorne Park; Charles Elliott, barrister, of Port Credit; Dr. Sharpe, of Brampton; G. M. Downey, of Palgrave; Dr. Graham, of Claude, and F. W. Morgan, reeve of Streetsville. Mr. Charters was the unanimous choice of the Convention, no other name coming before the meeting for consideration.

Hon. I. B. Lucas predicted that some day the long distance telephone lines would be controlled, or owned, by either the Dominion or the Provincial Government. Speaking of the coming election, Mr. Lucas said, "Some people say we are going to annihilate the Liberal party in this Province. Well, I don't think so. What I say is, don't be over-confident. There will, to some extent, be that sympathy with the weaker party, and I should not be surprised to see a stronger Opposition."

Mr. Richard Blain, M.P. said that he did not know what he had better talk about now that reciprocity was dead. The Dominion member spent most of his time paying his respects to the Toronto Globe and justified his action at Ottawa prior to the adjournment of the House in questioning Hon. Mr. Lemieux about that newspaper's circulation and use of the mails.

RURAL DEPOPULATION.

One of the significant features of the recent Federal election was the large falling off in the rural vote in many Ontario constituencies. The Weekly Sun is authority for the statement that in three townships in East Huron there were 242 less votes polled on September 21st than there were at the general election in 1908. The reduction in the vote in five townships in West Huron was 269, while in six townships in South Huron there was a falling off to the extent of 309. This means a total decrease of 820 in the rural vote of the County of Huron in the last three years. Under the circumstances the greater part of this large falling off may be fairly attributed to an actual decrease in the population of the rural parts of the county. The election was one of the most keenly fought in many years and it is therefore safe to assume that an average percentage of the total available vote would be polled. It may be that there were a number of Liberals who did not approve of the late Government's attitude on reciprocity and for that reason refrained from going to the polls. This, however, does not adequately account for the large decrease in the total vote in ridings like the Hurons. The only inference that can be drawn is that the decline in the rural population of this Province is still proceeding at a rapid rate. This steady depopulation of the choicest farming sections of Old Ontario is a matter that calls for serious consideration. The result cannot very well be anything but harmful to the prosperity of the Province. It is perhaps unreasonable to expect that the sons and daughters of Ontario farmers should be content to remain on the lands their parents tilled, so long as the West offers them the boon of cheap lands and attractive returns for their investments, whether in the form of capital or labor. Rural Ontario should, however, attract a portion of the tide of immigration that is now flowing into Canada and it would seem the duty of the Provincial Government to make a vigorous effort to induce some of the sturdy Scotch, Irish and English immigrants to make their homes in this province. It is high time too that vigorous steps were taken to people the agricultural parts of Northern Ontario. The great clay belt, we are assured, is alone capable of sustaining an agricultural population nearly equal to that of Old Ontario. Its early settlement and development means much to the older part of the Province and particularly to the Ontario manufacturers, who will have here a new and valuable market for their products.

POPULATION OF PEEL.

According to the recent census Peel County has a population of 22,064, made up as follows :—

Streetsville	543
Toronto Twp.	6,267
Chinguacousy	3,923

MRS. JOHN GORDON.

Mrs. Gordon, wife of Mr. John Gordon, Principal of Carronreagh School, Antrim, Ireland, died at her home in Ballymony, Antrim, on October 6th. The deceased lady, who was in her 39th year, was a daughter of Mr. W. J. Gordon, Prince of Wales St., Orangeville. She is survived by her husband and a family of one son and one daughter.

W. J. MANNING.

W. J. Manning, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of the township of Tecumseth, died at his home near Bondhead, in his forty-seventh year, on Sunday morning, after a few days' illness with appendicitis. On Friday he underwent an operation, but the disease had advanced to a stage where it failed to save his life. The late Mr. Manning was born and spent all his life on the farm where he died, the property being in the Manning family for one hundred years. Deceased was a member of the Orange Society, standing high up in the order. He was also a Forester, a chartered member of Bondhead lodge and carried $2,000 insurance on his life in this society. Mr. Manning was a member of Trinity Church and a prominent church worker. He also took an active part in Sunday-school work, being superintendent of Trinity Church Sunday School at the time of his decease. He was also at one time president of the County Sunday School Association. About thirteen years ago he married Miss Jackson, of the township of Mono, who, with their three children, survives him. The funeral took place on Tuesday from his late residence to St. John's Church. A short service was held in the home by Rev. W. P. Lane. The service at the church was conducted by Rev. O. J. Nurse, of Beeton, after which interment was made in the cemetery adjoining. Beautiful floral wreaths were sent by the Orange and Forester societies.—Beeton World.

The late Mr. Manning was a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. James Jackson, First Ave.

DEATH OF ERNIE IRWIN.

Ernest E. Irwin, formerly a well-known Toronto lacrosse player, died very suddenly at his home in Hull, Que., on Sunday morning. Mr. Irwin, who graduated a short time ago from the Ontario College of Veterinary Surgeons, left Toronto but two weeks ago to accept a government position as meat inspector at Hull, Que. He was in the best of health until Friday last, when he contracted intestinal inter-susception, which was the cause of death.

He was only 21 years of age, the son of Mr. George Irwin, of 59 Gwynne Avenue, Toronto, and is survived by his parents, two brothers and a sister. He was known as Ernie among a host of friends in the athletic world, having played football and lacrosse with the All Saints and lacrosse with the Maitlands, from which club he joined the Torontos this summer. He was a manly young fellow, who made friends wherever he went and gave great promise as a lacrosse player.

His body arrived in Toronto on Monday morning from Hull, and the funeral took place on Wednesday morning, when the remains were taken by G. T. R. train to Palgrave from North Parkdale cemetery, thence to Sloan's cemetery, Adjala, for interment.

Mr. J. J. White, First St., is a cousin of the young man's father. The latter, Mr. George Irwin, ran a blacksmith shop at Ballycroy a number of years ago, and a brother, Mr. John Irwin, will be remembered by many Banner readers as a former resident of Mono Mills.

THANKSGIVING SUPPER.

Readers of The Banner are reminded of the Fowl Supper, which the Ladies' Aid Society is giving in Orangeville Methodist Church on Monday night. Supper will be served in the school room, the after entertainment taking place in the auditorium, where a choice programme of solos, duets, quartettes and instrumental music will be provided by some of the best local talent available. Admission, 25c.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Mr. W. A. Wansbrough, of Amaranth, who is freely mentioned as a probable candidate for legislative honors, is not likely to allow his name to go before the coming Convention.

It is reported that Mr. Arch. Greer, of Mulmur, Warden of Dufferin, will stand the Conservative Convention on November 8th. If the report is correct, Mr. Greer's candidature will add greatly to the uncertainty of the outcome.

The Toronto Daily World is responsible for the following political tidbits :—

"Ottawa appears to be an attractive spot these days for Conservative members from Ontario. Among those at the capital yesterday, were Major Sam Sharpe, of North Ontario, Dr. Sproule, of East Simcoe, John Best, of Dufferin, Mr. Henderson and Col. Clark. Departmental business is occupying their attention, but the negotiations over the choice of a constituency for Mr. White have not yet been completed."

"There was a rumor in Orangeville yesterday that John Best, M. P., for Dufferin, may retire in order to provide a seat for Hon. W. T. White. It is said that many of the electors would be opposed to such a move, and that if Mr. Best retires, D. C. Hossack, who once lived there, will be offered the nomination, his by-election issue being the Ne Temere decree."

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Orangeville Branch of the Dufferin Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Endacott on Tuesday afternoon next, October 31st, at 3 o'clock. Subject, "Christmas Cookery."

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

Anniversary services will be held in the Methodist Church at Mono Mills on Sunday next, October 29th. Rev. Dr. Harper, of Orangeville, will conduct both services. On Monday evening following, Oct. 30th, a Supper and Entertainment will be given by the congregation. Supper will be served in the Orange Hall from 6 to 8 o'clock. The after entertainment will take place in the Church. The programme will consist of speeches, recitations, dialogues, vocal and instrumental music. The general admission has been fixed at 25c. and 15c. for children.

SPORTS.

BASKET BALL GAME.

On Saturday afternoon the girls of the Orangeville High School defeated the Brampton High School girls in a friendly game of Basket Ball on the school campus here. The score was 19 to 8. The game was witnessed by a large number of interested spectators, who were treated to a fast and decidedly interesting exhibition of this popular game. The fair contestants played with a vim and vigor that left no room for doubt as to their earnestness. The game was, however, devoid of anything approaching roughness, and the players showed commendable spirit and good nature. Orangeville forwards showed rather better form than their opponents, but at that had to work hard to gain the lead. Although defeated the visitors enjoyed the game, and were unanimous in declaring they had a royal time while here. The Brampton girls looked piquant in their white sailor jackets, trimmed with yellow and black, the school colors. Miss Hutchinson, of the Brampton High School staff and a former member of the High School staff here, refereed the game. The line-up was :—

Brampton—Defence, Misses Bessie Dale and Hazel Hall; centres, Misses Florence Early, Norine Noble and Ethel Faulkner; forwards, Misses Gwen. Jones and Nina McGill.

Orangeville—Defence, Misses Muriel Laverty and Ina Porter; centres, Misses Mamie Robinson, Elsie McArten and Enid Frank; forwards, Misses Ruth Shaw and Robina McKay.

Umpire—Miss Leonie Russell.

At the conclusion of the match the Orangeville girls entertained the visitors to a light luncheon and afterwards at the theatre. The return game will probably be played in Brampton a week from Saturday.

CHARLESTON.

The Directors of the Caledon Agricultural Society have certainly a right to feel proud of their second attempt to hold a Fair here this year. While the former date proved to be the worst day of the season the latter was one of the finest and left little to be desired in that line. The show of horses was simply magnificent and it is not making it too strong to say that there never were so many good horses together in Caledon before. The show of cattle was also the largest in the history of the society, while that of poultry sheep and swine was above the average. Notwithstanding that there was no show in the hall and that no doubt had a depressing effect on the attendance the receipts were considerably larger than last year. The directors are greatly encouraged in their efforts and deserve great credit for the way they handled the big event.

Quite a number of local Tories attended the Conservative Convention in Brampton on Saturday at which Mr. Samuel Charters was again the unanimous choice. That he will be elected is a foregone conclusion and the probabilities are without a struggle.

The Young Ladies of Caledon will hold their annual Masquerade Ball on Friday night. This is looked upon by some as the event of the season and no doubt will be up to the standard this year. We wish them success.

Some of our young people are becoming enthusiastic over the organization of a literary society. This is a movement which should be encouraged, and we hope to see it flourish.

THE FIRST DOMESTIC CATTLE.

A bulletin entitled "The Dairying Industry in Canada," published recently by the authority of the Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa, gives an extremely interesting account of the introduction of Domestic Cattle into Canada. Sable Island, the bulletin states, was in all probability the scene of the first introduction of domestic cattle on this side of the Atlantic. History tells us that the Baron de Lery, who sailed from France in 1518 with the object of founding a colony in the New World, became discouraged after searching in vain for a favorable location, landed his live stock, consisting of cattle and horses, on Sable Island, and then returned home. As a somewhat interesting sequel to this story, it is said that the Marquis de La Roche made another attempt to found a colony in 1598, with a number of convicts whom he had been allowed to take from the jails in France. He marooned these people on the Island while he searched for a suitable location for his settlement, but stormy weather drove his ships so far to the eastward that he decided to return to France, leaving his wretched colonists to shift for themselves. They were on the island seven years before they were rescued, subsisting largely on the flesh of the animals and clothing themselves in their skins. The cattle were finally exterminated about 1630 by expeditions organized for the purpose among the Puritans of Massachusetts, but the ponies are there to this day.

Cartier brought some cattle with him on his third and last voyage in 1541, but as he made no permanent settlement the cattle were probably killed for food or taken back to France.

The next attempt to introduce domestic cattle into what is now British dominions on this continent, was in 1606, when Pourtrincourt brought some cows to the settlement founded by De Monts at Port Royal (now Annapolis, N. S.) in 1604. It is not at all likely, however, that this was a permanent introduction, because the settlement was destroyed in 1613 by an expedition from Virginia, under Argall, and if these pirates spared any of the cattle, the Indians would certainly not have overlooked such easy game.

The first permanent introduction of cows into Canada was undoubtedly made by Champlain, at Quebec, in 1608 or 1610. In the record of his voyages, he makes mention of the cutting of hay for the cattle in 1610, and in a map of Quebec, published in 1613, a place is shown where 'hay was grown for the cattle.' Champlain's colony had a farm at Cap Tourmente with 60 or 70 head of cattle, in 1629. Some of these were killed by Kirke on his predatory expedition to the St. Lawrence in that year.

In 1660 the great minister, Colbert, under Louis XIV, began sending representatives of 'the best dairy cows of Normandy and Britanny' to New France.

De Tracey also brought some cattle from France in 1665 along with the famous Carignan-Salieres regiment.

All authorities agree that the French Canadian breed of the present day is descended from the stock thus imported from Normandy and Britanny in the 17th century.

After 1632, when the Acadian settlements began to acquire a permanent character, more cattle as well as sheep were procured and 'fruit trees were planted.' Fur trading and fishing were to some extent abandoned for agricultural pursuits. In 1671 there were reported to be 866 head of 'horned cattle' in all Acadia. A census in 1693 showed 878 horned cattle at Port Royal, 461 at Minas, 309 at Chignecto and 38 on the River St. John (New Brunswick), probably at Jemseg.

It is stated that there were 1,557 cows and over 5,000 young cattle at the Basin of Minas alone at the time of the expulsion of the Acadians in 1755. Many of the cattle in those early days were undoubtedly used for draft purposes, so that the number of 'horned cattle'—the expression frequently used in old records—is large in proportion to the number of milch cows kept.

In 1713 when Acadia was ceded to England by the Treaty of Utrecht, a number of the Acadian families migrated to Prince Edward Island, or as it was then called the Island of St. John, which still remained under French rule. These were the first settlers in the island province, and it is quite possible that they took some cattle with them. There was a further migration of Acadians at the time of the expulsion from Nova Scotia. When Captain Holland surveyed the island in 1764, he reported that the number of cattle at that time was inconsiderable.

After the expulsion of the Acadians from Nova Scotia the fertile lands which they had occupied tempted many settlers from New England, who brought live stock with them to the various districts in which they settled. The first German settlers in British North America came to Lunenburg, N.S., in 1750-53. In 1754, the government supplied them with '74 cows, 867 sheep, 114 pigs, 164 goats, besides poultry. By 1760 they had 600 cows, and were exporting both butter and cheese from the district.

In 1761 a company of 53 families from New Hampshire, of Irish descent, settled at Truro. They brought 117 head of cattle with them. During the same year a number of Puritans from Connecticut landed at Yarmouth, and they had 267 cattle in 1763, which number was increased to 954 in 1764.

When the United Empire Loyalists came to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island in those memorable years of 1783-84 and 85, there were further additions made to the live stock of these provinces.

It was through the coming of the United Empire Loyalists that live stock was introduced into the Eastern Townships. The government of the day made a distribution of cows, implements, &c., to the new settlers in that district.

The extreme western portion of the Province of Quebec, south of the St. Lawrence, including the county of Huntingdon and the Seigniories of Chateauguay and Beauharnois was settled between 1800 and 1830. There were a few French Canadians, and some Loyalists who moved westward from Lacolle, but the principal settlers were Scotch families direct from the Old Country and Americans who drifted in from the neighbouring states. Many of the Americans recrossed the line when the war of 1812 broke out. The cattle for this district were procured from the States and from the older settled country around Montreal. The district of Beauharnois, as it is now called, has developed into one of the best dairying and pure bred stock centres in Canada.

When La Motte Cadillac made his way to the Detroit river in 1701, and there established a post, he took with him some young 'calves,' the descendants of which were probably the first cows seen in Upper Canada. It was some years, however, after the settlement was planted before land was occupied on what is now the Canadian side of the river. It is safe to say that the real introduction of domestic cattle into Upper Canada was co-incident with the coming of the United Empire Loyalists in 1783-1785. The government distributed cows among these settlers as it did in the Eastern Townships. The cows were procured from Lower Canada and from the States. The Loyalists settled along the St. Lawrence, and in the Bay of Quinte and Niagara districts. The Western 'peninsula' of Ontario was not settled until some years later. One of the first dairymen of record in this district was the celebrated Col. Talbot, who established himself on the shore of Lake Erie at what has since been known, as Port Talbot, in Elgin county, in 1803. This eccentric son of an Irish nobleman, a youthful friend of the Duke of Wellington and an acquaintance of the sons of George III, came to Canada in 1790 to join the 24th Regiment at Quebec. He served on the staff of Governor Simcoe, and through his friends in high places he secured a large grant of land, in what was then known as the London district, on condition that he should place a certain number of settlers on it. His home farm was quite extensive, and as dairying was included among his industries, he was undoubtedly one of the very first dairymen in Western Ontario. The first settlers arrived in Oxford about 1795, but progress was slow for some years, and the writer has not been able to determine when the first live stock was brought in. In the more northerly counties of Wellington, Perth and Huron, there were few if any cows until after 1830.

THOUGHT IT WAS CANCER

SYDNEY MINES, N.S., Jan. 25th, 1910.

"For many years, I suffered tortures from Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited my food constantly. I also suffered with Constipation. I consulted physicians, as I was afraid the disease was cancer, but medicine gave only temporary relief.

I read in the 'Maritime Baptist' about 'Fruit-a-tives' and the cures this medicine was making and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say 'Fruit-a-tives' has entirely cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say "Thank God for 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 5th, 1911. Esther Pleading for Her People. Esther iv:i-v:3.

WITH A WOLF ON AN ICE FLOE.

Two years ago, in the dead of winter, I was out on Lake Michigan in a friend's but, fishing through the ice. Everything was proceeding merrily when there came a sudden report sounding like thunder. The ice was going !

I rushed outside, but the snow was blinding, and I could, of course, not even see the shore-line. I stood perplexed for a moment, but, as I had no compass, there was nothing for it but to keep warm and trust to luck. All around the thunderous reports were sounding, and the ice was quivering strangely. I was frightened, but as there was no help for it I went back to the hut and kept on fishing.

This was about noon. I noticed, to my relief, that there were no cracks coming beneath the hut, so that if the ice did go out, I should at least be on a big cake—for a time. The big cakes do not last very long in Lake Michigan. I could not tell what was happening outside, for the wind was shrieking and howling horribly, and every few seconds the ice would split with a resounding crash. So, for lack of something better to do, I arranged a frying-pan I had over the little stove, and to keep up my food supply I started frying some of the fish, after cleaning them outside the hut. In a few minutes the place was filled with a most appetizing odor, which, I presume, had something to do with what followed.

First of all I heard a series of low whines outside ; then something scratched at the door. I opened it in amazement, thinking that some big dog had perhaps been lost on the ice and had found my hut. To my surprise however, a great unkempt animal [illegible]ed and fawned about my feet, licking my boots; and although I had never seen one, I knew that it was a gray wolf. The animal seemed terrified beyond measure by the splitting ice and the storm, for he kept casting fearful glances at the door, and showed no sign whatever of wildness. As I had no other weapon than my knife and a frozen fishing-line, I was in a quandary. But the wolf seemed lonely and showed a strong desire to make himself at home, so we naturally decided to let it go at that, and spent the night quite charmingly together. The next morning I awoke to find the sun up, the day bright and clear, and the land four or five miles west of us. All around floated cakes of ice, going the same way as ourselves in the grip of the current. My fears passed away with the bright sunlight, and I used up my last wood in cooking some fish for the wolf, while I finished the basket of provisions.

So the wolf and I went out in the sunshine; and now the animal grew surly and no longer welcomed my approaches. I believe that so long as the danger lasted he was cowed, but that with the approach of day, and when rescue was at hand for me, all his savage nature retraced upon him with redoubled force. However that may be, two hours later I saw a dot moving among the ice, and as it neared saw that it was a fish-boat, doubtless with a rescue party on board. And now came the most surprising part of my adventure.

The boat was about half a mile distant, and the occupants, having seen me and waved to me, started to make their way through the floating ice. I saw the wolf watching them with bristling hair, and suddenly he turned to me with a low growl. I offered him a bit of fish, but he took no notice, and I began to fear that he realized that my rescue would not include his. At any rate, he drew back a few steps, his eyes fixed on mine; then with a quick movement, he sprang at me.

I had no weapon, except a short knife, which was closed. All I could do was to jump aside, hitting him with my fist as he missed me—an old boxing-trick. But I had not counted on that savage side-slack of the great teeth, and when the animal gained his feet and turned to fly at me again my hand was streaming with blood from a small gash. I heard shouts from the approaching fish-boat, but as the party was unarmed they could not help me.

Immediately upon getting his balance on the snow the wolf came toward me slowly and sprung again. This time I was really frightened, and, with a wild idea of holding him away till my friends could assist me, I met him half way, grasped his throat in both hands, and we both fell to the snow together, for the impact of his leap was tremendous. I hung on to his throat, but, although I kept the gleaming teeth off, I could not hold his feet. He struck at me savagely with his hind paws, the sharp claws tearing through my coat like knives, and I realized my danger just in time to cast myself backward. Instantly the wolf returned to the attack, and this time the look in his face frightened me so that I did not wait for him. I whipped my coat away and threw it in his face ; then turned, and running to the side of the ice-cake, leaped into the water.

I am a good swimmer, and the boat was only a hundred feet distant, so in no time I was aboard and getting into warm clothes. The engine was stopped, and we lay there watching the wolf. He seemed puzzled at my disappearance, running backward and forward on the ice ; then he looked at the boat and howled dismally. None of the men liked to attack him with knives for their only weapons, and so presently the boat was turned about and we threaded our way out from the ice to the free water. Behind us the lonely wolf sat watching us disappear, and slowly, hopelessly, floated onward to his doom.

15 YEARS A DYSPEPTIC

Forced to Live on Stale Bread and Porridge.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

AVONDALE, N. B., October, 15th.

"I have been a great sufferer from Indigestion for fifteen years. I was forced to deny myself all such hearty foods as beans, meats, potatoes and could not drink tea or coffee. For the past two years, I lived on porridge, stale bread, etc. I had treatment from two doctors, and tried nearly every kind of medicine, but got worse.

"Finally I saw a testimonial of "Fruit-a-tives" and concluded to give them a trial. I took nearly four boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and they have made me feel like a new man. I can eat all kinds of hearty foods without suffering, and am no longer constipated."

LEMUEL A. W. BROWN.

Saved Herself Years of Pain

If She Had Used Dodd's Kidney Pills First.

Mrs. McRea suffered for over two years, then two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new woman of her.

Previl, Gaspe Co., Que., Oct. 23.—(Special)—That she might have escaped two years and seven months of suffering had she tried Dodd's Kidney Pills in the first place is the firm conviction of Mrs. John McRea, an old and respected resident of this place. And this is the reason she gives for believing so :

"For two years and seven months I was a sufferer from Kidney Disease brought on by a strain and a cold. My eyes were puffed and swollen, my muscles cramped and I suffered from Neuralgia and Rheumatism. My back ached and I had pains in my joints.

UNTIL a few years ago, although concrete had already been generally adopted throughout the country by contractors and farmers for almost all structural work, it was the practice to stop all work on this form of construction as soon as the cold weather set in.

It has been found, however, that concrete work may be carried on in cold weather successfully, and with but very little more trouble than under ordinary circumstances.

This fact is of great benefit to the farmer, as it is in the colder period of the year that he is able to find time for building and making the many articles around the farm to which concrete so readily adapts itself.

With a few simple precautions it has been found that concrete can be used, not only in freezing weather, but when the thermometer has been actually below zero.

If the concrete freezes before it starts to "set," it will not be injured, but if the freezing takes place after the "setting" action has started up, the concrete is likely to be damaged when it thaws, owing to the expansion of the melting water forcing the particles apart and making the concrete crumbly. On the other hand, if the concrete has a chance to become thoroughly "set" before freezing, no harm will be done. To give it this chance you must first of all prepare the materials as described below, and secondly, you must protect the concrete after it has been placed in the "forms."

PREPARATION OF MATERIALS.

Concrete will, on its own account, develop a certain amount of heat in the "setting" process. But in cold weather, some outside assistance, in the form of artificial heat, is necessary. The best way to develop this artificial heat is to warm the materials before mixing. This shortens the time that it takes the concrete to "set" and lengthens the time necessary to bring it to the freezing point. Bear in mind that the less water used, the quicker concrete "sets." Therefore, it is advisable to use as little water as possible in the mixing during cold weather.

HEATING WATER.

A simple and easily-made vessel for heating water is shown in the accompanying drawing. (See Fig. 1.). A coil is made of one-inch pipe with the ends fastened in the barrel and made water-tight. A small fire built under the coil will heat the water rapidly and will keep it in circulation, thus keeping all the water heated.

For this purpose it is wise to use a length of malleable iron gas-pipe, because it is easily bent into the required coil. This is done by taking a log or fence-post about the size of the coil and bending the pipe around it. This method prevents the pipe from "buckling" and makes the coils more regular in size.

Where concrete work is being done on a large scale, it is advisable to use the two-barrel heater shown in Fig. 2. This allows the water to be constantly replenished without reducing the heat of the water in the barrel from which the hot water is taken.

Most farmers, however, possess large boiling kettles, used during butchering time, or for making soft soap, etc. One of these will do equally well.

FIG. 2. SHOWING TWO-BARREL METHOD OF HEATING WATER.

FIG. 1. SHOWING SIMPLE METHOD OF WATER HEATING.

FIG. 3. SHOWING HOW MATERIALS MAY BE HEATED BY MEANS OF A FIRE IN AN OLD STOVE-PIPE.

HEATING SAND AND STONE.

Sand and stone may be very easily heated by making use of two pieces of stove pipe, one piece for the sand and the other for the stone. The pipes are laid on the ground in such a position as to allow the wind to make a good draft. The fire is then built in one end. The flames pass through, heating the whole pipe, and as fresh fuel is added, the cinders are pushed along the pipe and gradually work out at the other end. The sand and stone should be piled in top of the stove pipes, and will soon draw out and become heated.

In very cold weather, the cement may be heated by laying the bags on top of the sand, but this is not absolutely necessary, as the cement itself must be kept dry until used, whether the weather be hot or cold.

TEMPERATURE REQUIRED.

Materials should not be heated to too high a temperature. A good way to judge the proper amount of heat is to make them just hot enough to be comfortable to touch. Care should be taken not to use any frozen lumps of sand.

PROTECTING CONCRETE IN POSITION.

After the concrete has been placed in "forms" it should be protected so as to keep the heat in as long as possible. This is more essential in thin structures than in massive walls and foundations; for the latter will hold their own heat longer on account of their thickness.

Wooden "forms" are non-conductors, and will retain the heat in the concrete up to a certain point, but the concrete should be protected on top by a covering of canvas or heavy paper, with a layer of ten or twelve inches of manure on top of this. Straw will also answer the purpose. If manure is used, care should be taken to prevent it from coming in contact with the concrete, as it will discolor it, and possibly even seep through sufficiently to weaken the structure.

PROTECTING THIN STRUCTURES.

In the case of thin walls where extra cold weather calls for additional protection, heavy paper should be nailed to the vertical posts of the forms, (see Figure 4,) thus leaving an enclosed air space between each pair of posts. These air spaces will have about fifteen degrees higher temperature than the outside air. The "forms" should always be left on longer in cold weather, as it takes longer for the concrete to harden.

FIG. 4. PAPER TACKED TO WOODEN SUPPORTS TO PROTECT CONCRETE FROM FROST.

There is no reason why concrete cannot be used with complete success in cold weather if these simple precautions be followed.

CHASED BY A WATERSPOUT.

An American steamer had the rare experience, while off the coast of Gautemala, of being pursued by a waterspout, which suddenly appeared near the ship. In the midst of the consternation the captain ordered his course reversed, and soon the steamer was driving along, with the waterspout in pursuit.

Its crest was hidden in a dark mass of cloud, its base seemed to operate like an immense revolving calander, while the entire external periphery formed a cushion of foam over which sea birds screamed, occasionally seizing upon the dead fish that came within reach.

The spout formed a sort of spiral cylinder, streaked with opaque parallel lines through its whole length, from the surface of the sea upward. These lines were evidently ascending columns of water, for afterward, when the upper and the lower sections became detached, the accumulated volume of water overhead immediately began its descent within the body of the spout, as though it had been the valve of an immense syringe.

The water thus released must have been equal to several tons, as it was solid and almost black, and returned to the sea with a loud roar, all the other parts of the aerial structure gradually dissipating.

Perhaps the most singular feature of all was the serpentine form assumed by the section nearest the clouds, which moved off at first almost horizontally, and then turned upon itself in a perfect coil, so that for a moment, when the end of the aqueous rope switched around squarely to the eye, showing a section, it resembled a ball of ink.

When the spout was in its finest stage, lightning several times flew through the penumbra in zigzag courses, making a spectacle not only terrible, but sublime and beautiful as well.

"Dr. Miles' Nervine Raised Me From the Grave"—Mrs. Taylor

This is a strong statement to make, but it is exactly what Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of Blum, Texas, said in expressing her opinion of this remedy.

"Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine raised me from the grave and I have much confidence in it. I can never say enough for your grand medicines. If anyone had offered me $1000 for the second bottle of Nervine that I used I would have said 'no indeed.'"
MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR, Blum, Tex.

PAISLEY MAN SHOT.

By the accidental discharge of a rifle a young man named Joseph J. Bradley was shot and instantly killed at Paisley. In company with his brother-in-law, E. G. Eckel, of Paisley, the deceased had left his parents' home at Ellengowan in the afternoon to locate coon trees in the woods with the intention of hunting the animals at night. They took along a 22 calibre repeating rifle, carrying it in sections in their pockets for concealment. After making a circuit of the adjacent woods about 5 o'clock they sat down on a knoll to take the gun apart. Eckell was handling the rifle. The mechanism was not working very freely, being a new gun, and a shell that had slipped unnoticed from the magazine into the breach was in the next moment discharged. The bullet entered young Bradley's face at the nose and came out through the back of his head. Deceased was 21 years of age.

EYE ERROR
Not a question of age

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

We have facilities here for testing your eyes and finding out exactly what they need. We sell only such glasses as we can thoroughly recommend. All work is guaranteed.

Neuralgia and Sciatica

Caused great suffering for 25 years. Nothing effective until Dr. Chase's Medicines were Used.

"It affords me pleasure to speak favorably of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills," writes Mr. W. T. Collins, Morpeth, Ont. "I had been a sufferer for 25 years from sciatica, lumbago and neuralgia and tried nearly all the remedies advertised without one particle of benefit until I began the use of Dr. Chase's medicines. Before I had finished two boxes of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills I noticed considerable benefit in my condition. I have so much confidence in these medicines that I have recommended them to dozens of my friends."

In severe cases of this nature the combined use of these medicines brings results which are both surprising and satisfactory. The Kidney-Liver Pills regulate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels, while the Nerve Food enriches the blood and builds up the nervous system. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

HOW THEY APPEAL TO FARMERS.

Among the best known members of the House of Commons is W. B. Northrup, M.P., of Belleville, who has represented East Hastings at Ottawa for several terms. Always faultlessly attired, one would never think that the dapper M. P. was elected through the votes of farmers, for his constituency is largely rural, extending to the farthermost point north in the large County of Hastings with its twenty-four townships. When he rises to address the House, he is off like a race horse. Verbally, he travels at times at the rate of two hundred words a minute or more, and the Hansard men are kept at top speed. It is no easy matter for even these expert stenographic writers to follow the whirlwind debater, who has been dubbed the "General Ben Butler of Canadian lawyers." Butler was the most famous American attorney in his day for celerity of utterance, but Mr. Northrup would give him a close contest on the stump or before a jury.

Mr. Northrup was speaking at a small village in his riding during the recent election campaign, and denouncing reciprocity in unmeasured terms, when a young interrupter at the back of the hall started to hiss. The candidate paid no attention, but, in the succession of sibilant sounds being renewed with increased vigor, he paused and, looking straight at the offender, observed: "My friend! There are three things that hiss—a snake, a goose and a fool. Will you please stand a moment in order that the audience may judge which of the three you are?"

Colonel Sam Hughes is also adept in homely images that appeal to the rustic mind. When he enters into the serious discussion of any problem he does not like to be interrupted and woe betide the man who is flippant enough to break in with an irrelevant question. Some years ago the gallant soldier was addressing a crowded meeting in Lindsay, when a voice from the gallery was heard. Col. Hughes was condemning the military policy of the Laurier Administration, and the interrupter shouted "Rats." The speaker paid no heed at first, but when the meaningless term was hurled again, there was a pause—for the discussion was weighty and thoughtful. "My friend, I am here this evening loaded for bear and have not time to stop and skin a skunk," shouted the orator, and Lindsay went mad with delight.

DON'T FRET.

When I see a woman with that beautiful countenance which won the heart of her husband darkened by a frown, constantly fretting and making all about her uncomfortable because there will be "dirt" somewhere; the maid-servant is slow and does not understand her business; baby is cross, always crossest when much is to be done; children unreasonable, and so on, I am tempted to exclaim: Hush, dear woman, these useless repinings! Examine yourself; perchance the blame lies at your own door after all. There is a talisman possessing a magic charm which will scatter all these evils. It is cheerfulness. The maid-servant is quickened and improved by kind, encouraging words. The very cast of your countenance, the tones of your voice, has its effect on your little ones. Then let your husband see that instead of a fretter, his wife is kind, gentle, self-denying, shedding peace and happiness around his hearth and brightening his home by the sunlight of her smiles. A man of sense is not slow in discovering the gentler virtues of his wife. The secret of her influence over him lies here. It is the mystic tie binding him to her, which naught but death itself hath power to sever.

TOO LITTLE BLOOD.

The Cause of Nearly All The Everyday Ailments of Life.

Too little blood—that is what makes men and women look pale and sallow and feel languid. That is what makes them drag alone, always tired, never real hungry, unable to digest their food, breathless and palpitating at the heart after slight exertion, so that it is wearisome even to go upstairs. Doctors tell them that they are "anaemic"—the plain English being too little blood. If your face is pale or sallow, if your gums are pale instead of being scarlet; if you are easily tired and frequently despondent; if you do not relish your meals, and small matters irritate you, it is a sign that your blood is thin and watery and that you are on the verge of a complete breakdown.

More weak, anaemic people have been made strong, energetic and cheerful by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills than by any other means. They actually make new blood, which reaches every part of the body, braces the nerves and brings new health and new strength. The case of Miss Nellie Welsh, Essex, Ont., is proof of the great curative powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Miss Welsh says: "A few years ago I was going into what my friends believed to be a hopeless decline. I was subject to severe headaches, had no appetite, was pale and grew distressingly weak. I tried several doctors, some of whom we counted the best in this part of the country, but they failed to help me. At last my heart grew so weak and I was so nervous and thin that I had to take to my bed and the doctor held out but little hope for my recovery. Like others I had often read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and though the doctor opposed my taking them I determined to give them a trial, as I felt I might as well be dead as to be living in the misery I was in. In a month after beginning to take the pills I was up and around again, and steadily growing stronger until I was again enjoying the blessing of perfect health. Several years have since elapsed and my health has been the very best. It is therefore with great gratitude that I write you in the hope that my experience may be of benefit to some other sufferer."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE PRICKLY-PEAR.

The prickly-pear is said to be so tenacious of life that a leaf or even a small portion of a leaf, if thrown on the ground, strikes out roots within a short time and becomes the parent of a fast-growing plant.

Mischevous though the African prickly-pear may be, it is not without its good qualities. Its juicy fruit, though rather deficient in flavor, is delightfully cool and refreshing in the dry heat of summer, and a kind of treacle is made from it.

Great caution must be exercised in peeling this curious fruit, the proper way being to impale the fruit on a fork or stick while one cuts it open and removes the skin. The individual who undertakes to pluck this treacherous fruit with unguarded fingers meets with an experience he does not soon forget. Concentrated essence of stinging nettle seems all at once to assail hands, lips, and tongue; and the skin, wherever it comes in contact with the ill-natured fruit, is covered with a group of minute, bristly hairs, apparently growing from it, and venomous and irritating to the last degree.

In dry weather these spiteful little stings do not even wait for the newly arrived victim, but fly about, light as thistle-down, ready to settle on any one who has not learned by experience to give the prickly-pear bush a wide berth.

Shiloh's Cure quickly stops coughs, cures colds, heals the throat and lungs. 25 cents.

A RUNAWAY TEAM.

Dr. Carson had a fortunate escape from serious, or perhaps fatal, injury while driving into town on the Prince of Wales Road Tuesday night. About a mile north of the town a runaway team drawing a farm wagon and travelling at a gallop collided with his buggy, smashing it badly. The Dr. and his horse had the good fortune to escape uninjured, but it was a close call. Upon making enquiry it was found that the team, which was without a driver, belonged to a Mono farmer, who had imbibed too freely and in some manner had allowed his horses to escape.

MOVING TO TORONTO.

Mr. and Mrs. George Newman and family, who have been respected residents of Orangeville for seventeen years, are moving from here to Toronto next week. Mr. Newman was for many years an engineer on the C. P. R., but retired from the service several months ago. He was very highly thought of by the local employees and officials of the Company and the news of his retirement was received with more than ordinary regret. The departure of Mr. Newman and family will be a distinct loss to the town.

A TRYING MISFORTUNE.

Eddie Smith, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smith, The Maples, had the misfortune to trip and fall Saturday evening, breaking his left arm at the wrist. What makes the accident all the more regrettable is the fact that the unfortunate boy got his right arm so badly injured in a cream separator some years ago that the doctors found it necessary to amputate the member near the shoulder. Dr. Gibson set the fracture and the injured lad is doing as well as can be expected. Eddie will be remembered by many Orangeville people as a student at the Business College here about a year ago. He and his parents have the sympathy of their friends in their affliction.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS USED FROM BIRTH

Mrs. H. V. Ossigner, Tiverton, N. S., says: "We have used Baby's Own Tablets since our little boy was three months old and know of nothing to equal them. He is now twelve months old and has always enjoyed perfect health. Baby takes the Tablets easily and we always keep them in the house." Mrs. Ossinger's experience is that of thousands of other mothers. An occasional dose of the Tablets will keep the well child in excellent health, or if the baby is ill with any of the many ailments that afflict little ones, they will speedily restore him to health again and make him thrive and grow fat, rosy and strong. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE DAUGHTERS' NIGHT.

Mr. Morrow, proprietor of the Dufferin Theatre, generously donated Tuesday night's receipts to the local Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire. In addition to the regular programme illustrated songs were given by Messrs. E. A. Warren, S. R. Frost and Percy Harding. The theatre was crowded to the doors at both evening performances and as a result of Mr. Morrow's kindness the treasury of the D. O. E. has been enriched to the extent of $25.

Mr. Collins left for Erie yesterday morning and expects to move his family there as soon as he can secure a suitable home. Our genial townsman will be greatly missed by both young and old. He was a good citizen and was well thought of by all classes. The Banner is only giving expression to the sentiments of his many friends when it wishes him a generous measure of success in his new home and venture.

McCLELLAN vs. McCLELLAN.

The appeal case of McClellan vs. McClellan was argued in the Divisional Court at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Friday. The case, our readers will remember, was tried by the Chancellor, Sir John Boyd, at the Orangeville Assizes here last Spring. The action was brought by the executors of the estate of the late John McClellan, of Alton, against Joseph Albert McClellan, a brother of the deceased, to establish their claim to a sum of money paid into the Sterling Bank under rather unusual circumstances. On November 24th, 1910 a pass book belonging to John McClellan, accompanied by a cheque for $2,750 purporting to be signed by him, was presented for payment by the defendant at the Sterling Bank in Alton and was honored by the Bank. The proceeds were deposited by the defendant in his own name. The original depositor had died on November 21st, a fact known to the banker and defendant at the time the transaction just referred to took place. The executors brought action to recover this money as part of the estate and succeeded in obtaining judgment making good their claim. It is from this judgment that the defendant is now appealing. After hearing argument the Court reserved judgment. The lawyers interested are I. B. Lucas, K. C., and George Robb for the executors, and C. R. McKeown, K.C., for Albert McClellan.

QUEBEC MOVING FORWARD.

It looks as if the reproach under which Montreal has laid for many years is about to be removed. It is the only city on the North American continent of any size which does not boast a public library.

Although the city has five hundred thousand people the influence of the Roman Church has prevented the erection and equipment of this very necessary public institution. Whenever the matter has been discussed the Archbishop demanded the right to control the selection of books. Rather than consent to this the English-speaking people of the city abandoned their efforts to get a library.

Now, however, the City Council has given instructions for the drafting of a by-law for the establishment of a library containing English and French books. These will include works prohibited by the Church, but a Catholic subscriber will require a permit from the Archbishop in order to get one of the prohibited volumes.

This looks to us like the beginning of a wholesome movement in Montreal and in the Province of Quebec, for the enlightenment of the people. We may be sure that opportunities to study such as will be afforded by a public library will give a stimulus to the people of the province from which there must grow an increasing measure of personal independence concurrently with the intellectual development of the rising generation.—Orange Sentinel.

A Coal Stove That Keeps The Floor Warm

The Regal does this in two ways:

In the first place it creates continuous currents of warm air in the room. There is a special flue inside the stove, apart from the fire chamber and free from gas or smoke. This flue draws in the cold air from the floor, heats it, and passes it out at the top. See diagram.

In addition to this the Regal radiates extra heat near the floor. All the hot smoke and fumes from the fire pass down and through a flue under the ash-pit before they reach the pipes. This keeps the stove hot at the bottom and helps materially to warm the floor.

The

REGAL PENINSULAR

With its massive nickel parts, heavily plated and elegantly formed—with its large oven—with its perfect duplex grates and durable fire-box, the Regal Peninsular has a combination of beauty and heating comforts not usually found in a heater.

It is thoroughly Peninsular and that means that it is honestly made.

It has proven economical both in fuel consumed, and in its years of service.

If you are interested in heaters or ranges, get "THE COST." It is a booklet you should read before you buy. Ask for it.

A SUCCESSFUL BIG GAME HUNT

Good Sport With a Large Party.

(By R. Wycliffe Brett, of Primrose, in October "Rod and Gun.")

As a reader of Rod and Gun for the past few years I have much enjoyed the hunting stories appearing in its pages. Although I have hunted for eight seasons this is my first attempt at making a story, much as I have desired on various occasions to send a sketch of our hunt to the magazine.

Most hunters will agree, I believe, that making preparations for the trip is part of the fun. For a week prior to our departure for the north I carry a note book and jot down each of the items we may require as they come to mind. When the day of departure arrives too much reliance has not to be placed upon memory, but a goodly share of the completeness of our arrangement is due to the little diary. The retrospection and anticipation caused by these preparations make the week one of great pleasure to me.

It was on October twentieth, 1910, when our party met and made final arrangements for the season. The party numbered five, but we had been so successful, and our hunting outings so enjoyable, that quite a number made application to join our ranks. As a result the party included Messrs. W. C. Webb (captain), Marsh Webb, Zieman Rupert and Roy Rupert, of Edenvale, Wm. Adams, Robert Addison, Alex. Mitchell, Harold Kerfoot and John Wattie, of Minesing; Wilfred Mason, of Hagersville; W. G. Newton, Herb Ormsby and the writer, from Shelburne. To gather everything together for a party of fourteen is no light task, but where there are many willing hands the task is not so difficult of accomplishment, and thus it came about that on the twenty-seventh day of October we had every item checked over and all aboard a Canadian Pacific train rolling over the fine road bed for the Naiscootying district.

About half past four o'clock in the afternoon the obliging conductor allowed us to get off a couple of miles south of the station, and with our paraphernalia piled high alongside the tracks the train soon left us apparently in the heart of the woods. Here we speedily discovered the advantage of our captain's discretion and arrangements. We were going up the lakes but it was decided that it was too late to make a move from the railway line. Accordingly two or three helpers were selected and the large tent speedily erected. As the weather was none too promising the rest of the party conveyed the whole of our stuff to the shores of the lake—about three hundred yards away—and secured everything for the night. Before this work was accomplished the Captain and his gang, including old Bill Adams, had the tent erected, fire blazing up and supper ready. Hunters can estimate the large amount of provisions required for such a crowd in the woods. Our shakedowns were speedily made and the night passed peacefully enough in our temporary camp.

Breakfast was over and an advance party on the way to camp when day broke next morning, the members being instructed to cut down a tall dead pine that threatened to crush our tent many times during our previous encampment. Experienced readers will agree that a dead pine near a camp is no incentive to sleep, particularly when a wind storm is in progress. With a large skiff and three eighteen foot canoes we landed all our stuff at the camp by noon. We always use canvas tents and had a 14 by 20, with a 66 foot wall for a sleeping camp, a 16 by 16 by 6 for a dinmg camp, and a 10 by 4 store camp. In the latter we store not only all our supplies but also an extra supply of wood in case we experience a snowy morning. By night we had the tents up and our things fairly well arranged.

The next day or two completed our arrangements, and by October 31st, everything was in order. One member of the party, Mr. Robert Addison, left the train at Parry Sound on the twenty-seventh, and went east to Kearney where he secured dogs from hunters who knew that we could not bring ours in on account of the muzzling order and generously allowed us the use of their own. Mr. Addison, accompanied by the dogs, arrived in the camp on the evening of the thirty-first, and the dogs made our outfit complete.

The dawn of November first found each hunter on his runway, and as the writer is particularly fond of punching dogs he and Addison took charge of them on that morning. A few hundred yards from camp a large buck was started. The deer ran down the shore of a small lake north of the camp, making straight for Marsh Webb. When one hundred yards away he turned on our trail towards camp and ran down the path we had all walked about twenty minutes before. Roy Rupert, a beginner, sent a number of shots after him, but the buck was unharmed and went on to where Roy's father was stationed. One shot from his 38.55 did the trick and buck number one was credited to the camp. When dressed he weighed two hundred and ten pounds. We all agreed that he made a good beginning.

On the second run the buck went past our fat friend Alex. Mitchell and was just quartering from him when a shot from the hunter's 30-30 struck the deer behind the ear and it was all over with number two. When both were dressed and hung up we decided that the second was a little larger than Rupert's. To decide the matter they were weighed and the second went two hundred and sixteen pounds. Good for one day!

All obeyed the Captain's signal and proceeded to camp where we enjoyed a good supper prepared by Harold, our cook. As we had new members in camp we had a profusion of new yarns around our campfire that night. Before we retired we all took a pledge suggested by our captain to the effect that none of us, unless inadvertently, would shoot a fawn that season.

Next morning a pair of fawns were started and they made for Jack and Herb. Had they been large ones, Jack's gun would have spoken out, but after the pledge they had taken both refrained from shooting. Perhaps the sacrifice was not so great as they made out for admittedly the fawns went by like a streak Jack remarking that it took both of them in order to see them at all—one to see them come and one to see them go.

This was the only run of the morning, and in the afternoon we changed our form of attack. The writer took the dogs and in a few minutes had routed out a nice spike buck. He made direct for Herb. Ormsby, one of our beginners, and I awaited developments. This is a fine part of the game. One can tell from the music of the dogs just what is taking place and can easily figure out who is doing the shooting. In this case the deer went so close to Herb. that he was compelled to look it over and, convinced that the animal was not a dog, thought of his gun. He fired three times at close range and his buck weighed one hundred and forty-five. Several of the hunters were engaged in taking Herb to camp and the rest managed the deer. His excitement cooled down during the evening and by the next day he had quite recovered.

The break of day found us all on runs on the third morning, when I started the dogs in two pairs. The first deer made straight for Addison, who thus secured a doe weighing one hundred and fifty pounds, and the second to Zieman Rupert who had two nice shots and bowled over his second deer, a nice doe weighing about one hundred and thirty pounds. At lunch time we decided to rest the dogs, and while some returned to camp the rest went still hunting. Two deer were shot and wounded, but both got away. That night we had a long discussion on the respective merits of dogs versus still hunting and came to the conclusion that in our case it was best to have the dogs.

On the fourth day we noticed far more signs of deer and came to the conclusion that the hunters in the camps around us, having no dogs and being obliged to do much tramping through the woods, were driving the deer into our grounds. We had several good but short runs to the water, which we were not watching, and drew a blank for the day.

On Saturday a spike buck went so closely past Herb Ormsby that it dashed the mud in the hunter's face. The latter decided to shoot in revenge and knocked the buck over. For a new man this was going some. A few minutes later Jack Wattie obtained his first of the season—a dandy doe—making three hits out of five shots.

We decided that we had made satisfactory progress and devoted the rest of the day to getting the deer to camp, bringing up fresh supplies of wood and making things more snug. With seven deer and eight more hunting days our spirits were high and we had a fine time at our campfire that night.

Sunday afforded a much needed rest for all of us and having a violin in camp and four players we were never at a loss for music. Two or three of the members including Jack Wattie, would make first-class singers for evangelistic work.

The week was started well on Monday. All were on the runways before it was light enough to see. For a change the writer took charge of a runway and Addison started the dogs. They made straight for W. G. Newton, who was lost and trying to devise a scheme whereby he might find himself. Of course his compass was wrong as usual. While thus engaged Newton heard the dogs making in his direction and saw that they had two deer in front of them. He made ready and with two shots killed two deer in as many seconds. The buck weighed one hundred and fifty lbs. and the doe one hundred and forty-five. This was good luck indeed, and as readers may imagine Newton was found and put on the right road to camp.

On a second run Roy Rupert, one of the boys, was the lucky one, obtaining a nice two-year-old buck with two shots from his 38-55. With ten deer hanging up we decided to hunt partridge for the remainder of the day. A dozen brace were obtained and partridge figured on the bill of fare next day.

As signs were plentiful and we had no trouble in getting runs we decided to take things easy. Knowing the ground too, as we did by this, we felt pretty sure of getting a deer every run if we really tried. By this time some of us began to think we were really out of it, for as three had killed two each that meant that three of us must go home skunked so far as killing was concerned.

We had a good run on Tuesday morning but failed to get the deer as it took a course to the north-east and was safe so far as we were concerned. The other dogs brought in a nice doe and Harold, the cook, let loose at him but the deer went unscathed. On the second run Robert Addison shot another large doe, and this being the fourth pair, meant that four of us would have to be blanked.

To the great joy of everyone in camp our captain had his turn next day. The Captain, a veteran of forty seasons in succession, took advantage of the first chance he had and with two shots disposed of a fine large doe, leaving only three more for us to shoot. The captain, who up to this time had been strong against our shooting partridges on the ground that such shots disturbed the deer, now permitted some relaxation and we put in the balance of the day hunting partridges and visiting some points of interest. That night some of the boys thought they would be able to leave on Friday and made arrangements accordingly.

On Thursday, however, a snowstorm prevailed and none of us left the camp. The snow fall was six inches on the level.

Friday was fair but very dirty in the bush, and the deer kept close to cover, giving us no opportunity till towards evening. While the writer and some of the boys were going in to bring out a deer killed a few days previously the dogs started a doe. She made for the water and Eldon Adams shot her in the lake, bringing up our total to the number of thirteen. Six of the boys who had arranged to leave, went out and took the midnight train for home. Their departure caused a temporary gloom amongst us but we had a cheerful evening though we turned in early.

On Saturday we had a couple of runs but as some of the best runways were minus their guardians the deer went through. While the writer was talking to Wilf. Mason, one of the dogs started a deer a few hundred yards away. I made a quick stunt for my run and was just far enough to miss the fun. The deer came to Wilf., who made a pretty running shot with his .303 British, hitting it in the head with fatal effect.

This concluded our hunt, our complement being complete—fourteen large deer, six bucks and eight does. We had not as good luck in getting bucks as we expected. Towards the end of the hunt the bush was very quiet and the cunning old bucks remained in hiding. Had they been stirred up, our chance of getting them going would have been better.

In the particular district we visited hunters, as a rule, had very poor success. The country is not particularly adapted for still hunting and dogs were as scarce in many camps as hens' teeth. We believed the hunting to have been far more dangerous than in other years. Men were tramping through the woods in all directions and the most experienced hunter was liable to make a mistake with fatal results.

It turned so cold on Sunday morning that we decided to pull out for fear of being frozen in. Accordingly by five o'clock our game, dunnage and ourselves were all at the track. Mr. James Doner, of Stayner, who has a motor boat, gave us a tow, and as we were short of men this was of great assistance to us.

Early in the morning the train came and we found ourselves once more amid civilized surroundings. One and all agreed it was the best hunt of our lives, leaving us with a host of recollections for future enjoyment. We are further in harmony in looking forward to the next hunting season, when we have determined, if at all possible, to re-visit the old camp ground, the scene of so much pleasant and hearty enjoyment.

Causes indigestion, constipation and bilious headache—Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the cure.

"Sluggish liver has been my trouble," writes Mrs. I. P. Smith, Paris, Ont., "and I have been greatly benefitted by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I have taken medicines from several good doctors, but none ever did me the same amount of good as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I could not keep up and do my work if I did not use these pills when the bilious spells come on, and I have recommended them to many."

"Dr. Chase's medicines were about the only kind that came into my father's house 40 or 50 years ago, and they were always satisfactory."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are prompt, definite and direct in their action on the liver, kidneys and bowels, and are therefore the most effective treatment obtainable for biliousness, indigestion and constipation. 25 cents a box, 5 for $1.00, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THAT AWFUL BACKACHE

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Morton's Gap, Kentucky.—"I suffered two years with female disorders, my health was very bad and I had a continual backache which was simply awful. I could not stand on my feet long enough to cook a meal's victuals without my back nearly killing me and I would have such dragging sensations I could hardly bear it. I had soreness in each side, could not stand tight clothing, and was irregular. I was completely run down. On advice I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills and am enjoying good health. It is now more than two years and I have not had an ache or pain since. I do all my own work, washing and everything, and never have the backache any more. I think your medicine is grand and I praise it to all my neighbors. If you think my testimony will help others you may publish it."—Mrs. OTTIE WOODALL, Morton's Gap, Kentucky.

Backache is a symptom of organic weakness or derangement. If you have backache don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Your letter will be absolutely confidential, and the advice free.

Alfred Parker, aged 61, of London, was badly injured by the cave-in of a trench.

The Goderich Star reports that out of 150 barrels of apples picked on the farm of Mr. A. W. Sloane, near Porter's Hill, Goderich Twp., 148 were firsts and 2 barrels were seconds. This is certainly a good showing, and an object lesson on the results that can be obtained by the proper caring for the orchard.

A cannon ball or shell 4½ inches in diameter, was picked up under water near shore, on the rocks at Sugar Loaf Point by C. D. Winn recently. It is undoubtedly the missile of an ancient engine of warfare, probably finding its place in the bottom of Lake Erie in the war of 1812. The ball is on exhibition in J. H. Stanley's window at Port Colborne.

HAD BAD SORE 4 YEARS

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT!

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and became very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterized, tried poultices and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply.

"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed!

"I know a lady in the east of this city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely.

"My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or for price. In case of skin disease send also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, NOV. 2, 1911.

WHY IS THIS ?

For some reason the Editor of our esteemed cotem, the Free Press, does not appear to take any too kindly to the candidature of Rev. J. R. Bell. His comment on Mr. Bell's decision to stand the Convention is as follows :—

"It is strange that so many candidates come before the convention, and all of them state "that it is in response to the requests from numerous Conservative electors in various parts of the riding." We have heard this story so often we would like some of the candidates to produce the goods and show up the requisition, signed by so many influential Conservatives that they were induced to allow themselves to become a candidate. We have known candidates to make this statement from the platform who had to hustle around and ask someone to nominate them, or they never would have been heard of in that connection. Our idea that the office should seek the man and not the man the office is getting a set back every year. We have no expectation of living to see the day when the delegates assembled at a convention will pick out the best man possible and ask him to accept the nomination. They will never get a chance to do so. We make this admission with regret."

To our way of thinking the candidature of a man of Mr. Bell's standing and qualifications is not deserving of this treatment. After twenty years of unswerving allegiance to the Conservative party in Dufferin, Mr. Bell has surely the right to aspire to political honors if he is so inclined. The Free Press has a perfect right to express its preference for Mr. McKeown, but it surely does not intend to criticise and carp at other Conservatives who think they have the right to allow their names to go before the Convention.

The Banner is in thorough accord with the Free Press on the subject of the office seeking the man. This would be the ideal method of selecting political candidates but the idea is too Utopian for this selfish and matter-of-fact age. We think it was the late J. Israel Tarte who is credited with the sage observation that elections are not won by prayers. The remark is not altogether inapplicable to party conventions. At the same time we confess that we would like to see Brer. Mortimer's plan of picking a candidate get a trout in Dufferin. How would it be if Mr. McKeown, Rev. Mr. Bell, Warden Greer and any other aspirants there may be would agree to allow "the office to seek the man" for this once and not to do any canvassing the Convention delegates either directly or indirectly. In view of the declaration of opinion we have just quoted, we believe we are justified in expecting that the Free Press will give this suggestion its cordial and hearty endorsation.

THE COMING CONVENTIONS.

In view of the Provincial elections so close at hand the two conventions to be held in November are naturally being looked forward to with considerable interest. The Temperance Association Convention will be held in the town hall on Friday, November 3rd, and the Liberal-Conservative Association Convention on Wednesday, Nov. 8th.

The Temperance Association Convention, called by President Robert Reid, of Camilla, and Secretary R. G. Sanderson, of Grand Valley, is "for the purpose of electing officers, discussing the question of law enforcement, considering the political situation and transacting general business."

The Liberal-Conservative Association Convention, called by Secretary Dr. E. C. Campbell, of Shelburne, is "to select a candidate to represent the county at the approaching general election of the Provincial Legislature."

Interest in the Conservative Convention is added to by the statement that there will be at least two stalwarts who will allow their names to go before the delegates, the two being the present member, Mr. C. R. McKeown, of Orangeville, and Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel.

The Temperance Association Convention, however, is the one that is being looked forward to with the greatest interest, because it is the one that popular opinion looks to to really decide whether there will be a contest in Dufferin or not—although, of course, there might be a contest brought on entirely independent of the Temperance Convention.

There is considerable speculation as to whether Mr. R. J. Woods, of Corbetton, will or will not be a candidate. Nothing definite has been heard as to Mr. Woods' intentions, but in view of the good runs he has made in past elections it could hardly be justly termed "the unexpected" if he were to take the field again. — Shelburne Economist.

"Home Again," is the title of one of the most beautiful pictures ever seen in this country. It is an inspiration of love and affection — a picture that will be like a member of the family. This delightful picture, size 22 x 29 inches, all ready for framing, is given absolutely free to all who subscribe to the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, this season. The year's subscription, including the picture, is only one dollar. The picture alone could not be bought for the money and every one knows what a magnificent paper the Family Herald and Weekly Star is. All Canada is proud of that great weekly. The publishers deserve the immense circulation the paper enjoys.

To the Electors of Dufferin.

Fellow Citizens,—During the last two years I have been frequently asked by many friends in different parts of the County to allow my name to be brought before the Liberal-Conservative Convention as a candidate for the local Legislature. If I were to consult my own feelings I would refuse. I am happy in my present relations, and am engaged in a work which I love. But I believe the time has come, when, as a citizen, it is my duty to listen to the voice of those who have the best interests of our County at heart, and who desire to make an effort to improve present conditions.

You know my record during the past twenty years. I have used my influence in public and private for what I believe to be for the best interests of the people, materially, morally, intellectually and spiritually. I have given of my time freely for the public good.

I need not tell you that I am a temperance advocate, and would do all in my power to advance the interests of this great movement, and use my best endeavours to have the law enforced.

In the interests of education I introduced the present system of scholarships in connection with the Orangeville High School, which I believe has inspired healthy rivalry among teachers and pupils in every municipality in the County.

In connection with the introduction of the Department of Agriculture I first brought it before the Trustee Association of our County and followed it up before the Orangeville High School Board, the County Council and the Minister of Education, until the matter was brought to a successful issue.

I believe that all public officials who are doing their duty faithfully, and have the confidence of the public should be retained in office irrespective of their political leanings. I would, if elected, use my influence to have removed from office any officials who have lost the confidence of the people. It is of common repute that Dufferin has a sad history in this respect, and is not improving, and will not until certain changes are made. IT RESTS WITH YOU TO HAVE THIS DONE. SILENCE HAS REIGNED FOR FOUR YEARS.

During the term of the late Dr. Lewis he had the Hon. Adam Beck come up and bring before the people some of the advantages of the Hydro-Electric power. Since his death we have never heard of it, except through the press. Other parts of the province are having it introduced, and at least one farmer has it installed in his house and barns. We should at least know something about it in Dufferin, and, if we believe it would help our towns and our farmers in the days to come, let us prepare for it. HERE AGAIN SILENCE HAS REIGNED FOR FOUR YEARS.

Another matter that is especially in the interests of the farmer is the municipal telephone. One township to the south of us has built this system with profit and advantage to all. The "Bell" costs too much for the service given in rural districts. Local companies in time become careless and the lines get out of repair. Why not let us have a municipal service in every Township in Dufferin ? You can have a first-class service for about half the amount some of you are paying now, and have it in all your homes.

I am in favor of such amendments to the present law as will make it possible to give healthy remunerative work to criminals doing time in our County Gaols. The Government has already taken action along this line at Guelph. Extend that system to our counties.

Some may be surprised that I, a minister, should allow my name to come before a political Convention. Had certain crying evils in our County been redressed you would not have received this letter. I am not the first minister to enter this field. Not long ago we had one from the Pacific Coast. The present member of the Dominion House from Moose Jaw is a Presbyterian Minister, and the other day Rev. Joseph Elliott was nominated in one of the Hurons. Next to the ministry clean politics is one of the noblest callings.

Turn out in your strength on November 6th to your local caucus, or Convention, and appoint men to attend the Convention in Shelburne on the 8th, who will represent, not the party machine or any individual candidate, but the people—men who want to see a higher standard adopted by the Conservative party, men who want to see dinner parties discarded, men who have the interests, not only of their party, but of their country at heart. If such men as these come to our Conventions our country's future is safe.

Sincerely Yours,

J. R. BELL.

THE BARBER CARRIAGE CO.

Directors Report Shows a Successful Business Year.

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Barber Carriage Company, Limited, was held at the Company's offices in Alton, on Monday, October 30th, when the Auditors' Statement and the Directors' Report for the past year were submitted. The Auditors' Statement showed that the first year of the Company's business had been a splendid success and spoke well for the careful and energetic management of those in charge of the concern. The Company has already in view plans for largely increasing last year's business. Alton is to be congratulated upon being the home of such an important and progressive enterprise.

HIGH-CLASS ENTERTAINMENT.

In the realm of caricature, mimicry and high-class entertainment none surpass and few, if any, equal J. W. Bengough, the "funny man with the funny program." Hear this Prince of Entertainers at the Town Hall on Tuesday, the 14th of November, and incidentally help along the Cadet Corps of which Orangeville is so justly proud. General admission, 25c; reserved seats, 35c. The plan of reserved seats will open at The Banner Office, on Thursday, Nov. 9th, at one o'clock p.m.

KICKED BY A COLT.

Vernon Bradley, the two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bradley, The Maples, had his skull fractured on Saturday morning by being kicked by a colt. The little fellow was playing about the house, and got through the fence into a lane where the colts were. The hoof struck him over the right eye, fracturing the skull a distance of about three inches and depressing a portion of the bone. Drs. Carson, of Orangeville, and Gibson, of Hillsburg, were summoned, and Dr. Groves, of Fergus, was afterwards called. The physicians had to perform a difficult operation to raise the depressed bone, but were entirely successful. Although it was at first feared that he had been fatally injured, the little lad is getting along splendidly and is already able to run about again.

A MOTHER'S PRAISE OF BABY'S OWN TABLETS

Mrs. B. S. Baker, East Margaretville, N. S., writes: "No mother would recommend for her baby any medicine of which she was not absolutely sure. A baby's life is too precious. A mother is always pleased to recommend to other mothers something that has been valuable in restoring the health of her own child. That is why I can highly recommend Baby's Own Tablets. They cured my baby who was suffering from constipation and I feel that I cannot praise them enough. I would advise all mothers with sickly babies to give them a trial, well knowing what the result will be." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SUCCESSFUL MASQUERADE.

The young ladies of Caledon held their third annual masquerade At Home in the Town Hall at Charleston, on Friday night. The function was a huge success in every way. There was a large number of guests present and the gay costumes of the dancers, combined with the prettily decorated hall, helped to make a very pleasing scene. The hall was attractively adorned with bunting, flags and evergreens. Music was provided by the popular Glionna orchestra. The members of the Committee, to whom instinted credit is due for their happy and skilful management of the At Home, were Misses Mae Glassford, Nora Shipsides, Mabel Sanderson, E. M. Norris, Winnie Vogan (treasurer) and Carrie Stubbs (secretary.) The patronesses were Mesdames Atkinson, McGillivray, Sweeney, Dodds, Stubbs, Sutton and Vogan.

DID NOT HAVE TO CALL THE DOCTOR.

Because She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills First.

One box of them cured Mrs. Mary A. Cooke's Rheumatism from which she had suffered for fourteen years.

Mannheim, Ont., Oct. 30. (Special) —How quickly and easily Rheumatism can be cured when you use the right means is shown in the case of Mrs. Mary A. Cook, well known and highly respected here. In an interview regarding her cure, of which all the village knows, Mrs. Cook says:

"I had Rheumatism so bad that sometimes I would sit up nearly all night.

"I first thought I would try the doctors, but luckily I decided to first try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"They cured me, and I didn't have to try the doctors. And just to think that after fourteen years of suffering one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills should cure! I will recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone who suffers from Rheumatism."

Yes, it is easy to cure Rheumatism when you go the right way about it. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. If the Kidneys are working right they will strain all the uric acid out of the blood and there can be no Rheumatism. Dodd's Kidney Pills always make the Kidneys work right.

CRONK—FRASER.

The wedding of Mary, daughter of the late Dr. H. D. Fraser, Orangeville, to Mr. Herbert Cronk, of Cranbrook, B.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Cronk, Deseronto, took place at 22 Borden St., Toronto, very quietly on the evening of October 25th. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her brother, Mr. C. M. Fraser, and wore a travelling dress of navy blue serge with black velvet hat with white plumes. Rev. James Murray officiated, and Miss Service played the wedding march. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Cronk left for eastern points before going to their future home in the West.

IDLE—ALGIE.

The residence of Dr. James Algie in Dewson street was the scene of a pretty wedding yesterday afternoon at half-past two o'clock, when Miss Ethel, second daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Algie, was united in marriage to Mr. Vernon Idle, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lawrence Skey, rector of St. Anne's Church. The bride, who was unattended, wore her travelling suit of nattier blue cloth with hat to match, and carried a beautiful bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Idle left on the afternoon train for a trip to Chicago, Minneapolis, and other points West.—Thursday's Daily Star.

FRENCH—JONES.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jones, 95 Northcote Avenue, Toronto, on Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Aggie Jones was united in marriage to Mr. George French, of Orangeville. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Morrow. The bridesmaid was Miss Mildred Collins, of Toronto, and the groom was supported by Herman Jones, brother of the bride. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful sunburst of pearls and to the bridesmaid a gold bracelet. The bride received many handsome presents. In the spring Mr. and Mrs. French will take up their residence on the McKinnon farm, near the cement works, at present occupied by John Lawrence. Their many friends wish them much happiness.

YOUNG—HEWITT.

The Arthur Enterprise has the following report of the marriage of Mr. Samuel Young, a brother of Mr. David Young, of Orangeville. A very quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, September 27th, at the home of the bride's father, Frederick street, Arthur, when Martha, daughter of Robert Hewitt, became the bride of Samuel Young, also of Arthur. The ceremony, which was performed by Rev. C. W. Cosens, took place beneath an arch of asters and maple leaves erected in the drawing room. The bride was given away by her father and looked charming in a gown of white silk eolienne, carrying a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Master George Dellinger, nephew of the bride, acted as ring bearer. After the ceremony, the small party of invited guests sat down to a sumptuous wedding repast. Mr. and Mrs. Young left on the 5 p.m. train on a short honeymoon trip. The bride travelled in a black tailored suit with black hat and willow plumes to match. The bride, who is very popular in Arthur, was the recipient of many costly and beautiful presents. Among the number was a silver pie service from the Methodist choir and a silver fruit basket lined with gold from her class in the Methodist Sunday School. Mr. and Mrs. Young have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy wedded life. On Tuesday, October 10th, Mrs. Young held her bride's reception, afternoon and evening. In the afternoon she was assisted by Mrs. Goodfellow, Mrs. F. S. Mitchell and Mrs. D. Brocklebank served in the tea room which was prettily decorated with autumn ivy and white and pink asters and lighted with candles. They were assisted by Misses Pearl Allen, E. Anderson and L. Howson. In the evening, Mrs. Young was assisted by Mrs. E. W. Brocklebank while Mrs. D. Brocklebank and Mrs. McFadzean served in the tea room, assisted by Misses Cosens, Nixon, E. Anderson and L. Howson. Miss Cora Smith answered the door at both receptions.

THANKSGIVING SUPPER.

A large crowd attended the Supper and Entertainment given in the Methodist Church on Thanksgiving night by the Ladies' Aid Society. The ladies provided a bountiful supper, also having excellent service at the tables. Rev. Dr. Harper presided during the after programme, which was given in the auditorium. Rev. W. M. Morris opened with prayer and Rev. B. Davies officiated in a similar capacity at the close. The programme, which possessed more than ordinary merit, consisted of duets by the Porter Bros., and the Misses Hogg, selections by the choir, recitations by Miss Rountree, of Weston, a cornet solo by Mr. Russell Morrow, a violin solo by Miss Clara Hulse, a duet by Miss Sprae Lathwell and Mr. E. A. Warren, and a solo by Mr. Warren. The evening's proceeds were about $140.

DID NOT HAVE TO CALL THE DOCTOR.

Because She Tried Dodd's Kidney Pills First.

One less of them—Mrs. Mary A. Cosens' Rheumatism from which she had suffered for fourteen years.

Manheim, Ont., Oct. 30. (Special)—How quickly and easily Rheumatism may be cured when one uses the right means is shown in the case of Mrs. Mary A. Cosens, well known and highly respected in this district. In an interview recently given to the people of this village she says:

"I had Rheumatism so bad that it would sit up nearly all night.

"I was advised to try the doctors but decided to first try Dodd's Kidney Pills.

"They cured me and I didn't have to see the doctors. And just to think that after fourteen years of suffering one box of Dodd's Kidney Pills should cure! I will recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to anyone who suffers from Rheumatism.

"Yes, it is true that I had Rheumatism when you saw me. It was about it. Rheumatism is caused by uric acid in the blood. If the kidneys are working properly they will strain all the uric acid out of the blood and there can be no Rheumatism. Dodd's Kidney Pills always make the Kidneys work right."

—The Liberals of the County of Peel will hold a Convention in Brampton on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4th, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for the Legislature.

MARSVILLE.

On Saturday morning there passed to the Great Beyond a much respected resident of this community in the person of Mrs. John Redman. She had been very poorly for a long time and her death was not unexpected. She was 67 years of age. Besides a sorrowing husband she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Jas. McGowan, and four sons, William, in the West, Francis, of Eramosa, Orton and John H., of con. 1, East Garafraxa. The funeral took place on Monday to Price's burying ground, and the service was conducted by Rev. G. C. Cole (Methodist) and Rev. R. S. Scott (Presbyterian).

Considerable work is being done on the County Road south of here. Mr. John Warnock is the commissioner, and performs his duties to a T. We'll expect a good job, Jack.

There is some dissatisfaction among 'phone users south of lot 14, on account of those above this number getting free connection with the Bell in Orangeville. All parties pay the same rent, and it certainly is a grievance to some to have to pay an extra toll for this privilege, while those paying the same rent get free connection. Orangeville is the business centre for a great many people living below lot 14, and they ought to be treated with the same consideration as those who live near the town. The Railway Board may be asked to adjust matters.

Mr. Robert Chambers' new house is nearing completion. Bob has a house now which is a credit to the town, and also one of which he feels justly proud.

The potato harvest is a thing of the past for another year. This has been the most profitable crop our farmers had this year, the yield in some cases being upward of two hundred bags per acre, and the price is now nearing the dollar mark, which leaves little to be complained of, so far as potatoes are concerned anyway.

Morris, of Orangeville, delivered an entertaining lecture on the subject, "Habits." CURED OF CONSTIPATON

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. Tab allment never comes single-handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box. 2

MRS. J. D. SAWYERS DEAD.

The residents of Shelburne were shocked on Saturday evening, when a message was received that Mrs. W. J. Sawyers had died suddenly at her residence, 24 Brunswick Ave., Toronto. She was found unconscious by her son, Walter Sawyers, in the afternoon, and she died a few hours later. The cause of death is said to be heart trouble. Deceased was 45 years of age. A sad thing in connection with her death was that Mr. Sawyers was not at home. He had recently been appointed manager of The Roberts & Van Lane Shoe Company's business in Paris, Ont., and was there at the time. The deceased was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Tuck, of Shelburne, and spent the greater part of her life here. She was well known by every resident of Shelburne and vicinity, and was highly respected by all. Her remains were brought to Shelburne by the morning train on Tuesday and conveyed to her parent's home on Andrew street. Services were held in the Methodist church at 2.30 o'clock and an impressive sermon was preached by the pastor, the Rev. W. A. Potter, B.D. The remains were then taken to the Shelburne cemetery for interment. The deceased is survived by her husband and two sons, Walter Sawyers, who is attending college in Toronto, and Earl Sawyers, who is a clerk in the Bank of Toronto, at Porcupine. She is also survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tuck, of Shelburne, and two brothers, Walter Tuck, of Bradley & Tuck, merchants of Calgary, Alta., and Jasper Tuck, of Toronto. The bereaved friends have the sympathy of all in their sad affliction.—Shelburne Free Press.

A young farmer named Provenske, was accidentally shot and killed while hunting rabbits with a companion in Elderslie, a few miles from Paisley. He got on a stump to get a view of the rabbits, when the stump gave way. In falling the gun exploded when pointed towards himself. The charge entered the abdomen.

Suggestive Questions

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

NOV. 5th, 1911.

Esther Pleading for Her People. Esther ix:i-v:3.

Golden Text—The Lord preserveth all them that love him. Ps. cxlv : 20

(1) Verses 1-3—In what city did the events of this lesson occur?

(2) What were the circumstances which caused Mordecai to rend his clothes and put on sackcloth?

(3) Why would it ever or never be right, no matter how awful the calamity, for a man of God in these days to experience or show such great grief as Mordecai and the Jews did?

(4) What are the benefits of prayer and fasting in the presence of an impending calamity?

(5) How did the actions of Mordecai suggest that we should never give up trying to the utmost, to prevent any impending calamity?

(6) Verses 4-9—Who was Esther, and how came she to be the wife of this Persian King?

(7) Is grief as necessary as joy in the life of every person? Why or why not?

(8) Is it always right for us "to weep with them that weep"?

(9) What in substance was the decree which had been issued against the Jews?

(10) From the actions of Haman, what would you say is the strongest passion which makes men cruel and vindictive?

(11) Verses 10-12 — What were Esther's reasons for not wanting to go in unto the king, with the request to save her people?

(12) What were probably the reasons for attaching the death penalty to all who should enter the king's inner court unbidden by him?

(13) What if any reason is there to suppose that, as Esther had not been called by the king for thirty days Haman had been working some scheme to keep them apart?

(14) Verses 13-14 — Why was it probable if there had been no interference with Haman's plans, that Esther would have been slain with the rest of the Jews?

(15) In carrying out his purpose has God generally more than one plan with which to do it? If so, give an example.

(16) Was it true that Esther had been, in the providence of God, placed upon the throne for this crisis, and is it also true that God has a special purpose in life for every person? Give your reasons.

(17) Verses 15-17—In what respects did Esther show the spirit of a heroine, a martyr and a wise woman?

(18) Are such noble qualities as Esther possessed possible for everybody? Give your reasons.

(19) What is the benefit of getting others to join us in fasting and prayer, when we anticipate a great calamity? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(20) Chap. v:1-3—What is the difference between a coward and a brave man?

(21) Does God ever disappoint a courageous man?

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 12th, 1911. World's Temperance Sunday. Belshazzar's Feast and Fate. Dan. v.

The First In the World.

The combining of the reconstructive with the tonic treatment in the cure of diseases was first embodied in that wonderful medicine, Merrill's System Tonic. The blood is purified, new blood is made. The nerves, muscles and tissues of the heart, stomach, liver and kidneys are toned and strengthened and nature is then enabled to throw off the disease which has been ravishing the body. The thousands of cases of constipation, catarrh, chronic rheumatism and general weakness already cured proves System Tonic a wonderful medicine. All Druggists, 50c. or postpaid from The Merrill Medicine Co., Merrill Building, Toronto.

Sold and recommended by Thos. Stevenson, Druggist.

CONVICTION QUASHED.

A. E. Truman, proprietor of the Raymond house, Burlington, was successful in his appeal against a judgment whereby he was convicted of a breach of the liquor act, the appeal judgment being made known last Friday by Judge Gorham, of Halton county. About the first of September a porter in the employ of Mr. Truman sold a flask of whiskey to an Indian and the authorities in Burlington charged Mr. Truman with a breach of the act. He was convicted and fined and immediately entered an appeal through his solicitor, James Haverson, of Toronto. The argument on the appeal was heard on Sept. 11, and by its judgment the proprietor was exonerated from any infraction which might have been made by the employee.

THE VALUE OF SMALL SAVINGS.

If a young man 15 years of age were determined to save three car fares a week, and to pay the 15 cents thus saved every week until he was 60 to the Canadian Government for the purchase of an Annuity, the result of his thrift would be that from and after 60 he would receive $25.18 every 3 months so long as he lived. If he died before he was 60 all that he had paid in with three per cent. compound interest would be refunded to his heirs, and if he died just before his first instalment of Annuity fell due his heirs would inherit $771.70. A postcard sent to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, giving your age last birthday, will secure you information as to what an Annuity will cost.

TRIED EVERYTHING WITHOUT RELIEF

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910.

"I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation, Indigestion and Catarrh of the Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever.

Finally, I read an advertisement of 'Fruit-a-tives'. I decided to give 'Fruit-a-tives' a trial and found they did exactly what was claimed for them.

I have now taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good.

I have recommended 'Fruit-a-tives' to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit tablets too highly"

PAUL J. JONES

"Fruit-a-tives" is the only natural cure for Constipation and Stomach Trouble, because it is the only medicine in the world that is made of fruit juices and valuable tonics. Hundreds of people have been cured, as if by a miracle, by taking "Fruit-a-tives", the famous fruit medicine.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

A STORY HARD TO BEAT.

A remarkable story of endurance comes from the vicinity of Kemble. On 14th August, five weeks ago, Mr. Gardner, missed a yearling steer from his heard. After several days had been spent in unsuccessful search it was given up as lost, though all hope of its recovery was abandoned, as it was thought possible the animal might have joined the cattle that were grazing along the shore. However nothing was seen or heard of the lost steer until Monday, when Mr. Gardiner, visiting the back of his farm, heard the lowing of a beast apparently coming from underground, and hurrying to the spot whence the sound came found the long lost steer imprisoned in a crevice of a rock about two feet wide and ten feet deep. There it had for at least thirty-two days without food or water. With the help of Mr. D. Davidson, his son, and Mr. Fergussan, Mr. Gardner soon released the animal from its prison, and though it was much emaciated, it was able, after it had been given some food and water, to walk to the barn, a distance of about half a mile. The animal seems to be none the worse of its trying experience, and is doing well.—Advocate.

A POSER FOR THE CHAPLAIN.

A Scottish prison chaplain, recently appointed, entered one of the cells on his first round of inspection, and with much pomposity addressed the prisoner who occupied it:

"Well, my man, do you know who I am?"

"No, nor I dinna care," was the nonchalant reply.

"Well, I'm your new chaplain."

"Oh, ye are?" Then I has heard o' ye before."

"And what did you hear?" returned the chaplain, his curiosity getting the better of his dignity.

"Well, I heard that the last two kirks ye were in ye preached them baith empty; but I can say ye willna find it quite sa easy to do the same wi' this one."

While Ed. Graham was driving a load of baled hay into the entrance of the Arlington Hotel stables in Barrie, he misjudged the height of the floor and was hit on the back of the neck and crushed between the top of the load and the top of the casing. He was caught in such a way that the team had to be backed out to release him. Several of his ribs were broken and it is feared one of his lungs was injured.

Psoriasis All Over Body

Most dreaded of skin diseases was cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Psoriasis is a sort of chronic eczema. The itching it causes is almost beyond human endurance, and it is usually considered incurable. But this case proves that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a cure, in spite of the doctor's prediction.

Mrs. Nettie Massey, Consecan, Ont., writes,—"For five years I suffered with what three doctors called psoriasis. They could not help me and one of them told me if any one offered to guarantee a cure for $50.00 to keep my money as I could not be cured. The disease spread all over me, even on my face and head, and the itching and burning was hard to bear. I used eight boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I am glad to say I am entirely cured, not a sign of a sore to be seen. I can hardly praise this ointment enough."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 60 cts. a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

BLOOD DISEASES CURED

Drs. K. & K. Established 20 Years

BEFORE TREATMENT

AFTER TREATMENT

He was surprised at how the sores healed—"I took your New Method Treatment for a serious blood disease with which I had been inflicted for twelve years. I had consulted a score of physicians taken all kinds of blood medicine, visited Hot Springs and other mineral water resorts, but only got temporary relief. They would help me for a time, but after discontinuing the medicines the symptoms would break out again—running sores, blotches, rheumatic pains, looseness of the hair, swellings of the glands, palms of the hands scaling, itchiness of the skin, dyspeptic stomach, etc. I had given up in despair when a friend advised me to consult you, as you had cured him of a similar disease 8 years ago. I had no hope, but took his advice. In three weeks' time the sores commenced to heal up and I became encouraged. I continued the New Method Treatment for four months and at the end of that time every symptom had disappeared. I was cured 7 years ago and no signs of any disease since. My boy, three years old, is sound and healthy. I certainly can recommend your treatment with all my heart. You can refer any person to me privately, but you can use this testimonial as you wish.

A Test of Honor

It Recoiled at Last on Him Who Made It

By STELLA ANDREWS

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"It's my experience," said Paul Markham to his friend Tom Ellison, "that you can never tell what a woman is going to do."

"You mean a girl."

"Maid or wife, a man must always be on his guard for fear of getting mixed up with her."

"Do you mean, Paul, that if you were married your wife would try to flirt with me, your friend?"

"She might."

"And do you mean further that I should have to be on my guard to avoid treating you dishonorably?"

"Tom, you're the soul of honor, but I wouldn't trust you or any other man if I had an attractive wife who would make love to you."

"Then all I have to say to you is that you don't know me."

The two friends were separated soon after this and did not meet again for several years. They corresponded for a time, but Ellison drifted to South America, and they lost track of each other. Then Ellison sailed for New York on his way to Chicago. At the railway station he was making his way to the train when he was somewhat roughly seized and twirled half around.

"Paul!"

"Tom!"

"Going on this train?" asked Paul hurriedly.

"Yes. Are you?"

"No. I'm here to see my—manager off."

"You don't mean to say that you are married?"

"Men usually marry, some time, don't they. Are you?"

"No."

"You don't object to taking charge of a lady, do you? How far do you go?"

"WHAT THE DEUCE IS THE MATTER WITH YOU TWO?"

"I'm for Chicago and would be only too glad of a companion. But why didn't you send me your wedding card?"

"Wedding cards! How should I know your address? But we've only time for the introduction. Come along."

They hurried into a car. Near the door Markham paused and said to his friend: "Wait here a moment. I wish to say things about you too complimentary to be said in your hearing."

Ellison waited while Markham advanced to a lady sitting near the center of the car, said something to her to which she evidently assented, then beckoned to his old friend to come on.

Ellison when he met the lady was delighted at the prospect of having what would otherwise be a tiresome journey made pleasant by a very attractive woman. The train moved off slowly and Markham hurried out with a "Goodby, old boy! Winne 'll give you my address. Write me."

There are more uncomfortable places than a parlor car on a through railroad train. The noise is largely shut out, and what one hears has a soothing effect. An ever changing panorama is observed through clear glass windows, and the chairs are luxurious. Tom Ellison and the lady under his care, seated side by side, chatted, read the newspapers, dozed, ate fruit, and thus the first day of the journey passed delightfully.

In the morning they breakfasted together in the dining car, still shooting over bridges, rounding hills, moving on the margin of lakes, now and again darting into the heart of a forest. Surely there is no more attractive place to break one's fast of a bright morning than sitting beside the window of a dining car, and with a pleasing companion it is delightful.

During the second day of the journey a disagreeable fact would occasionally thrust itself upon Ellison. Whenever the lady spoke of Paul he was reminded that she was in possession of another. For the first time in his life he found himself harboring bitter feelings toward his old friend. He was not only surprised, but ashamed. As the day wore on he was seized with alarm. Markham's wife was coming out to him with confidences, with emotions which, though they thrilled him, seemed altogether too sacred to be imparted to any one not near and dear to her.

* * * * * * *

In a month Ellison was back in New York. He had not written Markham and had no intention of writing him. Indeed, he had engaged passage for South America and was waiting for the steamer to sail, dreading the while that he might run across his old friend.

On entering his hotel one morning the clerk tossed him a note. He looked at the superscription and lost some of his color. It contained an invitation from Paul Markham to dine with him that evening, the missive ending with "Why didn't you write, old man? If it hadn't been for Winnie I wouldn't have known anything about your movements."

So he must face the friend he had injured in thought if not in deed. How could she after all that had occurred between them have enabled her husband to discover his arrival in New York? He thought over every possible excuse, and, though all were possible, none would serve the purpose.

On his arrival at Markham's home Paul's friendliness, affection even, cut him to the heart. "Come right in, old man; Winne's expecting you with the same pleasure that I am." He led the guest into the drawing room, where he was received with a telltale blush rather than cordiality. "Oh, why," moaned Ellison to himself, "did she put him on to my being in town?"

"What the deuce is the matter with you two?" exclaimed Markham. "You look as if you had been doing something you are ashamed of."

The lady's blush deepened, and an expression of excruciating pain passed over Ellison's face.

"Well, come into dinner," pursued the host. "I'm going to get it out of one or the other of you before we've finished."

Though the words struck Ellison with terror, Markham did not seem to consider the matter as serious. The host rattled on during the earlier courses, evidently delighted at seeing his old friend; Winifred appeared ill at ease, and Tom looked as if he were sitting on a hot gridiron. Finally the host said with apparent seriousness:

"Tom, do you remember our conversation some years ago about a man being obliged to beware of another man's wife?"

Ellison breathed an almost inaudible "Yes."

"And you poohpoohed the idea that you would ever have to struggle with yourself under such circumstances to treat me honorably?"

Tom's face expressed agony and was red as a cock's comb.

"Well, it looks as though Winne had been tempting you and you had fallen."

"Paul!" Winifred looked a command to desist.

"Now, see here, Winne, didn't you on that journey to Chicago propose to my friend to run away with you?"

"Paul, you have no business to"—

"Never mind that. Didn't you?"

"Yes, but"—

"Now, Tom, how did you receive the proposition?"

"Whatever the fault, it was all mine," faltered Ellison.

"It wasn't any such thing. You're a man of honor. It was the woman's fault. Such things always are."

"I assure you, Paul," protested Ellison, "your wife was simply carried away by a passing emotion."

"My wife?"

"Yes, and a lovely wife you have too."

"I have a wife? Not much! I wouldn't trust one of 'em out of my sight."

Ellison looked from one to the other in astonishment. Winifred was both blushing and laughing.

"This has gone far enough, Paul," she said. "Please explain."

"For heaven's sake," exclaimed Ellison, "let me out of this or I shall collapse!"

"Well, old man," replied the host, "you do look a trifle rattled, and I've had all the fun I am entitled to at your expense. Know, then, that I remembered your high toned words about resisting the temptations thrown out by a friend's wife, and on meeting you in the station on the eve of your departure for Chicago I saw an opportunity to show you that I was right. I introduced you to my sister as my wife and told her to go for you. She did it beautifully."

Beads of perspiration stood out over Ellison's face. He took out a handkerchief and wiped them off, then emptied a glass of wine that stood before him. This was followed by a look something between love and reproach at Winifred, after which he went on eating his dinner.

"Paul," said Winifred severely, "never again will I lend myself to another of your abominable pranks."

"Not till I ask you to 'do' another man," was the complaisant reply.

"All I ask," put in Ellison, "is that if the opportunity occurs you will do it all again."

"Anything you ask," replied the lady by way of atonement, "is granted."

"Very well. Saving your brother's presence, will you marry me?"

"Got him!" from Paul. "I knew you could do it!"

Tom Ellison changed his ticket to one for a later date, and when he sailed Winifred Markham sailed with him as his wife.

"Who's been done," he asked his brother-in-law, "you or I?"

WHAT TRAVELLERS SAY.

Local Option Has Improved Hotel Accommodation.

Convincing Statements by Men Who Are in Position to Know.

The Pioneer states in last week's issue that hotel accommodation has improved materially in almost every municipality where Local Option has come into force. In support of this statement the newspaper quotes interviews with prominent commercial travellers respecting hotel accommodation in Orangeville and other local option municipalities. These interviews and the Pioneer's comments are as follows:—

J. W. Charles, traveller for one of the large Toronto wholesale grocers, is one of the best known men on the road in Western Ontario. Mr. Charles says:—

"Every three weeks I cover fifty-one towns in Western Ontario and of these thirty-eight are dry. In each case, with perhaps one or two exceptions; the hotel accommodation in these dry towns is better than before the Local Option by-law came into force. In no place, without exception, are conditions any worse."

To substantiate this, Mr. Charles went on to give some specific instances:

"I would like to take you to Southampton so you could see how pleased the boys are to get into this town. The Commercial Hotel provides particularly good accommodation. Another case is Creemore. Here is the Mansion House, I believe we travellers find the best accommodation that can be got in any town of one thousand anywhere in Canada.

"Shelburne is another town. The Royal Hotel here for many years gave fair accommodation, but now since Local Option came into force it is a revelation to travellers as to what accommodation can be furnished.

"At the Queen's Hotel in Orangeville conditions are very much better than they were before the by-law came into force. At Flesherton the Munshaw House has always given good accommodation and still continues to do so, though its bar has been cut off. In Durham and Bolton conditions have greatly improved for the travellers' comfort since the towns became dry."

"Then again," said Mr. Charles, "I want to speak particularly of Owen Sound and to say a good word for the Seldon House. This is one of the bright spots on the road for us. It is a delight to go there. I knew the town well under the old license conditions, and it is certainly much improved since Local Option came into force."

Mr. Charles' statements are pretty conclusive and do not need much corroboration, but to prove that he is not prejudiced, and he certainly has no reason to be, we give the words of another well-known traveller—another man who knows.

C. J. Pascoe, who is in about the same class as Mr. Charles so far as being familiarly known by the travellers and business men of Ontario is concerned, speaks even stronger regarding the matter.

"You may use my name if you wish," said Mr. Pascoe, "and make the statement over it that "The hotel accommodation in the Local Option towns of Ontario is from twenty-five to thirty per cent. better now than it ever was under the old License System.

"I have travelled over the section Mr. Charles speaks of, and farther North and West, every five weeks for eight years, and I am consequently in a position to know what I am speaking about. You may take, for instance, the towns of Orangeville, Shelburne, Owen Sound, Collingwood and Orillia, and it is safe to say that in all of these accommodation was never before so good as it is to-day.

"As soon as Local Option gets into operation," Mr. Pascoe continued, "one notices directly the absence of the rough element caused by drunkenness in the hotel. There is absolutely no question about this."

It is worth mentioning that every hotel mentioned above is owned and run by private parties, not by any company of temperance workers. In most cases the hotels are occupied and run by the same party who had charge under license.

Mention might be made of the splendid accommodation given in the hotels run by specially organized companies of local parties in Orillia, Midland, Newmarket, Bowmanville, Wellington, etc., but such are omitted as being a little aside from the general subject.

These statements certainly leave no room for doubt as to the correctness of the above statement, but further proof can still be presented in a more general and yet, if possible, in a more convincing way.

At the Annual Meeting of the Commercial Travellers' Association of Canada in 1910, considerable discussion took place over the matter of hotel accommodation in the Local Option towns of Ontario. As a result of this a committee was appointed, consisting of ten or twelve well-known members, who were to receive complaints regarding accommodation, not only to look for questionable conditions themselves, but also to receive information regarding these from other members with a view to placing such matters before the Government in order to provide for remedying existing conditions if such seemed necessary. It was understood that any complaints were to be handed in on paper and signed by a member of the organization.

Mr. J. W. Charles, the traveller mentioned above, was questioned regarding the result of this action.

"Up to the present time," he said (the interview took place in August, 1911), "not a single complaint, so far as I know, has been received by the members of this special committee. I am a member of it myself, and have recently talked the matter over with several of the other members. They say that in a number of cases verbal complaints have been made, but that those who made these were not willing to put their names behind them so that the matter could be submitted to the Government."

COLLINGWOOD BREACH OF PROMISE CASE.

Charlotte E. Schell, a spinster of Collingwood, is suing Joseph J. Redmond for $2,000 damages for breach of promise to marry. In plaintiff's statement of claim, it is alleged that in June, 1909, defendant promised to marry; that he renewed those promises several times, particularly in July 1910; that relying on this promise of marriage the plaintiff permitted the defendant to seduce her, and on May 2, 1911, she gave birth to a female child, of which defendant is father. The defendant denied all the allegations, and further stated that the plaintiff was not a woman of chaste character and claimed that since the date of the alleged promise of marriage she had illicit intercourse with men other than the defendant.

RACE WITH DEATH.

n Larsen Succeeds in Piloting tor Boat Through Niagara Rapids.

rdy Navigator Declares He Will Never Do It Again.

Saturday afternoon in his little foot motor boat, "Niagara," n Klaus Larsen, of Detroit, sfully navigated the famous ool Rapids and the Devil's Rapids a short distance from ra Falls. The seven mile trip the Canadian "Maid of the landing to Pitz's dock at ton was made by the staunch craft in just 31 minutes. It arsen's second trip through Ni- s gorge, he having made the ne a year ago in "Ferro," a boat a trifle larger than the used to-day.

1.42 Larsen headed his craft om the Canadian landing of the "of the Mist." For seven min- e circled around below the falls. 19 he turned the nose of the ara" down stream and headed e dangerous Whirlpool Rapids. 1.55 he reached the swift drift of the rapids. After hugging the ican shore for the greater part e distance from the starting when the "Niagara" entered apids, Larsen closed in nearer Canadian shore.

n the first great wave caught ttle craft and hurled it from its the watchers ashore thought the was swamped, as it slid over the into a forty foot trough.

leted from wave to wave, the gara" hugged the Canadian until within a hundred yards of whirlpool. Then the intrepid h navigator threw over his tiller made for the American shore.

2.05 the little craft entered the pool, skirted the edge of the pool, caught by the mighty maelstrom almost sucked into the swirling stern first.

r half a minute the boat hung on dge of the pool almost motion- Then, with a spurt of speed, she the waters' grip and plunged the swiftly flowing water below Devil's Hole Rapids, below the lpool, while not so rough as the lpool Rapids, are fully as danger- because of the nearness of the s to the surface. On his previous Larsen was stranded on a rock in ower rapids for some time when ngine broke down.

th the skill of a St. Lawrence In- pilot, Larsen guided the little from side to side of the river, ing a rock here, riding over the of a great wave there.

fore Larsen struck the roughest of the Devil's Hole Rapids, he ed the nose of his boat up stream e he readjusted the canvas cock- covering about his body. The can- had been forced down below his s by the trip through the Whirl- Rapids. With one hand on the r, he used the other to put the ering in place.

his occupied about two minutes. s soon as the canvas was adjusted his liking, Larsen again started n the river, while the crowd fol- ing on special Gorge route cars red wildly. Larsen sent back an wering shriek from the whistle of boat.

2.14 the rapids-shooting motor t passed under the suspension dge at Lewiston, a quarter of a above Pitz's dock, where the boat was moored at 2.20.

bout four inches of water was ped during the trip. It was al- st up to the engine when it was pped. Seven hundred pounds of d which acted as ballast soaked up siderable of the water that enter- the boat.

While changing his clothes, Larsen d his story. Here it is in the lit- Dane's own words:

That's the second time I've gone ough the rapids and came out ve. I tell you it's the last time. . My trip to-day was far worse n last year's. The water was gher by far and the wind was h. If the 'Niagara' had not been better boat than the 'Ferro,' and engine in perfect working condi- tion, I would not be here talking to you now.

"To-day's trip was a frightful strain on my nerves. I've been on rough voyages before, but that trip to-day was the roughest proposition I ever ran up against. It fairly jolted the life out of me, me only out of a typhoid fever bed a few weeks.

"After I shook hands with my manager, Hansen, shortly before 1 o'clock I took a spin around below the falls in the 'Niagara.' Everything worked fine, but a strong wind made it bad for me. When I found my engine working like clockwork, I counted on a much easier trip than last year. You see, I did not know the rapids were so much rougher. The wind riled them up considerably. Not for a minute during the entire trip was the terrible strain lessened.

"Once I nearly rolled over. Although I had implicit faith in my boat, I had the belief for a second that I was going to be treated to a somersault. I had that experience last year, but was spared it to-day.

"When I struck the outer edge of the whirlpool, I feared I might be sucked in. I nearly was, but my engine was capable of the task and proved itself stronger than the mighty current.

"Let me tell you right here that you who stayed ashore have no idea how strong that same current really is.

"My boat withstood the trip so well that I've half made up my mind to cross the Atlantic in her next year. I think I can make the trip with the same outfit I used to-day in 22 days. I would go from New York to Queenstown."

Larsen will remain here several days before going to New York. He was not hurt by the trip. He did not even sustain a scratch. He was to have made the trip three months ago, but was taken ill with typhoid fever.

The 'Niagara,' Larsen's boat, is built of five-eighths inch pipe, is of five feet six inch beam and fifteen feet over all. She is propelled by a ten horse-power, four cycle Scripps' gasoline engine.

ARE YOU AS WELL AS A YEAR AGO?

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Point the Way to Health and Strength.

Ask yourself the important question whether you are as strong as you were a year ago, as bodily fit as you should be. Many a reader has to confess "No." Some weakening ailment has during the past year laid hold of the system, unfitting you for the duties of life and seriously clouding the outlook of the coming days. It may be rheumatism with its sharp twinges of pain, indigestion, headache, nervous debility, depression and lack of energy, or the pains and ailments which only common folk know. It is well to know that all these weakening disorders arise from an impoverished condition of the blood. Renew and enrich your blood and all your troubles will cease. This is a strong statement, but it is made on the testimony of thousands who once suffered, but who have gained health and strength by the aid of the new, rich blood supplied by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. We can quote thousands of cases similar to the following: Mr. Jos. Grandmaison is a young man well nown in the town of St. Jerome, Que. He says: "For a couple of years I began to find my strength failing, but did not dream that the trouble was serious. As I grew weaker I began to doctor, but it did not help me. The least exertion made my heart palpitate violently, my stomach seemed out of order and my whole system became so run down that I was finally forced to quit work. I had now been doctoring for almost six months, and was very naturally growing discouraged. At this juncture I read of a case similar to mine, cured through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and decided to try them. I took the Pills faithfully for about two months, gradually growing stronger and at the end of that time I was as well as any man could be. I shall always praise the medicine that raised me from despair to the blessing of good health."

ELECTIONS DECEMBER ELEVENTH.

Provincial Government Has at Last Announced Date.

Sir James Whitney Issues Manifesto to Electors Reviewing Administration's Record.

The Provincial elections will be held on Monday, December 11th. Sir James Whitney made the formal announcement on Monday evening, simultaneously with the issue of a manifesto to the electorate of the province.

The portion of the Premier's statement, which deals with the Government's record, reads as follows:—

To the Electors of the Province of Ontario:—

Gentlemen,—Nearly three years have elapsed since you entrusted the Government of the province to my colleagues and myself, and in June, 1908, you signified, by an overwhelming majority, your approval of the record we had made up to that time.

Shortly stated, we had, in a little more than three years:—

Abolished the numbered ballot;

Taken the first step towards the creation of Agricultural Schools by appointing district representatives in Agriculture, and largely increased the expenditure for agricultural purposes;

Reconstructed the administration and financial resources of the Provincial University;

Revised the mining laws and taken Cabinet Minister from New Ontario;

Restored the old law relating to County Councils.

Imposed taxation upon the railways, one-half of which goes to the municipalities;

Put an end to the granting of subsidies to railways;

Created a Railway and Municipal Board;

Reduced the price of school books by one-half, and destroyed the school book ring;

Revised the Public School system; created a consultative Council to which the teachers elect representatives, and provided for large grants in aid of payment of teachers' salaries;

Honestly and successfully enforced the Liquor License Law;

Extended the Government Railway;

Brought the Hydro-Electric scheme forward, and in sight of completion;

Increased the expenditure for the construction of colonization roads, and encouraged the development of New Ontario;

Put the provincial finances on a sound and stable footing, doubled the provincial revenue, and put upon the Statute Book a large amount of important and constructive legislation;

Since then we have gone on endeavoring to discharge our duties with an eye solely to the best interests of the people, and, among the results of our policy and our administration of the finances of the province are the following:—

The amount payable towards the salaries of teachers in Public Schools has been increased until this year such aid will amount to about $475,000.

We have devised a system for industrial training in the urban schools liberally aided by money grants;

A course in Agriculture for Public School teachers has been established in the Agricultural College at Guelph;

The amount to be paid to the University of Toronto this year will reach to about the sum of $488,000;

The amount appropriated this year for the construction of colonization roads is $582,000.

The amount of revenue collected by each department of the Government has largely increased.

Great success has attended the work one by the district representatives in agriculture attached to a number of our Collegiate Institutes and High Schools. In several instances municipal councils have increased their remuneration and there is a general demand for them from all sections of the province;

The commissioner appointed to collect information regarding legislation affecting the compensation for injuries to workmen and to report a bill in that behalf has made good progress with the very important matter he has in charge;

The erection of the new Central Prison Buildings at Guelph has been commenced. A large part of the work has been done by the prisoners and the results fully justified the experiment tried by the Provincial Secretary of treating the prisoners as not unworthy of trust rather than as ordinary convicts;

The Board of Parole instituted by the Provincial Secretary has proved to be an unqualified success, and great good has already resulted from the operation of it;

The main line of the Ontario Government Railway has been completed to Cochrane on the G. T. P. Railway, distance of 253 miles, and the Porcupine branch, it is expected will be completed to Montreal River before the end of the present year, when the railway, with branches, will have about 380 miles in operation. Surveys for a possible extension of the line have been made as far north as James Bay in case it is decided to continue the line to that point.

An engagement has been entered into with the Grand Trunk Railway for running rights of its trains over the line, in consideration of which the company assumes an equitable share of the general maintenance of the road and pays the sum of $300,000 per annum as rental for such running rights, this sum representing one-half of the interest on the total cost of construction of the railway.

The Premier also points out that the electric power scheme has been brought to a successful completion at a cost for construction work of $85,000 less than the estimates. Cheap power is now within reach of the farmers and other residents of the villages and rural districts. Sir James states that the time has come when the Hydro-Electric Power Commission should be discontinued, and a new department of government created to take charge of this work, the head of which should be a Cabinet Minister. The Premier also announces the decision of the Government to formulate plans for the development of Northern Ontario, with the assistance of the Dominion Government and further provincial appropriations. As the former Dominion Government granted bonuses of $6400 a mile to new railways, but declined to grant any aid to the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, application for such aid will now be made to the Borden administration.

To justify the dissolution of the Legislature at the present time the Premier has this to say:

The life of the existing Assembly already exceeds in length the life of its predecessor, and there are eleven vacant seats in the House, caused by the death of the esteemed late members—seven of whom have been elected to the House of Commons, and by the resignation of Hon. Frank Cochrane, who has accepted the Portfolio of Railways and Canals in the new Government of Canada, and by whose departure the Government, the Legislatrve Assembly and the province have alike suffered a serious loss.

A large expenditure—$15,000 or more—would have been incurred by holding bye-elections to fill these vacancies, and the expenditure would have to be repeated within a year.

Under our system the practice favors a dissolution before the expiration of the life of the Legislative Assembly by effluxion of time, and the facts as stated are ample justification for a dissolution now, and, in face of the public notice given by me some weeks ago, it cannot be urged that anyone has been taken by surprise.

But there are other reasons why my colleagues and I desire to consult the electorate—reasons of great and vital importance, having regard to the development of the province and the prosperity of its people.

These reasons, upon which he considers it desirable that the people should have the opportunity of pronouncing the Premier briefly summarizes as follows:—

1. As to the advisability of further provincial appropriations, if necessary, to any scheme of development by reason of the financial aid to be given by the Dominion Government, and also of any statutory enactment which may be found to be necessary under the circumstances aforementioned.

2. Whether the Government of the province shall continue to urge upon the Dominion Government the payment of the said bonus, a subsidy on account of the construction of the said T. and N. O. Railway, known as the Ontario Government Railway.

3. Whether a department of Government shall be created, with a Cabinet Minister at its head, to take over and carry on the work heretofore done by the Hydro-Electric Power Commission.

Morriscy's No. 7 and Liniment Cured his Knee. "Feels good as new."

St. John, N.B., April 12, 1911.

"I am glad to report that my knee is completely cured of Rheumatism—thanks to Father Morriscy's No. 7 Rheumatism & Kidney Tablets, as they alone are responsible for my cure. I was troubled for a number of years, and tried everything I heard of, and needless to say, spent quite a sum of money without any results. I have no further trouble now, and my knee feels as good as new. I was personally acquainted with the late Father Morriscy and know his remedies are good. Anyone suffering from Rheumatism and Kidney trouble should by all means try No. 7 Tablets, as I can cheerfully recommend them."

PATRICK KILLEN,

Provincial Detective, St. John, N.B.

DEATH OF MRS. SHAW.

In the death of Mrs. Ann Shaw, which took place at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. Wm. Harper, last Thursday, Arthur township loses one of its oldest and most highly respected citizens. Deceased, whose maiden name was Ann Slater, was born in the village of Riverstown, County Cligo (from which the village of Riverstown in Arthur twp., derives its name). She came to Canada about the year 1852, first settling at Orangeville, where she worked and met her husband, the late John Shaw. Shortly after their marriage they moved to Riverstown and opened up what was known far and wide by the travelling public as "Shaw's tavern," at the same time taking up land in the vicinity. Mr. Shaw died about 35 years ago. Three sons and four daughters survive, as follows:—Johnston and William, of Arthur twp.; James, in the West; Mrs. Jackson, of Toronto; Mrs. J. Brown and Mrs. Wm. Harper, of Arthur twp., and Mrs. Sparrow in the West. The funeral to the Mt. Forest cemetery on Saturday was largely attended, and was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Mr. Smith; of Riverstown and Farewell.—Mt. Forest Rep.

The late Mrs. Shaw was the mother of Mrs. Robert Jackson, of Toronto, formerly of Mono.

MRS. THOS. E. REABURN.

Mrs. Reaburn, wife of Mr. Thos. E. Reaburn, formerly a well-known Orangevillian, died at her home at Malcolm, near Walkerton, on Wednesday, after an illness of about three years' duration. Her death was due to pernicious anaemia. The deceased lady was a daughter of the late James McKim, of Mono, and was held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends here and in her native township. She is survived by her husband, but leaves no family. Sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. Reaburn in his loss. The remains were brought to her old home for interment, the funeral taking place from Wallace's Undertaking Rooms to Mono Centre Cemetery on Saturday at 10 a. m. Rev. W. M. Morris, pastor of St. Andrew's church, conducted the services here and Rev. A. J. Fowlie, Camilla, officiated at the grave.

MRS. MARK BRAMBLES.

Mrs. Mark Brambles, one of the oldest residents of Amaranth township, passed away at her home near Fraxa Junction on Friday night after a long and trying illness, having been confined to her room for the past ten months. The deceased lady was born at Humanby, in the County of Yorkshire, England, in the year 1832. She was married in England in 1856 at the age of 24 years and shortly afterwards came to Canada along with her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Brambles first settled in Chinguacousy, but a few years later moved to Amaranth, where they have since resided. Early in life Mrs. Brambles united with the Methodist Church, of which she was a staunch and consistent member. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, one son, George, and a sister Mrs. Simon Trimble, sr. There was a large attendance of friends and acquaintances at the funeral, which was held to Greenwood Cemetery at two o'clock on Monday afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. T. R. White, of Kleinburg, assisted by Rev. J. S. Stevenson, of Laurel. The remains were borne to their last resting place by her six nephews, Messrs Thos. Maltby, David Maltby, George Cunington, Albert Maltby, W. H. Trimble and Edgar Trimble. The floral tributes included a wreath from the family and a spray from Miss C. Shain, of Orangeville. Among the friends present from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. George Cunington, of Mayfield; Mr. Albert Maltby, of Stanley Mills; Messrs Thos. and David Maltby, of Guelph; Mrs. George Hamilton, of Shelburne, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fines, of Waldemar. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband and family in their hour of trial.

Farewell, dear Mother, sweet thy rest
Weary with years and worn with pain,
Farewell, till in some happy place
We shall behold thy face again.

'Tis ours to miss thee all our years,
And tender memories of thee keep,
Thine in the Lord to rest, for so
He giveth His beloved sleep.

APPEAL DISMISSED.

The following report of the Shelburne appeal case of Matthews vs. Kohler appeared in yesterday's dailies:

Matthews vs. Kohler—F. A. Clement, Shelburne, for plaintiff. No one appears for defendant. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of the County Court of Dufferin on 30th of June, 1211. The motion was placed on the peremptory list to be spoken to and no one appearing to support appeal, by direction of the court the appeal is dismissed with costs.

MUST GO TO TRIAL.

The pending suits of Rounding vs. Park and Rounding vs. The Ontario Farmers' Weather Insurance Co. were the subjects of motions made by the defendants at Osgoode Hall last week for orders dismissing the actions for want of prosecution. Orders were made that the statements of claim be delivered on the 2nd. of November and that the cases go to trial at the Orangeville Assizes on November 14th. Defendants agreed to take short notice of trial and to plead in four days after the statement of claim is delivered. Costs to defendants in any event.

FORFEITED HIS BAIL.

William Merkley, a Midland man, who formerly lived in Shelburne, made a lot of trouble on the Toronto to Owen Sound passenger train on Friday night. Merkley, who was apparently badly intoxicated, was in fighting humour and frightened some of the passengers rather badly by brandishing a large knife. He was arrested at Orangeville and spent the night in the town lock-up. Saturday he was brought before P. M., Pattullo, who remanded him until Monday. On Monday the case was adjourned and the Magistrate accepted cash bail for $15 for the accused's appearance on Tuesday. Merkley has not been seen since and has evidently forfeited his bail.

—Messrs. Jas. A. Arnott, J. Haslem and John Wheelock, Orangeville, and Will Parks, Camilla, left for Muskoka on Monday to spend a couple of weeks deer hunting.

OFF TO THE NORTH.

Several parties of deer hunters left Orangeville and vicinity for the northern wilds this week. Messrs. Geo. Bidwell, Irving Walker, Thos. Hostrawser and Rich. Stevens, of Amaranth, left on Monday evening for Parry Sound. They will make their camp at Rutter, some distance north of Parry Sound. A party of Monoites left on the same day for the Burk's Falls district. The party, which includes a number of experienced huntsmen, consists of Robt. McKibben, S. T. Still, John Still, Allen Sherra, Wm. Allen, Sr., Wm. Allen, Jr., and Thos. Rennick. Archie Dahl and Geo. Morrison, of this town, and Sam Keys, of Amaranth, have gone to join a Barrie party, which will make its base of operations near Sudbury.

CARD OF THANKS.

The members of the Orangeville Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire desire to take this means of tendering their sincere thanks to Mr. Morrow for his kindness and generosity in donating the Chapter the proceeds of his theatre on Tuesday evening, October 24th. It may not be amiss to state that the sum of $25 has been added to the Hospital Building Fund through the liberality of Mr. Morrow.

MRS. T. J. BROWN,
Secretary D. O. E.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. Mark Brambles, his son and daughter wish to take this means of conveying their sincere thanks to their many friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown them during the illness and since the death of the late Mrs. Brambles.

CARD OF THANKS.

I take this opportunity of tendering my sincere thanks to the officers and members of the Orangeville Council of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends for the prompt manner in which they have settled the insurance policy held by my late sister, Mrs. E. Bachtel, also for the kindness shown us during our bereavement.

W. H. RIDDELL.

Orangeville, Oct. 23rd, 1911.

THE HENPECKED CLUB.

Queer Methods of a Queer Society In Lancashire, England.

Of all the queer clubs that exist in the world you will find some of the queerest in Lancashire, England. One of these is called the Henpecked club. As the title indicates, its members are all males, and you can come across a club in almost every Lancashire town of any size.

The meetings are held, as a rule, in some bar parlor, and the discussions are about members and often non-members who have the reputation of being henpecked. When evidence has been brought to show that a particular man has allowed himself to come under his wife's thumb they tax him with it in the place of meeting. The president delivers a lecture on the danger of a husband permitting his wife to usurp his position as master, and when the others have endorsed his remarks the person to whom the speeches are addressed is warned that if he continues to stand the henpecking he will be made the subject of a demonstration.

The announcement that a "henpecked" club demonstration is to take place is received in the district with mixed feelings. The men applaud it, and the local police, recalling similar displays that led to trouble, become a little anxious. On the evening appointed the members of the club meet at a public house, where they arm themselves with all kinds of household utensils; then, led by concertina players or a tin whistle band, they start out and march along the crowded streets of the district.

One man carries a broom, another a swab, a third a shovel or a coal scuttle or a fender or a poker. Fire tongs, blacklead brushes, washtubs, buckets—everything used in the home, in fact—is carried shoulder high. As they march along to the music in front and the discordant clanging of their baggage they sing snatches of songs in which the name of the victim occurs often.

The mission of the verses, which have been specially composed for the occasion by a local poet, is to hold up the henpecked one to ridicule, the reason for the demonstrators bearing the household goods being, of course, to remind him that, having fallen under petticoat government, he will quickly become the slavery.

When they reach the cottage where their victim resides they form a circle in front of the door and sing and clang their fenders and coal scuttles more loudly than ever.

The man inside is invoked by the president during a halt in the programme to "be a man" and join his brethren. Sometimes if he looks upon the affair as more of a joke than anything else he does their bidding, and they reform and march to headquarters with him at their head. Usually, however, his wife appears instead with a bucket of soapy water, which she promptly throws over the demonstrators, or she quickly causes a clearing with a hose pipe.

To the onlooker it is just an exhibition for laughter and nothing more, but behind the scenes there is generally a lot of trouble and heartaching. A good number of these "henpecked" demonstrations have sequels in police courts. Sometimes it is an enraged victim being charged with assaulting a demonstrator, but more often than not the sequel shows a wife appealing to the magistrate for a separation order.—London Tit-Bits.

Uncle Philemon's Ghost

And How Its Visits Were Stopped

By CLARISSA MACKIE

Copyright by American Press Association, 1911.

"That for a ghost!" cried Clarke, with a contemptuous snap of his fingers. "Who ever saw one? Did you, Evans?"

"Perhaps," said his friend evasively. "I'm not certain whether I did or not. That's why I invited you down to keep watch with me and make uncertainty certainty."

"In other words, when is a ghost?" jeered Clarke, in his favorite vaudevillian manner.

"Usually at 12," returned Evans drily. "Now, so that you may not become nervous through anticipation, let us forget the grewsome story of my Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon and turn to pinochle."

They drew closer to the library table, while the servant piled more wood on the fire and placed a tray of refreshments close at hand. Then the man withdrew, leaving the two friends sitting in the large, high ceilinged apartment, whose walls were lined with tall bookcases variegated with large family portraits.

"Who is the gent with the leary eye?" demanded Clarke suddenly as he flung down his cards and faced toward one of the paintings. "That over the fireplace?"

"That's my Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon," explained Evans solemnly.

"The old party who walks?" asked Clarke, a trifle put out in manner.

"Yes. Why?"

"I wish you'd hang a curtain over the picture. With due respect to your ancestors, Evans, old man, he's about as disagreeable a party as I ever met."

Evans smiled rather maliciously. "If you prefer it, Ed, we can go in some other room—my den, for instance—only I thought you didn't mind influences and small matters of that sort," hinted Evans.

STEPPED EASILY TO THE BROAD SHELF.

"The library for mine," asserted Clarke stiffly, and then the play went on for another hour, but all the time the visitor was twitching uneasily in his chair, evidently ill at ease over the close scrutiny of the beruffled and bewigged old gentleman standing so stiffly in the gold frame over the fireplace.

"Oh—ah"— yawned Clarke as the hour of 11 was chimed. "You licked me all to bits, Ed. Let's quit. I'm dying for smoke."

"Same here," said the other, scratching a match.

"What did the old fellow do?" asked Clarke after a silence which he had vainly employed in endeavoring to stare Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon out of his disagreeable countenance. "What was his particular wild oat that he must come back to see how it flourisheth?"

"Horses," said Evans laconically.

"Extravagant, I suppose, and put a mortgage on the old home, is that what the double uncle did?"

"Yep."

"Then he's a double dyed old villain," sniffed Clarke. "Ought to had his head bumped. I suppose the other uncle, his namesake, the last one, had to work off the mortgage."

"Right again."

"Well, what's Philemon back again for? Trying to raise some more money on the place?"

"Give it up. He's been hanging around the last three years now, doing the same old stunt. You see, his father had a beautiful stable of blooded horses, and at one time when the old gentleman was away and young Philemon was home (you'd never think that decrepit old gentleman ever was young, with good red blood in him, would you?), why, Philemon took advantage of an opportunity to dispose of the whole stable for a large sum, and after one wild night, when he entertained a crowd of his half intoxicated companions at a princely feast, the entire sum of money disappeared as if it had never been. He awoke the next morning sober as an owl and could give no accounting of the transaction. The horses were gone, and their earnings went with them.

"Philemon's father was angry enough because the young man could not recollect what he had done with the money, and it was finally concluded that what he had not spent in entertainment he had been relieved of by his unscrupulous companions. The money was gone and Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon was disgraced.

"He died a moderately poor man—land poor—and today the disappearance of the money is as much a mystery as ever. They say that the old gentleman returns now and then, especially on the anniversary of the day on which he made the unhappy deal with the horse buyers, in order to make a more thorough search for the missing money. I saw him a year ago tonight, and I hope you are scheduled to be cured of your doubts." Evans lighted his cigar once more and leaned comfortably back in his chair.

Clarke shrugged his shoulders and turned over the leaves of a magazine with careless indifference.

"No objections to my potting at him with my revolver?" he asked hopefully.

"Why, no—so long as you don't cut a hole in the portrait," assented Evans. "Are you a good shot?" he asked as an afterthought.

"Am I? Ask Timothy Allen. I knocked the button off his cap the other day."

"I can trust you with Uncle Philemon, then," said Evans, relieved.

"Want somebody else in?" asked Clarke. "I can run out and ask one of your servants in if you want me to." He turned toward the door.

"They won't do at all—too much of the emotional about them. What we need for these experiments are men of physical muscle as well as those of mental power. Understand?"

"Trying to," said Clarke helplessly.

"I've been thinking, Dan," went on Evans thoughtfully, "why wouldn't it be a good idea for you to step up to the shade of my uncle and endeavor to prove whether his guise is that of real flesh and blood or"—

"Whether he's a combination of misty gray chiffons?" ended Clarke disgustedly. "I'll not do it. I'll take shots at him, though."

Five minutes before 12 the clock gave a little warning click, which was followed by the clicking of Clarke's revolver as he cocked the weapon.

"Somehow it doesn't seem just the right thing to take advantage of an old man like that," Evans was beginning, rather uneasily, when the big clock in the hall boomed out the hour of 12, to be immediately followed by the smaller chime of the library clock.

Then it was that they both found their attention attracted to the picture of Uncle Philemon over the fireplace. Some unseen wind was blowing it gently to and fro, out from the wall and then back again, and they distinctly heard the rub and knock of the heavy frame as it pounded the wall. A little drift of dust floated down from the disturbed frame.

"My Lord!" gasped Evans excitedly. But Clarke was speechless with amazement, his hand holding the cocked pistol resting on the edge of the table and quite carelessly pointing the weapon at the huge Chinese porcelain vase that stood at one end of the mantel.

The drifting dust seemed to thicken and form a cloud which obscured the picture for a moment. Then it thinned again, and out of the frame there stepped Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon, resplendent in velvet coat and lace and bewigged and powdered and patched. He stepped easily to the broad shelf and paced down its length toward the Chinese vase, his head towering upward, his hands clasped behind his bent back. Seen through the mist, it appeared that the portrait of Evans' uncle was still in the frame, and yet he paced the broad mantel, contemptuously evading the new ornaments with his silk stockinged legs.

The two watchers gasped excitedly, and then Clarke's nervous finger inadvertently pressed the trigger of the pistol, and it went off with a startling detonation in the quiet room. The form on the mantel shelf seemed to rush back into its frame, which hung rigidly as before. The dust disappeared, and the room lay bathed in the warm lamplight as it was before the clock had struck.

The room was the same, save that the great Chinese vase which had stood on the mantel shelf even before the day when Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon had lived in the old brick mansion was shattered by the straying bullet from Clarke's careless weapon.

When they gathered their wits together and convinced themselves that they were not dreaming—that they had simply talked themselves into seeing ghostly visions and after the refreshment tray had helped to restore their courage—they gathered up the broken porcelain vase and found within its shattered shell all the money Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon had carelessly stowed away that day so many years ago when in the sowing of his wild oats he had chosen to sell off his father's blooded horses. The money was all there in gleaming gold.

"I guess the old fellow has raised the mortgage at last," said Evans a little breathlessly after they had counted it and examined it to their hearts' content."

"And laid his own ghost at the same time," added Clarke seriously, which was quite true, for Uncle Philemon's Uncle Philemon never walked again, for he had accomplished his long postponed act of reparation.

For Household Accidents.

ZAM-BUK IS SO VERY USEFUL.

Read how Beneficial it proved in this Case.

Mrs. H. Sawyer, of Keene, Ont., writes:—"My husband is engaged on a farm, and one day, while chopping wood, the top of the axe broke and fell upon his foot, cutting a nasty gash. The wound was so bad that we first thought we would have to get a doctor, but we finally decided to dress the cut with Zam-Buk.

"Well, the Zam-Buk treatment proved a great success. It not only eased the pain, but it prevented any inflammation; and right from first applying Zam-Buk, the cut began to heal. It is now completely healed, and my husband says he will never be without a box of Zam-Buk in the house, for we are sure it saved us a great deal of expense."

Over and over again Zam-Buk has been proved to be the worker's best remedy. As soon as applied to a cut, a burn, a scald, or any skin injury, it relieves the pain and it sets up healing. It also prevents blood-poisoning or inflammation. It is a sure cure, too, for eczema, piles, ulcers, old wounds, bad leg, ringworm, scalp sores, festering, running sores, eruptions, cold sores, chapped hands, etc. Its absolute purity, also, makes it the ideal balm, for babies.

Zam-Buk Soap should be used along with the balm for washing all sore places. This soap will be found excellent for baby's bath, even where the balm is not being used.

All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, and Zam-Buk Soap at 25c. tablet, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

The death took place at her home, 7th line, Albion, a week ago Friday, of Jane Moffatt, relict of the late John Rowley. Mrs. Rowley, who had reached the advanced age of 84 years, was among those who underwent the labor and privations, joys and sorrows of pioneer days in this district. She is survived by several sons and daughters, to whom she leaves the inheritance of a memory of duty faithfully and usefully and unselfishly performed. The funeral took place on Monday to St. Alban's Church, Palgrave, the service being conducted by Rev. W. S. Westney.

Your Money Back if You are not Satisfied with the Medicine We Recommend.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons, and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Orangeville only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

REGINA

The Capital of Saskatchewan. The railway centre of Western Canada. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railways all enter Regina.

OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT CENSUS FOR 1911 SHOWS REGINA'S POPULATION 30,210.

Proof of REGINA'S marvellous growth is found in the Official Government Census for Saskatchewan, which we quote below.

	1911	1901	Increase
Moose Jaw	13,825	1588	12,266
Prince Albert	6,254	1785	4,469
REGINA	30,210	2249	27,961
Saskatoon	12,002	113	11,889

A simple sum in arithmetic shows that REGINA'S population is larger than that of any other two cities in Saskatchewan put together and that it is nearly as great as the total population of the next three largest cities in Saskatchewan.

REGINA'S present population is more than twelve times greater than it was ten years ago, or an increase of over 1200 per cent. The greatest development has taken place this last two years and REGINA is growing faster than ever. At the present rate of growth, REGINA will be a city of nearly 400,000 people in ten years from now.

In reading the Official report I also found that the Province of Saskatchewan has shown the largest increase. In ten years it has grown from 91,279 to 453,508, an increase of nearly 400 per cent. At the present time the percentage of land occupied in Saskatchewan is very small — in the neighborhood of ten per cent. With greater railroad facilities and modern methods Saskatchewan will grow more rapidly than ever. As REGINA is the Capital and leading city of the province, it will be affected by the growth of every city, town or community in Saskatchewan, and its future growth should be more rapid than in the past.

I have for sale a large number of well located lots, in the East, West, North and Centre of the city at very reasonable prices and on easy terms. For full particulars and other information apply to

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, NOV. 9, 1911.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

Mr. James Higgins, deputy-reeve of Melancthon, is likely to run against William McGhee for the reeveship. Councillor Cornett is talked of as a likely candidate for deputy-reeve.

Mr. Geo. Giles is definitely in the field for the deputy-reeveship of Caledon. Mr. Giles has sat in the Council for three years and naturally feels that his services warrant him in seeking for higher honors.

Warden J. A. McBride will likely retire from the Caledon reeveship at the end of the present year. W. J. Himebeer, Thos. Quinn, the present deputy-reeve, and Wm. Smeaton are mentioned as the likely candidates for the vacant office.

Municipal matters are likely to be pretty quiet in Mono this year. Reeve Anderson may stand for another term, and if he does, will likely get another year without any opposition. Councillor Geo. Little may give Deputy-Reeve Moffitt a race for the latter office, although he has as yet made no announcement respecting his intentions.

Municipal matters are beginning to warm up in Mulmur township. It is said that Warden Archy Greer, who has filled the reeve's chair for a number of years, has just about decided to try to hold the position for another year, in that event he is almost certain to be opposed by Mr. John Reaburn, his unsuccessful opponent at the last two elections. Greer won by 35 votes last year and a year previously was elected by the casting vote of Returning Officer Laking. If Greer drops out Reaburn may not run, and the fight then would probably be between Thos. Mitchell, the present deputy-reeve, and ex-deputy-reeve Wm. Lawrence, of Honeywood. Messrs. Jos. Partridge, of Stanton, Elijah Kidd, of Randwick, and J. M. Moodie, of Black Bank, are said to have centred their ambitions on the deputy-reeveship.

THE LIBERAL PLATFORM.

Mr. N. W. Rowell, the new leader of the Ontario Liberal party, has announced the platform upon which the party will appeal to the electorate for support. The following is a summary of the important planks :—

Creation of Department of Immigration and Colonization for settlement of Northern Ontario.

Extension of T. & N. O. Railway to Hudson Bay and subjection of rates to Dominion Railway Commission.

Reduction of prospecting fees and 8-hour day for underground mine workers.

Road building by Provincial assistance supplied by bond issue.

Extension of public light, power and telephone service in rural sections.

Establishment of demonstration farms to promote fruit growing.

Appointment of inspectors to stamp out noxious weeds, insect pests and disease of trees.

Enlargement of sphere of experimental work at Guelph Agricultural College.

Amendment of Assessment Act to secure exemption on improvements.

Taxation of railways and other public corporations equal to levy on private property.

Abolition of three-fifths clause.

Removal of administration of license system from political influence.

Provision for compensating injured workmen on lines adopted in Great Great Britain.

Supervision to ensure public health and encouragement of proper town planning.

Better co-operation betweem primary schools, high schools and universities. The promotion of industrial and technical training in rural sections, the restoration of model schools and the provision of an adequate supply of well qualified teachers.

Public ownership and operation of public utilities.

A scientific forestry policy to include reforestration.

Condemnation of alienation of land by grants to railways.

Reorganization of Ontario Railway and Municipal Board with enlarged powers.

Legislation to oppose promotion and operation of mergers and trusts.

Abolition of Government denial to redress through courts for damage suffered through action of Government or its agents.

Prohibition of campaign contributions by corporations under Government control and punishment of all guilty of electoral fraud or corruption; also publication of campaign contributions.

McKEOWN RENOMINATED.

Rev. J. R. Bell Declined to Allow His Name to Go to Ballot.

Large Turnout at Conservative Convention in Shelburne Yesterday.

There was a large attendance of delegates and interested spectators at the Conservative Convention in Shelburne yesterday. The hall, which has seating accommodation for about 350 people, was crowded to the doors and a number of those present were obliged to stand all the time the speaking was in progress. As was expected the real fight for the nomination was between Mr. C. R. McKeown, the present representative, and Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel. Mr. Bell sprang a surprise at the last moment by declining to allow his name to go to the ballot. The rev. gentleman was doubtless influenced to take this course by the feeling prevalent among his supporters that the majority of the delegates had been successfully lined up for his opponent. Mr. Bell, however, had a strong following in the Convention, and would probably have secured about 90 votes had he seen fit to divide the delegates. Rev. Mr. Bell was rather severe on Mr. McKeown, charging him with inactivity during his term in the Legislature. He made it plain that he had nothing against the present member personally, but maintained that he had not been aggressive enough and had done practically nothing for the constituency he represented.

The Convention was called for one o'clock, but it was half an hour later when President Wm. Pacey called the big meeting to order. Mr. Pacey wasted no time in preliminaries, but immediately appointed Messrs. G. M. Vance, Robt. Gallaugher and Mayor Riddell a committee on credentials, and then announced that he was ready to receive nominations, and would allow 15 minutes for that purpose.

The following were placed in nomination :—G. M. Vance, Shelburne; W. A. Wansbrough and Alfred Menary, Amaranth; Rev. W. M. Morris, Mayor Riddell and Mr. C. R. McKeown, Orangeville; Dr. G. I. Campbell, Grand Valley, and Rev. J. R. Bell, Laurel.

The meeting decided to give actual candidates 30 minutes, and other nominees 5 minutes each in which to express their views.

Mr. McKeown, who was the first speaker, stated that he was a real candidate, and if again elected would serve the people of the riding as a staunch, an unswerving and an unbiased Conservative. He had brought back to the Convention the standard it had placed in his hands four years ago, and presented it to the delegates free from stain or dishonor. Among the reasons why he was proud to represent the riding as a supporter of Sir James Whitney, whom he characterized as the best Premier the Province ever had, Mr. McKeown instanced the hydro-electric policy of the present Administration, its activity in opening up and developing New Ontario, the breaking up of the school book ring and the important reform introduced by Hon. W. J. Hanna in the treatment of prisoners. Many of the prisoners in the provincial gaol were not hardened criminals, but young men who had simply gone astray and needed only training and another opportunity to set them right again. By means of the prison farm and education the Government proposed to give these men a chance to become useful citizens. Mr. McKeown reviewed at some length his bill for the taxation of educational and religious institutions, pointing out that it would compel private and denominational schools, which came into competition with the public schools to pay their share of the public taxes. He also dealt with the amendment to the High Schools Act, which requires that all trustees reside in the High School district. This he admitted worked a hardship in Dufferin by depriving the Orangeville High School of the services of Rev. J. R. Bell, who had proved a most useful member. When he called the attention of the Minister of Education to this, the latter had admitted the injustice in this particular instance but took the ground that as a rule great difficulty was experienced in getting members who lived at a distance to attend the meetings. The speaker said he had received several invitations to assist Conservative candidates in neighbouring constituencies, and regretted that he was likely to be unable to go outside his own riding because of the nomination of Mr. R. J. Woods. Mr. McKeown then proceeded to pay his respects to Mr. Woods for his advocacy of reciprocity prior to the last Dominion election and charged him with failing to exercise his franchise at that election. The member closed with a stirring appeal for support from the Convention and the party at large in the event of an election.

Rev. J. R. Bell stated that he was not before the Convention in the capacity in which he appeared from his own choice, but at the request of a number of representative Conservative electors who had the best interests of the County at heart. He had received a great deal of kind advice in a public way respecting his candidature, for all of which he felt duly grateful and desired to return his thanks publicly. Some people thought a minister should not take part in politics, but to his way of thinking there was no more noble calling than that of the clean, upright politician. He had been a resident of the County of Dufferin for twenty years and had labored to the best of his ability for the best interests and advancement of its people. He had been instrumental with others in bringing into the County a district representative of the Department of Agriculture, had some measure of responsibility for the existence of the present system of scholarships in Orangeville High School and had taken part in the organization of the Dufferin Trustees Association. In the real active work of education in the County those who had interested themselves had received no assistance from the members of either House of Parliament. Mr. Bell expressed his conviction that every public official who did his duty ought to be retained in office irrespective of his political leanings, while every official who had lost the confidence of the people ought to be removed and a better man put in his place. If he was the representative of the County he would use his influence in favor of clean, honest and progressive government. Mr. Bell explained that he had been a supporter of the present member at the last two elections and had supported him in the hope that he would do the work that the people had elected him to do. Mr. McKeown was a good citizen and a good politician, but no person would ever accuse him of being a statesman. In the words of one of his own supporters he was "a good fellow, but you have to keep pushing him." He was opposed to the present representative, not as a man, or a citizen, but because of what he had failed to do. Mr. Bell proceeded to denounce machine methods in politics and proclaimed that while he would always be a Conservative he was unalterably opposed to the suppression of freedom of thought, speech and action by any party machine. He charged that those in the ring had recently made arrangements for the representation of Dufferin for five or six years to come Regarding his position before the Convention Mr. Bell stated in closing that he was prepared to abide by the decision of the people, for in his opinion the will of the people ought to be supreme.

V. A. Statia, publisher of the Dufferin Post, was given an opportunity to make an explanation respecting certain statements concerning the attitude of that journal.

G. M. Vance, who spoke briefly, expressed the belief that the Convention was representative and honestly chosen, said that Mr. McKeown and Mr. Bell were both good men and stated that he did not think it did the Conservative party any good for candidates to throw out remarks that were likely to cause trouble.

Dr. Campbell, Grand Valley, was not a candidate and admitted that he had not received any letters and had not been visited by any deputations urging him to stand the convention.

Rev. W. M. Morris thought every minister should be interested in politics, but not a mere party follower who would drag in the mire at the wheel of the party chariot. He criticised Mr. McKeown for his inaction, his attitude in voting to increase the sessional indemnity to $1400, and applied to him the quotation, 'Neither did I transgress, nor did I do anything else."

Mayor Riddell, W. A. Wansbrough and Alfred Menary spoke briefly, withdrawing their names.

Preparations were then made to clear the hall for the ballotting, but before this was done Mr. Bell made the announcement that he would not allow his name to go before the Convention. Mr. McKeown was thereupon declared the choice of the Convention. The nominee made a brief speech thanking the delegates for the honor they had done him and appealing to all Conservatives for their hearty support should be have opposition.

The report of the Committee on credentials placed the voting strength of the Convention at 219, distributed as follows :—East Garafraxa, 20; Melancthon, 35; Mono, 36; Mulmur, 33; Orangeville, 32; Grand Valley, 9; Shelburne, 13; East Luther, 16; Amaranth, 25.

DAUGHTERS OF THE EMPIRE.

The regular monthly meeting of the Lord Dufferin Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire will be held at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) R. W. Rooney, on Friday afternoon, at 3.30 o'clock.

While engaged in putting up a hay fork track, Messrs. H. A. and Frank Rutherford, of Bolton, met with an accident which might easily have proved very serious. The scaffold, on which Frank was working, gave way, and crashed to the barn floor, striking his father who was standing directly beneath. Both men were knocked out for a few moments, Frank sustaining a bruised head, and a broken ankle, and his father a nasty scalp wound.

PALGRAVE.

(Intended for last week.)

Perhaps one of the oldest and most highly respected pioneers, one of the most unique, one of the most beautiful characters in the county of Peel passed away to her reward on Friday, Oct. 13th, 1911, of broncho-pneumonia, after only a few days' illness, in the person of Jane Moffatt, relict of the late John Rolley, of the 7th line, of the township of Albion, County of Peel. Deceased was born on what is commonly known as "The Ridges," 88 years ago, and was married on Nov. 15th, 1845, being then in her 17th year. She was the mother of four sons and three daughters, and the happy possessor of 21 grandchildren, and 23 great-grandchildren. The deceased was a most devoted wife and affectionate mother and spent almost her entire married life on the 5th line of Albion, where she died and where her life was most usefully spent from her pioneer days, working in the best interests of home and church. She was a devoted member of the Anglican Church, and was interred by her beloved pastor, Rev. Mr. Westney, at St. Alban's Church, beside her late husband, who had shared with her their common joys and sorrows. The pallbearers were her grandchildren, Fred. Marshall, Leslie Marshall, Henry Matson, David Matson, John Matson, Robt. Mat-

BLOUNT.

The regular meeting of Blount Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Donaldson, on Thursday, Nov. 2nd. The meeting was opened with the singing of "The Maple Leaf." Mrs. Wm. McEwan gave a very interesting discourse on "Curing Meat." There were visitors from Momo Mills, Lucille, Connor and Orangeville. The other entertainers being unable to be present the meeting was brought to a close by singing The National Anthem, after which lunch was served.

MARSVILLE.

A grand concert was given in Marsville School House last night under the auspices of the local Branch of the Women's Institute. The programme consisted of an interesting address by Mr. H. A. Dorrance, B.S.A., of Orangeville; recitations by Miss Edna Campbell, Orangeville, Mr. Furness and Master Leonard Edwards, a duet by Miss Peden and Mr. Thompson, music by the Hillsburg orchestra, gramophone and instrumental selections and a dialogue, entitled, "Double Laced." Mr. S. Beggs, teacher in the Marsville school, occupied the chair. The audience was both large and appreciative.

GLENCROSS.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woolner, of Caledon, spent Sunday with friends in the community.

It is with regret that Miss A. Moffatt's many friends learn that she is not recovering, as they would expect, from her serious illness.

Messrs. J. and S. T. Still are in Muskoka, hunting at present.

We are sorry to note that Mr. Wm. Coulter is suffering from a severe attack of tonsilitis, but we hope he will speedily recover.

Mr. Addison Allen, of Collingwood, is visiting his parents at present.

The members of Glencross congregation were very pleasantly surprised when Mr. C. Oke addressed us on Sunday, Oct. 29th, in the interests of the Dominion Temperance Alliance. Mr. Oke was with us for three weeks about last 'Xmas as a student, and while here won the highest regard of everyone. We are pleased to note that his appeal for funds for the temperance cause was quite liberally responded to.

MARSVILLE.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Gibson, 10th line, was the scene of a pretty event on Tuesday of last week, the occasion being the marriage of their second daughter, Elsie Winnifred, to Mr. Adam Reeves, of Fergus. The ceremony was performed at 12.30 noon, by the Rev. R. S. Scott, in the presence of a few of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The wedding march was rendered by Mrs. Lavery, of Fergus. The bride, who was given away by her father, was prettily attired in cream serge and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by her sister, Miss Ethel, who was also neatly attired in brown silk and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The groom was supported in the trying ordeal by his brother, Charles, of Guelph. After the ceremony all repaired to the dining room, where a sumptuous repast was served in excellent style, after which the happy couple left by automobile for Elora, where they took the 5 p.m. train for Toronto. Upon their return they will reside in Fergus, the groom being one of the proprietors of the Fergus Laundry.

MELANCTHON.

Between two and three inches of snow fell here on Thursday morning, the 2nd, inst.

Many of the farmers have their turnips still in the ground.

Our general merchant, Mr. W. J. Campbell, reports business rather dull, but he is putting in a full stock for the fall and winter trade.

Considerable grain is already coming into Melanchton market these days. Several cars of potatoes were also recently shipped from this station.

The surrounding woods resound with the firing of guns and the barking of dogs every day, and it may be that some of our local Nimrods are exceeding the limit in the evident wholesale slaughter of game.

Those, who have a large yield of potatoes, are making money this fall. It is said that a neighbor sold $200.00 worth already. And yet tourists, who is passing through here on the train, say they would not have the land in Melanchton as a gift. They evidently know little about it.

A fashionable wedding was to have taken place —according to report — last Wednesday, but now it is said it will not come off until after the roses bloom next June.

The following spent Thanksgiving abroad :—Mrs. Barrett and granddaughter, Reta McLennan, at Caledon East; Mr. Wm. Henry, Sr., at Owen Sound; Michael Culliton; Patrick McCue, Elliot Stoddart and John Martin, at Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. James Rolston, at Hamilton.

Mrs. Robert Armstrong, Misses Slack and McComb, of Toronto, spent Thanksgiving at their former homes in Melanchton.

ALTON.

The Scotch Dinner and Concert given in the Congregatsonal Church on Hallowe'en night, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, was very successful from a financial viewpoint, the net proceeds amounting to $45. An excellent programme was provided, the important feature being a very acceptable dramatic rendering of "The Cotter's Saturday Night," by local talent. Miss Margaret Hill officiated in the difficult role of accompanist.

The Village Trustees have taken over the new Park near the C. P. R station and will proceed with the work of fitting up and improving the grounds. The property was bought and paid for by the Women's Institute, to whose initiative and energy our citizens are indebted for this very necessary and useful civic improvement.

The Women's Institute has appointed Mrs. J. H. Motheral and Mrs. J. A. Lovell as its representatives to the tenth annual meeting of the Women's Institutes of Ontario, which is being held in Toronto on Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. W. Dorrington, one of the active members of the local Society, will address the Provincial meeting on Wednesday evening, on the subject, "Local Improvement."

Mr. J. W. Bengough, the famous cartoonist, will give one of his inimitable programmes in the Congregational Church on Monday evening, November 20th. Mr. Bengough will appear here under the auspices of the local branch of the Women's Institute. The admission has been fixed at 35, 25 and 15 cents.

CONNOR.

Connor L. O. L. 125 celebrated the 6th of November by holding a Fowl Supper on Monday evening. About 60 members and friends were present, including such a good proportion of ladies, than after the geese, ducks and other fowl had disappeared, it did not take the boys long to clear the room, and the rest of the evening was devoted to dancing. Messrs. Fred and Percy Williams handled the violins to everybody's satisfaction, and when the meeting broke up shortly after midnight, one and all declared themselves perfectly satisfied with a most delightful time which not even Jupiter Pluvius, who was in his very best, or worst, form had been able to damp in the slightest degree.

CHARLESTON.

We hear that the Liberals of this County finished their labors of choosing a candidate on Saturday last by bringing out a Mr. Smith as their standard bearer in the coming contest. No doubt the idea is that the name will inspire the party as in the days of the immortal John, but the electors of this County are not so easily jostled in their political opinions and are not likely to drop the substance and grab at a shadow.

Owing to a strike among the workmen nothing is being done on the County road south of here, and the road is left in a deplorable state, and should be put in shape before winter sets in. We hope it won't be necessary to call on the Hon. Robert Rogers to adjust matters, but would like to see something doing as the highway is nearly impassable since the recent heavy rains.

A large number of our young people met in the Town Hall on Saturday night and organized a Good-Fellowship Society. A good programme is arranged for next Saturday night to commence at eight o'clock. All are welcome.

Rev. W. M. Morris, of Orangeville, preached very acceptably in Knox church last Sunday night.

Mr. Thompson Nesbitt and his sister, Mamie, visited friends at Everett last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hillock have taken up their residence on Main St., south, and will be at home again to their friends after the fifteenth inst.

The municipal pot is beginning to boil and judging from the sounds that are coming from within there is likely to be a hot time for some of our councillors, as we hear of some new blood being offered which would be very acceptable to the ratepayers. So far Mr. W. J. Limebeer is the only name mentioned for Reeve and should be met with approval as he deserves the honor without a contest.

NEW SCHOOL REGULATIONS

Copies of the new regulations and course of study, for the Public and High Schools, have been distributed by the Educational Department. An examination of these reveals a number of important changes. Grammar is no longer on the course of study for the third class of the Public School, and the course in this subject for fourth classes has been considerably amplified. The course in geography for all classes in the Public schools has been radically changed. Physical commercial, and economic geography is to receive much greater attention than it has in the past. An effort is to be made to adapt the course of study in each school to the needs and special conditions of the locality. In schools with only one teacher the trustees may substitute for art and nature study, one or more of the following subjects: Domestic science, manual training, elementary agriculture. Physical culture is obligatory in all classes in the Public Schools, and a manual will shortly be issued by the Education Department for the guidance of the teacher in taking up the subject. A two years' course of study is outlined for fifth classes. On completing the first year's course a pupil may take an examination which will entitle him to junior graduation diploma; but these examinations will be conducted by the Education Department and either diploma will admit the pupil to a High School. The character and scope of the entrance examination is unchanged, but in future it will be known as the Junior Entrance examination. This examination loses much of its importance from the fact that there are three other ways of securing admission to High School, namely, (1) by means of a junior graduation deparoment, (2) by means of a senior graduation diploma and (3), by passing the senior High School entrance examination. The latter examination admits the candidate to the middle school of the High School. With a view to securing more favorable weather conditions, the foregoing examinations and, also, the examination for admission to the faculties of Education and the Normal schools are to be completed by 30th of June.

PALGRAVE.

(Intended for last week.)

Perhaps one of the oldest and most highly respected pioneers, one of the most unique, one of the most beautiful characters in the county of Peel passed away to her reward on Friday, Oct. 27th, 1911, of broncho-pneumonia, after only a few days' illness, in the person of Jane Moffatt, relict of the late John Rolley, of the 7th line, of the township of Albion, County of Peel. Deceased was born on what is commonly known as "The Ridges," 93 years ago, and was married on Nov. 15th, 1845, being then in her 17th year. She was the mother of four sons and three daughters, and the happy possessor of 21 grandchildren, and 23 great-grandchildren. The deceased was a most devoted wife and affectionate mother and spent almost her entire married life on the 7th line of Albion, where she died and where her life was most usefully spent from her pioneer days, working in the best interests of home and church. She was a devoted member of the Anglican Church, and was interred by her beloved pastor, Rev. Mr. Westney, at St. Alban's Church, beside her late hus band, who had shared with her their common joys and sorrows. The pallbearers were her grandchildren, Fred. Marshall, Leslie Marshall, Henry Matson, David Matson, John Matson, Robt. Matson. Mr. Westney preached a very appropriate sermon over the remains, from II Kings, chap. 13, verse 21: "And it came to pass as they were burying a man that behold they spied a band of men and they cast the man into the sepulchre of Elisha and when the man was let down and touched the bones of Elisha he revived and stood up on his feet." Time and space will not permit the writer to philosophize too long on the many sterling qualities of the departed. It will suffice to say that in her life and death we have a precept that younger men and women would do well to adopt and imitate, and it would be well for the fair province of Ontario had she many more such useful and well spent lives within her borders. It is from such useful lives that we look for all the best elements that go to make for the great national life of our country. We are not permitted to penetrate the veil that separates the living from the dead, much as we all desire to do so, but if we could we would behold her dressed in robes of righteousness and a worthy guest at the marriage supper of the Lamb. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their bereavement.

LAUREL.

(Intended for last week.)

The weather for Thanksgiving was all that could be desired, and our little town was made rejoice by the re-union of old and true friends, who called to spend the festive time in our town and vicinity. We love the social spirit. It does us good to meet with friends and to bid them welcome to our homes.

Among those who visited friends here were Mr. and Mrs. Fraleigh, of London Mrs. Fraleigh is a sister of Mr. Geo. Walker, of this place. They are an old couple, both being over 75 years of age. Both are smart for their years and well able to travel. Two cousins of Mr. J. A. Hughes, our popular merchant, were visiting friends here and returned to Toronto on Monday evening. We were also pleased to have Miss Annie Wilkinson, of Toronto, visiting in our neighborhood again. Mrs. John Wallace, of Orangeville, came out to spend Thanksgiving with her son, Mr. T. W. Wallace, and his good wife. It is now nearly two years since this dear old lady last visited her son here and in honor of their mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace invited in a few of her old friends, who spent a very happy and enjoyable evening together.

Mr. Whittle, lately junior pastor of the Laurel Circuit, dropped off the train on Friday morning and spent a short time renewing acquaintanceships here.

Mr. Walter Gray gave a party to a few choice friends on Thanksgiving night. A good time is reported.

Communion service was held in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon. The church was well filled and the service was very impressive.

Thanksgiving services were held in the Methodist Church morning and evening. In the morning the service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. S. Stevenson, who took for his subject the words, "The harvest is past." The sermon was very impressive and one long to be remembered. In the evening Rev. Mr. Hone preached to a crowded church upon the theme, "The Sin of Ingratitude." The collections for the day amounted to $90.

Laurel Methodist Epworth League held a re-union of junior and senior Leagues on Tuesday evening. A good programme was given and refreshments served afterwards. A really enjoyable evening was spent.

WHITTINGTON.

The Whittington Branch of the Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. W. T. Leader, on Tuesday afternoon, November 14th. Subjects, "Friendship" and "Preparation for Winter."

Mr. Thomas Hall, of East Luther, is having a series of misfortunes. The other day his daughter in attending her brother who is in bed from an operation for appendicitis, fell on the stairway and dislocated her elbow.

Warden Fox, of Drayton, with three Guelph men, was injured in an auto accident recently. The trestle rod of the machine broke. This let the drive shaft down throwing the rear end of the car up in the air. Mr. Fox and Mr. Nicol Jeffrey, who were in the back seat, were pitched out over the front of the car receiving some bad bruises. The party were on their way from Galt, where they had gone on county business.

FARMERS' MEETINGS.

That there is need for farmers' meetings goes without saying. If we take the business world we will find that much of the progress that has been made in railroading, banking, manufacturing, and in fact in almost all the professions has come from the meeting together of the men engaged in the work and each learning from his fellow worker. The men engaged in these various lines of work hold meetings from time to time in order that they may come together and learn from each other.

Imagine a man starting into one of these professions or a business without very much experience in his line of work and let him go on without attending the meetings of the other men in his business where he could learn something from these men. If it were possible to imagine such, what sort of business or store would be conducted? Apply this to the farm. Many farmers have started farming without much experience, and if they have not learned from their neighbors or other sources their methods are not the most up to date. In agriculture there are so many things requiring knowledge and skill that farmers should come together more often than any other class of people in order to learn from each other, and in case of difficulty have men from other places give them assistance.

Further than this, on account of the of the isolated nature of rural communities, there is need of farmers coming together for sake of the social intercourse. The families need it and if this feature of farm life received greater attention there would be a possibility of more of our young people remaining on the farm. More than ever in this present age have we need of this working together and profiting by each other's experience. This is the feature of the work that has done much to make the large corporations the success that they have been.

Many of the operations on the farm are carried on in expensive ways. The best way of learning how to reduce the cost of these methods is for the farmers to get together and discuss the various ways that each has found to be the best in his experience. Meetings of this kind cannot fail to be of benefit to those attending such meetings.

Give this matter your serious consideration and think of the many things about which you would like assistance or your neighbors' opinion. Discuss the idea with your neighbor and plan to organize a Farmers' Club in your district. Your District Representative will give you full instructions for organization and direct the work of your Club.

The ratepayers of Newmarket will vote on a by-law to loan $25,000 to a company which will manufacture automobiles in that town.

The Ontario Government will grant $10,000 a year for the operation of the hygienic institute in connection with Victoria Hospital, London.

In Dread of Something

You can scarcely tell what—it may be Hysteria, Insanity, Nervous Collapse.

You can only throw off this depression when the nerve cells are restored to health by such treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Your digestive system has failed to supply proper nourishment to the nerves and you are compelled to seek aid from other sources.

It will take some patience and persistent treatment, but there is no way by which you can so certainly restore health and vigor as by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

The best time to restore the nervous system is long before such a critical condition is reached. Such symptoms as sleeplessness, headaches, nervous indigestion, muscular weakness, loss of energy, failure of memory and power of concentration, irritability and discouragement tell of a failure of the nervous system and warn you of the approach of serious trouble.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

100 LOCAL OPTION FIGHTS.

Ontario Over Half Dry—259 Licenses In Danger Now—Where Will Axe Fall?

War in earnest is being waged by the temperance forces in Ontario, and on New Year's Day nearly 100 municipalities will vote on local option.

Of the 822 municipalities in the Province, 433 are "dry." Of the 389 still under license there are 136 where local option by-laws failed to carry in 1910 or 1911, and where, therefore, it will be impossible for contests to be brought on in January next.

There are only 244 municipalities under license in which campaigns are possible. Voting will take place in about one-third of these. This year the proportion of contests to the places open for attack is greater than ever.

In 1909 there were 97 Ontario municipalities where local option by-laws had been in force three years or more and where, therefore, repeal was possible. The liquor interests brought on voting in 29 places; 27 sustained local option; 2 repealed.

In 1910 there were 111 possible repeal contests. Voting took place in 12 places. Local option was sustained in 10, and repealed in two.

In 1911, however, there were 134 municipalities where local option by-laws had been in force for three years or more, and three municipalities voted. All sustained the law.

Elated by the success of the past few years, the temperance workers are going into the new contests with increased confidence. The liquor men will most certainly offer a more determined resistance than ever before. The liquor activity will show itself not only in opposition to the carrying of local option and the places where the temperance people are the attacking parties, but they are adopting the strategy of a counter-attack, and are endeavoring to bring on repeal contests in every possible place. Owing to the partial lifting of the lid by the Government in regard to law enforcement, this plan is meeting with more or less success, and the prospect now is that out of about 150 possible repeal contests voting will take in perhaps 8 per cent. of the places.

There are some interesting features in connection with this year's campaign. Three or four cities will likely be in line, including the twin cities of Port Arthur and Fort William. Here the contest promises to be a hot one.

A number of other places in New Ontario will also vote, including four municipalities in the Rainy River district, three in Manitoulin Island, the town of Blind River in Algoma, the municipalities of Dack in Temiskaming, including the village of Charlton.

Most of the other contests are in Western Ontario. Last year the fight was largely in Eastern Ontario. Haldimand county has the largest number of contests. There 11 municipalities will likely vote. In Norfolk county five or six places, including the county seat of Simcoe, will be in line. Kent county will be the scene of a big struggle, where six municipalities, including the city of Chatham, will test the public opinion on the question. In Lambton county the present likelihood is that every municipality in which a contest is possible, outside of Sarnia and Point Edward, will be in the fight.

In 1875 there were 6,185 licenses granted to the province of Ontario. To-day there are about 1,875. Involved in the present local option contests are 259 licenses. It certainly looks as though there would be something doing along temperance lines in the province of Ontario this fall.

The following is a complete list of the places where contests will likely be held, with the number of licenses at present granted in each:

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely relieve constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, nothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless, and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

The rate of taxation in Oakville is twenty-five and one-fifth mills this year. The water and light commission will pay $4000 into the town funds, $3000 from the waterworks, and $1000 from the electric light service.

TERRIBLE HEADACHES

Trouble Merchant Drives To Despair By The Pain.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

TRENTON, Ont. Jan. 29th, 1909.

"I was a dreadful sufferer for many years from Stomach and Liver Trouble—but my greatest suffering was from violent headaches. They were so distressing that I almost had to give up my business. I went to Toronto, consulted specialists and wore glasses, but nothing did me any good and the headaches became intolerable.

I was then induced to try "Fruit-a-tives" and from the beginning, I was better, and in a short time I was quite well again—no more headaches—and I threw my glasses away.

"Fruit-a-tives" not only cured my headaches, but completely cured me of all indigestion, and restored me to perfect health again." W. J. McCOMB.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest cure for headaches in the world and is the only medicine made of fruit juices.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Headaches, Indigestion and all Stomach and Bowel Troubles. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Suggestive Questions

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Club.

NOV. 12th, 1911.

World's Temperance Sunday. Belshazzar's Feast and Fate. Dan. v.

Golden Text—God shall bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good, or whether it be evil. Eccl. xii:14.

(1) Verse 1—Of what country was Belshazzar the king?

(2) What is the social, intellectual and moral value, of "smokers" and drinking parties?

(3) What is the general effect of the practice of men standing up to the bar and drinking?

(4) Verses 2-3—What was the moral or spiritual quality of the act of drinking out of the gold and silver vessels that had been taken from the Temple at Jerusalem?

(5) Does the first "taste" or the first influence of wine, stir the noble, or the ignoble passions in a man?

(6) Verse 4—When a man is drunk, what is likely to be the quality of his worship?

(7) What do men, who are given to strong drink, generally worship?

(8) Verses 5-6—By whom was this writing on the wall probably done?

(9) Would you think a similar phenomenon probable, or even possible, to-day?

(10) What was it that really struck such terror to the king's heart?

(11) What would you say is the limit of the possibilities of a guilty conscience, to create remorse and agony of soul?

(12) Verses 7-9—When we are in trouble or perplexity about the future, is it of any service to us to try and get light from any human being, and if so, how and from whom?

(13) Why is there no need for a true follower of God to be in any dread of the future, no matter what weird or mysterious circumstances may surround him?

(14) Would it have been possible for any true follower of God, no matter how timid, to have been terror stricken as Belshazzar was? Give your reasons.

(15) Verses 10-12—Was this queen the wife, or the mother of Belshazzar?

(16) If this queen had been one of the merry wine drinking party, would she be in condition to have given such sane advice to her son?

(17) Who was Daniel, the man the queen mother recommended, and what had he done to be spoken of so highly by her?

(18) What is the only means of giving ease to a guilty conscience?

(19) Verses 13-23—What was the accusation which Daniel brought against Belshazzar?

(20) Was there ever any man who escaped the natural consequences of his wrong doing?

(21) Verses 24-31—What reason is there to believe that practically the same doom is written against every sinner as was against Belshazzar? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club).

POPULAR MAJORITY 38,884.

Ontario Voted Heavily Conservative at Recent General Election.

Incomplete Returns Show Turnover of Upwards of 60,000 Votes.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—With the returns from Dufferin, Glengarry, West Middlesex, East Simcoe, Stormont, and South York still to come in, and with Welland and Thunder Bay returning members by acclamation, 78 Ontario constituencies gave a popular majority of 54,854 against the Liberals. There were 245,142 Conservative and 190,288 Liberal votes cast.

The Clerk of the Crown in Chancery has received official returns of votes cast in the last general election of 194 of the 221 Canadian constituencies. In the 194 constituencies for which there have been returns rendered, 569,670 votes were cast for Conservative candidates, while the aggregate Liberal vote totals 531,886, showing the popular majority for the Conservative Government to have been 37,774 on returns so far received.

Ten of the missing constituencies returned Conservatives, and fifteen of them Liberals. So far only one Alberta constituency has sent its return. In Toronto alone the Conservative majority amounted to over 25,000.

Ontario easily carries off the palm as the main contributory factor in the turn-over. The Conservative majority so far is 55,000, and this will grow when the figures are received from strongholds like South York, where the majority was 5,000; Dufferin and East Simcoe.

The Liberals led in Quebec by about 11,000, but this will be reduced when the figures are complete. In Nova Scotia there is a Liberal plurality of 1,931, to be slightly increased by the vote in South Cape Breton, which returned a Liberal. In New Brunswick the Liberals led by 912, and this will be increased by about 600.

In Prince Edward Island the Borden Ministry had 600 majority.

In the West, the figures from Manitoba indicate a lead of 2,000 so far for the Government, and this will be swelled. The incomplete returns from Saskatchewan and Alberta will be largely Liberal.

As the Liberals had a popular majority last time of 24,000, the turn-over will aggregate upwards of 60,000. The largest majority was that recorded for E. B. Osler in West Toronto. It was slightly over 8,000. The biggest Liberal majority was Dr. Neely's in Humboldt. It exceeded 4,000.

The missing constituencies are: Cape Breton South, Northumberland, N.B., Queen's, Sunbury, Montcalm, Nicolet, Joliette, Yamaska, Dufferin, Glengarry, West Middlesex, South York, East Simcoe, MacDonald, Provencher, Winnipeg, Battleford, MacKenzie, Saskatoon, Comox-Atlin and Alberta, except Medicine Hat.

Returns by provinces are as follows:—

	Govt.	Opp.
Nova Scotia	50,303	52,234
New Brunswick	34,134	35,046
Prince Edward Isld.	14,638	13,988
Quebec	148,305	160,343
Ontario	245,142	190,288
Manitoba	22,878	20,876
Saskatchewan	25,683	38,043
Alberta	4,875	6,340
British Columbia	23,812	14,728
Totals	570,770	531,886

The death of Robert White, aged 99 years and 2 months, occurred at Kincardine on Oct. 25th. He was a native of Ireland, and came to Canada in 1858. He was the oldest known Orangeman in Canada, having been a member of the Order for 82 years.

Mr. George Henry, of Howick, caps them all for big potatoes. He brought in six the other day, which filled a fair-sized basket. Two of them weigh 2½ pounds each, and the others over 2 pounds each. Mr. Henry calls them "Borden Victors." —Harriston Review.

A week ago Friday, Reginald, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Blyth, of Petherton, met with a nasty accident. He was running along beside a wagon loaded with gravel when he slipped and fell. The hind wheel of the wagon passed over one leg bruising it badly and cracking one of the bones.

While out shooting on Thanksgiving Day, Geo. Rogers, of Creemore, met with an accident that might have cost him the sight of one eye. He had loaded his gun with an extra charge of shot and when the hammer struck the cap the latter broke to pieces and struck Mr. Rogers on the side of the face causing the blood to flow quite freely.

The Collingwood Bulletin advocates a separation of the town from the county, which it says would mean a saving of money to the ratepayers. Instead of the town having to contribute to the county annually $5000 or $6000 and receive in return a few hundred dollars in the form of begrudged grants for roads, the town would have the whole amount to spend as desired.

Samuel Johnston of the 10th line, Nottawasaga, who, with his daughter, was thrown out of his buggy on account of his horse taking fright at account of his horse taking fright at a pile of telephone poles in Osprey last summer, billed the Osprey Council with $200 damages. The Council, however, are not inclined to pay it, and unless a settlement is made a lawsuit is likely to follow.

An explosion in the work room of Dr. Preston's dental office in Creemore did considerable damage the other day. The doctor had been operating the vulcanizer, and though the pressure was not so high as required, for some reason unknown, it blew up, knocking the window out and scattering things around the room quite regardless. Fortunately, however, the doctor did not happen to be in the path of any of the flying missiles and therefore escaped without a scratch.

The town constable of Alliston, Robert Holmes, met with a sudden death a week ago Friday afternoon. A trench about six feet deep had been dug across Main street to make a connection with the water main, and he got down into it to show the workmen how to lay the pipes. While he was in the trench the sides caved in, covering him with stones and earth clear up to his neck. He was dug out as quickly as possible, but the weight of earth had crushed in his ribs so that they penetrated his lungs, and he died in about an hour after.

According to the statistical report just issued by the Dept. of Agriculture for Ontario the population of Dufferin county is as follows:— Amaranth 2084, East Garafraxa 1518, East Luther 1258, Melanethon 2896, Mono 2445, Mulmur 2796, Grand Valley 686, Shelburne 1124, Orangeville, 2321. Ben. McKim, of Camilla, who works as a thresher with James Smith, met with a serious accident on Tuesday. He was driving one of the teams with the threshing outfit to Alex. McDonald's. The head team started off before he was ready and his team also started, and as he was mixed up in the lines he was thrown down and the front wheel of the heavy wagon passed over his right arm at the elbow, smashing and mangling it badly. He held on to the lines or he would have been killed by the hind wheel passing over him. Dr. S. T. White attended to his injuries.—Free Press.

CALEDON EAST.

Thanksgiving Day passed off quietly. Beyond the usual influx of visitors there was scarcely a ripple on the calm serenity which pervades almost uninterruptedly our village routine of business and pleasure. Of course this serenity was pretty well ruffled by the reciprocity battle but the waves of strife have abated and everything is going just as before. But while going to press, as the editors say, Sir James Whitney starts another wave and the political waters are troubled again. The most significant point about this wave is that even old-time Reformers are voyaging with Whitney, yes, even H.M.

It is reported that Mr. Thos. Hanna intends moving to Toronto.

Mrs. Cornelius Sullivan died on the 28th ult. The burial took place on the 30th. Mrs. Sullivan was an old resident of this vicinity and in life was highly respected. Her husband predeceased her about a year and a half ago.

A Mr. Quigg, of Toronto, was arraigned before Justices Thos. Hanna and Dr. Alexander for stealing a valuable hound from Mr. Robert Moore. The evidence, while somewhat conflicting, as to the defendant's actual participation in the theft, yet was sufficiently strong to warrant inflicting a fine and costs. Mr. Moore, aided by the valuable detective sagacity of Mr. Martin Stonehouse, succeeded in recovering his dog.

The Rev. Mr. Gandier, of the Anglican local parish, moves this week to Coboconk, Victoria County. On the evening of the 25th, the members of St. James' congregation augmented by a number of others, met in the parsonage and presented Mr. Gandier with a purse of $60. The presentation was made by Miss Irene Hutchinson. Speeches were made by Messrs. T. Hanna, J. T. Scott, W. J. Hutchinson, H. Bracken, R. Langdon and Revs. Matheson and Petch. Vocal and instrumental music was supplied by Messrs. W. Burrell and Gandier and Mrs. John Evans and Mrs. Toase. Mr. W. Rippon presided, and Mr. W. L. Judge read the address, which was as follows:

To the Rev. George Gandier:

Having learned that you are about to sever your connection with this parish and this neighborhood we, your parishioners of St. James and others, assemble with you this evening to express to you and to your family our appreciation of your worth as citizens of this community, to express also as members of St. James, our deep obligation for the untiring, able, zealous sympathetic manner in which you and your family, as pastor and co-workers, ministered, both in service and in song, to the spiritual uplifting, and enlightenment of your people. The relationship of a pastor to his people is close, continuous and abiding. It begins with the baptismal font, it is strengthened with the confirmation rite, it is intensified and hallowed with the sacrament of the Lord's Supper, it is cheered and elevated with the joy and sacredness associated with the nuptial ceremony and finally, it reaches its culmination when soul and body are disunited, one to return to God who gave it, the other committed, dust to dust, ashes to ashes.

But this social gathering has other purposes and therefore, as possibly a more material way of emphasizing our good wishes we beg leave to present you with this purse.

In conclusion, let us say that as in our good wishes, we beg leave to people, you rejoiced with them when they rejoiced and sorrowed when they sorrowed, so now, as our paths diverge you may rest assured that their joy when you rejoice, and their sorrow when you sorrow shall remain and abide with you to the end.

EDUCATING THE COLT.

Faulty training is responsible for most of the bad-tempered, unreliable and unmanageable horses.

The colt's education should commence after birth, and the amount of handling which he receives should be increased as time goes on. There is a difference between petting or pampering and teaching the colt. Kindness and patience must be the keynote of the training, but pampering will prove a nuisance, being responsible for many vicious animals. The colt must be dealt with firmly, and made to understand what is expected of him. Teach him to mind what is said to him. Handle his limbs to promote quietness. Get him accustomed to the halter and to being led while yet with his dam. Be gentle with him, yet never leave him unless you have accomplished what you have set out to do. If he beats you once, he will remember it. After weaning, continue the training. Lead him around as much as possible, and, while doing so, teach him to stop when you say "Whoa!" and to start when he is told. This is also a good time to begin teaching him to back, as backing is a part of a horse's work that very few of them do with any willingness or ease. The education must be continuous, not spasmodic. One lesson a week or a month is useless, because in the interim he has largely forgotten his previous work. There is no better stable for a colt than a box stall, but if allowed to run in one of these he should be tied in a narrow stall for a few hours each day, because it is important that he become thoroughly familiar with being tied. A colt that is not halter-broken and tied when young, often gives trouble when he is needed for work later in life, and he has to be put through his education hurriedly, the halter, the bridle and the entire harness being introduced to him in one day. Such colts are very often stubborn and hard to break, and can it be wondered at? Having been allowed freedom so long, they rightfully object to such usage. Many halter-pullers and bad-tempered horses result from such treatment. Do not attempt too much at once, but teach the animal to do carefully and well everything you attempt with him, no matter how simple it is. As time goes on, he should be bitted, and the use of the bit taught him. This will make time, and it is always better if the animal is thoroughly used to the bridle before the harness is placed upon him. A colt never forgets his first harnessing. If he succeeds in getting away or in committing any other bad tricks, he can be depended on to try them again. After he has been harnessed several times, he may be hitched. It is generally better to hitch him beside a good-natured and good-mannered, thoroughly reliable old horse. If such an animal is not available, it is better to hitch him single, as an irritable animal will often bite or kick the awkward colt, and thus cause much trouble. The colt should be driven until he is tired the first time he is hitched. It is not advisable to exhaust his energy, but it is important that he become tired, especially if he is a spirited animal. Driving should be continued each day until he has become thoroughly reliable and handy. The modern colt is easily educated if properly handled. Many generations of domestication have caused him to acquire education readily, and yet there is in the country a larger number of bad-tempered, badly-broken and poorly-educatd horses.—Farmer's Advocate.

Not a question of age

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.

Certain Ingredients That Really Promote Hair Growth when Properly Combined.

Resorcin is one of the most effective germ destroyers ever discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Napthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which destroys the germs which rob the hair of its natural nourishment, and also creates a clean, healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin, although not a coloring matter or dye, is a well-known ingredient for restoring the hair to its natural color, when the loss of hair has been caused by a disease of the scalp.

These ingredients in proper combination, with alcohol added as a stimulant and for its well-defined nourishing properties, perfect perhaps the most effective remedy that is known for scalp and hair troubles.

composed of these ingredients, in com-composed of these ingredients, is combination with other extremely invaluable medicinal agents. We guarantee it to positively cure dandruff and to grow hair, even though the scalp in spots is bare of hair. If there is any vitality left in the roots, it will positively cure baldness, or we will refund your money. If the scalp has a glazed, shiny appearance, it's an indication that baldness is permanent, but in other instances we believe baldness is curable.

We want every one troubled with scalp disease or loss of hair to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. If it does not cure dandruff and grow hair to the satisfaction of the user, we will without question or quibble return every cent paid us for it. We print this guarantee on every bottle. It has effected a positive cure in 93 per cent of cases where put to a practical test.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is entirely unlike, and we think, in every particular, better than anything else we know of for the purpose for which it is prescribed. We urge you to try this preparation at our entire risk. Certainly we know of no better guarantee to give you. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Orangeville only at our store—The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville.

Woods Re-Nominated

Temperance Convention Decides to Place Candidate in Field in Dufferin.

Geo. Ireland, of Shelburne, Elected President of the County Association.

At a meeting of the Dufferin County Temperance and Moral Reform Association held in Shelburne on Friday afternoon, Mr. R. J. Woods, of Melancthon, was again nominated to contest the riding at the Provincial elections. Mr. Woods has already ran two elections as the candidate of the Association, being defeated in both contests by very narrow majorities.

Owing to the busy season and insufficient advertising, the meeting was hardly so well attended as usual. There were, however, over one hundred delegates in attendance and the gathering was a representative one, nearly every municipality in the riding having men present. Mr. Robert Reid, the President, occupied the chair, and Mr. R. G. Sanderson, the Secretary of the Association, was also on the platform.

In compliance with the expressed wish of the Secretary, the meeting appointed a Secretary pro tem. Rev. Dr. McKenzie, of Shelburne, being selected to act in that capacity.

In his introductory remarks President Reid stated that he had now held the Presidency for two years, that he greatly appreciated the honor the temperance people of the County had conferred upon him, and that he had decided to retire, and asked the Association to appoint some person in his stead.

Rev. W. M. Morris, Orangeville, Messrs. George Little and Robert Holmes, Mono, T. C. Hamilton, Grand Valley, and W. R. Campbell, Ruskview, were appointed a Nominating Committee.

Rev. Dr. McKenzie, Shelburne, Mr. R. J. Woods and Rev. Mr. Poole, Grand Valley, were named as a Committee on Resolutions.

While the former Committee was considering its report, Mr. R. J. Woods delivered a short but spirited address, in which he stated that he was out for temperance first, last and all the time. He expressed his unalterable opposition to the three-fifths requirement, and stated that in his opinion the time had arrived for a determined movement to secure provincial prohibition in Ontario. Mr. Woods thought there was something wrong with the law that permitted private parties to purchase kegs or cases of liquor ostensibly for private consumption and thought the sale of liquor should be restricted strictly to dry stores and controlled in exactly the same manner as the sale of poisonous drugs.

The Nominating Committee selected the following officers :—

President—Geo. Ireland, Shelburne.

Sec.-Treas.—E. G. Button, Shelburne.

Vice-Presidents :—Orangeville, F. H. Arkell; Shelburne, T. F. E. Clarridge; Grand Valley, Thos. Watson; Mulmur Wm. Kirkpatrick; Melancthon, Wm. Hudd; Mono, Robt. Holmes; East Garafraxa, S. H. Simpson; East Luther, W. A. Walker; Amaranth, John Johnston.

The report of the Committee was adopted by a unanimous vote.

The report of the Committee on Resolutions was as follows :—

1. That the work of the temperance workers in the municipalities in which local option has been carried be highly commended, and also where they failed.

2. That the lax enforcement of the local option by-law in Orangeville be deplored and that this Association in convention assembled would overture the Provincial authorities to take such steps as shall wipe away the reproach and bring all irregularities to an end.

3. That we further deplore the ease with which law-breakers are able to evade and break the law and that we respectfully ask the Government to help in its better enforcement by the appointment of better officials, and that we further deplore the case and bottle system of purchasing and consuming liquors, evidently so easily practised.

4. That this Convention recognize the long and valued services of the retiring Secretary, Mr. R. G. Sanderson, and that an honorarium of $25 be granted him as a recognition of his services.

An honorarium of $10 was also voted the retiring President, Mr. Robt. Reid.

Rev. W. M. Morris, Jas. Clarke, Robt. Reid, Geo. Little, W. E. Island, R. G. Sanderson, Dr. McKenzie, Wm. Newton, R. H. Halbert and others addressed the meeting briefly.

The question of placing a candidate in the field was then discussed. Considerable difference of opinion developed, some of the speakers expressing themselves in favor of an immediate nomination, while others advocated an adjournment until after the Conservative convention on November 8th. Eventually a motion to nominate a candidate, and an amendment to adjourn until Friday, November 10th, were placed before the Convention. The former was carried and Mr. R. J. Woods was thereupon asked to accept the nomination as the candidate of the Association.

Mr. Woods, who was greeted with hearty applause, stated that he felt it a great honor to be again asked to take the field as a temperance candidate. If he consulted his own interests he would not consent to be a candidate, but he did not think it would be right to decline the candidature that the Association had just offered him. The position had its unpleasant features for it sometimes meant the alienation of one's very best friends, but at the same time he was convinced that if temperance people were to accomplish the ends they desired they must have independent temperance candidates. Regarding the officials of Dufferin, Mr. Woods expressed the belief that if Mr. McKeown would go to Mr. Whitney and say he wanted honest and capable officials appointed he would get them. The speaker deprecated the influence of the party caucus and maintained it was his work on the floor of the House that showed the worth of the representative. The scarcity of teachers showed that the present school law was not working out in the best interests of the people of Ontario. There was evidently something seriously wrong that demanded an early and radical remedy. On the subject of bi-lingualism, Mr. Woods expressed himself in favor of one school, one language and one inspector, and maintained that the constituencies should elect representatives who would not be afraid to take a decided stand when this important question came before the Legislature. In explanation of his declaration for one inspector, the candidate stated that in his opinion the Public School Inspector should inspect all schools that derive any support from the public treasury. He condemned members of the late Legislature for voting to increase the sessional indemnity to $1400, pointing out that highly educated teachers, even in High Schools and Collegiates, received only $1200 or $1500 a year, whereas members of the Legislature drew $1400 for six or eight weeks' work, and at the same time were able to spend a day or two each week at home attending to their private affairs.

In his closing remarks Mr. Woods frankly admitted that he would not like to go through another political campaign and again sustain defeat. He pointed out the importance of united effort and appealed to his supporters to do individual work among their friends and neighbors. With the consent and with the help of the Convention he was in the field to win if possible, and as the representative of the County, should he be elected, would place principle before party, temperance before party, and would do everything he could to clean up the maladministration of justice in Dufferin.

The Convention was brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.

NEURALGIA CURED

This Painful Trouble is due to Poverty of the Blood.

Neuralgia is one of the most painful maladies that afflicts humanity. The trouble is usually seated in the face and head, following the course of some nerve, but it attacks other parts of the system as well. It is characterized by acute pains, sometimes steady, at others spasmodic and darting, headaches and a feeling as though the forehead was a band of iron. Medical authorities agree that neuralgia is a cry of the nerves for better food, and that if the blood is purified and enriched the trouble will disappear. This is the reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure even the most severe cases of neuralgia. They actually make new, rich blood which feeds the tired, starved nerves and thus cure the trouble, at the same time leaving the sufferer in better health in every way than was formerly enjoyed. In proof we give the case of Mr. G. Brooks, of Aurora, Ont., who says: "About two years ago, while working in Collingwood, I was attacked with neuralgia, which became so bad that I was frequently unable to go to work. The pain would start over my right eye and would then spread to the whole face, and caused me the greatest agony. I was under the care of a good doctor, but his treatment did not do more than give me temporary relief, and I was therefore an almost constant sufferer. Acting on the advice of my wife I finally decided to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a trial, and I am profoundly thankful that I did so, as in the course of a few weeks I began to improve, and after a further use of the Pills the trouble disappeared and I have not since had any trace of it. I may also add that while taking the Pills my weight increased by nine pounds, which shows that the Pills are a body builder as well as a nerve restorer."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Clerk read a communication from Messrs. G. L. Pletzer and J. H. Anderson, proprietors of the Orangeville Novelty Works, making application for a loan of $3000, free water and free taxes. The Clerk was instructed to write Messrs. Pletzer & Anderson regarding the security they are prepared to offer and the terms on which they wish to repay the loan. Later in the evening the two gentlemen put in an appearance in person and were given an opportunity to address the Council.

The Hamilton & Lewitt Co. wrote that they had been unable to get a meeting of their directors to consider the agreement under which the town offers assistance to start a factory here and suggested that the submitting of a by-law be allowed to stand over until the municipal elections.

The Mayor, Reeve and Deputy-Reeve were appointed a special committee to wind up certain business matters between the Town and the Hurndall Novelty Manfg. Co. Certain accounts, which the town has against the Company, will have to be adjusted before the balance of the insurance money can be paid over and the mortgage discharged. According to the Corporation's way of looking at the matter there is a balance of $1090.98 due the Company. This is arrived at as follows :—

Mrs. Geo. Leflar, of Shelburne, returned a cheque for $10, sent her a short time ago in settlement of any claim she may have for injuries sustained through falling on the sidewalk on North Broadway. The lady claims that her fall was caused by the defective condition of the walk. The Clerk was instructed to write to Mrs. Leflar and make her an offer of $15.

Clifford H. Lees, of Port Dover, wrote the Council that he was looking for a suitable location for a factory for the L. B. Denton Co., caster and furniture hardware manufacturers, of Woodstock. Having heard that there was a suitable building available in Orangeville. Mr. Lees wrote here for information. At present the Company employs 20 hands, but if moved would increase the number to 40. If it came here, the town, Mr. Lees intimated, would be expected to guarantee its bonds to the extent of $25,000, and also vote a bonus of $3000. The Clerk was instructed to furnish Mr. Lees with a description of the vacant egg warehouse on East Broadway, and also to intimate that the Corporation would not entertain his proposition.

Council decided to grant the petition of Jos. Ogston and other citizens, who asked for an electric light at the corner of Chisholm and Alexander Sts.

A motion was passed reducing Thos. Marshall's taxes on certain property in the South Ward to $10.

Council decided to re-establish the weekly produce market and the Property Committee was instructed to advertise the first market for Thursday, November 9th. A weekly market will be held every Thursday thereafter.

ECZEMA ON THE HEAD.

Mr. Peterson, South Bay, Ont., writes: "For years I suffered a sort of eczema on the head. I tried four different doctors, giving each a fair trial, but the disease grew worse and spread to my arm. I got Dr. Chase's Ointment, and it has entirely cured me. I give you my name because I want other sufferers to know about this splendid Ointment."

A KITCHEN SHOWER.

A SURPRISE IN STORE.

Several subscribers to "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" in this district have received their copy of the beautiful premium picture entitled, "Home Again." A copy has also reached this office. It certainly surpasses any picture ever given by that great paper before. How such a beautiful work of art, all ready for framing, can be included with such a great family paper for the small sum of one dollar a year is a mystery. "The Family Herald and Weekly Star" should add thousands of new subscribers this season. They well deserve it, for no such value has ever before been given. There is a big surprise in store for those who receive the picture "Home Again."

WINTER SEED FAIRS.

Seed grain growers should avai themselves of the opportunity for ad vertising afforded by the winter ex hibitions at Guelph (December 11 16) and Ottawa (January 16-19). I the general class prizes of $1, $2, $ and $5 are offered for two-bushel lot of seed grain representing seed fo sale. In addition to that, throug the Ontario Fairs Association, larg prizes are offered to winning compe titors in the field crop competitions In oats, for instance, ten prizes ar offered, from $3 to $25. Yonge St York County, divides the districts fo showing at Guelph or Ottawa.

This season there is bound to be big demand for seed grain at goo prices. The hot wave which passe over Ontario while the grain was fil ing caused a lot of it to shrink, an plump, well-filled grain will cons quently be at a premium. This shown by the price of barley.

As these fairs are attended ea year by an increased number of vi itors, they give a splendid opportu ity for buyers and sellers to me and arrange their deals. Membe of the Canadian Seed Growers' A sociation should be alert and put strong exhibits. As soon as h work is well enough advanced, far ers should get their seed ready. would be well to apply at once to P. Westervelt or E. D. Elderkin, Pa liament Building, Toronto, for t two prize lists.

MRS. ALFRED SANSOM.

We regret to chronicle the death of Mrs. Alfred Sansom, who departed this life at her home on John St., on Saturday after a trying illness. Mrs. Sansom had not been strong for some months, and on Saturday, Oct. 28th, was taken seriously ill. Dr. Carson was summoned and Dr. Groves was afterwards called in consultation. The physicians decided on an operation, which was apparently entirely successful. Mrs. Sansom's health, however, had been greatly impaired through constant grieving over the loss of her son, who was killed in the cement works a little over a year ago, and after a few days' improvement she took a change for the worse and gradually sank away. Deceased lady was in her 42nd year. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Ann Foote and she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Foote, of Scott township. She was married about 18 years ago, and had lived in Orangeville for six years, coming here from Sault Ste. Marie. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Stanley and Cecil, a daughter, Marguerite, a stepson, Ralph Sansom, of Huntsville, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Sydney Pugh, of Ministee, Mich. The funeral was held from her late residence to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Monday afternoon. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. M. Green, A. M. Harkness, J. R. Lathwell, G. Beswick, T. Hepton and F. H. Arkell. In the absence of her pastor, Rev. Dr. Harper, Rev. Chas. Langford, of Alton, officiated at the house and grave. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes. Among the friends present were her parents from Newmarket, a sister, Mrs. Geo. Carrett, of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. F. Mancier and Mrs. Wm. Ford, of West Toronto, and her stepson, Mr. Ralph Sansom, of Huntsville. Mr. Sansom and family have the sympathy of many friends in their trying bereavement.

A RECEIVER APPOINTED.

On Tuesday morning the Divisional Court appointed E. R. C. Clarkson, of Toronto, receiver for the Dufferin Light & Power Company, Limited. The appointment was made at the instance of James Pickering, of Shelburne, who applied for a winding-up order on behalf of the bondholders.

HAS ISSUED WRIT.

Arch. Greer, Reeve of Mulmur and Warden of Dufferin, has issued a writ against Paul Gallaugher, an ex-Warden of the County, for slander. The alleged slander consisted of statements reflecting upon Greer's standing as a Conservative. These statements, the latter claims, prevented him from obtaining the Conservative nomination for the House of Commons a few months ago. Greer and Gallaugher it is interesting to note, are brothers-in-law. The writ was issued by the legal firm of Lennox, Cowan & Brown, of Barrie and Creemore, and the place of trial is set out as Barrie. Mr. G. M. Vance, K. C., of Shelburne, has been retained by Gallaugher.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

On November 6th, the Orangeville W. C. T. U. held a parlor meeting at the home of Mrs. B. McGuire, on Broadway. In spite of the disagreeable weather there was a good attendance, the President, Mrs. (Rev.) Davies, in the chair. After devotional exercises, during which Mrs. Davies gave a Bible reading, a trio was well rendered by Mrs. Adamson, Miss Lamont and Miss Denton. Mrs. Straith, of Owen Sound, County Corresponding Secretary, was present and gave very interesting reports of the two conventions recently held in Winchester and Sherbrooke. Mrs. Straith divided the reports into two classes, the devotional and the educational, both of which were helpful and much enjoyed by all. After the first report Mrs. Endacott sang a beautiful solo, and later in the evening Miss Denton rendered a solo in her usual pleasing manner. The Misses Wright and Lathwell played a piano duet and the meeting closed by singing, "God be with you till we meet again." At the close of the meeting a lunch was served and this was enjoyed by all in a social way. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker of the evening, those taking part and the hostess for her hospitality.

HALLOWE'EN SOCIAL.

The Anglican Young People's Society held a successful Hallowe'en Social in the class rooms of St. Mark's Church on Monday night. Despite the very wet evening a large crowd of young people attended the social and enjoyed itself playing Hallowe'en games, holding contests and other amusements.

DIVISION COURT.

Orangeville Division Court was held on Tuesday, when the following suits were tried:—

Marshall vs. Bennett—This action, which was partly tried in the October court, was brought by F. J. Marshall to recover rent for the Orangeville Armoury for the term during which the defendant, Mr. R. J. Bennett, was in command of the local Company. The plaintiff contended that Captain Bennett received a certain sum from the Militia Department, out of which he was supposed to pay the rent and certain other expenses. The case was adjourned from the October Court to obtain the evidence of Bennett, who was unable to attend the trial then. Tuesday Mr. Bennett gave the Court his version as to the disposition of the proceeds of the cheque, which he admitted having received from the Department. The case proved somewhat complicated and His Honor reserved judgment in order to have an opportunity to review the evidence taken at the former hearing. A. A. Hughson for plff.; C. R. McKeown for deft.

Ward vs. Hammond—The plaintiff, David S. Ward, of Adjala, sued Wesley Hammond, Grand Valley, and William Hammond, Schomberg, for $44, the price of a box of medicine which he claimed he had sold the defendants. Action was undefended by Wesley Hammond, while Wm. Hammond appeared and conducted his own defence. Judgment was entered in favor of Wm. Hammond and against Wesley Hammond. A. A. Hughson appeared for plaintiff.

McComb vs. McCarston—Irwin and Jane McComb, of Mono, sued Arthur McCarston, a farmer living in that township, for damages and personal injuries sustained through an accident on June 14th last. Plaintiffs, who were driving on the high way, collided with defendant's wagon. As a result their buggy and harness were broken and Mrs. McComb sustained personal injuries. They claimed that McCarston had failed to turn out and give them their share of the road. Defendant, who is a responsible farmer and considered very careful in his habits, gave an altogether different version. He swore that plaintiffs were driving recklessly, estimating the rate of speed at 12 miles an hour. When he saw they were about to pass him at this immoderate speed he stopped his team. As they were driving past Mrs. McComb, who had the lines, perceiving that the buggy was close to the ditch, jerked the horse violently bringing the buggy into collision with defendant's wagon. Unfortunately for McCarston the weight of the evidence was with the plaintiffs and they were awarded judgment, His Honour fixing the damages at $10 for breakage of rig and harness, $5 for medical attendance and $20 for personal injuries. W. D. Henry for plff.; J. L. Island for deft.

Varcoe vs. Lewis—M. G. Varcoe, of Grand Valley, the assignee, sued Geo. A. Lewis, of Amaranth, for an account of $16.85 owing the estate of Robert Boyle, who formerly conducted an implement business in Grand Valley. Plaintiff obtained judgment for the full amount and also judgment under a garnishee process against the Bank of Hamilton.

BASKET BALL GAME.

The High School Basket Ball team played the Brampton High School a return game on the latter's grounds on Saturday afternoon, winning by a score of 12 to 2. The wet, slippery grounds made the playing difficult, but both teams played a good game. The local team and their supporters, to the number of fifteen or more, went down Friday night and were the guests of honor at a dance given by the Brampton young ladies. Saturday morning the Brampton girls showed their guests through the Dale Conservatories and other places of interest. During their stay in the Peel capital the visitors were treated royally and words fail to express their praises of the kindness and hospitality of the young ladies of the Brampton School. The members of the local team were: Forwards, Misses Ruth Shaw and Robina McKay; centres, Misses Isabel Lawson, Greta Golden, and Marie Robinson; defence, Misses Muriel Laverty and Ina Porter.

Miss G. M. Strang, Miss Clara Hulse and Mr. J. H. Adams, of the High School staff, Misses Winnifred Meek and Mona Denton and Messrs Bert Tuck and G. Brawley accompanied the players.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING.

St. Andrew's Young People's Society held a pleasant social evening in the Lecture Room of the church on Tuesday night. A large number of young people were present. Progressive board games furnished one of the chief amusements and were heartily enjoyed by all present. While these were in progress piano music was furnished by members of the ladies' class. Lunch was served afterwards and the happy gathering was then brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

SICKLY BABIES CRY HEALTHY BABIES SMILE

Baby's cry indicates distress—his smile health and contentment. The mother may be sure there never was a baby who cried for the fun of it. Baby's disposition is naturally a happy one and it is only distress such as may be brought on by a disordered condition of the stomach or bowels that can change this. So, mothers, to keep your baby happy you must keep him well—Baby's Own Tablets will do this. Concerning them Mrs. Chas. Potvin, Causapatcia, N.S., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have proved an excellent remedy for my baby. I had been using syrups, but they failed to help him and he cried constantly. The Tablets cured him and now he is a fat, healthy child." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ORANGEVILLE FALL ASSIZES.

Will Open Before Sir William Mulock on Tuesday.

Five Civil Cases Entered for Trial, But One of Them Has Been Enlarged.

The Fall Assizes for the County of Dufferin will be held in the Court House in Orangeville next week. The Court will open on Tuesday at one o'clock before His Lordship, Justice Sir William Mulock. There will not be any criminal business, and as a consequence the members of the Grand Jury have been notified that they need not attend.

So far not a single non-jury case has been entered for trial. There are, however, five jury cases on the list. One of these, Mather vs. the C. P. R. has since been enlarged until the Dufferin Spring Assizes, with the privilege of proceeding to trial at the Winter Assizes in Toronto if the parties so desire.

The action is brought at the instance of Elizabeth Mather, a spinster residing in Artemesia township. While driving on the highway on October 19th, 1910, a train frightened Miss Mather's horse rendering it unmanageable, and causing her vehicle to collide with the train. She was thrown under the train and her left leg was so badly mutilated that it had to be amputated. She also sustained severe internal injuries. On December 17th, 1909, the Railway Commission made an order giving the defendant Company until July 1st, 1910 to make certain alterations in the highway and construct an overhead bridge at the place where the accident occurred. The time for completing this work was subsequently extended until Sept. 15th, 1910, but the plaintiff claims that the work had not been finished when the accident occurred. She is asking the Courts to award her $15,000 damages. The defendants set up the plea of contributory negligence. Lucas, Raney & Wallace, Markdale, for plff.; MacMurchy & Spence, Toronto, for defts.

The cases that are likely to go to trial are:—

Marshall vs. Gowan—This is a retrial of the action brought against Dr. Gowan, of Horning's Mills, by the widow of the late John Marshall, a Melancthon farmer, who met his death through his horses taking fright at the defendant's auto. Our readers are already familiar with the facts of the case. Mrs. Marshall obtained a verdict for $2500 damages at the Assizes here a year ago. Defendant appealed and succeeded in obtaining a new trial. Lucas, Raney & Wallace, Markdale, for plff.; G. M. Vance, K.C., Shelburne, for deft.

Cameron vs. Corporation of Shelburne—The plaintiff, Geo. H. Cameron, claims that the defendant corporation constructed a sewer and allowed same to discharge sewage on his lands, thereby creating a nuisance, polluting a spring and stream of water and endangering the health of himself and family. He asks for a mandatory order compelling the defendants to provide a suitable outlet, an injunction to restrain them from allowing the sewer to discharge upon his property and such damages as the Court may see fit to award. The defendants deny constructing the sewer and say the municipality has a by-law expressly prohibiting residents from using drains for sewage purposes and furthermore claim that they put up notices prohibiting all parties from using the drain referred to by the plaintiff in his statement of claim. Lucas, Raney & Wallace for plff.; G. M. Vance for deft.

Livingston vs. C. P. R.—Alexander Livingston, of the Township of Glenelg, County of Grey, sues for $6000 damages, resulting from the death of his son, Alexander John Livingstone, who was killed at Coldwater on July 5th 1911. Deceased, who was a telegraph lineman in the employ of the defendant Company, was working in or about a boarding car on a siding at Coldwater at the time he met his death. An engine and train of cars shunted on the siding and struck the boarding car, causing it to move suddenly and run over Livingstone, inflicting injuries from which he died on the same day. Plaintiff contends that deceased was not given any warning of the impending danger as required by the rules. W. H. Wright, Owen Sound, for plff.; McMurchy & Spence for defts.

Hyndman vs. Wallace—This is an action for $2000 for alleged defamation of character through the circulation of "malicious and untrue statements of a slanderous and defamatory nature." The parties, William and Elizabeth Hyndman, and Robert Wallace are neighbors, residing in Howick township in the County of Huron. A. G. Campbell, Harriston, for plffs.; Anson Spotton, Harriston, for deft.

BROADWAY - - ORANGEVILLE.

HE WAS IN NO HURRY.

It was one of those sleepy little towns—very sleepy little towns. A gentleman arrived and wanted a hair cut. He found the barber's shop, and after shaking the barber vigorously, managed to awaken him.

"How long will it take you to cut my hair, barber?" he asked.

"Not long, sir," said the barber.

And he rose, yawned and stretched himself. Then he called upstairs to his wife

"Hey! Send the boy down to the Sun office to tell the editor I want my scissors just as soon as he's done editin' the paper. There's a gent here waitin' for a hair cut."—Exchange.

PROMINENT RAILROAD MAN

STRONGLY ADVISES HIS FRIENDS TO TRY GIN PILLS FOR THE KIDNEYS

"I have been a Pullman Conductor on the C. P. R. and Michigan Central during the last three years. About four years ago, I was laid up with intense pains in the groin, a very sore back, and suffered most severely when I tried to urinate. I treated with my family physician for two months for gravel in the bladder but did not receive any benefit. About that time, I met another railroad man who had been similarly affected and who had been cured by taking Gin Pills, after having been given up by a prominent physician who treated him for Diabetes. He is now running on the road and is perfectly cured. He strongly advised me to try Gin Pills which I did,—with the result that the pains left me entirely.

WELLINGTON DEANERY

The 26th and 27th of October brought together within the parish of St. Paul eleven of the clergy of the deanery besides a large number of the members of the W. A. and of the S. S. workers. In addition to the clergy of the chapter there were present Rev. J. B. Fotheringham and the Rev. R. A. Hiltz, of Toronto, and Rev. Henry B. Smith, of Stroudsburgh, Penn., U. S. The service of the Holy Communiontook place on the morning of the first day,the celebrant being Rev. Canon Spencer. At 3 p.m. the clergy assembled in the rectory, Rev. Rural Dean Naftel, of Elora, presiding. Excellent addresses were given by Rev. J. B. Fotheringham, Rev. C. A. Sparling, Rev. P. W. P. Calhoun, Ven Archdeacon Davidson, and Rev. C. H. E. Smith, their subjects being respectively : th Church's Social and Economic Questions, the Church's Relation to other Christian Bodies, Church Conditions in Algoma, the General Synod, and Prayer Book Revision.

During the same afternoon the W. A. held a meeting in Allen's Hall under the presidency of Mrs. W. C. Perry, the chief matters being the address of welcome by Mrs. Spencer, and an account of the Triennial Meeting in Winnipeg by Miss Slater.

At the evening service in the church Rev. J. B. Fotheringham preached an extremely edifying sermon from the text, "He ordained twelve that they should be with Him."

Friday began with Holy Communion at 8 a.m., the celebrant being the Rural Dean, assisted by Canon Spencer. Morning Prayer, conducted by Rev. A. G. Smith and Rev. P. W. P. Calhoun, followed at 10.30.

At 11 o'clock the S. S. Convention opened in Allen's Hall,the Rural Dean in the chair. Rev. C. H. E. Smith reported on Teacher Training; Miss Farmer, on the Home Department; Miss Chisholm, on the Font Roll. In the afternoon Rev. R. F. Nie gave a short paper on Prizes, Rewards, and Gifts. Canon Spencer spoke on the same subject. Both deprecated the old system of awarding two or three prizes only, and advocated some method by which every scholar in a class would be rewarded according to merit. Archdeacon Davidson spoke on the Normal Religion of the Boy, and Rev. R. A. Hiltz described the methods that produce success.

In the evening admirable addresses were given by Rev. R. A. Hiltz and Rev. Geo. A. Rix, the former speaking on the History and Prospects of the S. S. Movement, and the latter on the Progress of Missions. Miss Couse sang with ability and feeling the sacred solo, "Fear ye not, O Israel," by Dudley Buck. The nominating committee's report was adopted as follows : President of the S. S. Association, Rev. Rural Dean Naftel; Secretary-Treasurer, Rev. R. F. Nie; Superintendents of Departments ; Statistics, Rev. R. F. Nie; Home Work, Miss Farmer; Font Roll, Miss Chisholm; Missions, Rev. P. W. P. Calhoun; Bible Class, Major J. A. V. Preston; Literature, Etc., Mrs. Spencer.

Rev. R. A. Hiltz, in the course of his address, referred to St. Paul's parish, Halifax, which claims to have the honor of conducting S. S. work without interruption for a longer period than any other Christian organization in Canada. Rev. G. A. Rix mentioned with satisfaction the establishment of a Canadian diocese in both China and Japan, and expressed the hope that India would soon be equally favored.

Cordial thanks were by unanimous vote given to Canon and Mrs. Spencer and the members of St. Paul's congregation for the generous hospitality accorded to the visitors.

The clergy at their own meeting passed by a standing vote a resolution of condolence with the widow and family of the late Dean Houston, who began his ministry in this parish in the year 1859.—Mt. Forest Representative.

A sub-committee of the Hamilton Board of Education will investigate charges that whiskey and beer bottles were found in the Collegiate after the annual conversazione.

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?

Tells Others His Secret

Wants them to know how he was cured of itching, protruding piles by DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Doctors usually recommend the knife as the only cure for piles. They overlook the risk, the expense and the suffering of mind and body entailed in a surgical operation.

Dr. Chase's Ointment will bring relief quickly and will cure thoroughly if you will but persist.

Mr. A. Honingnon, 52 Bronsdon Place, Montreal, Que., writes:—"I cannot help praising Dr. Chase's Ointment as I suffered many years with itching and protruding piles, and was cured by this ointment. I became tired of the efforts of the best specialists to cure me, and hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment just as I had of hundreds of other medicines began its use. But oh, great joy, at the very start the sharp pains left me and I was gradually cured. I hope that every sufferer will follow my example with the same success."

Every form of piles or hemorrhoids is cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE MORTGAGE BURNED.

Knox Church, Grand Valley, Freed From Debt.

Former Pastors Participate in Unique Anniversary Services.

Anniversary services in connection with Knox church on Sunday and Monday were of a distinct and unique character. On Sabbath Rev. R. T. Cockburn, Ph.B., of Hamilton,pastor from 1899 to 1904, preached with decided acceptance and pleasure to a large united congregation from I Cor. 13 : 13, "The greatest of these is Love." In the evening Rev. D. T. McClintock, of Brantford,pastor from 1904 to 1910, preached to a delighted congregation that taxed the church to its utmost, many being turned away. He spoke from Exodus 33 : 14, "My presence shall go with thee, and I shall give thee rest." It seemed to be the natural sequence of the morning address in which love was shown to be the predominant, underlying feature in every thing. It manifested itself in times of famine, war, disaster, and in times of plenty prosperity and success. With love and patience the Christian worker performs his work confidently knowing that One sympathizes during the lonely hours; that the completion of one piece of work does not suffice, for onward and forward must be the motives and ambitions of the successful church.

The choir had special music for the occasion, for which no small credit is due the organist, Miss Laura Mutrie, who received splendid assistance from Mrs. T. J. Reith and others. Through the thoughtful kindness of Messrs. W. Buchanan, A. S. Ramsay, W. H. Mutrie and Thos. Watson, the pulpit platform presented a pretty spectacle with its profusion of flowers.

On Monday evening the ladies served tea in the basement, following which came an interesting programme Rev. H. Crozier, the venerable and honored pastor from 1884 to 1899, gave a short historical sketch of Presbyterianism, and particularly in respect to its growth here. Rev. D. McClellan was the first pastor from 1872 to 1875, being succeeded by Rev. D. J. Brown in 1876, who remained about three years. Mr. Crozier followed him and the rest is modern history. For a year services were held in a frame building which now forms the kitchen of R. D. Shields house. Then the old church was built, the greater part of the material being supplied by the members, and considerable of the work. James McCulloch, of Stonewall,Man., squared the timbers and did considerable of the carpenter work. After some years the need of a better building,one more in keeping with the progress of the times was felt, and the present edifice stands as a monument to the work of his successor, Rev. R. T. Cockburn. Mr. Crozier's field was considerable larger 27 years ago,than the church has now. Since then, Metz, Garafraxa and Laurel charges have opened up, and yet the cause has grown wonderfully in every way.

Then came a series of colored stereoptican views, intermingled with which were a number of views incident to the church's history. A picture of the different church buildings ; of Jacob Scott who donated the land for the old church, and for the manse; of James Porter, the old precentor,who led the singing before the days of an organ; of Robert Philip, the first elder, and of E. W. McCulloch, an elder of the time, still surviving, of the building committee, of the four surviving pastors; of the mortgage, and others. The pastor, Rev. D. Smith, gave an interesting talk as the view were thrown on the canvas, and it is to his energy that this unique part of the programme is due.

After the four ministers took part in burning the mortgage, Rev. R. T. Cockburn starting the fire, and during it the congregation sang "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." Brief addresses from these men brought the meeting to a close.

Mrs. T. J. Reith sang with much feeling, "The Holy City" illustrated by the stereoptican. Mr. W. Jenkins, Wm. Baker, Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Reith also sang the "Glory Song," and the whole congregation joined in two hymns, all illustrated by the stereopticon.

W. L. Craig occupied the chair, the pastor being otherwise engaged in the programme. The evening's proceeds were about $100.—Star & Vidette.

A SAD FATALITY.

A sad affair happened near Primrose on Monday evening, Margaret Laidlaw, aged 44 years, daughter of John Laidlaw, has been at times out of her mind during the past five years. On Monday evening she and the rest of the family retired at 10 o'clock, except Wm. Laidlaw,who was in Shelburne. About 11.30 Margaret wanted a drink of water, and Miss Kindrew offered to get up and get it but Miss Laidlaw said she would get it herself. She went down stairs and as she did not return within a few minutes search was made but she could not be found. When William returnd home he found her crouched down in a barrel of water, dead. She was clad in her night dress only, but had her boots on. Dr. S. T. White, coroner, was sent for, but he did not consider the inquest necessary.—Free Press.

Monarch Peninsular

How Do You Judge a Range?

YOU can't judge a range by looking at it. True, you can see whether it is good looking or not. You can see whether it will be hard or easy to manage, whether the doors open or shut easily ; whether it is easy to clean. You can see how the grates work and what oven room you have.

But you can't see how much coal it will take to heat the oven. You can't see whether your pies will burn or not. You can't tell how long the parts will wear.

This unseen part, you can be sure of when you buy a Monarch Peninsular or, in fact, any Peninsular range.

Fifty years of building stoves—honest stoves—are behind every range that bears the name Peninsular. That name says the materials are good—the flue arrangement is good—the oven will heat evenly—the range will wear.

Monarch Peninsular

is a steel range—the easy-to-clean kind.

It has a large square oven, twenty inches both ways—just right for four pies. The oven is made of quick radiating steel and will heat up as soon as a fire is started.

It has a drop oven door, strongly made.

Grates Easy to Remove

The fire-box is of iron. It is deep and has upright sides, which experience tells us is the most economical shape. It is cleaned out with perfectdoplex grates. These grates cannot warp out of shape, and may be removed without disturbing the linings of the fire-box.

The Monarch may be had with a hot-water reservoir which fits either end of the range ; a high warming closet with drop door ; an oven thermometer. No convenience known to modern stove-making is lacking in this perfect range.

Top Raised for Broiling.

"THE COST"

There are Peninsular ranges in a great variety of styles and sizes. Every one is thoroughly Peninsular. Our booklet, "The Cost," tells how they save you money after you buy them. Write for it.

CO-OPERATION IN DAIRYING

Dairying is an industry that has suffered heavily through well-intentioned but ill-informed men attempting co-operative organization. A lack of understanding on the part of those attempting organization has been prevalent, and only lately has the true co-operative idea begun to make way. In the dairy industry,the joint-stock company, in the guise of a co-operative society, has done more to throw general discredit on the whole movement than any other factor. There has been an utter lack of the distinguishing features between a joint-stock company and a co-operative association. Trouble is wrought by the misconception of the place that production holds in the co-operative organization of an industry. Factories doing only a small business have brought trouble to themselves and others by attempting to organize a co-operative society.

The form of society has, in nearly all cases been joint stock, after the pattern of similar organizations in Denmark. The prime movers or head men may, by reports, have become much impressed by the Danish co-operative producing dairies. Very naturally, they considered what they seen and heard to be the whole of the co-operative system, whereas experience has proved that itwas but a part of the whole. Production, rather than marketing, was emphasized, while the underlying and fundamental idea of the Danish system—marketing—was, unfortunately, overlooked.

The smallest co-operative dairy factory in Denmark has 655 cows, and without this number, or more, the Danes do not consider it pays to organize in this country, one-quarter that number is thought to be sufficient. If the sections, where dairying is the main industry, will organize on the truly co-operative plan, these associations unite in a uniform system of marketing, form federations of societies, hold "surprise" butter contests, study markets, and carry out the whole Danish programme, there is good reason to believe that abundant success will follow. In these sections where dairying is only a small part of the farming industry, it is doubtful whether success can ever be attained, unless the factory is worked along with some other lines of co-operation. Such joint co-operation is difficult to secure. This fact has been responsible for failure of the system in Canada.—Farmer's Advocate and Home Journal, Winnipeg.

NO APPETITE?

If Parisian Sage, the hair grower that T. Stevenson guarantees, will not cause hair to grow where the hair is thinning out, nothing on this earth will.

And we say to everybody, you can have your money back if Parisian Sage isn't the best hair grower, hair saver, hair beautifier and dandruff cure on the market to-day.

It stops itching scalp and falling hair and makes hair grow thick and abundantly, or money back, 50 cents for a large bottle. Parisian Sage makes the hair soft and brilliant and promotes growth.

PILES

Nothing known to Science is better for this painful ailment than Zam-Buk. It reduces inflammation, stops bleeding, ends the agony. Easily applied and cleanly. Why go on suffering? Why not try it? Read the following cures.

Some Proofs of Zam-Buk's Power.

MR. THOMAS J. HOGAN, Champion Clog Dancer of Canada, 59 Chambord Street, Montreal, writes:—

"For some time past I have been troubled with Piles, but this year I suffered so much that I was obliged to cancel a number of engagements. I tried all the so-called remedies that were recommended, but they seemed to do me no good. Having been advised to try Zam-Buk, I purchased a fifty-cent box and after applying it a few times I felt marked relief. I continued with the Zam-Buk treatment and the relief was extended into a permanent cure.

MR. WILLIAM KENTY, of Upper Nine Mile River, Hants Co., N. S., says:—"I suffered terribly from Piles, the pain at times being almost unbearable. I tried various ointments but all failed to do me the slightest good. I was tired of trying remedies when I heard of Zam-Buk, and thought as a last resource I would give this balm a trial. I procured a supply, and after a very short time Zam-Buk effected what several other ointments and medicines had failed to effect—a complete cure."

Zam-Buk also cures ECZEMA, BLOOD POISON, ULCERS, COLD SORES, CHAPPED HANDS, SCALP SORES, CUTS, BURNS, BRUISES, SCALDS and all SKIN INJURIES and DISEASES. All druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, post free for price. Refuse harmful substitutes.

REGINA

The Capital of Saskatchewan. The railway centre of Western Canada. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railways all enter Regina.

OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT CENSUS FOR 1911 SHOWS REGINA'S POPULATION 30,210.

Proof of REGINA'S marvellous growth is found in the Official Government Census for Saskatchewan, which we quote below.

	1911	1901	Increase
Moose Jaw	13,825	1588	12,268
Prince Albert	6,254	1785	4,469
REGINA	30,210	2249	27,961
Saskatoon	12,002	113	11,889

A simple sum in arithmetic shows that REGINA'S population is larger than that of any other two cities in Saskatchewan put together and that it is nearly as great as the total population of the next three largest cities in Saskatchewan.

REGINA'S present population is more than twelve times greater than it was ten years ago, or an increase of over 1200 per cent. The greatest development has taken place this last two years and REGINA is growing faster than ever. At the present rate of growth, REGINA will be a city of nearly 400,000 people in ten years from now.

In reading the Official report I also found that the Province of Saskatchewan has shown the largest increase. In ten years it has grown from 91,279 to 453,506, an increase of nearly 400 per cent. At the present time the percentage of land occupied in Saskatchewan is very small — in the neighborhood of ten per cent. With greater railroad facilities and modern methods Saskatchewan will grow more rapidly than ever. As REGINA is the Capital and leading city of the province, it will be affected by the growth of every city, town or community in Saskatchewan, and its future growth should be more rapid than in the past.

I have for sale a large number of well located lots, in the East, West, North and Centre of the city at very reasonable prices and on easy terms. For full particulars and other information apply to

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, NOV. 16, 1911.

SITUATION IN DUFFERIN.

Considerable uncertainty still surrounds the political situation in Dufferin. Mr. C. R. McKeown is, of course, in the field as the candidate of the Conservative Convention and Mr. R. J. Woods has also been regularly nominated by the Dufferin Temperance and Moral Reform Association. Rev. J. R. Bell, of Laurel, is largely the cause of the uncertainty. At the Shelburne convention Mr. Bell stated he was in the hands of his friends and would be guided by their decision. Many of his friends are keen to have him run and believe that he can be elected without any great difficulty. The Banner understands that Mr. Bell is seriously considering the advisability of standing, and that a definite announcement may be expected from him in the course of a day or so. Meantime Mr. McKeown and Mr. Woods are the candidates at present in the field.

ORANGEVILLE'S POPULATION.

The decrease of nearly 200 in the population of Orangeville need not occasion either surprise or disappointment. If the loss of population were confined to this town alone, then there would be cause for surprise and ground for a thorough investigation into the causes responsible for the decrease. But Orangeville, in this respect, occupies exactly the same position as the larger number of the smaller towns and villages throughout the province. The lure of the West and the inducements and proximity of the great city of Toronto have caused a steady drain upon the population of the towns, townships and villages throughout this part of Ontario. It is only the towns that have succeeded in building up manufactures that have increased or even maintained their population. Orangeville's experience with manufacturing industries cannot be described as particularly encouraging. Several promising industries have gone to the wall, largely. The Banner believes, owing to the fact that they were controlled by outsiders, who had little interest in the town. To get the most out of manufactures they should be controlled, or largely controlled, by local interests. If our monied citizens could only be induced to invest some of the wealth that they tie up in Toronto and Winnipeg real estate, Western farm lands, and industrial or railway securities, in local enterprises suited to the town, there is not any good reason why Orangeville could not be made an important manufacturing town. As matters stand, the town, in the face of the adverse conditions, has maintained its population remarkably well.

THE SEWAGE PROBLEM.

The suit of Cameron vs. the Municipality of Shelburne, which was down for trial at the Assizes here this week, is a reminder that the town of Orangeville may at any time find itself placed in a position of similar difficulty. Orangeville is in much the same position as Shelburne with respect to the disposal of sewage. Neither place has a sewage system; both have a number of drains, mostly constructed by private citizens, that are the source of frequent annoyance and complaint. In Shelburne matters have gone beyond the complaint stage. A citizen, unable to get the redress he felt he was entitled to from the Council, has appealed to the Courts for damages and an abatement of what he considers the menace and nuisance of sewage pollution. As a consequence the municipality finds itself compelled to take steps for its own protection that may eventually result in the construction of a sewerage system. The town of Orangeville may at any time find itself confronted with a similarly difficult situation. It would be an excellent thing if every town and incorporated village had its sewerage system. Sewers are conducive to the health of a community and add much to the desirability of a place from a residential standpoint. Unfortunately, however, the work needed is of a very expensive character and burdened as they are with heavy debenture debts—too often monuments to the folly and extravagance of a preceding generation — many of the smaller municipalities would find its financing a difficult undertaking. Indeed there are not a few instances where the cost of the work is practically prohibitive. There are not a few who think that in the interests of public health the Ontario Government should bear a portion of the cost of constructing sewers in the smaller urban municipalities. There is much to be said in favor of the plan. Good health is assuredly of as much importance as good roads, and the Government has long since committed itself to the policy of aiding the municipalities in making permanent road improvements. Government aid would open the way for government inspection, which would mean that all sewerage works would have to be approved. This would ensure the employmentof the best methods of construction and ought to effectually prevent any very serious waste of the people's money.

WIDOW GETS $500.

Case of Marshall vs. Dr. Gowan Settled Out of Court.

Railway Company Pays $1200 and Costs to Settle Suit of Livingstone vs. C. P. R.

The Fall Assizes for the County of Dufferin opened in the Court House here at one o'clock on Tuesday afternoon. As there was no criminal business the Sheriff followed the time-honored custom of presenting a pair of white gloves to the presiding Judge, His Lordship, Sir William Mulock, Chief Justice of the Exchequer Division of the High Court of Justice.

As was stated in last week's issue there were five jury cases entered for trial. Two, however, were settled out of Court and two more postponed, so that there was only one suit out of the five that actually went to trial. This was the slander case of Hyndman vs. Wallace, a decidedly unsavoury bit of litigation resulting from a family squabble. The Court concluded on Tuesday, the jury bringing in its verdict in the case just mentioned about 8.30 at night.

Marshall vs. Gowan, a case that excited widespread interest at the time of the first trial here a year ago, was settled out of court. This, as our readers will remember, was a suit brought by the widow of the late John Marshall, a Melancthon farmer, against Dr. Gowan, of Horning's Mills. Marshall was killed on June 17th, 1910, through his horses, a team of spirited colts, taking fright at an automobile driven by the defendant. Marshall was unloading gravel on the highway near his own home when the fatal accident occurred. He was working near the bottom of a grade and when Dr. Gowan saw the team as he approached the crest of the hill he did not sound the horn, for fear it would frighten the horses, but shut off the feed and ignition spark and coasted down the grade. As he neared the team and wagon he slackened speed and, according to his version of the occurrence, had brought the auto to a standstill before the horses took fright. At any rate the horses caught sight of the auto and started off like a flash. Marshall, who was standing between the nigh horse and the front of the wagon, was dragged some distance and died from his injuries shortly afterwards. After hearing the evidence, the trial judge, Mr. Justice Latchford, submitted a series of questions to the jury. Some of these and the answers were :—

Q. Was it reasonably necessary that the horn of defendant's automobile should have been sounded as the automobile approached Marshall ?

A. Yes; when defendant first saw Marshall.

Q. Did the defendant, when approaching Marshall's horses, manage his automobile in such a manner as to exercise every reasonable precaution to prevent the frightening of such horses ?

A. No. Seeing Marshall's position defendant should have sounded horn.

Q. Did the accident to Marshall arise through the negligence of the defendant?

A. Yes.

Q. If you find the accident arose through the negligence of the defendant, in what did that negligence consist ?

A. In not sounding horn or stopping automobile sooner.

Q. Could Marshall, by the exercise of reasonable care and diligence, have avoided the accident?

A. No; not under the custom of unloading gravel.

The jury awarded the plaintiff $2000 damages, divided as follows :—Mrs. Marshall, $1000; second son, $100; three youngest children, $300 each.

The defendant appealed from the decision on the grounds that Marshall had been guilty of contributory negligence through placing himself in a dangerous position and that defendant was not necessarily negligent because he had failed to follow the usual practice of sounding the auto horn. The Court of Appeal ordered a new trial, which was to have taken place at the Assizes here this week. When the case was called, Mr. G. M. Vance, K.C., Solicitor for the defendant, stated that a settlement was being considered. A few minutes afterwards His Lordship was informed that a satisfactory arrangement had been reached between the parties. By the settlement Mrs. Marshall gets $500, each party pays their own costs, (the plaintiff's being fixed at $200), and defendant waives his right to the costs awarded him by the Court of Appeal. Mr. I. B. Lucas, K.C., of Lucas, Raney & Wallace, Markdale, acted for the plaintiff.

When the case of Cameron vs. the Municipality of Shelburne was called, Mr. G. M. Vance, counsel for the defendants, moved for an order postponing the trial until the Spring Assizes. In support of his motion Mr. Vance maintained that the plaintiff had not suffered any substantial damage up to the present time and that there was a strong possibility that by installing a system of sewers the defendants would preclude the possibility of future damage occurring. Mr. Vance pointed out that the municipality must have time in which to devise a remedy, which would possibly involve a heavy expenditure of money, that could not be incurred without first obtaining the consent of the ratepayers. The municipal council had already appointed a commission of leading citizens to look into the whole matter and report to the Council, and this Commission had conferred with the Provincial Health Inspector, and at his suggestion was bringing on an expert sanitary engineer. Mr. Lucas opposed the motion, contending that the plaintiff should have the opportunity of determining his rights. His Lordship called upon Reeve Large to give his explanation of the position of the municipality and the steps it proposed to take to relieve the situation complained of by the plaintiff. Mr. Cameron, the plaintiff, we should perhaps explain, is the owner of a farm in the municipality. He claims that a creek crossing his farm has been polluted by sewage from a drain belonging to the municipality. After considerable argument His Lordship stated, that in view of the long existence of the drain which gave rise to the alleged nuisance and the attitude taken by the municipality, showing that it was acting in good faith with a view to the abatement of the nuisance if any existed, he would make an order postponing the trial. In doing so His Lordship expressed the opinion that it was advisable before hostilities had reached an acute stage to give the belligerents an opportunity to arrive at an honorable treaty. The plaintiff was awarded costs up to the present stage, unless the trial judge orders otherwise.

Mather vs. C. P. R.—An order was made postponing this case until the Spring Assizes, the parties to have the option of proceeding to trial at the Winter Assizes in Toronto.

Livingstone vs. C. P. R. — Settled out of Court, plaintiff to get $120 and costs.

Hyndman vs. Wallace—This was the only case on the list that went to trial. The plaintiffs are William and Lizzie Hyndman, and the defendant Robert Wallace, all residing in Howick township, County of Huron. The litigants are neighbors and also connected by intermarriage, and the present lawsuit seems to have been the outcome of a nasty family squabble. The defendant, a rejected suitor for the hand of Lizzie Hyndman, is charged with making statements accusing the plaintiffs, brother and sister, of the crime of incest. He was also charged with statements reflecting upon the chastity of Lizzie Hyndman and attributing immoral practices and conduct to William Hyndman. Defendant had agreed to sign a retraction and also a bond to refrain from further conversation of a disparaging nature, but when it came time to sign the documents he found he was expected to foot the costs, amounting to $20 or thereabouts. This he declined to do and consequently plaintiffs proceeded with the action. Thos. Wallace, a brother-in-law of plaintiffs and a cousin of the defendant, and the two plaintiffs were the chief witnesses on the plaintiffs' side. Wallace, himself, was the only defence witness. The evidence was all in about five o'clock and the jury returned at 8.30, bringing in a verdict of $300, and costs for the plaintiffs. Nichol Jat... Courey, of Guelph, and A. G. Campbell, Harriston, for plffs.; Anson Spotton, Harriston, for deft.

The jury that sat on the case was as follows :—Robt. J. Wilson, Wesley Kee, Robt. Haddock, Robt. J. Mills, Wm. Shaw, Albert McBrien, Robt. J. Halbert, Mono ; Jos. Lanktree, Amaranth; James Delaney, Orangeville; John Dean, Mulmur; R. L. Mortimer, Shelburne, and Robert Bruce, East Luther.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAMS.

Mrs. Mary M. Williams, widow of the late Thos. E. Williams, died at her home in Tottenham on Saturday in her 85th year. Deceased lady, who was of United Empire Loyalist descent, was born and had spent her entire life in Tottenham. She is survived by a family of eight sons and daughters, namely, D. M., Williams, Tottenham; T. E., barrister, Thessalon, Ont.; W. H., barrister, Carlyle, Sask.; Dr. J. J., Woodstock; Mrs. Price, North Bay ; Mrs. McKinney, Toronto; Mrs. Legate, of Grand Valley, and Miss Phoebe at home.

CHOIR ENTERTAINED.

The members of St. Andrew's Choir had a most enjoyable outing on Friday night, when they were entertained in a genuinely hospitable manner by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Smith at their fine home near Reading. A sumptuous fowl dinner awaited the young people on their arrival, and this was followed by an evening of games, music and dancing. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were kindness personified and after their return to town the young people could hardly find words to adequately express their appreciation of the generous and open-hearted hospitality of their genial host and hostess. Mrs. Smith, we might add, who was Miss Perfect prior to her marriage, is an aunt of Miss Bea Harshaw, one of the members of the choir.

REEVE SLACK KILLED.

Shocking Fatality at Mono Road on Thursday Evening.

Jos. W. Slack, reeve of the township of Albion, was run down and fatally injured by a C. P. R. freight train at Mono Road station on Thursday night. Mr. Slack had just returned home from Orangeville, where he attended the monthly fair. After dismounting from his train he attempted to cross the track behind the passenger train and while doing so was struck by a freight running in the opposite direction. The injured man was immediately placed aboard the express train and taken to West Toronto, where he was met by an ambulance and conveyed to the Western Hospital. The unfortunate man's legs were crushed so badly that they had to be amputated. One leg was taken off at the ankle and the other above the knee. The injured man succumbed early Friday morning, collapsing from weakness due to loss of blood and the shock of his injuries. His remains were taken back to his home at Mono Road on Friday night.

Mr. Slack, who was about 50 years of age, was a widely-known grain-buyer at Mono Road and had an extensive business connection with the farmers of that district. He was elected reeve of Albion for the first time in January, 1911, defeating Mr. J. H. Moffatt, the former reeve, by a majority of 118 votes.

LAUREL.

Jack Frost has once more taken possession of our quiet little town, and with his shrivelling blasts has proclaimed himself victor for a time at least. On Monday of this week everything assumed a wintry appearance. The ground froze hard, but there was very little snow. All agricultural work is laid aside for the present and winter appears to have started in earnest. It is to be hoped, however, that the predictions of some of the oldtime prophets will prove to be correct. It has been said that thunder in November is a sure sign of an open winter. We trust that they are correct this time, although I have not much faith in the ability of men to correctly predict the future. I am now forty years of age and have learned to be content in the dark as well as in the light, knowing that each is a blessing that we should all enjoy. Some go even farther than to predict the kind of weather we are going to have and give themselves and others a great deal of trouble and annoyance about the signs of the times and the second coming of Christ. Of late our little village has been visited by those (may I call them anti-Christ) who think the peculiar views they entertain right, and those cherished by all the rest of us wrong, and who sit in judgment and say that our whole country is getting worse and worse every year and that over seventy per cent. of our population is not ready to meet Christ at his second coming, which they declare, will take place in the short period of seven years. To my mind this is not only groundless but utter nonsense, for we are told in the Good Book, and I believe every word of it, that such a day and hour knoweth no man, not even the angels in heaven. But it appears there are those who would make us believe they are equal with God in purity and knowledge. I must say that I am not one of that number, but I have learned not to trouble myself unnecessarily about things that I cannot understand, for what we do not know now we shall know hereafter. Our greatest concern should be, not the time of Christ's second coming, but our individual readiness when he does come. We are sure our time is coming. It may be in a few days and not seven years, the period allotted by our friends. I may suggest to our friends that they ask themselves the great question that they are asking the public, "Am I prepared to meet my God," and if they do they will be able to pluck the beam out of their own eyes and then they will be able to see many good qualities in others, which are now hidden by the dark beam of prejudice in their own lives and characters.

Our friend, John Maltby, believes that all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, and in order to make winter enjoyable to the youth of our community he has commenced to fit up a skating rink, where the pleasure seekers may spend a pleasant time together.

We understand that Walter Gray has just returned home from Queensville, where he has been spending most of a week with a chosen friend, with whom he expects to assume a closer relationship in the near future. We do not blame Walter, because we rather believe in Chosen Friends.

The trustees of our school have just installed a complete set of new seats. This they did to try to appease the wrath of Inspector Gordon, but they say they will never dig the well. They tried that once and it proved a feeder for typhoid fever and other diseases, and as they can obtain a sufficiency of good, pure water within fifty yards of the schoolhouse, we do not blame them for declining to comply with the Inspector's request. We want to keep fever away from our doors.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnston have just returned from Kleinburg, where they have been attending the funeral of Mrs. George Arnold, formerly of Amaranth, and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Johnston.

MONO MILLS.

Our local disciples of Nimrod have returned from their hunting trip in the vicinity of Magnetawan. Mr. Ira Stork having secured two deer and Messrs. Armstrong and Speers one each, and Mr. Potter, a fine specimen of the black bear.

Mr. George Holmes, of Mono, has purchased Mr. John McCutcheon's farm on the fifth line, Caledon. We understand the price paid was in the vicinity of $5,000.

The annual entertainment in connection with St. John's church here will be held on Thursday evening, Dec. 21st: Committees have been appointed and a good programme and pleasant evening is assured. Fuller particulars later.

ROSEMONT.

Mother earth is once more covered with her white shroud.

Trueman Moore happened with a very serious accident on Saturday last, which might easily have proved fatal. He was drawing wood from the bush and, while he was getting in the wagon, slipped and fell, breaking his arm at the wrist. If the horses had started he would have been killed, but he managed to get up on the wagon and drive to where his father was working in the other bush. Dr. Blair is in attendance.

Mrs. Gardner, of Toronto, spent a few days last week with Mrs. James Hunter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie McDowell visited Mrs. Alex. McDowell last week.

Mr. and Mrs. John McNabb spent a few days with Airlie and Creemore friends this week.

Mr. G. P. McNabb is preparing to cement his cow stable. R. J. Peacock has the contract.

Mrs. James Christian, of Ennis, visited her sister, Mrs. F. J. McNabb, last week.

Mr. Wes. Gallaugher and his lady friend passed through our village last week.

Our deer hunters came home last Saturday, each member of the party having a fine large deer.

CAMILLA.

Miss Berdita Thompson is visiting friends in Toronto this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Neil, of Chicago, are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. Eliza Neil.

Miss Helen Bremner spent last week in Toronto.

Rev. A. J. Fowlie and Wm. Henry have gone to Muskoka on a hunting expedition. In the absence of Mr. Fowlie the services were taken by Mr. Will Bremner, of McMaster University.

Will Parks has returned home from Muskoka.

BURGLARS IN GRAND VALLEY.

Entered Dr. Perkin's House and Stole Two Valuable Diamond Rings.

On Sunday evening during church hour Dr. Perkin's house was entered by burglars who carried off two diamond rings worth about $200, after making a thorough search of the house. As was the custom, Dr. Perkin left all windows and doors of the house securely locked before going to church, and on their return found the front door open, and the door between the sitting room and dining room, and the rear outside door unlocked. The burglars were not taking any chances of being caught if the owners unexpectedly returned. Mrs. Perkin ran upstairs, and found two diamond rings gone, and every evidence of a minute search by the burglars. Her watch had been examined and left open, the works exposed. Some other jewellery was displaced, but not taken. Dr. Perkin's clothes had been searched as if it was money the visitors wanted, but fortunately the doctor was carrying his wad that night. The burglars gently drew the blinds on two bedrooms for privacy in making their search and perhaps because the electric light in one room was broken, overlooked a bill in one of the dresser drawers. Downstairs the sideboard had been disturbed, and the silverware laid out on the table, but none is missing.

There is no question but the parties were well acquainted with the house and the habits of its occupants. They entered by a latch key at the front door, and apparently their fine and discriminating taste showed a practical knowledge of the jewellery business, or value thereof.— Star & Vidette.

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENT.

The annual report for 1911 of Mr. W. A. McLean, Provincial Engineer of Highways, on "Highway Improvement," has just come to hand. The report has an added local interest this year from the fact that it is embellished with a number of views from photos taken in or near Orangeville. The views shown include a group photo of the Dufferin and Peel County Councils inspecting the work on the Centre Road at a point near Mr. John Cameron's, Hill Improvement in Peel County, showing the commencement and the completed grade on the hill near Melville sideroad; the new concrete bridge over the Credit just east of Orangeville, a concrete arch bridge on the Hockley Road in Mono township, and a section of the Centre Road, Caledon, a few miles below Orangeville, with a foundation covering of field stone in readiness for the finer top material. We understand that the photos were taken by Mr. A. Henderson, one of our local photographers.

Mr. McLean maintains in his Report that although township roads are the public highways, which lead to the homes of the people, and are, therefore, of the most universal use and benefit, it is nevertheless true that in the greater part of Ontario the township roads are to-day little, if any, better than they were twenty years ago. Every refinement has been sought and vast expenditures have been made on steam and electric railways, ocean and lake steamship lines, harbors and canals; express, postal, telephone, telegraph and cable services, and yet one of the greatest opportunities for material advancement, that of road improvement, is not keeping pace with the modern methods of travel, transportation and communication. The progress of Ontario in road-building, compared with that of other communities, shows a decidedly low standard. A country drive, which should be one of the greatest pleasures of farm life is often a hardship, owing to the rough state of the roads. Over $40,000,000 has been expended by Ontario township councils on highways during the past twenty years and still the roads do not show any material improvement.

The value of good roads can carcely be estimated, but the report states that they would cut in two the time now spent in marketing produce and in driving on the roads for all purposes. Good roads increase land values, lessen cost of transportation, improve marketing facilities, and extend social privileges, largely overcoming the isolation of farm life.

There were, during 1910, seventeen counties operating under the Highway Improvement Act, and the expenditure amounted, in all, to $553,321.61, of which the municipalities paid two-thirds and the Province one-third. The Province, under this Act, contributes one dollar for each two dollars raised by county rate.

Road-making is expensive, and nothing but skilled management should be employed. Gravel roads nine feet wide cost about $900 per mile, and, if ten feet wide, $1,000 per mile; while a ten-foot broken-stone road costs about $2,000 per mile where the stone is available in the locality, and $3,000 per mile where the stone must be brought in by rail. Experience under the county road system has shown conclusively that better results follow where the system of management is removed from local influences, such as arise in township control, where there is often a tendency to carry on the work so as to gain votes or favor for the councillors, rather than to further the best interests of good road-making. County road systems and Government aid to road-building results in work of a substantial kind, yet perhaps the chief object to be attained is to instruct the people that such improvement can be carried on only by thorough and efficient organization. It is poor economy to build roads without making suitable provision to maintain and keep them in proper state of repair. Disregarding maintenance results in unnecessary public loss. A judicious system of constant repair is much less expensive than early reconstruction following neglect. A system of continuous maintenance should be adopted in every county, whereby roads will be repaired as soon as holes or wheel-tracks commence, so that the more rapid wear of rutted and uneven road surfaces will not follow.

The report recommends the placing of one man on a section of road, with cart, hoe, pick and pounder, and a few simple tools, with a quantity of broken stone at his disposal; or, the keeping of a crew of men constantly engaged, under a superintendent, working systematically over a fixed mileage of road, and a steam roller, grader, and the necessary road metal for resurfacing. In this way roads can be systematically maintained for all time, in good condition. Important parts of maintenance are the cutting of grass and weeds on the roadside, the annual cleaning of ditches, and removing the shoulders that are continually forming at the edges of the road from the accumulation of dust.

Ontario is just beginning to enter seriously upon the work of road construction. A starting point is necessary, which is afforded by county-road systems. If the people could only realize what good roads mean to them in the marketing of their produce alone, many more counties would avail themselves of the opportunity of improving the condition of their public highways. Good grading, draining, road metal (gravel or broken stone) and rolling are the essentials to the building of a thoroughly up-to-date and satisfactory road. These are all provided for under the improvement system, which should be encouraged in every municipality.

A MATTER OF MORALS.

Thanksgiving day for 1911 is past, but many were the goodly sentiments it evoked for the comparatively few who attached to it any religious or moral significance. And even they may now allow those proper feelings to go into cold storage until 1912 brings round the day again. As for the vast multitude who, like the priest and the Levite, so to speak, passed on the other side, the day and its special services had no suggestion of religion or gratitude whatsoever. A holiday, and nothing more. And yet such an occasion should be a factor of considerable moral and national value in the life of a people—enjoying such large prosperity as we do—lest they forget.

A great prophet contends that national blessing is, in the main, a matter of morals. To foster personal sin and social injustice is to invite national disaster. It is the close relation of cause and effect. The fact is accepted, but the personal purity and the social righteousness for which it calls are but imperfectly observed. For a nation to live, it has been said, it must be very strong or very deserving. Our prophet would allow no alternative. For a nation to live, just one thing is necessary—it must be deserving. The highest political wisdom is to hate evil, love the good, and establish justice in the gate. Only as this is done, can a people hope to retain the blessing of God. The wiseacres, the smart ones of the day, smiled at the prophet for insisting on the ethical standard in politics. Experienced in that kind of craft which manages the crowd for ulterior ends, not always worthy, they promptly said they knew better than the simple-minded, desert-bred prophet, wholly unversed in the wire-pulling and self-seeking of practical politics. And they were sure, that the prosperity and security of the nation did not at all depend upon that uprightness of man and of men which was of the first importance to the prophet. They would have a strong army posted behind the hills of Samaria, an alliance with a strong power, like Egypt or Assyria, and failing these, was not Israel the "chosen of the Lord?" His own elect, would He not protect them against all foes, and not be hard on them even for their sins?

Well, the prophet did not say an army might not have a place in national destiny, nor a foreign alliance; nor did he deny that Israel was a chosen people. Every people think they are that, and they are, the crucial point being to know what precisely they are chosen for. Israel was exceptionally so, and yet it came, misguided by its leaders, to misunderstand wherein the notable distinction lay. And so the prophet had to re-interpret the doctrine, and set it in the light of present day, as prophets ever have to do. If more privileged than other people, so much the greater was their obligation to observe personal and national righteousness, so much darker their sin, when they fell from their high estate. Hence the stern but wholesome judgment: You only have I known of all the families of the earth; therefore—will I pass by your faults and excuse your crimes? Nay! Therefore, I will visit upon you all your iniquities. Much is given, much shall be required. That is the law, and there is no immunity from its operation, any more for Canada than for Israel.

What does it mean for us? Of earth's first-blood, with illimitable wheat fields, and mineral deposits, and "sea pastures" in our keeping, and institutions of the best does this mean that we are to give less heed to a clean life and righteous dealing than other people? Or shall it mean for us what privilege and opportunity meant for Amos—the greater obligation to do the Heavenly Will? It does mean this. And Thanksgiving Day has solemnly reminded us of it. We are never great if we are not good. May we, in these prosperous, earlier days of our development, grasp the truth which the prophet urged upon his people—that if a nation is to be great it must be more than strong, and materially prosperous; it must be derserving; hate the evil, love the good, and establish justice in the gate. Then will God be gracious unto us. Our country's well-being is, in the main, a matter of morals. Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? Who shall stand in His holy place? He and they who have clean hands and pure hearts, and have not lifted up their souls unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully. If Thanksgiving has caused this lesson to infuse and inform our heart and mind it has indeed rendered us a precious service.—The Presbyterian.

How Do You Judge a Range?

YOU can't judge a range by looking at it. True, you can see whether it is good looking or not. You can see whether it will be hard or easy to manage, whether the doors open or shut easily; whether it is easy to clean. You can see how the grates work and what oven room you have.

Top in Three Sections

But you can't see how much coal it will take to heat the oven. You can't see whether your pies will burn or not. You can't tell how long the parts will wear.

This unseen part, you can be sure of when you buy a Monarch Peninsular or, in fact, any Peninsular range.

Fifty years of building stoves—honest stoves—are behind every range that bears the name Peninsular. That name says the materials are good—the flue arrangement is good—the oven will heat evenly—the range will wear.

Monarch Peninsular

is a steel range—the easy-to-clean kind.

It has a large square oven, twenty inches both ways—just right for four pies. The oven is made of quick radiating steel and will heat up as soon as a fire is started. It has a drop oven door, strongly made.

Grates Easy to Remove

The fire-box is of iron. It is deep and has upright sides, which experience tells us is the most economical shape. It is cleaned out with perfect duplex grates. These grates cannot warp out of shape, and may be removed without disturbing the linings of the fire-box.

The Monarch may be had with a hot-water reservoir which fits either end of the range; a high warming closet with drop door; an oven thermometer; no convenience known to modern stove-making is lacking in this perfect range.

PENINSULAR RANGES

S. A. MacCARTNEY, - ORANGEVILLE.

A rather amusing answer was given by one of the prisoners at the Barrie jail during the church service at that institution on a recent afternoon. Rev. Andrew Smith, who was conducting service, asked the prisoners if there was any hymn for which they had preference. One young man promptly requested "We've reached the land of corn and wine," and the hymn was forthwith sung with a heartiness that was evidence that the prisoners appreciate the comfort of their surroundings. The jail menu costs but 8½c. per man per day, notwithstanding the ever-increasing cost of living.

The big Goldie flour mill at Guelph is now being operated entirely by Hydro-Electric power. It was turned on for the first time last week, a 500 horse power motor having been placed in the building by the Light and Power Commission.

SOME MISTAKES.

The One Thing Needful in the Musician.

"Musical America," of October 14th, 1911, contains a cleverly written article under the caption, "Some Mistakes, and The One Thing Needful." The author is Mr. Leslie J. Hodgson, who, Banner readers will be interested to learn, is a nephew of Mr. Geo. Hodgson, of Amaranth. The article reads as follows:—

One of the most radical truths brought home to the professional musician by the latter-day perfection of pianoforte-playing devices is the fact that, from the point of view of public work, there is no place now for the pianist whose sole stock-in-trade is mechanical dexterity. With infallible technic ever on tap and capable of being used with excellent results in the hands of a manipulator with artistic instincts, there is no room for him. To escape elimination in the path of his mechanical rival and to justify his professional existence it is necessary that he offer a great deal more than is possible to the mechanical apparatus, that he go on where it leaves off, that, in short, he create a definite mood, an atmosphere.

To create a tonal mood one must have at command the technic of expression. By this, of course, is not meant what is commonly understood by the term "technic," digital velocity, but the "atmospheric technic" built by virtue of a richly developed imagination on the substructure of solid executive attainments. It is easy enough to say, "Do this," for a certain kind of tone, and "Do that" for another quality, but there are many infinitely subtle effects of tonal grading that cannot possibly be imparted, that can be produced only at the dictation of the individual mind. For this reason it is all-important to the student to cultivate imagination.

This is not a few discovery, but heretofore it has been pointed out usually in a more or less casual, incidental manner, and among the few who have given vital attention to it the frequent mistake is made of confusing imagination with fancy. Fancy is much more commonly met with than imagination. But fancy alone, while it may bear one along temporarily, cannot carry one far; it does not cut deep.

Strange, isn't it, that the most essential element is the most wantonly neglected in the training of musicians! Look at the vast crops turned out by the conservatories and private studios of Berlin, Paris and other European centers year after year in the name of Art. What is it that enables the few exceptions gradually to gain and maintain the public's abiding interest, while the thousands upon thousands, often excellently equipped technically, sink back to be swallowed up in the dark and file of music's huge standing army? The answer is, the possession of the one thing needful. It is but just, of course, to remember that there are those who do not court a public career, there are others who may be hampered at critical periods by an inadequate physical equipment; but within the limits of a brief article it is necessary to generalize.

Now, if you are any one of nine hundred and ninety-nine persons in a thousand you will promptly say that the one thing needful is temperament; if, by any chance, you are the thousandth you may know that it is something more. The one thing needful is a chemical compound of temperament and imagination. Temperament alone is not the secret. Uncommon as is that sadly traduced attribute, it is infinitely more common—especially in its outward and visible manifestations—than imagination.

Like charity, "artistic temperament" is used to cover a multitude of sins, from various moral vagaries of highly strung natures to the petty excrescences of the puny spirits that animate ill-shapen masses of egotism. We all know the professional type that oozes temperament at every pore, you can see it dripping from his leonine mane, it is wafted in your face from the flowing ends of his Byronic tie, and sooner or later—sooner, as a rule—it is sure to vent itself in mongrelesque snarls if the critics do not take him at his own exalted valuation. He then consoles himself with the reflection that he is ahead of his time. Alas and alack, if he but knew how far he is behind it! Just here is where the possession of imagination and a healthy sense of humor would save him from the gnawing torments of the Great Unappreciated.

Imagination must be cultivated in two ways: first, by concentrated intellectual study of non-musical subjects. It is one of the profession's tragedies that so many of its members are under-educated. The more highly organized the imagination the more fully you can respond to the great composers you undertake to interpret. The second and complementary way is by living actual life—living tensely, intensively, overwhelmingly. The keener and more extensive your range of experience with the real things of life, with the real tests of your life philosophy, the more human must be your powers of comprehension. But it is necessary to have gotten above and aloof from the basic upheavals of one's nature caused by those experiences that threaten temporarily to cut away the underpinning, in order to be able to speak with that authority and conviction which only hardwon praise can engender.

Budding pianists, generally speaking, make one of their first mistakes by rushing from their teacher's studio to the concert-room. Every student is of necessity more or less imitative as long as he is with a teacher, and until he has developed his own intellectual and emotional personality to the point where he is qualified to act on his own initiative in interpreting the message of the great creative geniuses. If young pianists returning from Europe would wait a year, at least, and give themselves a chance to become detached from the spirit of the studio before making a professional appearance they would strike more deeply into the public's interest. Many a premature debut has been fatal to a public career.

Another deplorable mistake lies in the proneness of young artists to consider themselves equal from the outset to works to which, they should realize, their powers can attain only in the fullness of time. They try to stretch their limited mental vision to the framework of Beethoven and Brahms. In more subjective mediums they deceive themselves with the supposition that by excessive abuse of tempo rubato and freakish contrasts of fortissimos and pianissimos they can move people's hearts, whereas they move only their stomachs. They drool maudlin sentimentalism all over the keyboard and hug to themselves the delusion that this transparent counterfeit is really emotion, while all the time true emotion is an undiscovered country to them.

Incidentally, it is the sane and intellectually many-sided men who have gradually been emancipating the profession from a reproach it has long borne in the eyes of their fellow-men in other walks of life—the reproach of being an effeminate calling for a man. No one now disputes the dignity of music as a means of livelihood for either sex.

I really could not live without "Fruit-a-tives"

FENELONFALLS, ONT. Jan. 29th. 1910.

"For thirty-five years (and I am now a man over seventy) I have been a terrible sufferer from Constipation. No matter what remedy or physicians I employed, the result was always the same—impossible to get a cure. About two years ago, I read about 'Fruit-a-tives' and I decided to try them.

I have used 'Fruit-a-tives' ever since. They are the first and only medicine that suited my case. If it were not for 'Fruit-a-tives' I am satisfied that I could not live" JAMES PROUDFOOT.

The greatest remedy in the world for all forms of Indigestion and Dyspepsia, is "Fruit-a-tives". Doctors as well as hundreds of people proclaim it.

"Fruit-a-tives" cures all stomach troubles because it makes the liver active, strengthens the kidneys, purifies the blood and keeps the stomach sweet and clean. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy made of fruit juices.

Mr. John Boales' barn in Euphrasia, was burned to the ground a week ago Sunday night. Mr. Boales was in the barn in the evening doing some chores when the lantern exploded and the chaff on the floor quickly ignited. Mr. Boales threw off his coat and smothered the fire, as he thought, and then went into the house to get another lantern. Looking out of the window a few minutes later he was shocked to see the whole side of the building a mass of flame, and it is quite evident that he had not succeeded in extinguishing all the fire which broke out again after he had left.

"I was Crippled, could hardly walk and had to Crawl down stairs at times on my hands and knees. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I was in the hospital for weeks, but was scarcely able to walk when I left it. I read about bought a bottle and began to get better from the start, and for the past six months I have had scarcely any pain and am able to walk as well as ever." J.H. SANDERS, P. O. box 5, Rockaway, N. J.

Few medicines are of any benefit for rheumatism, but Mr. Sanders tells plainly what Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did for it. One ounce of salicylate of soda added to one bottle of Nervine makes an excellent remedy for rheumatism, which is now known to be a nervous disease and therefore subject to the influence of a medicine that acts through the nerves, as does

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Sufferers from rheumatism seldom fail to find relief in the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine, with salicylate of soda.

Sold under a guarantee that assures the return of the price of the first bottle if it fails to benefit. At all Druggists.

KEEPING CLEAN.

Important for Body, Mind and Soul —All Ought to be Pure—A College Man to College Men—A Speech Worth Studying and Remembering.

Dr. David Starr Jordon, the famous and talented President of Leland Stanford University, in California, recently spoke to a class of students on the important question of temperance. Every sentence of his thoughtful address deserves careful consideration. Here is a report of his statement, as published in the Amethyst:—

The basis of intemperance is the effort to secure through drugs the feeling of happiness when happiness does not exist. Men destroy their nervous system for the tingling pleasures they feel as its structures are torn apart.

This is mental health, when the machinery of the brain and nerves performs each its appointed task; when the mind is clear, the will strong, the attention persistent, and all is well with the world.

Some phase of mental unsoundness is the natural effect of any of those drugs called stimulants and narcotics. Alcohol gives a feeling of warmth or vigour, or exhilaration, when the real warmth, or vigour, or exhilaration, does not exist. Tobacco gives a feeling of rest which is not restfulness. The use of opium seems to intensify the imagination, giving its clumsy wings a wondrous power of flight. It destroys the sense of time and space alone that man has his being. Cocaine gives a strength which is not strength Strychnine quickens the motor response which follows sensation. Coffee and tea, like alcohol, enable one to borrow from his future store of force for present purposes, and none of these makes any provision for paying back the loan.

One and all of these various drugs tend to give the impression of a power or a pleasure, or an activity, which we do not possess. One and all their function is to force the nervous system to lie. One and all the result of their habitual use is to render the nervous system incapable of ever telling the truth. One and all their supposed pleasures are followed by a reaction of subjective pains as spurious and unreal as the pleasures which they follow. Each of them, if used to excess, brings in time insanity, incapacity, and death. To yield to temptation makes it easier to yield again. The weakening effect on the will is greater even than the injury to the body.

Some six years ago, in the San Francisco Examiner, Mr. Arthur McEwan records the words of an old sailor, called "Longshore Pots," who gave a striking account of what he calls "The Shock." A young man, with money and ambition, starts out to enjoy life. He is "hail fellow well met," "afraid of no man," and "nobody's enemy but his own." He frequents the clubs; he plays the races, and he is with the gayest in all the gay company. He thinks well of himself; he has a good time, and he knows no reason why others should not think well of him.

This goes on for a year or two, when the pace begins to prove too rapid. The "difference in the morning," becomes disagreeable. It interferes with business, it spoils pleasure. The only thing to do is to go still faster. The race down the cocktail route helps to forget. Suddenly the man gets sight of himself. He catches his face in the glass. He sees himself as others see him. Instead of "the jolly good fellow, which nobody can deny," he gets the glimpse of a useless, helpless sot.

He sees a man who has spent his substance, has disgraced his name, has ruined his home, has broken the heart of his wife, has beggared his children, has lost the respect of others and the respect of himself. This is the Shock! When it has come, he is henceforth good for nothing, for there is no virtue in maudlin remorse; no hope in alcoholic repentance. There is nothing that can save him but to stop, and it takes something of manhood to do this.

Harold Frederick's story of Theron Ware is a characteristic study of the deterioration of the good young man who is only "accidentally good," and who has within him neither manliness nor strength when temptation comes in unexpected forms.

With most men, sin comes not as a result of strong passion, ungovernable impulses, and revolt against conventions. As with Theron Ware, it is an outcome of weak will, scanty brains, and unchecked selfishness, brought in contact with petty or nasty temptation of corrosion.

"There is joy in life" says Sullivan, the pugilist, but it is known only to the man who has a few jolts of liquor under his belt. To know this kind of joy is to put oneself beyond the reach of all others.

There was once, I am told, a man who came into his office smacking his lips, and said to his clerk, "The world looks very different to the man who has had a good glass of brandy and soda in the morning." "Yes," said the clerk, "and the man looks different to the world."

And this is natural and inevitable, for the pleasure which exists in imagination leads to action which has likewise nothing to do with the demands of life. The mind is confused and may be delighted with the confusion, but the confused muscles tremble and halt. The tongue is loosened and utters unfinished sentences; the hand is loosened and the hand-writing is shaky; the muscles of the eyes are unharnessed, and the two eyes move independently and see double; the legs are loosened and the confusion of the brain shows itself in the confused walk.

And if this confusion is long continued, the mental deterioration shows itself in external things, the shabby hat and seedy clothing and the gradual drop of the man from stratum to stratum of society, till he brings up some night in the ditch.

As the world looks more and more different to him, so does he look more and more different to the world.

A prominent lawyer of Boston once told me that the great impulse to total abstinence came to him when a young man, from hearing his fellow lawyers talking over their cups. The most vital secrets of their clients' business were made public property when their tongues were loosened by wine; and this led my friend to the firm resolution that nothing should go into his mouth which would prevent him from keeping it closed unless he wanted to open it.

The time will come when the only opening for the ambitious man of intemperate habits will be in politics. It is rapidly coming now. Private employers dare not trust their business to the man who drinks. The great corporations dare not. He is not wanted on the railroads. The steamship lines have long since cast him off. The banks dare not use him. He cannot keep accounts. Only the people, long-suffering and generous, remain as his resource.

For this reason, municipal government is his specialty; and while this patience of the people lasts, our cities will breed scandals as naturally as our swamps breed malaria.

You are young men and strong, and it is for you to resist corrosion, and to help stamp it out of civilized society.

A man ought to be stronger than anything that can happen to him. He is the stronger man who can say no. He is the wise man who, for all his life, can keep mind and soul and body clean.

A WONDRFUL CASE.

Three Months in Hospital and Came Out Uncured.

Zam-Buk Cured Him in Two Weeks.

Mr. Fred. Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer of St. Andrew's, N.B., says:—

"I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. When the knee got warm, it burned worse, and the itching and smarting were almost unbearable. I tried various remedies, but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial.

"Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was quite cured.

"Since then Zam-Buk has cured blood-poison in my finger, and at a time when my finger was in such a terrible condition that I feared it would have to be amputated."

For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose ulcers, bad leg, cold sores, chapped hands, scalds, burns, bruises and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal.

(16) Verse 31-32—Two good men start on a journey and are attacked by robbers, one being killed and the other escaping without injury; which of these men did God love more, and why? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club).

HEALTH RESTORED TO THIS FAMILY

Wife's experience with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food led to husband's cure.

"Since childhood I was afflicted with biliousness and sick headache," writes Mr. A. K. Van Wyck, Park Hill, Ont., "and as all the doctors' medicines and prescriptions failed to do me any permanent good, I had lost faith in all medicines. It was by accident that I came to use Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for it had been recommended for Mrs. Van Wyck and did her so much good that she wished me to try it.

"I did so, and was surprised at the results. It is now three years since I discontinued the medicine and I have not had an attack of the old trouble. I hope that others may benefit by my experience."

The cures effected by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are lasting because it builds up the system and removes the cause of trouble. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50; at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

"I was not able to wait on myself when I began using it. I gained very slowly at first, but I could see that it was helping me.

"After I had taken it a while I commenced to raise up a stringy, sticky substance from my lungs. This grew less and less in quantity as I continued the treatment.

"I grew more fleshy than I had been for a long time, and now I call myself well."

EYE ERROR

Not a question of age

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

We have facilities here for testing your eyes and finding out exactly what they need. We sell only such glasses as we can thoroughly recommend. All work is guaranteed.

CAUSE FOR ALARM.

Loss of Appetite or Distress After Eating a Symptom That Should Not be Disregarded.

Appetite is just a natural desire for food. Loss of appetite or stomach distress after eating indicate indigestion or dyspepsia. Over-eating is a habit very dangerous to a person's good general health.

It is not what you eat but what you digest and assimilate that does you good. Some of the strongest, heaviest, and healthiest persons are moderate eaters.

There is nothing that will cause more trouble than a disordered stomach, and many people daily contract serious maladies simply through disregard or abuse of the stomach.

We urge all in Rochester who suffer from any stomach derangement, indigestion, or dyspepsia, whether acute or chronic, to try Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, with the distinct understanding that we will refund their money without question or formality, if after reasonable use of this medicine, they are not perfectly satisfied with the results. We recommend them to our customers every day, and have yet to hear of any one who has not been benefited by them. We honestly believe them to be without equal. They give very prompt relief, aiding to neutralize the gastric juices, strengthen the digestive organs, to regulate the bowels, and thus to promote perfect nutrition, and eradicate all unhealthy symptoms.

We urge you to try a 25c. box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, which gives 15 days' treatment. At the end of that time, your money will be returned to you if you are not satisfied. Of course, in chronic cases length of treatment varies. For such cases, we have two larger sizes, which sell for 50c. and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store — The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville, Ont.

VANCOUVER.

British Columbia's Chief City and Its Surroundings.

Interesting Descriptive Letter From One of The Banner's Western Subscribers.

The following interesting descriptive letter is from the pen of Mr. Morgan E. Graham, of Hollyburn, B.C. :—

Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,— In renewing my subscription to your valuable paper, if you will allow me space, I will endeavor to write a few lines about Vancouver, that may be of interest to at least some of your readers :—

What is Vancouver ? W. E. Curtis, in the Chicago Record-Herald, says : "Vancouver, the Liverpool of the Pacific, is a solid, well built city, much superior in architectural display, and in appearance generally, to any of the cities on the American side that I have seen. There is nothing shabby about it. The streets are well-paved and kept. Everything seems to wear an appearance of prosperity and permanence, with nothing out of repair. There aren't any vacant storerooms or houses, and wherever you go buildings for business and residential purposes are being built. Sawmills and salmon canneries are well-built structures. The docks are solid and kept in excellent order. Vancouver is altogether the most attractive and prosperous city I have seen in the West."

Mr. J. J. Hill, in a public address, said : "Vancouver has not yet started on its forward career. I see a day coming when half a score of railways from Northern British Columbia will converge on the Burrard Inlet. You have untold wealth in the seas, the greatest timber resources on the continent, and mineral assets which will make British Columbia the greatest province in the Dominion. In growth and commercial activity Vancouver has no equal on the Pacific Coast to-day."

Where is Vancouver situated? It is on the south side of the Burrard Inlet, which extends inland in an easterly direction from the Gulf of Georgia, a distance of some eighteen miles. Vancouver is some eight miles from the Gulf—that is the business centre, but the residential parts extend to within some three miles of the Gulf, and, at the present rate of increase in population, it is only a matter of a year or two until it is settled all the way. The Inlet varies in width from one mile to five. On the north side of the Inlet, some four miles from the water's edge, is a range of mountains, which protect it and the country around Vancouver from any cold north winds. The Inlet, although practically in its natural state, may be entered by the largest vessels that sail in the Pacific Ocean, and affords sufficient anchorage for the shipping of the British Empire. Added to this is False Creek, a smaller inlet running practically through the heart of the city, and dividing the principal business section from the residential sections of Mt. Pleasant and Fairview. This is very valuable for sawmilling property, coal and gravel-bunkers, etc. There is also the north arm of the Fraser River, which is some six miles to the south of Burrard Inlet, which, when deepened, will make the total harbor accommodation equal to that of the world's greatest seaport.

Some time ago a piece appeared in the Toronto World, headed, "Vancouver's Boom is Burst." But as the Vancouver Board of Trade took the matter up, the Toronto paper was obliged to apologize. It is true work in the building line was at a standstill for a time in the summer. What was the reason ? Was it on account of there not being any work to do? I should say not. The reason was the Carpenters' Union went out on strike and were out for about a month, then went back at practically the same wages as they were getting before. But while they were on strike several large buildings that Companies had planned, or were planning, were laid over until such times as the strike would be settled. They could not see any sign of carpenters and contractors coming to an agreement, and did not know whether they could have their building done if they did let a contract. This not only caused a shortage in work for a short time, but lowered the amount of the building permits. Thus it will be clearly understood why there was 'a slackness in the building trade for a time. Since the strike has been settled building permits have exceeded all previous records. Also for the month of September the Bank clearings exceeded all previous records. With all these things to its credit, it certainly does not look as if 'Vancouver's boom was burst.'

Vancouver proper, or the main business section of the city at the present time—and no doubt it will always be that part of the city which is certain to contain the main business offices — lies between False Creek and The Burrard Inlet. Some fine new buildings are to be seen in this part, for instance The Dominion Trusts Co., 14 stories; Carter-Cotton, Holden, New Court House, Post Office, Hotel Vancouver (C.P.R.), Hotel Dunsmuir (Temperance), World Newspaper, 18 stories, now under construction. To the south of False Creek, which is spanned by three very fine bridges, are Mount Pleasant to the east, and Fairview to the west. These districts are mainly residential, but business is crowding in very fast.

West of Fairview is the Kitsilano district, a very fine residential suburb. It has lately been annexed to the city. Still more westerly lies the municipality of Point Grey, extending to the Gulf of Georgia. It is becoming settled very rapidly mainly as residential. To the east of Mount Pleasant lies Grandview district. I might say this is a very valuable part of the city, both as a business section and residential. Then just east of the city limits lies the municipality of Hastings townsite. It is in this part that the Vancouver Exhibition grounds are.

Directly across the Inlet from the business section lies North Vancouver, a city growing upon the side of a mountain, or at least is likely to. Several houses at the present time are to be seen about half way up. It certainly is wonderful how quickly a city can grow up. Some six years ago I'm told, this was nothing but a dense forest. Any person, who has ever visited British Columbia will have some idea of what I mean by a dense forest. Just imagine the ground covered with trees ranging from four to eight and ten feet in diameter, and then think of a city of some 7,500 inhabitants, where six years ago there were only some sixteen or eighteen houses.

In Lynn Valley, just east of North Vancouver, a log was brought to the saw-mill last spring, measuring some eleven feet in diameter inside the bark.

To the west of North Vancouver you will see the Capilano River, where the people of Vancouver city go to spend a holiday sightseeing, and one place where all tourists to the Coast make it a point to go. At the first Canyon of the Capilano, a foot bridge is swung across on cables. It is about 200 feet long, and swings 190 feet above the water. At the second Canyon you are some 400 feet above the River. One party, who had travelled from Boston, Mass., told me it was the most wonderful scenery he had seen in all his travels.

Now, last, but not by any means east, is the district west of the Capilano, known as West Vancouver. This part has been visited by several tourists during the past summer, and it is claimed it is by far the finest residential district around Vancouver, and that is saying quite a lot, for in any part of Vancouver you like to go to you have a splendid view of the mountains. But in this particular spot we have the mountains as a background to the north, and the clear blue waters of the Burrard Inlet to the south, and to the south-west is the Gulf of Georgia and Vancouver Island with its snow-capped mountains. In addition to this all the shipping going in and out of Vancouver harbor has to go, practically speaking, right by the door, and what is nicer than to see an ocean liner ploughing her way through the calm waters of the Pacific.

I might mention some of the tourists whom I met here this summer, from the vicinity of my old home, which is on lot 21, 10th line, Erin. Among others were Dr. and Mrs. Gibson, Hillsburg, W. Byrne, Hillsburg; Rev. S. R. Robinson, Charleston; Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott, Inglewood; Miss M. J. McLaren, of Toronto (late of Belfountain), accompanied by Miss M. Reid, Erin, who has remained to teach school in West Vancouver.

There are several matters that I might write about, which I may touch on at some future time. There is for instance the lumber industry, which is carried on upon an extensive scale, and the important salmon catching and canning industries. However, I will not attempt to deal with these at present. I am enclosing some rosebuds, which will give you an idea of the mildness of our climate. These were plucked from a garden in West Vancouver on November 3rd. We have had a few very light frosts, but nothing as yet to do any damage. There has been little else but lovely bright sunshine for the past three weeks and still some people say that Vancouver is a terrible place for rain. If any person, who reads this epistle, wishes to obtain any information regarding Vancouver, I will be only too glad, if they will write me, to answer to the best of my ability any questions they may care to ask.

Enclosed please find one year's subscription to The Banner. I hope I have not trespassed too much upon your valuable space, I am,

Yours Truly,
MORGAN E. GRAHAM.

CURED HIS WIFE SO HE TRIED THEM

Leon Sergent Found New Health in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Suffered with his Kidneys and was very feeble, but now he is feeling fine.

Saint Walburg, Sask., Nov. 13 — (Special).—One healthy, happy family in this neighborhood are always ready to speak a good word for Dodd's Kidney Pills. They are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Sergent, and here is the reason in Mr. Sergent's own words :

"I suffered with my Kidneys, and I was very feeble. My urine was thick and had a brick-dust sediment. As Dodd's Kidney Pills had already cured my wife I bought three boxes. Now my urine is normal and I feel fine."

It is statements such as these that give Dodd's Kidney Pills their popularity. They are no cure-all. They simply cure diseased Kidneys, and the ills that come from diseased Kidneys. But no matter what neighborhood you visit you find some man or woman who has been sick and in pain and has been cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. For a score of years this work has been going on and to-day in every part of Canada Dodd's Kidney Pills are known as the one sure cure for Kidney Disease, Urinary Troubles, Backache, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Diabetes and Bright's Disease.

—Mr. Thos. Bennett has rented his farm, lot 29, 2nd line, west, Caledon, to Mr. Arch. Cowan, of Alton.

Guessed His Grandfather.

Peter Augustus had a foolish, fond old grandfather. The grandfather was boasting to a visitor one day, as grandfathers will, about the family he had raised.

"My daughter Martha is a fine young woman," he said, "and her little boy, Peter Augustus, is a fine lad. But the finest thing about that pair is the affection that exists between them. They never exchange a cross word. They're more like two young lovers than mother and son. It's beautiful to see them together. Hold on a minute, and I'll call Peter Augustus in. Then his mother will come down, and you can see their relations for yourself."

The old man rose and smiled heavily to the door. There was a beatific smile on his old face. Little Peter Augustus was playing with the cat in the garden.

"Peter Augustus!" he shouted. "Peter Augustus! Your mother wants you!"

The little boy dropped the cat and fixed a searching glance on his grandfather.

"Your mother wants you, Peter Augustus!"

"Does she want to warm me?" Peter Augustus cautiously demanded.

Really Worth While.

Eben Pratt of Marshby had sent two sons to Boston and knew he had reason to be proud of them. One day a summer visitor lingering in Mr. Pratt's grocery, provision and dry goods establishment mentioned some of the shining lights who had made themselves remembered in and near Boston and others still to be found there.

"We've had a good many smart men and women in and around our city," said the visitor, "and there are a number of them left. We've got scientific men and writers and artists and musicians and"—

Mr. Pratt's dry voice broke in on the list. "If ye call those folks smart," he said, "ye want to go down near the water to an address I'll give ye and see the way my boys, Ed and Sam, can open oysters! I guess that'll give ye something to go by when ye're talking of smartness."—Exchange.

Willing to Be Honest.

Phil May, the great English artist, earned his first fame in Australia. One day a broken down minister applied to him for charity, and May engaged him as a model. As a joke he also demanded that his eighty-year-old pensioner agree to leave him his skeleton when he died. When May left Australia he called his model in. "You've played me a dirty trick," said May, "by swindling me out of that skeleton. I could have bought one in sound order and condition for half the money you've cost me." The old fellow, conscious of his base ingratitude to his best and most patient friend, answered: "Don't be angry with me, Mr. May. It's not my fault. I meant to keep my word. Stay in Sydney a few months longer and give me another chance to show you that I am a man of honor."

Redhot Plays.

"It is a tremendous undertaking to get a new play accepted and produced," once said the late Clyde Fitch to a friend. "So many are written, and so few ever see the light of day. An English playwright with a gift of humorous exaggeration illustrated this fact to me once. He told me how he submitted a play to a celebrated actor and how in the course of the conversation the actor remarked:

"'Don't you think it is growing chilly in this room?'

"'Yes; it is rather,' the young playwright admitted.

"Then the actor rang a bell, and a servant forthwith appeared.

"'James,' said the actor, 'this room is rather cold. You may put three more manuscripts on the fire.'"—Lippincott's.

A Competent Critic.

A famous actor at an elaborate entertainment at a Fifth avenue millionaire's palace in New York rose to recite Mrs. Browning's "Dead Pan." As he announced his subject and prepared to begin he heard a lady near him say distinctly:

"What is the next piece? Something funny, I hope. Oh, yes—'The Dead Pan!' Dear me, how odd! Of course it must be funny—something about bad cooking, I suppose."

Playing Her Cards.

Tommy—May I stay up a little longer? Ethel—What do you want to stay up for? Tommy—I want to see you and Mr. Green playing cards. Mr. Green—But we are not going to play cards. Tommy—Oh, yes, you are, for I heard mamma saying to Ethel that everything depended on the way in which she played her cards tonight.

Cautious.

The young housekeeper was looking at some soft shell crabs squirming and wriggling in their bed of seaweed.

"They're very nice," said the dealer. "Shall I send you a dozen?"

"Yes," answered the innocent, "if you are sure they are fresh."—New York Journal.

Trials and Temptations.

Every man deems that he has precisely the trials and temptations which are the hardest of all for him to bear, but they are so because they are the very ones he needs.—Richter.

Fly Time.

Howell—What is the best time of day to go up in an airship? Powell—Well, I've always been a believer in early rising.—New York Press.

They can conquer who believe they can.—Dryden.

That small amount per week or one dollar a year will secure you the greatest amount of newspaper reading to be had on this Continent. We refer to The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, by long odds the best family and farm paper printed. In addition to the paper a most beautiful premium picture is included. It is entitled "Home Again," and is well worth the dollar alone. No home in Canada, be it ever so rich or poor, can afford to be without this bargain.

A MILL STREET HOLD-UP.

One night last week a High School student named Herbert McDougall, whose home is in East Luther, was stopped on Mill St. by three town youths, who asked him to give them fifty cents, which they pretended he owed them. When McDougall declined to comply with the request, the trio set upon him and gave him a trouncing. The offenders, Elkins-Hunter, Harry Riley and Jimmie Bradley, were arraigned before P. M. Pattullo on Saturday afternoon. They admitted asking McDougall for the money, but claimed they had done so only for a joke. They furthermore averred that the victim of the fracas had started the fighting, but the Magistrate declined to believe that one boy would precipitate an encounter with three lads nearly his own size. Bradley, who did not appear to have taken a very active part in the affair, was let off with a reprimand. Hunter and Riley were each fined $2 and costs, which meant that they were obliged to cash up $7.50 for their fun.

CHARTERS AT CHARLESTON.

Conservative Candidate in Peel Holds His First Public Meeting.

The first public meeting in the present campaign in Peel was held at Charleston on Friday night, in the interests of Mr. Charters, the Conservative candidate. The hall was well filled, a considerable number of ladies being present. The chair was occupied by W. J. Limebeer. The speakers were C. R. McKeown, M.P. P. for Dufferin, R. Blain, M.P. for Peel, Thomas Wilson, ex-Reeve of Caledon, and the candidate.

Mr. Charters referred to the work of the government in connection with the Education Department, the increased grants to schools, the amount received by the County of Peel during the years the Ross government was in power, and the amount being received at the present time, the WHITNEY grant being three times as great as that formerly received. The complaint of the Liberals that the scarcity of teachers in different parts of Ontario was owing to the withdrawal of a number of the Model Schools was shown to be unwarranted. The number of certificates being issued this year will be about five hundred greater than that of 1904. During the past two years more than four hundred and fifty teachers have gone to the Western provinces, others have left the profession because of greater opportunities in other directions. He also dealt with the reduction in the price of school books, pointing out that the saving to the people in the life of the contract made by the present government would be upwards of a million dollars. During the seven years the Whitney government has been in power the revenue has been doubled, the annual deficit has been wiped out, the grant to education has been increased by three-quarters of a million, that to agriculture almost doubled, $120,000 per year more is given to hospitals and general improvement in the public service all along the line made, and a cash surplus of $1,637,000 is shown. He appealed to the audience to give him the support they had so cheerfully given in the past, and to show their appreciation of good government by in this way endorsing Sir James Whitney.

A rousing speech was made by Mr. C. R. McKeown, who dealt at length with the Hydro-Electric Power policy, the prison farm scheme, the taxation of railways and the increased grant to the municipalities.

Mr. Blain spoke of the improved conditions in New Ontario, where, under the present government, the mining laws had been amended and where, in consequence, greater development has taken place and greater revenue been derived than under the old Ross administration. He reminded the audience of the practice followed under the Liberal government of giving large grants of timber and pulpwood to their political friends at prices much below their value, and commended the present government for putting up by public tender and accepting the highest bid for every concession disposed of.

Thomas Wilson closed the meeting with a brief address in which he made kindly reference to the services rendered by Mr. Charters, and prophesied his re-election by an increased majority.

BENGOUGH ENTERTAINMENT

A large audience attended the entertainment given in the Town Hall on Tuesday night under the auspices of the High School Cadet Corps. The members of the Cadet Corps and Bugle Band were present in uniform, and with the other students helped along the evening's fun by giving their school yells at intervals before and after the programme. The major part of the evening's entertainment was provided by Mr. J. W. Bengough, the well-known cartoonist, raconteur and wit. Mr. Bengough's crayon sketches, executed with amazing rapidity, were exceedingly clever. He made a hit with the crowd by a characteristic portrayal of Sir James Whitney, and a sketch of Mr. C. R. McKeown, accompanied by the inscription "This is the Boy I Want." Another hit was a sketch of Mr. Robert Mann carrying a board under his arm, on which the artist lettered the inscription, "A High School Board Mamm." Mr. Mann, as many of our readers know, has long been an active member of the Board. In comparison with his crayon work, Mr. Bengough's anecdotes, mimicry and recitations suffered not one whit. They were cleverly given, had a refreshing flavoring of originality and stamped the entertainer as one of the very best the people of Orangeville have ever had the pleasure of listening to. The assisting artists were Miss Clara Hulse, violiniste, Miss Helen Denton and Mr. S. R. Frost, vocalists, who acquitted themselves creditably. The appreciation of the audience was shown by the hearty manner in which each of them was encored. Misses Lettie Hulse and H. Wallace were the accompanists. An interesting feature was the presentation of diplomas to such of the successful students at the 1910 and 1911 examinations as were present. The presentations were made by the chairman, Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.P. P., who filled this position in his usual felicitous manner. Following the presentations, Mr. McKeown addressed the successful pupils briefly. Before the diplomas were presented Mr. Steele, the esteemed Principal, gave a short address on the work of the school and also explanatory of the nature and purpose of the different examinations. The proceeds amounted to nearly $100, and the Cadet Corps will have about $30 to the good after defraying all expenses. The members of the Corps are to be heartily congratulated upon the success of their entertainment and also upon the high quality of the programme provided.

THE SHADOW OF POOR HEALTH.

Dispelled Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the shadow of poor health falls on your life, when hope begins to fade and friends look serious, then is the time you should remember that thousands just as hopeless have been cured and restored to the sunshine of health by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make new, rich blood which brings a glow of health to anaemic cheeks, cures indigestion, headaches and backaches, drives out the stinging pains of rheumatism and neuralgia, strengthens the nerves and relieves as no other medicine can do the aches and pains which only women folk suffer from. In any emergency of poor health give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and they will not disappoint you. Here is a case that will bring hope to many a weary sufferer. Mrs. F. K. Sanders, St. Thomas, Ont., says: "About four years ago I took a severe cold which I neglected, thinking that I would soon be all right again. But instead I found myself in a weak and run-down condition. I seemed to have no ambition to do anything and my heart and nerves became so bad I was forced to bed. The doctor who was called in said the trouble was chronic anaemia, but in spite of his skilled attendance I was unable to sit up and eat, but had to be fed with a spoon. One day a visiting friend suggested my trying Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I sent for a half dozen boxes. In a short while I began to eat better and feel better, and by the time the pills were used I felt altogether different; my heart did not bother me, my lips and cheeks regained their natural color, and everybody who saw me remarked on how well I was once more looking. Wishing to be on the safe side, I took two more boxes of the Pills, which made a complete cure, as I have had neither ache nor pain since, and I now weigh 146 pounds. I always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I hope that this letter may be the means of suggesting relief to many of my sisters who suffer as I did."

Sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE FEMALE WAGE-EARNER.

"Is it possible for a female wage-earner to save from her monthly wage an amount which in the aggregate will be sufficient to provide her with an income from the time her earning days are over?" was recently the subject of an interesting discussion at a Women's Club, and the conclusion come to was, that if the wage-earner were earning less than $500 a year, this would be extremely difficult. For the purpose of illustration, the period of accumulation was assumed to be from 23 to 60, and the amount of capital required $6000, in order to yield an income of $300 a year, which was considered to be the minimum amount on which she could maintain herself with comfort and respectability. All this may be quite true. But there is another plan of investment of which the ladies had evidently not heard, namely, the Canadian Government Annuities system, which is not only absolutely safe, but which will give a much larger return for a much smaller investment, and larger it may be said than any other plain available will give as a means of making provision for old age.

For example, if a woman of 23 were to deposit with the Government yearly the sum of $39.24 until she was 60, which she could do by weekly or monthly instalments if she preferred, or a total of $1451.88 only, the Government would pay her $300 a year or $75 every three months so long as she might live, from and after 60. If she died before attaining that age, the total payments made with 3 per cent. compound interest would be refunded to her heirs. If she died at 58 they would receive $2425.77, or $1052.37 more than she had paid in up to that time.

If she had no one dependent upon her and was concerned about herself only, she could secure under the "B" plan the same quarterly income of $75 for an annual payment of $29.67, or for a total paid in of $1097.79,—a yearly return for life no matter how long that may be of nearly 30 per cent. of the sum invested.

Mark the enormous difference; on the one hand she would require at 60 a capital of $600 invested at 5 per cent. to yield her an income of $300, with all the accompanying anxiety of making safe investments, while on the other hand she could provide the same income for about one-fifth of the purchase money spread in easy payments over the accumulating period. In ninety-nine cases out of one hundred, she would not, having regard to the recurring temptation to use the money, have the capital at 60 which would be necessary to give the income. You have only to write (postage free) to the Superintendent of Canadian Government Annuities, Ottawa, to obtain full information in regard to this provident scheme.

Which is Your Choice?

Sloppy, leaky wooden troughs, or clean, durable Concrete?

Wooden drinking troughs are about as reliable as the weather.

They are short-lived and require replacing every few years—not to mention continual patching to keep them in repair.

The best of wood cannot withstand, for long, constant dampness and soaking. Its tendency to rapid decay soon shows itself in leaks and stagnant pools of water around trough.

Contrast with this the durability, cleanliness and well-ordered appearance of Concrete.

Which?

No More Dandruff.

T. Stevenson Knows What is Making Clean Scalps.

In order to rid your scalp of filthy dandruff you must kill the germ. There is a hair dressing called Parisian Sage which is now sold in every town in Canada. It is guaranteed by T. Stevenson to eradicate dandruff, stop falling hair, splitting hair and scalp itch in two weeks or money back.

If you have dandruff get a large 50 cent. bottle to-day and rid yourself of it. Remember that if dandruff germs are not destroyed in time, the hair will surely fall out and baldness will follow.

A SURPRISING FIND.

We were a little surprised the other day to find $125 lying under a tree in the middle of a farm owned by a farmer of this section, and the more so to find that it had lain there for some months unmolested, but beginning to look much the worse for the exposure. The money was in the shape of a binder that will have to be replaced by a new one before many years unless cared for better than that.—Chatsworth News.

Mrs. Samuel McGhie died in West Superior, on Thursday, Nov. 2nd, at the age of 72 years. The deceased formerly lived in the McCue settlement, township of Melanothon, where the family was well known.

When You Feel Cross

And are worried and irritated you can get the liver right by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Life is too short to be cross and grouchy. You not only make yourself miserable, but also those about you. Don't blame others. Blame yourself for not keeping the liver right.

There is nothing in the world which will more promptly afford you relief than Dr. Chase's Kidney and Liver Pills. This statement is true. A trial will convince you.

Mr. Theo. Bedard, Lac aux Sables, Portneuf County, Que., writes,—"I have found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills the best treatment obtainable for indigestion and impure blood. They cured me of indigestion, from which I suffered for four years.

"This certificate is given without solicitation, so that others may not waste their money buying medicines of no value when they can get Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, which I am convinced are the best."

GOOD ROADS AND COST OF LIVING.

Whatever plan may be adopted, the main reason for improved roads must not be lost sight of—that of facilitating the marketing of farm produce. The initial cost of getting produce to market is the main one in our transportation system. It costs much more per ton mile to carry the products of the farm to the nearest market or shipping point than at any other stage on its way to the ultimate consumer. If a farmer had a railway shipping point at his very door, as the manufacturer has, the cost of living would be considerably reduced, and both consumer and producer would benefit from it; that is if some middleman did not get on the line and divert the saving here to his own purposes. But he is not likely to get the opportunity and the improvement of country roads that would enable the farmer to market his products at less cost would help both him and the consumer. This fact has been recognized for some time by cities and towns in the United States and thousands of dollars have been contributed to aid in improving the roads, leading into the country tributary to them. And these towns and cities have benefited immensely from this expenditure by a lowering of the cost of living. Take a case in point. During the recent election campaign it was shown that the retail prices of similar grades of produce were lower in Buffalo than in Toronto, while the price to the farmer was no less. Might not the fact that Buffalo has expended thousands of dollars in improving country roads within a radius of twenty miles around it, while Toronto has not expended one dollar, excepting the grant made recently, and which has not had time yet to affect the situation, had something to do with it. Road improvement is not a movement that benefits the farmer only. It benefits all classes, the people in the city as well as in the country, a very strong reason why governments, and cities, too, should do more than they are doing for road improvement. —Canadian Farm.

FREE IF IT FAILS.

Your Money Back if You are not Satisfied with the Medicine We Recommend.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate, and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons, and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do not purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Orangeville only at our store —The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville, Ont.

PLOWING MATCHES.

There is evidently a new interest in the plowing match this year. Reports from the matches held so far in Ontario show a larger attendance, stronger competition, and a desire on the part of farmers, not only to learn how to plow well, but how soils should be cultivated and best prepared for the seed. A well-conducted plowing match certainly furnishes opportunity in this direction. It has been proven beyond question that a good plowman is always a good farmer. He knows how to till his land after it has been plowed and how to make a good seed bed. Encouraging, as it does, good plowing, the plowing match has a place in the movement for better agriculture that should not be lost sight of. If it were possible to have the matches held a little earlier in the season, when the weather is more suitable for outside demonstration, more might be accomplished in the way of giving information on soil cultivation, etc. In the west the annual plowing matches are held between seeding and harvest. In Ontario they are held in the fall, and usually in the late fall at that. The late fall has this advantage, however, that farmers are over their busy season, and can attend a match without neglecting their work very much. Still, if they could be got together at an earlier season, the match might profitably take on a wider scope and thus accomplish more for agriculture. Then, too, if a match were held at a time when conditions are not so favorable for good plowing, it would be a further test of the skill of the plowman, to have him show how he would handle the soil under adverse conditions.

BORN.

TUPLING—At Violet Hill, on Friday, October 27th, 1911, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tupling, a daughter.

While Mr. Wm. Kirby, one of the employees of the Dominion Express Co., at Guelph, was unloading a piece of boiler plate weighing between 700 and 800 lbs., it slipped back on him after he had raised it about a foot, pinning his wrist between the plate and the edge of the express truck, almost severing his hand from his arm.

A method of determining the age of eggs is to float them in a large tumbler of water in which has been dissolved a tablespoonful of ordinary table salt. An egg one day old will fall to the bottom of the glass; if older, it does not reach the bottom; if three days old, it sinks only just below the surface, and the older the egg the more it protrudes above the surface of the water.

REGINA

The Capital of Saskatchewan. The railway centre of Western Canada. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railways all enter Regina.

OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT CENSUS FOR 1911 SHOWS REGINA'S POPULATION 30,210.

Proof of REGINA'S marvellous growth is found in the Official Government Census for Saskatchewan, which we quote below.

	1911	1901	Increase
Moose Jaw	13,825	1588	12,236
Prince Albert	6,254	1785	4,469
REGINA	30,210	2249	27,961
Saskatoon	12,002	113	11,889

A simple sum in arithmetic shows that REGINA'S population is larger than that of any other two cities in Saskatchewan put together and that it is nearly as great as the total population of the next three largest cities in Saskatchewan.

REGINA'S present population is more than twelve times greater than it was ten years ago, or an increase of over 1200 per cent. The greatest development has taken place this last two years and REGINA is growing faster than ever. At the present rate of growth, REGINA will be a city of nearly 400,000 people in ten years from now.

In reading the Official report I also found that the Province of Saskatchewan has shown the largest increase. In ten years it has grown from 91,279 to 453,508, an increase of nearly 400 per cent. At the present time the percentage of land occupied in Saskatchewan is very small — in the neighborhood of ten per cent. With greater railroad facilities and modern methods Saskatchewan will grow more rapidly than ever. As REGINA is the Capital and leading city of the province, it will be affected by the growth of every city, town or community in Saskatchewan, and its future growth should be more rapid than in the past.

I have for sale a large number of well located lots, in the East, West, North and Centre of the city at very reasonable prices and on easy terms. For full particulars and other information apply to

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, NOV. 23, 1911.

THE PRESENT DUTY.

The present duty of the opponents of bi-lingual schools is to see that the candidates nominated for the legislature to contest the seats at the forthcoming election are so firmly imbued with the reasonableness of the request for the abolition of bi-lingual schools that they will come to Toronto prepared to use their influence to deal with the question so as to secure a result that will be definite and satisfactory to the vast majority of the electors of this province.—Orange Sentinel.

If The Banner does not greatly mistake the temper of the electors of the County of Dufferin this is a duty that they will be only too ready to perform. The prevailing sentiment of the people of this County is one of unalterable opposition to the continuance of schools, in which public money is used for the purpose of teaching French at the expense of English. In view of the strong and almost unanimous opinion which the electorate of Dufferin holds on this burning question, it must be regarded as unfortunate that no attempt has been made by the Conservative party in this riding to secure a positive declaration from the member for the constituency respecting his attitude on bi-lingualism. At the Conservative Convention in Shelburne a few weeks ago Mr. McKeown was eloquent on such subjects as hydro-electric power, prison reform and the lessened cost of school books, but he was strangely silent on bi-lingualism, although, as a public man accustomed to study and interpret public opinion, he must have known that this was one of the most important questions in the public mind at the present time. Is it not significant, too, that, when a prominent Mulmur Conservative, who had prepared a strong resolution expressing unalterable opposition to the system of bi-lingualism, informed one of the party leaders in this County of what he had done, that gentleman immediately made it his business to dissuade him from bringing the resolution before the Convention. Out of deference to his opinion, the Mulmur man dropped his resolution and as a result the two hundred or more delegates, who had assembled from all parts of the County, were not given an opportunity of defining their position on bi-lingualism. The gentleman, who side-tracked the resolution, is one of Mr. McKeown's closest advisers and has been occasionally referred to as the power behind the throne in Dufferin politics. His action shows that some of the little coterie of men who run the Dufferin Conservative Association are mere party politicians, who stand prepared, if need be, to sacrifice the cherished ideals of the English speaking people of Ontario for the sake of party exigencies. There is, however, plenty of time before the election takes place, for Mr. McKeown to make his position clear on bi-lingualism. The people of this County should make it their business to see that he does so. They owe it to themselves and to the English speaking people of the Province to require a definite and binding pledge from every candidate who asks them for their votes at the pending election.

GOVERNMENT BY COMMISSION.

Mr. George Gooderham's suggestion that the Ontario Legislature delegate the government of New Ontario to a Commission raises a question that is deserving of more than passing attention. The idea of government by commission has been growing in favor in Canada of late years. For many years our Parliaments have followed the practice of appointing Commissions for the purpose of collecting information or making inquiry into matters assigned to them. A more recent development of the idea is what may be termed the judicial commission. Familiar instances are the Dominion and Ontario Railway Boards, which have been vested with extensive authority of a judicial nature. Of still more recent origin is the administrative or governing Commission. Examples of this are the Hydro-Electric Commission, the T. & N. O. Railway Commission, and the Commissions appointed to supervise the construction of the Quebec Bridge and the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. One of the chief arguments in favor of the Commission idea is that it enables the Government to avail itself of the services of men who are specially qualified for the work they may be selected to perform. While there is doubtless considerable force in this contention, government by Commission subjects the state to the grave dangers that arise through lack of direct responsibility to the people. Parliament delegates its authority and in a measure its responsibility to the Commission that it creates. The Commission on its part, not having any direct responsibility to the electorate, is removed from the wholesome and salutary influence of public opinion. It is irresponsive to public sentiment and may at times pursue a policy directly at variance with that demanded by public opinion. There is also the difficulty of bringing responsibility for its acts home to the proper parties. If the policy of the Commission should become the subject of criticism on the floor of the House, the Administration, or the Minister of the Department directly concerned, will naturally endeavor to throw the burden of responsibility upon the Commissioners. The practice of appointing Commissions may be looked upon with favor by politicians, as affording a convenient means of escape when they are confronted with a difficult situation. It is also favored by men who have acquired wealth and position by the skillfully planned and effective methods of modern business. The Weekly Sun puts the matter this way:—

"The wealthy are impatient of popular government, and of democracy. How disagreeable, they say, is the noise and the disturbance which the people make in governing themselves, their hunt of offices, their dependence on philosophers and demagogues and above all, how they menace privilege and disturb business. So, they say, take the railway, the Hydro-Electric, the University and the tariff out of politics. Give them over to experts, to successful business men, who because they are rich are necessarily endowed with superior wisdom, and, therefore, know better than the people themselves what is good for the country."

There are very few people who will seriously contend that the wealthy classes have any monopoly of the administrative wisdom of the land, but even if they had the fact remains that direct personal responsibility to the people is one of the foundation principles of our present system of government. To quote The Sun again "with all its faults, there is nothing better than the English Parliamentary system, with its cabinet responsibility and free debate."

McKEOWN AND WOODS.

Political Situation Clearing Up in Dufferin.

There will be an election in Dufferin and at the present time it looks as if the names of C. R. McKeown and R. J. Woods will be the only ones that will appear on the ballot. Rev. J. R. Bell, who has been spoken of as a probable candidate, is not likely to take the field. Mr. Bell was quite willing to enter the lists against Mr. McKeown in a straight fight, but the nomination of Mr. Woods by the Temperance and Moral Reform Association had made this impossible unless Mr. Woods were withdrawn. Personally, we are given to understand, Mr. Woods was willing to pull out and get in behind Mr. Bell, but as the nominee of the Temperance Association he felt that he could not retire unless the Executive of the Association asked him to do so. Indications therefore point to a straight fight between McKeown and Woods. Woods was in town yesterday and was full of fight and vim. He has been busy for the last week in Melancthon and Mulmur townships, and says he has an effective organization at his back in both of these municipalities. To The Banner he expressed himself as being quite confident that he would poll his old vote, or even do better than last time, in the two northern townships. The outcome of the contest will depend very largely on the attitude of Rev. Mr. Bell and the large Conservative following which has been urging him to take the field. Mr. Bell and a great many of his supporters were strong McKeown men at the last election. They are very likely to support Woods this time, and if they do McKeown will have an uphill fight to retain his seat.

MUNICIPAL NOTES.

The death of Mr. Jos. Slack, the late reeve of the municipality, has made a very great change in the municipal situation in Albion township. Mr. Slack would undoubtedly have been in the field for a second term. As matters now stand, Mr. J. H. Moffatt, whom Mr. Slack defeated last year, and Councillor Wm. Hutchinson are likely to oppose each other for the office.

Mr. J. E. McIntyre, who is completing his first year as reeve of Grand Valley, has announced his retirement from municipal affairs. Councillors Mutrie and Menary have also intimated that they intend to retire and devote their entire energies to their private affairs. Councillor Thos. Watson is in the field for the reeveship and may get the office without opposition. The Star & Vidette says he has the necessary experience and, as the senior representative councillor, deserves the position.

Reeve Cornelius, of East Garafraxa, has decided to seek re-election. Mr. Cornelius thinks that if he gets another term he will probably have an opportunity of being made Warden of Dufferin, an honor that would fittingly crown his long and successful municipal career. If he has opposition, his opponent will either be Mr. James Brown, whom he defeated a year ago, or Councillor Philip Coulson.

—Mr. Stanley R. Frost, pupil of Arthur Blight, will accept a limited number of pupils in Voice Culture. Residence, Wellington St.

In keeping with the general surroundings of the Chateau Laurier, the new $2,000,000 hotel, constructed by the Grand Trunk Railway System at Ottawa, the pictures for the bedrooms have been purchased and consist of some of the best reproductions of famous masterpieces from the London, Paris, and Berlin galleries. They will be framed in moulding that will harmonize with the fittings of the several floors, including Louis XV, Louis XVI, and Colonial styles. Care and great taste has been used in the selection of the pictures so that they will add to the cheerfulness of this magnificent hotel.

THE COUNTY COUNCIL.

Warden Greer Announces His Retirement From Municipal Politics.

Committee Authorized to Buy Snow Plows for Winter Roads.

Dufferin County Council commenced its November meeting in the Court House here at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Several of the members were not in their places when County Clerk Reid called the roll, but the absentees began to file in a little later and everyone was present, when the Council got down to business. Warden Greer presided.

The following accounts were laid before the Council and afterwards referred to the proper committees:—Dufferin Post, printing June minutes, etc., $66; Gillespie Bros., $20.70 and $11.70; McGuire & McKitrick, $13.05; S. R. Hart & Co., $7.60; Newsome & Gilbert, $9.00 and $15.45.

Mr. H. Endacott, Secretary of the Dufferin Agricultural Society, wrote the Council tendering the thanks of the Society for the grant voted at the June session.

The Clerk read a copy of an Order-in-Council passed recently, prohibiting the hunting or killing of deer in Dufferin County for a period of three years from November 1st, 1911.

Mr. A. A. Hughson, County Solicitor, gave it as his opinion that the Council had no authority to act on the petition of C. J. Cook and other ratepayers appealing from the refusal of the Amaranth Council to rearrange the boundaries of School Sections 7, 9 and 11 in that township. The Solicitor based his opinion upon the alterations which have been made in the boundaries of the section in question within the last five years.

Certain ratepayers of Union S. S. No. 9, Mulmur, and No. 16, Mono, have been petitioning for the appointment of arbitrators with a view to the division of the section. They first made application to the interested municipalities. Mulmur Township Council appointed an arbitrator, but the Mono Council refused to take ny action. The petitioners then appealed to the County Council to make the necessary appointments. A by-law was put through on Tuesday afternoon, the arbitrators named being J. L. Williamson, Mulmur, I. J. Murphy, Mono, and School Inspector Gordon.

Dufferin's share of the general legislative grant to rural schools for 1911 has been approved by the Department as follows:—

Amaranth	$1184.20	$205.00	$1389.20
E.Garafraxa	786.80	80.00	866.80
E. Luther	730.00	65.00	795.00
Melancthon	1345.40	135.00	1480.40
Mono	1397.40	135.00	1532.40
Mulmur	1150.00	97.50	1247.50
Total			$7306.30

Warden Greer's address to the Council Tuesday morning read as follows:—

Gentlemen of the County Council.

I am pleased to meet you again assembled for the last regular meeting of the Council for the year, 1911, and note with pleasure that all the members are present looking hale and hearty.

It gives me great pleasure to be able to again congratulate you on the continued general prosperity of the County. The harvest was perhaps not as bounteous as promised by the appearance of the crops in the spring, but I think the returns in our little County compare favorably with any other part of the Province, and with the existing prices there is no great cause for complaint. The financial affairs of the County also continue in a prosperous state. The County rate levied in June last will be sufficient to meet all expenditure, including about $6,000 for boundary line bridges, and will enable us to commence the new year entirely free from debt.

The bridge over the Grand River on the boundary line between Amaranth and East Garafraxa has been completed, and I think I am safe in saying that it is by all means the best built bridge in this or any of the adjoining counties. The bridge was built under the supervision of our County Engineer, and is certainly a credit to the County. It has already been inspected by the Road and Bridge Committee, and I would recommend that it be inspected by the whole County Council before the session is over.

The amount authorized to be borrowed from the bank for current expenditure under By-law No. 379, has been exhausted, and it will be necessary to provide at this session for a further loan to meet expenditure until County rates are paid.

I may say, gentlemen, that it is my intention to retire from the municipal arena at the end of this year, and I wish to thank you, as well as the ratepayers of Mulmur, for the honors that have been conferred upon me by placing me Warden of the County of Dufferin, and Reeve of the Township of Mulmur. It has been my earnest endeavor to fill these high offices honestly and efficiently and in a way that would reflect credit upon the municipalities as well as myself, and if I have failed to do so it must be put down to mistakes of the head and not of the heart.

I cannot close without expressing my appreciation of the officials of the County Council, I must say that after my long experience in municipal affairs it is my opinion we could not have a more painstaking, careful, courteous, and efficient staff of officials than we have at the present time, and I take this opportunity of thanking them for the help they have at all times so willingly extended to the Council and myself.

In conclusion I wish to heartily thank you, gentlemen, for the courtesy and assistance you have so kindly extended to me during the past year, adding in no small degree to the pleasure it has given me to fill the chair as Warden of the County of Dufferin.

ARCHIE GREER,
Warden.

Orangeville, Nov. 21st, 1911.

The address was referred to a committee composed of Messrs. McIntyre, McKee, Lange, Anderson, McGhee and Bryan for report.

Council put through a motion adding Mr. Large to the Committee appointed at the January sitting to consider the purchase of snow plows and matructed the Committee to examine the Markdale plow and if satisfactory to purchase the required number. If not satisfactory the Committee was directed to advertise for tenders for the Plows of the Quebec Company and award the contract to the lowest tenderer.

The Special Committee, appointed at the June meeting to ascertain what arrangements could be made for the care of the poor of the County, recommended that no action be taken at the present time, but that Dr. Bruce Smith be invited to attend the January meeting and confer with the Council on the matter.

NEWSPAPERS SHOULD BE FAIR.

Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—We understand The Banner to be an independent newspaper, and therefore it is not the slavish tool of any political party, but unfortunately we fear the same cannot be said of some of the newspapers in Dufferin. For instance, last week's Free Press, in its report of the Conservative Convention recently held in Shelburne, drifted far afield to bolster up Mr. McKeown, and belittle some of the other candidates, and also make a cowardly attack on Mr. R. J. Woods, who was present, but, not being a candidate at the said Convention, had not a chance to defend himself. The Free Press report also says the Rev. Mr. Morris spoke for five minutes, and was "howled down." As a matter of fact the howling was for Mr. Morris to continue speaking longer, but as he was limited to five minutes like the other candidates he had to stop when his time was up. Had the rev. gentleman been allowed longer he evidently would have made it uncomfortable for some present, and well the editor of the Free Press knew it. Any self-respecting newspaper will give a fair and impartial report of a public meeting, such as the recent Convention, and give any comment it may choose to offer in its editorial columns, but to distort or discolor the facts in a mere report is nothing short of a gross violation of the ethics of journalism.

HONOR FOR EDITOR BREMNER.

His Passaic Friends Celebrate His Restoration to Good Health

Popular Newspaperman Banquetted and Presented With Picture of Himself.

Readers of The Banner have been informed from time to time of the long and very serious illness of Mr. Robt. G. Bremner, managing editor of the Passaic, N. J., Daily Herald. Mr. Bremner is a former Monoite, being a son of Mrs. Alexander Bremner, of Camilla. Some months ago it was thought that "Bob," as his friends affectionately call him, was about to pass in his checks. A malignant growth that baffled his physicians seemed to be fast sapping his health and strength. As a last resort, a special method of treatment was tried. The result was remarkably successful and to-day Editor Bremner is back at work again feeling almost his old self. The manner in which his friends received him on his return to his home in Passaic is well told by the Patterson, N. J., Daily Call, from which we have clipped the following :—

Fifty of the 10,000 friends of Editor "Bob" Bremner put one over on him last evening. Editor Bob is supposed to be the foxiest newspaper man in the city of Passaic, but these fifty alleged friends got up a banquet with photograph menu cards, and all the oriental and sybaritic luxury they could think up, and "Bob" never knew a word about it all until he was snaked off the street and placed at the point of honor at the table. He complained bitterly. Said it was a reflection on his acumen as a a newspaperman, but the fifty didn't care. They said they liked him, and the banquet was gotten up to show that Passaic was glad to have Mr. Bremner in its midst, after long months of sickness, with the pale reaper lingering perilously near.

Editor "Bob" is well again. His old self and Passaic cut loose last night and celebrated.

The affair was a complete surprise to Editor Bremner. "I was told by Senator Hinchliffe that there was going to be a dog fight," he said to the gathering last night, "but instead he lured me over here to the banquet hall."

The banquet was in reality an impromptu event. It was gotten up on the spur of the moment, and the fact that about fifty leading citizens turned out to do Mr. Bremner honor manifests the love in which they hold him. As a mere excuse the surprise was arranged so that a number of his friends could present him with a picture of himself, which had been enlarged from a snapshot, showing "Bob" with his characteristic smile, which never came off during his affliction. No formal invitations were issued, but during the past few days the by-word on the streets of Passaic was "Are you going to the banquet?"

The banquet might have been called a sort of American Scotch celebration. It was held in Kessler's Hygia hotel. The tables, arranged in "T" fashion were decorated with vases holding American flags and emblems of the Scotch lion. But this was not the only thing with a Scotch flavor. For such an event no time-worn custom, such as having "invisible stringed music" or long-haired professors mangling popular and classic strains on the piano, could be followed. Music which Editor "Bob" characterized as sweeter than "Harpers harping on their harps" was supplied. It was the bagpipe manipulated by Billy Bain, who with kilties, cap and other regalia of the Highlands filled the intervals between courses with the strains of the land of the thistle and cakes. Though Senator Hinchliffe humorously likened the bagpipe music to the noise of a cart wheel on a dry axle, it enthused the gathering and brought out unexpected bursts of Scotch and also American folk-songs.

But if the music was Scotch the menu was still more so. Everything served up, so the bill of fare stated, came directly from Caithness county, where "Bob" first saw the light and from the banks of the river Thurso in which he used to swim. There was thistle sauce and Annie Laurie ice cream, Caithness county squab done in Bremner style. Here and there a French drink of some foreign delicacy found its way in between courses, but the great bulk of the dinner, and there was a bulk of it, was comprised of honorable and ancient Scotch dishes.

On the face of the menu card was a unique snap-shot of Mr. Bremner. The first course consisted of Dunnet Bay oysters, then came in their regular order, olives, Helmsdale, celery, Wick bay turtle soup, Thurso river salmon, Kiess potatoes, sweet breads a la Castleton, Caithness squab, Bremner style, Watten peas, roast Pultneytown turkey, thistle sauce, mashed Dunbeath potatoes, cauliflower a la Castlebay, Sinclair bay chicken and lobster salad, Annie Laurie ice cream and cakes. There was likewise an abundance of wines and choice lubricants.

In course of the evening telegrams arrived which were signed "Governor Wilson," "William Jennings Bryan," "Harry Lauder" and by others, demonstrating that the dinner was one of international significance.

When Editor "Bob" was brought into the Hygia hotel he was surprised to find that he was the only man there in working clothes. "Everybody else," he said, "wore bought or borrowed dress suits." A great cheer went up and for once he was non-plussed and had to rub his eyes just to convince himself that he was not dreaming. From the main room he was led into the banquet room and there found the tables set. He was given a seat at the head of the table, John J. Slater sitting on one side and Senator Hinchliffe on the other. Francis Kilgour was toastmaster.

After a few rounds of cheers and a tiger for "Bob" the guests prepared to enjoy the dinner. Adrian Sullivan rose while the first course was being served, and in an eulogistic address related the origin of the banquet idea, and expressed the joy of those present upon having Mr. Bremner back in Passaic once more, with the assurance of seeing him for many more years among them, and then presented the picture. This was hung high on the walls while the gathering sang, "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

There were numerous speeches in the course of the evening, but the oratorical feature was the address of ex-Senator Hinchliffe, who at the outset said in all his life he had never felt so happy at any banquet, and then launched forth to tell some of the history of Editor Bremner's life. If it had been the senator's debut as a humorist, he could not have done better.

As Senator Hinchliffe concluded the assemblage rose and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

Many speakers followed and Editor Bremner was the last. He could barely express his appreciation of the event. To him it seemed almost unreal, he said, but in a few words he made the assemblage feel that what he could not say he appreciated, nevertheless. Among those who spoke were John J. Slater, county clerk; Dennis Mahoney, postmaster; Sidney Thomson, editor of "Trotter and Pacer," and others.

LAUREL.

Of late the political affairs of our County have reminded me somewhat of a true story, which I read some years ago. At the time when the Klondyke fever first started, many people from all parts of Ontario joined in the mad rush for the north in search of a fortune. Some were successful, while others failed. In those days the prospectors, in order to enter this barren but wealthy country, were obliged to undergo severe hardships and encounter great difficulties. Once they arrived, they all began to eagerly look for the glittering gold on the surface. As a result many valuable and precious nuggets, which were covered with moss were passed by unnoticed, until one day a certain individual, while following the trail of experienced prospectors, halted to examine a crude piece of rock, which looked to him to be of peculiar shape and which was thickly coated with mud and moss. Upon closer examination it proved to be a nugget of gold worth thousands of dollars. So it is with our politicians of to-day, who are eagerly seeking office. The nuggets are scarce and hard to find. The glittering platform talker is eagerly picked up, while the more unassuming are passed by unnoticed. For years in our own county we have had men who are office seekers, and are able to work things to their own advantage and, when they have secured the positions they wanted, have failed to do their duty. There are other men in the county who like the moss-covered nugget have been unnoticed until lately. A man of this class has been found in the person of the Rev. J. R. Bell of this place. We have known that worthy gentleman for years. He is just the style of man we want to represent us in Toronto. For the last fifteen years Mr. Bell has been one of the foremost in everything that tended to advance the welfare of our County. This fact cannot be disputed even by his opponents. We hope to see Mr. Bell in the field and we promise to give him our hearty support and influence. We believe that there will be no doubt as to his election.

The address was read by Mrs. Dowling and Miss Maggie Wellwood made the presentation in behalf of the members. The Stomach Needs Help

The liver, kidneys and bowels must be kept active with DR. CHASE'S KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS.

The liver and kidneys are overworked in their efforts to remove the poisonous waste matter from the system. They fail and become torpid and clogged. The bowels become constipated and stomach derangements follow.

There is one medicine which will overcome this condition more certainly and more quickly than any other, and this is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

This medicine gets the bowels in action at once and by awakening the liver and kidneys ensures the thorough cleansing of the filtering and excretory systems.

With the poisonous obstructions removed, the digestive system resumes its healthful condition, appetite improves, pains and aches disappear as well as irritability and depression.

You cannot imagine a more satisfactory treatment. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Newport Minister Turned Down Offer of Princely Marriage Fee.

A no insignificant sum was offered to a representative of the Presbyterian church such as was offered to the carpenter-parson of Rhode Island, who said that $10,000 was to be the Astor-Force marriage fee last summer. This developed in the course of a warm debate before the Presbyterian Synod of New York to-day, when a resolution calling upon Congress to enact uniform divorce laws was introduced. In the debate the moderator, Rev. Martin D. Kneeland, D.D., of Boston, said: "This divorce evil is assuming alarming proportions in New England, where our laws are not so rigid as in New York State. But I am pleased to say that I know one New England Presbyterian pastor, who was approached by Colonel Astor and asked to perform the ceremony with Miss Force, which created so much comment last summer. He received an agent of Astor direct who said to him: "It will be worth $20,000 to you to perform the ceremony." The clergyman replied "You have not money enough to get me to perform that marriage." The name of that clergyman is Rev. N. J. Sproul, of the Presbyterian Church at Newport, R. I. I mention this because I think it is something of which Presbyterians should be proud."—Newport, R. A BALD-HEADED WOMAN.

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to woman. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness, and success. Yet, right here in Orangeville, there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated, or to excess, which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break, and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough, or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy, and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles; that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial, and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store — The Rexall Store. T. F. & T. J. Brown, Orangeville, Ont.

ROUNDED THEM UP.

Walkerton's Chief of Police Had Exciting Time With Gang of Drunken Laborers.

Chief Ferguson had an experience on Thursday morning last which he does not wish to encounter again in many a day. The washout of the dam which occurred during Wednesday night caused the laying off of a large number of the employees there. A number of them came into town and as might be expected took to having a good time, as they termed it, going the rounds of the different bar-rooms in town. Consequently about eleven o'clock each one had a pretty fair edge on and was wabbling down the street occupying the entire sidewalk. Some citizen who did not have a particular liking for this sort of thing phoned to Chief Ferguson who was immediately on the scene and then the fun began. Mr. Ferguson found the only helpless one of the bunch lying beside the sidewalk near the post office and collared him with the intention of putting him in the lock-up for a few hours. He had scarcely got the man upon his feet however, when one of his comrades came along and quietly informed the chief that he wouldn't allow him to take his friend to the lockup. After considerable difficulty the Chief managed to get the man a block on his way to the town hall when the objecting one became desperate and wrenched his friend from his grasp. This irritated the Chief and he went to arrest this new transgressor who took to his heels, running towards the Presbyterian church where four more of the bunch had gathered. Five of them looked too many for the Chief so he thought it best to get some some help and he summoned his two sons, the three overtaking them at the Presbyterian church corner. Here a free-for-all fight ensued, from the midst of which the Chief and his assistants emerged victorious with one man handcuffed and two others in charge and marched the trio to the lockup without further trouble. During the melee the Chief found it necessary to use his baton, which was wrenched from him on two occasions before he had the opportunity to use it, but when the time came he put some force behind it and stretched his man on six feet of sod. Wm. Ferguson, who was helping his father, also had to deal some severe blows before the man he had tackled was brought to understand who was boss. The three men were haled before Magistrate McNamara, two on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, and interfering with the police and the third for being drunk. Two of them presented sorrowful spectacles in the court room, the one had suffered a broken finger and had his head bandaged up while the other's face was swollen and blackened to such an extent that his left eye was completely closed. All three pleaded guilty to the charge, the two who interfered being assessed the customary dollar and costs which amounted to $11.00, while the other was allowed to go without a fine. — Walkerton Telescope.

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at the time of child-birth, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when the strain is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

EUPHRASIA FARMER LOSES BOTH FEET.

A terrible accident happened to Mr. Bert Thompson, of Euphrasia, while threshing at Mr. Jas. Kernaham's, near Rocklyn, on Thursday last, by which both feet were severed about six inches above the ankles. He was standing on top of the machine arranging the blower, when it is supposed a piece of stick accidentally shoved up the flap and his feet slipped under the flap into the feed bar of the straw cutter. He is in a very serious condition, but hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mr. Thompson has been very unfortunate of late. Within the last few years he has been kicked by a horse, had two fingers taken off while working in a saw-mill, and not long ago his home was destroyed by fire, but this last accident is the most terrible of all. Much sympathy is expressed for him and Mrs. Thompson in their great misfortune.—Markdale Standard.

ENGLAND'S GREAT HERRING FISHING INDUSTRY.

Assisted by an Amazonian army of six thousand Scottish lassies who have come down from the farthermost Hebrides to take part in the work England's herring harvest is now being garnered. The season covers a period of some two months and will be over by December.

It is scarcely possible in bold figures accurately to portray the immensity of the East of England herring fishery. Twenty millions of fish a day is no uncommon catch in the Yarmouth season, and as many as 50,000,000 have been landed in the course of twenty-four hours. Of course, the fish are not counted in millions. They are measured in crans, and a cran, containing about thirty-seven and a half imperial gallons, averages about 1,000 of the plump little fishes that find as honored a place at the table of the epicure as on the humble board of the lowliest in the land. For this enormous sea harvesting a fleet of more than 1,000 boats are in daily operation, but they and their crews and the 6,000 fisher girls give but a small idea of the tremendous hive of activity into which the coast of Norfolk is converted in the brief weeks of the herring fishing season. The lively, picturesque, and ever-changing scene on boat, wharf and market, the jostling boats, the creaking pulleys swinging their briny basketfuls, the ramparts of fresh herrings everywhere, the strange intermingling of dialects and languages, the clanging of auctioneers' bells, the piles of barrels, the deft skill of the workers preparing the fish for transit, form too strange a scene to be pictured in the imagination by any but those who have seen—and smelled—the feverish hustle of a fishing town at the height of the herring season.

The centre of interest is the thousands of Scottish lassies in their big, clanging sea boots, oilskin overalls and shawls, who deftly fill the ever-diminishing mountain of barrels with the fish caught by their husbands or brothers or sweethearts. These girls are a distinct type of womanhood. They are fisher born, and none but a born fisher can ever understand the business at which they are employed. They come of generations of pure fishing stock, and in manners and customs they are unlike any other body of women in the country. Their ages vary from fifteen to thirty—the daughters and the sisters of the men who work the boats—and for eight months of the year they follow the herring boats from point to point, and form by far the most important section of the many thousand workers engaged in the herring industry.

The majority of the girls come from the Hebrides and the Islands generally. Some speak only Gaelic, the most of them "braid Scots." Their work is packing and gutting of the fish, but some are net menders, and others are engaged in kippering. Packers and gutters work in crews of three—two gutters to one packer. Frequently a crew consists of three sisters or a mother and two daughters, and in any case, so clannish are they in custom, that relatives, or, at least, close friends, are seldom separated either at work or play.

Some of the girls follow the boats to Norfolk, others come direct from the North by train. They have little difficulty in finding employment. The great stacked walls of barrels take a lot of filling, and in a good season there is work and to spare. The average day's work is from six in the morning till seven at night; but when the boats come in late at night, or when the catch is specially large, they work unceasingly till every herring is packed away. When there is work at night the glare of the naptha, the shimmering of the silvery fish, and the glittering of the oilskins is a sight never to be forgotten in its weird effect.

No girl makes less than $5 per week; some make $10, and even $15. After two months in Yarmouth the girls leave for their homes with all manner of additions to their wardrobes, presents for their families, and $50 and upwards towards their savings.

The fish are dumped ashore in crans, and, after being purchased, are thrown into the wooden troughs of the buyers' yard. Then the work of the girls begins. The packers throw salt on the fish, and the gutters begin their work. Gutting is a great art. A constant flashing of the knife and an almost imperceptible turning of the wrist and the fish flow from trough to basket through the hands of the workers in a never-ending stream. It is hard and dangerous work. The constant contact with brine and moisture plays havoc with the hands of the women, and despite extraordinary precautions of bandaging and protecting with linen, their fingers are continually breaking out with painful sores.

The gutters stand beside the troughs, and fill the baskets beside them with the fish. The packer hastens to her barrel with her load as each basket is filled. The bent fish are laid in neat rows, with a handful of salt on the top of each row, and in about a quarter of an hour the barrel is filled.

More than two-thirds of the herrings landed at Yarmouth go abroad. The outlook for this season is said to be excellent. The markets in Russia, Germany, Holland, and Belgium are extremely short of good herrings, and the catches on the British grounds from the Shetlands, where the fishing began last spring, downwards to the Northumberland coast have been smaller than usual. Only the Orkney fishing has given an increase; but the total decrease is 243,000 crans, and hence the East Anglican fishing has the prospect of being exceptionally profitable. Ordinarily the total shipment from Yarmouth is about 400,000 barrels.

Mrs. Wm. Duke has disposed of her property in Caledon East to the Misses Shore, milliners, and will leave with her family for Toronto some time in December.

Every Other Treatment Failed But "Fruit-a-tives" Cures

GRANDE LIGNE, QUE., Jan. 2nd, 1910.

"My wife was greatly distressed for three years with chronic Eczema on the hands, and the disease was so severe that it almost prevented her from using her hands. The doctor gave her several ointments to use, but none of them did any good. He also advised her to wear rubber gloves and she wore out three pairs without getting any benefit. As a last resort, I persuaded her to try "Fruit-a-tives", and the effect was marvellous. Not only did "Fruit-a-tives" entirely cure the Eczema, but the Asthma, which she suffered from, was also completely cured.

We both attribute our present good health to "Fruit-a-tives". N. JOUBERT.

The very first noon, Robert was sent for a pail of beer to the nearest saloon, and, when they were all having lunch together, the boss passed the pail down the line, saying:

"I always ask my men to drink with me."

Robert hoped the pail would pass him by, as it came down the line. Nobody refused the proffered drink. He wondered if it would not be better policy, seeing he was only a boy and a stranger, to take a little drink. Would it not prejudice his boss against him if he refused.

As it came to his hand, he passed it on. The boss called out, kindly, "Its for you, too, Robert. Have a drink."

"I'd—rather not, sir!" faltered Robert, greatly embarassed. He expected the men would laugh at him, but no one did. In the course of the afternoon the boss said to him:

"Robert, you're all right in refusing beer. I'm glad you don't drink it."

"I promised my father that I wouldn't touch anything of the kind,' said Robert.

"Keep your promise. You'll be all the better for it."

That boy is Bishop Robert McIntyre of the Methodist Church, and when he told this experience, he added, "and I've kept my promise." — Bingham.

A FREAK APPLE.

Two specimens of apples grown by Wm. Fawcett were brought to the office of the Department of Agriculture here on Tuesday by Geo. Hutchinson. The apples are unique in that they are hybrid in nature, the stem half being typical Golden Russet in color, tecture and appearance, while the blossom ends are just as typical Ben Davis. The hybridization of apples is an extremely rare occurrence and the distinct cross in this case can only be explained as one of nature's freaks.—Markdale Standard.

MANUFACTURE OF PEAT.

An Ottawa despatch says: A demonstration of the success that has attended the late Government's efforts to interest Canadian manufacturers in the production of peat is contained in an announcement by the Mines Department that Mr. J. M. Shuttleworth, of Brantford, and associate manufacturers have contracted with the Government to continue the work at Alfred, and will spend over $500,000 in trying an improved American peat machine. The machine will have a capacity of sixty to eighty tons per day as compared with the thirty tons the Government machine turned out. It will be in operation next spring, working double shifts of twenty-four hours for 110 days. The power for driving the machinery, and for lighting the field at night will all be derived from peat, hence the plant will be self-contained.

"I Suffered Intense Pains in My Left Side."

Do you realise it is better to be safe than sorry, that it is the best policy to lock the stable door before the horse is stolen?

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy

cured Mrs. C. C. Gokey, of a stubborn case of heart disease, such as thousands are now suffering with. Read what she says:

"Before I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy I had been suffering from heart trouble for over five years. I had grown so weak that it was impossible for me to do thirty minutes work in a whole day. I suffered intense pains in my leftside and under the left shoulder blade, I could not sleep on the left side, and was so short of breath that I thought I should never be able to take a full breath again. The least excitement would bring on the most distressing palpitation. I had scarcely taken a half-bottle of the Heart Remedy before I could see a marked change in my condition. I began to sleep well, had a good appetite, and improved so rapidly that when I had taken six bottles I was completely cured.

MRS. C. C. GOKEY, Northfield, Vt.

If you have any of the symptoms Mrs. Gokey mentions, it is your duty to protect yourself.

is what you need. If the first bottle fails to benefit, your money is returned. Ask your druggist.

AN UNEXPECTED DEATH.

As Amaranth Farmer Stricken With Unusual Malady.

Unexpected indeed was the passing away of Mr. Robert McConachie, a well-known and respected farmer of the 10th line, Amaranth, which sad event took place on Wednesday, Nov. 8th. Deceased, who was in his 38th year, had been employed the week previous to his death at a sawmill moving heavy machinery and exposed to the anything but pleasant weather, and it is supposed that the exposure had something to do with the onslaught that terminated his life. On Sunday, Nov. 5th, Mr. McConachie complained of feeling chilly and sore all over, but thought but little of it. Monday he felt about the same, but on Tuesday felt a little better. He remained in bed, but a doctor was not called in until Wednesday morning, when Dr. White was summoned. The doctor found the illness rather unusual and the cause of it obscure. Mr. McConachie complained only of not being able to stand on his feet and of being unable to pull up his knees. He had no pain and conversed freely about his illness. The trouble was recognized to be a form of paralysis, but just what kind the doctor was at the time unable to say. Serious results were not at first expected. Mr. McConachie's condition during Wednesday remained about the same. About 10 p.m. his attendants left him alone for a short time while they went downstairs, and on returning found him lying dead, death having taken place without a sign of a struggle. The funeral took place to Shelburne cemetery on Saturday afternoon. A wife and child survive, who have the heartfelt sympathy of the community in their sudden bereavement. The disease that caused Mr. McConachie's death is a very unusual one, known as Landry's paralysis, which first became known to science about 1860. It is invariably fatal, the fatal termination taking place from a few hours up to two or three days after the disease first shows itself. The cause of the disease is yet unknown. It usually begins with a feeling of chilliness and loss of power in muscles of feet and legs. The paralysis extends upwards rapidly involving the muscles of the thigh, abdomen, chest, and finally death is caused by paralysis of the heart.—Shelburne Economist.

A SUITABLE MEMORIAL.

A rather unique tribute was recently paid to one of the most popular clergymen that ever labored in the city of Toronto. A relative of the late Rev. Arthur Baldwin furnished a ward in the General Hospital, and a brass plate was placed over the door setting the whole room apart as a memorial to the former rector of All Saints' Church. The ceremony attracted very little attention, as the whole city was too much interested at the time in the outcome of the election, but a more fitting way could not be devised to honor the beloved clergyman.

For many years, Mr. Baldwin was a more familiar figure round the hospital than even the chief doctors. Everybody welcomed a visit from him for his chief characteristic was cheerfulness and wit. There was no one who did not feel better because he had spent a short time with them, and he could win a smile from even the most depressed patients.

There was something particularly loveable about his personality, which made him as successful in his parish as in his hospital visiting. There is a characteristic story told about one of the little incidents which occurred when he was first becoming acquainted with the people who lived near his church.

Mr. Baldwin went to one house, and in response to his knock a little crack was opened in the door. A forbidding female face looked out and it became more cranky when the lady of the house saw her visitor.

"You needn't bother coming here as I have no time to go to church," snapped the woman.

"Oh," said Mr. Baldwin in his whimsical manner, "I only came in hoping for a kindly smile, and the kindly welcome."

The woman's manner slowly thawed, and she extended a welcome to the jolly and gentle clergyman.

A HARD EXPERIENCE.

James Maxwell, who, at the age of 90 years, left Dundalk for the "old sod" a couple of years ago, arrived here Tuesday evening on the return trip. The old gentleman took with him to Ireland all his worldly possessions, including upwards of $1000 in money, expecting to spend the remainder of his days in the land of his birth. But, shortly after landing there, he was so unfortunate as to be robbed of his cash in one of the cities. Some time ago his friends here sent him money to return here, and there was much anxiety in the delay. He finally stepped of the train Tuesday evening, looking none the worse of his experience in Ireland, and quite hale and hearty.—Herald.

They Act Quickly And Always Cure

Postmaster tells of quick relief Dodd's Kidney Pills give.

Two of them taken before going to bed clears away his Pain in the Back—Why they always cure more serious Kidney Diseases.

Buck Lake, Ont., Nov. 20, (Special).—How quickly Dodd's Kidney Pills relieve pain in the back when taken in time is evidenced by Mr. James Thomas, the well-known and highly respected postmaster here.

"I wish to inform you that I always find relief for pain in the back by taking Dodd's Kidney Pills," says Postmaster Thomas. "Sometimes in the mornings I cannot straighten up for hours, but if I take two Dodd's Kidney Pills before going to bed the pain all disappears and I have no trouble in the morning."

Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the Kidneys. Where pain in the back is caused by slight Kidney disorders the pain is relieved at once. Where the complaint is of longer standing and the Kidneys are diseased the cure takes longer, but Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail. Thousands of Canadians tell of the cure of Kidney Disease of all forms, from pain in the back to Bright's Disease, by Dodd's Kidney Pills. There is not on record a single case of Kidney Disease or of diseases such as Rheumatism or Dropsy which Dodd's Kidney Pills have failed to cure if taken regularly and according to directions.

THE UNFORGIVING DISPOSITION.

"I never forgive," said a self-confident man to a distinguished preacher. "Then I hope you never sin," was the reply. The man of the unforgiving disposition asks for himself a special privilege, for he expects and demands that others forgive him. He may deny that he needs forgiveness, or that he will accept it when he wrongs his brother, but his denial does not change the facts. He would cry out in wrath against God and man if he were to receive the treatment he is so willing to mete out to other men. There is so much to do in this world and our time and energy are so limited that we cannot afford to turn away from the work of the day to hate any man. The more zealous we are for our work the less likely are we to remember with bitterness the injuries we have received. The feuds of the Southern mountaineers have something else to fill their minds besides the gossip of a small community. The feudalists have time to nurse their wrath. They magnify little things because they have never seen the big things of life. We wrong ourselves by withholding forgiveness. It is our right to enjoy peace of mind. This is far from us while we refuse to share in the regeneration of an evil-doer. Ignorant men think revenge is sweet. They imagine that their importance in the world depends upon the defeat and disgrace of their enemies. Our Lord and Master thought otherwise. He sought to win His enemies to right ways of living. His triumph was not in the ruin of men's bones, but in the transformation of their lives. He rejoiced in the salvation of sinners, not in their punishment. By retaining our anger and bitterness we rob ourselves of the highest joy.

We are unjust to others when we harden our hearts against them and decline to give them our sympathy in their efforts to gain self-control and efficiency. One way to keep men in sin is to let them know that we hold in memory all the unkind words they speak, and all their evil deeds and that we have no knowledge of the strength of their temptations and no understanding of their desire for spiritual growth. If the kindness of God is not seen in the conduct of men, it is not available for us in renewing the souls of the wicked. We profess to be Christians. We have no right to act so as to give the impression that God is not gracious and full of compassion.—From the Christian Evangelist.

Salt Rheum On the Hand

Yielded only to the soothing, healing influence of DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

In addition to the suffering and annoyance caused by eczema and salt rheum there is always danger of the trouble spreading and becoming chronic. For this reason the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment should be regular and persistent until the cure is thorough and complete.

Mrs. John J. Delory, Linwood, Antigonish county, N.S., writes:—"I want to say that Dr. Chase's Ointment has proven a great blessing to me. I had salt rheum on one hand, and could not get it healed up. The itching was most distressing at times. Two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment has cured me completely, and I gladly recommend it to every sufferer."

In every home there is a demand for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is particularly useful where there are children. Chafing and skin irritation are relieved at once and eczema is cured by this soothing, healing ointment. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Nehemiah's Prayer. Nehemiah I.

Golden Text—The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much. James v:16.

(1) Verses 1-3—Who was Nehemiah?

(2) Where was Shushan?

(3) What had probably caused the distress of these Jews who were then in their own country?

(4) By whom and when had the wall of Jerusalem been broken down?

(5) Verse 4—Would you say Nehemiah did the wisest thing to first give himself up to weeping, to fasting, and to prayer? Give your reasons.

(6) When the church is in great need, of the nation in calamity, or we have sore family or business trouble, how much do prayer and fasting avail?

(7) Two good men of equal ability and opportunity, one of them precedes every new enterprise with days of special prayer, the other starts right at the work and prays as he goes; which will likely have the greater success and why?

(8) Verses 5-9—Is it helpful or necessary, in private prayer, to select choice language, to tell God of His greatness and goodness, and to be as careful of our oral composition as if it were to appear in print? Give your reasons.

(9) Is it probable that many devout people stir their own hearts more, and give God a clearer presentation of their needs in vocal prayer, in company with other devout people, than by their private prayers, and if so why is it?

(10) What is the benefit of sustained or repeated prayer, for the same thing?

(11) Verse 7—In what particulars had these Jews specially sinned?

(12) Is it the duty of all of us to confess national sins, and if so what is the benefit?

(13) What are our chief national sins which we should confess to God and should we pray for them to cease?

(14) Verses 8-9—Is it our duty, or in what way is it helpful, to remind God of his promises?

(15) When God brings calamity upon a people, or an individual, for wrong doing, is it meant by God as a bane or a blessing? Why?

(16) What would be the result if God rewarded us for wrong doing?

(17) When does God do away with or prevent the natural consequences of our sins?

(18) When God forgides us, on repentance, what is included in such pardon?

(19) Should those who have been saved from their sins and have become the loyal children of God, confess sins on general principles, even if they are not conscious of having sinned?

(20) Verse 10—Is there reason to think that a backslidden church is in precisely the same relation to God as so many sinners in the world?

(21) Verse 11—What influence did this prayer have upon Nehemiah's request to the king?

(22) What proof have you that prayers for specific things are answerable to-day? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Are Your Hands Chapped?

ZAM-BUK WILL CURE THEM.

The particular danger of chapped hands and cold cracks (apart altogether from the pain) is that the cold is likely to penetrate and set up inflammation, festering, or blood-poison. Directly the skin is broken by a cut, graze, or scratch, or chafed and cracked by the action of the cold winds and water, the one necessary precaution is to apply Zam-Buk freely.

The pure herbal juices from which Zam-Buk is prepared are so perfectly combined and refined that the immediate effect of these Zam-Buk dressings is soothing, antiseptic, and healing. Pain and inflammation are allayed, disease germs expelled from the wound or sore, and the latter is quickly healed.

Zam-Buk is not only a powerful healer and skin purifier; it is strongly antiseptic and germicidal, and so forms the ideal protection for the skin against disease germs.

It quickly heals cold cracks, chaps, chilblains, cold sores, etc.

Mrs. O. M. Phoen, Neuchatel, Alta., writes:—"I must tell you how pleased I am with Zam-Buk. My husband had an old frostbite on his foot for many years, and had tried almost every known remedy without any effect, but the first application of Zam-Buk seemed to help him so much that he persevered and the sore is now cured. We would not be without Zam-Buk in the house."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for piles, eczema, ulcers, abscesses, scalp sores, blood-poison, bad leg, eruptions, etc. Its purely herbal composition makes it the ideal balm for babies and young children. All druggists and stores sell Zam-Buk 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Try also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

EYE ERROR
Not a question of age

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured and so generally abused as the eye. The need of glasses is not a question of age. Lots of children have to wear them and there are many more who should. Bad marks at school can often be traced to poor eye sight and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

We have facilities here for testing your eyes and finding out exactly what they need. We sell only such glasses as we can thoroughly recommend. All work is guaranteed.

VITAL STATISTICS.

The Vital Statistics for the Province of Ontario for 1910, which have been compiled by the Registrar General's Department and were announced last week contain a great deal of interesting information. They show, for instance, that despite the indefensible no tenare decree and the religious bitterness which it has undoubtedly fomented, there has not been any very appreciable diminution in the number of mixed marriages. Out of a total of 7,351 Roman Catholics, no less than 1,509 married out of their denomination. There were 665 Catholic bridegrooms who married non-Catholic brides and 884 professed Catholic girls, who became the brides of non-Catholics. The statistics show that notwithstanding the fulminations of the Romish Church against mixed marriages, one Catholic out of every five who married in Ontario last year contracted a mixed marriage.

During the year there were 55,871 births, 24,036 marriages, and 33,539 deaths, or 24.09, 10.7, and 12 per thousand of the population, respectively for the 47 county municipalities in the province.

For the 18 cities the figures are births 18,767, or 32.2 per thousand; marriages 11,793, or 20.2 per thousand; and deaths, 12,303, or 21.1 per thousand.

The towns of five thousand population and over, are 15 in number, and their statistics are as follows, births, 2,918, ratio 21.6; marriages, 1,405, ratio, 10.4; deaths, 1,109, ratio, 14.7.

Of the 33,539 deaths, there were 706 from typhoid, 2,287, from tuberculosis, in all forms, as against 2380 in 1909. Cancer was the cause of the death of 1,077 persons, 222 from diabetes, 327 from anaemia, 355 meningitis, 923 from apoplexy, 2,240 from organic heart trouble, 771 from arterial trouble, 464 from bronchial pneumonia, 1,458 from pneumonia. Diarrhoea, amongst infants under two years of age, was fatal in 1,374 cases, while 2,455 died when under four months of age, owing to weakness from birth or ignorance on the part of the mother, with regard to the care of children. In 284 cases, women lost their lives in childbirth.

With regard to mortality among infants, it is found that among those under five years of age, excluding still-births, there were 8,566 deaths, 6,649 children being under one year; 917 one year, two years old 424, three years, 321, four years, 247.

March was the favorite month for birth, there being 5,033, in that month. Of the children born throughout the year, 28,664 were males, and 27,207 females. There were 370 pairs of twins, 364 boys, and 376 girls. Triplets surprised the happy father in five cases, 9 boys and girls.

June continues to hold favor with the bride, 3,555 of the 24,036 marriages being celebrated in that month, September and December following in the order named, with 2,653, and 2,304 marriages, respectively.

With regard to the age at which persons marry, it is of interest to learn, so far as Ontario is concerned, that men do not marry at a later date than women, although it is popularly thought otherwise to a great extent. Last year 8,168 bridegrooms, or about one-third of the total number, married between the ages of 20 and 24, while 47 per cent., or nearly one-half, the women who entered into the bonds of matrimony, were between those ages. With both sexes, the next greater number married between the ages of 25 and 29, and then comes 30 and 34 for the bridegrooms, and 15 and 19 for the brides. Under the age of 20, 453 men were married, one taking a bride, who is in the 30 to 34 class, one selecting a lady who comes in the 35 to 39 group, two men of between 20 and 24, taking brides of from 40.

Fifteen women between the ages of 15 and 19, married men between 40 and 44, two became brides of men between 45 and 49, one married a man over 55, and one a man over 60. Three women, between 20 and 24, married men over 55, two men over 60, and one man over 70, as did also one lady, of between 25 and 29.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS MEET.

Orangeville District Society Holds Its Annual Convention.

Young People Hear Helpful and Inspiring Addresses on This Department of Church Work

The annual Convention of the Epworth Leagues of the Orangeville District of the Methodist Church was held in the Methodist Church here on Friday afternoon and evening. There was a gratifying attendance of delegates at both sessions, although the unfavorable weather undoubtedly kept many from a distance away, who otherwise would have been present. As it was most of the seventeen leagues in the district were represented and eleven, out of the seventeen, presented reports, which showed a healthy interest and activity in the important work for which the Society stands.

Mr. Lewis S. Johnston, of Laurel, the District President, occupied the chair and conducted the opening exercises at the afternoon meeting. Rev. Dr. Harper, of Orangeville, welcomed the delegates in a neat address. The Convention then got down to business matters and some time was spent receiving and considering the reports of the district officers, and the various Leagues. A business committee was appointed, consisting of representatives from each of the Leagues. Rev. J. S. Stevenson, of Laurel, gave an interesting and helpful address on Junior Epworth League work and Rev. G. F. Faircloth, B.A., B.D., of King St., Church, Toronto, led in a Round Table Conference.

At the close of the session, the local Leaguers entertained the delegates to an excellent supper.

At night the choir of the Orangeville Epworth League led in the service of song. Miss Sprae Lathwell and Mr. Ernie Durkin and Mrs. H. H. Robinson and Miss Lottie Bell contributed well-rendered duets. President Johnston presided until the new officers were introduced, when the chair was taken by the President-elect, Mr. Will Kearns, of Orangeville. The speakers of the evening were Rev. A. W. Hone, of Victoria College, who spoke interestingly on the subject, "The League's Four-fold Mission," and Rev. G. F. Faircloth, whose address on "The Voice of a Big City" was heard with rapt attention. The speaker dealt in the main with City Missions and the effective work that is being done for the Master by this means.

After the close of the Convention the local Leaguers served lunch and a very pleasant hour was spent socially.

The officers elected for the ensuing year are :—

Chairman of District — Rev. Dr. Harper, Orangeville.

President—Mr. Will Kearns, Orangeville.

1st Vice-President — Mr. Harold Lindsay, Shelburne.

2nd Vice-President — Miss Ethel Leitch, Horning's Mills.

3rd Vice-President— Mr. L. Johnston, Laurel.

4th Vice-President—Miss Alice Jenkins, Alton.

5th Vice-President—Miss A. Large, Shelburne.

Secretary—Miss Bertha Lathwell, Orangeville.

Treasurer—Miss A. Martin, Alton.

District Representative to Toronto Conference— Miss Bertha Hamilton, Laurel.

Next year's Convention will be held in Shelburne.

A SUCCESSFUL ASSEMBLY.

The Bachelors and Benedicts of Orangeville held a successful Assembly in the Town Hall on Thursday night. There were about 150 guests in attendance, quite a number of whom were from outside points. The floor was excellent for dancing and the hall was very prettily decorated with flags, bunting and curtains. Bodley's orchestra from Toronto provided delightful music. A dainty luncheon was served by the stewards about midnight. To the stewards and the Secretary, Mr. E. A. Warren, is due much of the credit for the pleasant and successful character of the Assembly. The former were Messrs. T. J. Brown, R. B. Plummer, S. R. Frost, M. Dunsford, Dr. Campbell, H. S. Footner, A. L. C. Kirkwood and F. A. Hyde. The patronesses were Mesdames Johnston, Kirkwood, Lugsdin, Kent, McKeown, Preston, Bowles and Ritchie. Among the guests from outside points were :—Miss Reid, Woodbridge; Miss Ethna Wright, Beeton; Miss White, Toronto; Miss Berwick, Miss E. Babe, Major and Mrs. G. F. Gabriel, Mr. Geo. Robinson, Mr. Mulholland, Dr. and Mrs. F. Frank, Shelburne; Dr. Brownlee, Mr. R. Martin and Mr. Scales, Mt. Forest; Mr. James Maguire, London; Miss Fitzgerald, Miss Algie, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Mason and Mr. Hill, Alton; Mr. C. A. Lamon and Mr. Clare Johnston, Dundalk.

The Staircase Test

If You Cannot Pass It Your Health Is Failing.

When you suffer acute palpitation of the heart, dizziness or faintness every time you go up stairs; when exertion of any kind leaves you breathless and trembling, it is a warning that your blood is defective—that you are anaemic. If these warnings are neglected worse disorders will follow—perhaps decline and deadly consumption. If you are in this condition you need the new, good blood of health that has been given to thousands of sufferers by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills banish all the ailments arising from poor blood, tone up the system and make weak men and women well and strong. Miss Elizabeth Campbell, Almonte, Ont., says: "I was living in Pembroke at the time my health failed me. I kept growing weaker every day until I at last grew so weak I could not walk up stairs without help, and I could not go down street without sitting down and resting. My mother got quite anxious about me and took me to a doctor who said he was quite sure he could restore my health. He gave me a bottle of medicine, and I continued its use until I had taken four bottles, but instead of getting stronger I was growing weaker all the time, and was only a mere shadow of my former self. My parents believed I was in a decline and would not get better. My mother had heard so much about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that she decided I ought to try them. I did not notice much change until I had taken five or six boxes, when a decided improvement set in, and from that on I grew stronger and stronger each day, until through a continued use of the pills I was back to my old-time health and strength. I believe Dr. Williams' Pink Pills the best remedy on earth for sick people, and cannot too strongly urge other weak girls to give them a trial."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THINK OF THIS.

Someone asked a famous musician: "What is your favorite composition?"

The answer was: "Whatever I am playing."

That is the feeling that will cause a musician to throw his whole soul into his playing and a workman to do his very best work.

We have to like our work, or we shall not do our level best at it.

It may be that our present task is disagreeable, but it is possible to take a deep pride in doing it thoroughly and in leaving no rough odds and ends to worry others.

To slight the music one is playing is a poor preparation for further music. If one makes up his mind that, whatever be the composition, he will hammer the keys like a master, many things are possible to him.

Promotion nowadays comes to few men unless they like the present work well enough to do their work as masters.—Onward.

Work on the Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, the new $2,000,000 hotel, constructed by the Grand Trunk System, is progressing favorably. Nearly all the plastering of the hotel is now completed and there remains to be done only the lobby, bar and grill room ceiling. Most of the marble floors for the dining room corridor are laid, and after the plaster work of the lobby is completed, work will be started on the marble work of that floor. Heat and light have been in the building for the last two months, and when the plaster is sufficiently dried in the various public rooms, the decorators will be able to commence the interior decorations. Some of the wood work for the big rooms is in the hotel, and the erection of this is going on. The general appearance of the various rooms is beyond expectation, and when completed will be of the richest effect, artistic in design, and wonderfully beautiful.

A WARNING TO MOTHERS

No mother can expect her little one to escape all the ills of childhood, but every mother who accepts fair warning as to the treatment of these little ills can save her baby such suffering. Thousands of mothers of young children keep Baby's Own Tablets in the house — all mothers should do so. The Tablets are a never-failing cure for all the minor ills of babyhood and childhood. They can be given with perfect safety, and they always do good: never harm. Constipation, indigestion, colic, simple fevers, colds, etc., all rapidly disappear under treatment with the Tablets. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHOT A PANTHER.

George Reid Figures In An Exciting Adventure.

Mr. Geo. E. Reid, of Nanaimo, has just had an alarming adventure, which happily resulted in no serious consequences. Within the grounds, and almost on the threshold of his house at Pearson's ranch, Wellington, he was accosted by a panther, but happily for his own preservation he was armed, and promptly took aim, shooting the animal dead. The panther proved to be a long beast, fully seven feet in length.

Mr. Reid, formerly of Ontario, expresses some astonishment at the excellent shooting here, although he was unaware that in British Columbia one need not seek the jungle for wild animals.—Nanaimo, B. C., Free Press.

MRS. WM. WILSON.

Mrs. William Wilson, an esteemed resident of Adjala township, passed away at her home, lot 11, on the Mono-Adjala townline, about 10 o'clock Saturday morning after an illness of about five weeks from typhoid fever. Mrs. Wilson, whose maiden name was Martha Jane Parker, was a daughter of the late George Parker, of Acton. She was 55 years and 7 months of age and had been twice married, her first husband having been Robert Taylor. She is survived by her husband, and a family of four sons and one daughter. The sons and daughter are John H. Taylor, Carroll, Man., Robert Taylor, Orangeville; George Taylor, Melville and Reta Wilson, at home. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and neighbors at the funeral, which was held from her late home to Wesley Church cemetery, Mono, on Monday afternoon. Rev. H. L. Partridge, of Rosemont, conducted the services. The sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to Mr. Wilson and family in their trying loss.

PROMINENT FARMER DIES SUDDENLY.

One of the saddest events we have had to record for some time occurred on Sunday afternoon last when Mr. Wm. Lewis passed away alone in his home near Brides' School. Deceased came to this district about three years ago, and being a persevering and capable worker, soon had his farm in good shape, and on a profitable basis, but the hand of death is no respector of persons, and he was found by a neighbor on Monday morning lying in his bed—death being due to heart failure. A message was sent to his father at Shelburne, Ont., who wired instructions to have the body sent there for burial. The body was therefore brought to town and prepared for shipment by our local undertaker, and will be accompanied east by his brother, Mr. Joseph Lewis, who resides at Gainsboro, Sask. Deceased was well known and highly respected, both in town and country, and leaves a large circle of friends who join in extending the most sincere sympathies to the bereaved relatives.—The Machin, Sask., Times.

The remains were brought east for burial, the funeral taking place at Shelburne yesterday afternoon.

DIED AWAY FROM HOME.

Mr. Chas. O. Douglas, of 10 Maynard Ave., Toronto, a traveller for Stanfield's Limited, of Truro, N.S., died quite suddenly at Penticton, B. C., last Thursday. Mr. Douglas was accompanied by his wife as far as Nelson, B.C. They parted there, Mrs. Douglas returning to Medicine Hat to visit a friend, Miss Clara Hunter. Mr. Douglas, who was then in his usual good health, proceeded to Penticton on business. A week later his wife received a message conveying the sad news that her husband had died in Penticton. Later on she learned that his death had followed a short illness from pleurisy. A brother, Mr. John Douglass, whose home is in the West, and Mrs. Douglass are now on their way east with the remains and will probably reach Toronto to-day. The funeral will take place in Toronto on Saturday. Mrs. Douglas is a daughter of Mr. John Hoare, The Maples, and a sister of Mr. J. W. Hoare, East Broadway. The bereaved widow will have the sympathy of her many friends here in her sad affliction.

A VALUABLE ASSISTANT.

At the Winter Fair at Guelph is given information along all lines of live stock production and crop cultivation that is valuable to any farmer who desires to keep up-to-date. The Weekly Sun of Dec. 19 will contain a carefully prepared and easily understood summary of the chief points brought out at the next fair.

If you are engaged in any branch of farming with a view to making money, you will find The Weekly Sun a most valuable assistant. Do not miss the issue of December 19.

PRESENTED WITH TRAVELLING BAG.

Mr. M. Wilkins left on Monday on a business trip to Edmonton, Alta. He will be absent for probably three or four months. Before his departure a few of his more intimate friends presented him, in an informal way, with a handsome travelling bag. Mr. Wilkins was always a very public minded citizen, who was always ready to assist generously with any undertaking of the town. This little presentation was to show that this generous conduct during the many years in which he was a resident of Arthur was appreciated. His many friends will wish him a pleasant journey and a safe return. — Arthur Enterprise.

NOMINATIONS EARLIER.

Municipal nominations will be held this year on Friday, the 22nd of December, instead of on the Monday following Christmas, the usual date. What is believed to be a world's record in transforming standing grain into bread, was established by W. S. Gabel, a young farmer at Belloit, Kansas. Just thirty minutes had elapsed between the time when the wheat was cut and when Mr. Gabel took his first bite of a biscuit which had been made from it. As soon as the grain was threshed it was rushed a mile and a half to a mill and made into flour, and then taken to a baker, who made the biscuit. The previous record is said to have been an hour.

REGINA

The Capital of Saskatchewan. The railway centre of Western Canada. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern Railways all enter Regina.

OFFICIAL GOVERNMENT CENSUS FOR 1911 SHOWS REGINA'S POPULATION 30,210.

Proof of REGINA'S marvellous growth is found in the Official Government Census for Saskatchewan, which we quote below.

	1911	1901	Increase
Moose Jaw	13,825	1588	12,266
Prince Albert	6,254	1785	4,469
REGINA	30,210	2249	27,961
Saskatoon	12,002	113	11,889

A simple sum in arithmetic shows that REGINA'S population is larger than that of any other two cities in Saskatchewan put together and that it is nearly as great as the total population of the next three largest cities in Saskatchewan.

REGINA'S present population is more than twelve times greater than it was ten years ago, or an increase of over 1200 per cent. The greatest development has taken place this last two years and REGINA is growing faster than ever. At the present rate of growth, REGINA will be a city of nearly 400,000 people in ten years from now.

In reading the Official report I also found that the Province of Saskatchewan has shown the largest increase. In ten years it has grown from 91,279 to 453,508, an increase of nearly 400 per cent. At the present time the percentage of land occupied in Saskatchewan is very small — in the neighborhood of ten per cent. With greater railroad facilities and modern methods Saskatchewan will grow more rapidly than ever. As REGINA is the Capital and leading city of the province, it will be affected by the growth of every city, town or community in Saskatchewan, and its future growth should be more rapid than in the past.

I have for sale a large number of well located lots, in the East, West, North and Centre of the city at very reasonable prices and on easy terms. For full particulars and other information apply to

THE BANNER

THE BANNER, NOV. 30, 1911.

THE VOTE IN DUFFERIN.

Because John Best was elected on September 21st last by the overwhelming majority of 1459, opponents of R. J. Woods argue that C. R. McKeown will have a walkover in the pending Provincial election. At first thought there would seem to be some reason for this contention, but a closer survey of the situation shows that its foundation rests chiefly upon the hopes of those who are industriously occupying themselves in endeavoring to create the impression that McKeown is going in with a large majority. At the election on September 21st, Best polled 2496 and Brown 1037 votes, a total vote of 3533. At the last Provincial election McKeown polled 2229 and Woods 2187 votes, a total of 4416. Our readers will observe that while McKeown defeated Woods by only 42 votes at the last election he polled within 267 votes of the Best vote in September. Mr. McKeown cannot hope to poll anything like the Best vote on December 11th, because there are hundreds of staunch Woods supporters, who voted Best at the Federal election. It is therefore very evident that if the available Woods vote is polled Mr. McKeown will not have any walkover and may indeed not be elected at all. As a matter of fact the situation depends to a considerable extent on the way the straight Liberal vote goes. The scale was turned at the last election by the Liberal vote of Orangeville and Grand Valley, which went very strongly in Mr. McKeown's favor. That the managers of Mr. McKeown's campaign recognize the importance of the Liberal vote is shown by the methods they are adopting. On the one hand they are telling the Conservative electors who are disposed to support Woods that the Grits are all voting Woods this time, and therefore all good Conservatives should support McKeown. On the other hand they are angling quietly for the Liberal vote, particularly in Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley and quietly express the hope that the bulk of it will again be recorded for McKeown. In their endeavors to land this vote Mr. McKeown and his friends have the benefit of the advice and active assistance of Police Magistrate Pattullo, who is a past master in the art of political strategy. Mr. Pattullo is extremely anxious for Mr. McKeown's election, and if he can round up the Liberal vote for his candidate he can be depended on to do so. His interest in the contest is significant, and the electors of the County should not find it difficult to read between the lines.

THE BI-LINGUAL PROBLEM.

In a letter to Hon. Dr. Pyne, dated May 23rd, 1910, Hon. W. J. Hanna quoted Mgr. Fallon, Roman Catholic Bishop of London, as having said to him that :—

"There are to-day children going to the Public Schools in certain parts of Essex, who are unable to speak English, and this three generations after their ancestors arrived in this country."

It would be serious enough even if these conditions were confined to the County of Essex. Unfortunately conditions, that have been described as even worse, prevail in Eastern Ontario. As far back as 1883 there were 27 schools in the Ottawa Valley in which English was not taught. In 1889 there were 111 primary schools in Ontario in which French was taught. There is every reason to believe that the number is much larger at the present time.

The Daily Star quotes a man who is familiar with educational conditions in New Ontario, as saying that, "In ninety per cent. of the rural schools of the districts of Algoma and Nipissing French is the real language of the school, and the teaching of English is only a side line, and at that one to which but the smallest amount of attention is paid."

Sufficient has been said to indicate how real and how serious the problem of bi-lingualism has become in this Province. The time has come when English speaking Ontario must make a stand for the maintenance of the English language in the schools. The whole question of bi-lingual schools must be thoroughly investigated. The Whitney Government has made a start by appointing Dr. Merchant to investigate existing conditions and report to the Government. Dr. Merchant's report will probably be laid before the Legislature at next session. It will then become the duty of the House to deal with the evils that undoubtedly exist. This brings the matter home to the electors of Dufferin. They will not have any opportunity of stating what action shall be taken when the report is discussed in the House, but they will have the opportunity on December 11th, of electing a representative whose duty it will be to help determine that action. It is therefore their duty to elect a man whose views on bi-lingualism are pronounced and clear-cut, who will have the courage of his convictions and will not be content to allow someone else to mould his opinions and control his actions. Mr. R. J. Woods has declared that he is firmly opposed to the teaching of the French language in public schools supported by public monies. If he is elected he can be depended upon to take a position upon this question that will be in thorough accordance with the opinion held by more than nine-tenths of the electors of this constituency.

INSPECTOR SUSPENDED.

N. Gordon Charged With Altering Postage Vouchers.

Accused Official Admits Making Changes, But Says He Did So to Keep Himself Square.

McGhee-Higgins—That Mr. N. Gordon be suspended from the office of Public School Inspector for the County of Dufferin, for presenting false vouchers for postage to this Council, and that the Clerk forthwith report such suspension to the Minister of Education in writing, with a statement of the reasons therefor.

The above is the formal wording of a motion which the County Council passed by a unanimous vote last Friday. The suspension of the man who has held the responsible office of School Inspector for thirty years or longer, followed close upon an investigation by the Education Committee into certain irregularities in Mr. Gordon's accounts. In addition to his salary, Mr. Gordon is paid for his postage and stationery expenses. His bill is laid before the County Council at each session, accompanied by the necessary vouchers, and is usually passed as a matter of course. It seems that at the June meeting of the Council some of the members suspected that vouchers for postage, which the Inspector obtained from the Orangeville post office, had been tampered with. Arrangements were made to have the Inspector's purchases checked, and when his vouchers were presented last week a number of discrepancies were discovered. Three of the vouchers had apparently been raised, two $1 receipts to $4 and a 50 cent receipt to $2.50.

There was an exciting scene when the Inspector was summoned before the Education Committee to explain the alterations in the vouchers. After some fencing Mr. Gordon admitted that he had changed the receipts, but maintained that he had bought equivalent amounts of postage at local business places without obtaining receipts and had been obliged to make the alterations in order to keep himself square. While the Committee was questioning him, the Inspector asked to be allowed to see the receipts. They were handed to him and having obtained possession of the incriminating documents, he proceeded to tear them into pieces despite the indignant protests of members of the Committee.

After a protracted session the Committee reported its findings to the Council, which considered the facts adduced in Committee of the Whole and then passed a motion instructing the Education Committee to lay the matter before the County Solicitor and get his advice as to the proper course to follow. Mr. Hughson appeared before the Council Friday morning and after hearing him the Council passed the motion we have already quoted.

A By-law was subsequently passed, confirming the suspension. A Special Committee was also appointed to lay the facts upon which the Council based its action before the Minister of Education. The members of the Committee are Warden Greer, Dr. Campbell, S. C. McKee and Chairman Cornelius of the Education Committee. The Banner understands that the Committee will wait upon the Minister on Friday.

The amount of business transacted at last week's session was larger than usual, and as a consequence the Council did not complete its labors until noon on Saturday. Thursday afternoon the members drove to Grand Valley to inspect the new County bridge on the Amaranth-East Garafraxa townline. After the inspection they were entertained to supper in Grand Valley.

Warden Greer was voted the usual honorarium of $100.

A by-law was put through for the purpose of appointing County Auditors. The old auditors, Messrs. H. Endacott, Orangeville, and H. H. Walker, Shelburne, were re-appointed. They will get $20 each for their services.

Mr. H. A. Dorrance, District Representative of the Department of Agriculture, gave an interesting address to the Council on Friday morning on the work of his Department. Mr. Dorrance created an excellent impression, and at the close of his address was tendered the hearty thanks of the Council.

Saturday morning High Constable Hughes was voted $50 to reimburse him for his time and outlay while engaged in his work.

A motion was unanimously passed thanking Warden Greer and conveying to him the hearty approval and appreciation of the members for the very able, impartial and courteous manner in which he had presided over the deliberations of the Council during the year. Each of the members spoke to the motion, and the Warden made a fitting reply. Before adjourning the members joined in singing the National Anthem, County Clerk Reid leading.

The following synopsis of the more important recommendations of the various Standing Committees will give our readers an idea of the nature of a good deal of the business that occupied the time and attention of the Council.

The Committee on Roads and Bridges recommended the payment of the following accounts in connection with the new county bridge near Waldemar :—Geo. Lawson, road through river and guard lights, $20; C. R. Wheelock, services as engineer, $150; Jas. H. Simpson, inspecting bridge, $87.50, disbursements, $2.20 ; John Langdon, second estimate on concrete work, less $202.62 retained, $800 ; Ontario Bridge Co., steel superstructure, $950. The Committee also recommended that The Ontario Bridge Co. be paid balance of their contract money, less $25 retained for the use of timber.

Regarding the proposal to appoint representatives from County Councils and other public bodies to wait upon Premier Borden and his Cabinet to express their views as to the best method of employing Federal aid to construct good roads, the Committee expressed the opinion that the suggested construction of one main public highway from Coast to Coast would be of very little benefit to the older portions of this Province and advocated instead a system of main highways touching every County in Old Ontario to be built and maintained entirely at the expense of the Government. The Committee recommended that the Council appoint the Warden, Chairman Anderson of the R. & B. Committee, and County Engineer Wheelock representatives on the deputation to advocate its views and look after the interests of the County.

In its report the Committee, appointed to consider the Warden's Address, drew attention to the fact that there are only five counties in the province that have a lower County rate than Dufferin. The Committee expressed its regret at the Warden's decision to retire from municipal life, adding that his retirement from the Council would leave a gap that it will be difficult to fill.

The Education Committee reported in favor of granting $2 a day and mileage to members of the Advisory Board in connection with the recently established Department of Agriculture. The Committee also reported in favor of making a grant of $100 to the Orangeville High School and recommended that the matter of fixing the per capita grant to that institution be deferred until the January session.

The Special Committee, appointed at the June meeting to ascertain what arrangements could be made for the better care of the poor of the County, recommended that no action be taken at this session, but that Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.P.P., be requested to lay the matter before the Government, explaining the existing conditions with the view, if necessary, of having better accommodation provided in the present County buildings.

The County Property Committee recommended the acceptance of the following tenders for gaol supplies :—J. Kearns & Son, supplies per tender; H. Hayward, milk, 17 qts. for $1.00; H. Stuckey, meat, flank cuts, 7½c. ; R. G. Harshaw, bread, 4 lb. loaf, 15c.

tea is the result of care and experience in blending—must be the combination of fine flavor, smooth strength and richness. Because all these elements are so generously included in Red Rose Tea it well merits the term "good tea."

But He Found a Cure in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Quebec Postmaster was confined to bed when he started to use Dodd's Kidney Pills—They cured him.

Tippins, Pontiac Co., Que., Nov.27. (Special).—Postmaster F. Tippins, of this place, who for three years has been more or less of an invalid, and who for some time was confined to his bed, is up and around again, a healthy and hearty man. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured him.

"After recovering from an attack of Grippe," the Postmaster says in telling the story of his cure. "I took a pain in my back and I suffered for nearly three years, finally getting so bad that I was confined to my bed.

"One day I told my wife to go and get me some Dodd's Kidney Pills, as that would be the last medicine I would try. After using about half the box I began to feel better, so I kept on taking them. When I had taken two boxes I was able to get up, and ten boxes cured me completely.

"The principal danger of Grippe is the after effects. The way to guard against this is strengthen the Kidneys so they can strain all the dregs of the disease out of the blood. Dodd's Kidney Pills are always the last medicine anyone takes for Kidney Disease. It always cures and no other medicine is needed.

A $6,000 BRIDGE.

The new bridge which the County Council has built over the Grand River on the Amaranth-East Garafraxa townline will cost the County of Dufferin upwards of $6,000. Contractor Langdon's bill for the abutments was $1563.50 and for the concrete floor $414.12. The contractor charged another $25 for removing the old bridge, bringing the total cost of concrete work up to $2002.62. Mr. Langdon has been paid $1800 and the balance will be retained until the work is finally passed. The Ontario Bridge Company has been paid $3975 for the steel superstructure, bringing the actual cost of the structure close to $6000. To this must be added engineer's fees, inspector's wages, commissions and other small charges. Engineer Wheelock's report to the County Council last week will give our readers a good idea of the dimensions and present condition of the structure. In his report the Engineer states :—

"The concrete abutments are satisfactory, but I have not yet finally passed the bridge floor, as the false work has not yet been removed, and a part of the concrete appears to have been frozen and may not turn out satisfactory. The bottom of the pier has not all been removed from the river bed as required by the specifications, and there are some other small matters that the contractor, John Langdon, will require to put in shape before the work will be satisfactory. The steel superstructure has been completed in a satisfactory manner and is a good substantial job. The bridge is a rivetted high truss. The span is 119 feet, width of roadway 15 feet, height of truss 22 feet and designed to carry a 15 ton load in accordance with Class A. of the Government specifications. The steel work has been thoroughly inspected both in the shop and the field, the inspection covering every piece of steel and every rivet in the bridge. The total weight of the superstructure is about 100 tons."
